Councillor HARTLEY wanted a lamp at the corner of Smith and Water streets, as it was a dangerous place. If that lamp was recommended he would support the report.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON opposed the new lamps on the score of economy. He wanted more lamps for number one. Gas in 1882 would cost over $2,000, too much money, he contended to pay for the benefit derived.

Councillor CHAMBERLAIN opposed the report, as he did not want to hand over any burdens to the new Council, and thus be called extravagant.

Councillor CAHILL again spoke against the adoption of the report, and thought the matter should not be passed. A large petition had been presented, asking for the lamp on Park street, but he would undertake to say that he could in a day or two obtain twice as many signatures to a petition opposing it. There was a lamp on either side of this one, within half a block, and he did not think it wise or judicious to erect it. He was in favour of light, but was opposed to the great expense, He advised caution.

Councillor RICHARDSON said that Councillor Cahill's ward was well lighted, and no more lamps were wanted. When the lamps for the First Ward were proposed, Councillor Cahill did not object, but kept mum. He was determined to satisfy the ratepayers, and when a petition signed by 72 ratepayers was presentad, he would vote that their request be granted.

Councillor KELLY said that only one lamp had been asked for by the 72 ratepayers.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that the Council had been procrastinating, by over-looking the petitions, and he thought that it was just about time that the lamps were put down. Number Two Ward paid more taxes than the other two together, and yet Councillor Cahill objected to giving them a few lamps. If a bonus was proposed Councillor Cahill would come to the front and would not the be so economical with the people's money.

The matter was finally left over for the new Council to deal with.

COURT OF REVISION.

Councillor RUTHERFORD submitted the following report :—

The Court of Revision begs leave to report as follows:—

1. Mrs. A. Scott, Confirmed ; 2 Hall Estate, confirmed ; 3. W. Graham, $4.16 struck off ; 4. J. Pine, $4.13 struck off ; 5. J. Edmison, $4,16 struck off ; 6. John Heron, confirmed ; 7. James Coughlin, confirmed; 8. R. F. Tate, $5.72 struck off.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

(Sg.) A. RUTHERFORD,
Chairman.

Peterborough, Jan. 13th, 1882.

Councillor RUTHERFORD in answer to a question, said that they had consulted the blue book regarding Mrs. Scott's case, and had acted in a correct manner.

Councillor DOUGLAS advised leaving the matter over until they had more light on the subject.

Councillor MENZIES explained the manner in which the decision had been arrived at. The sum the town would receive would be about $14.

Councillor CAHILL asked if Mrs. Scott, and the Hall Estate were assessed for the same bank stock ?

Councillor MENZIES said that the assessments were altogether different.

The report was received and adopted.

TAX MATTERS.

Chief Johnston said that he had several distress warrants and wanted directions. One was against Samuel Detcher, who had no chattels worth taking. The other case was that of John Brown, who had died since the assessment was made. There were some goods and chattels on the premises, and he wanted to know whether he would go and cart the goods away.

The matters were referred to the Finance Committee.

FOR EXTRA SERVICES.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that P. C. McGhee had preformed extra services and should receive a grant. He moved seconded by Councillor YELLAND that the sum of $25 be voted to P. C. McGhee, for the performance of extra services.—Lost.

Councillor DOUGLAS thought the motion was out of order.

The MAYOR ruled that it was in order.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON opposed the motion, and thought that if this grant were made the other town officials would be sending in bills. Chief Johnston had worked just as hard as P.C. McGhee and was just as deserving of a grant. P. C. McGhee had had two weeks holidays for which he had been paid, and he had no right to demand extras. If the officer's salary is not sufficient let the new council raise it.

Councillor DOUGLAS also spoke against the grant, as he did not believe in these extras. The by-law provides that the officers shall provide their uniforms and they should do so.

Councillor CHAMBERLAIN said Councillor McNaughton was in favour of sticking to a by-law and professing a profound respect for it, while only a short time ago that gentleman had voted to break the sign and building by-laws.

Councillor RICHARDSON spoke against the grant. as P.C. McGhee had not put in a bill for his extra services.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that P. C. McGhee had performed extra duties.

AN ASSISTANT.

The MAYOR said that the clerk had extra duties to perform and should have an assistant for a short time. He thought the assistance should be given.

Councillor RICHARDSON spoke in favour of the Mayor's suggestion.

Councillor YELLAND also favoured it.

Councillor DOUGLAS said that no town official except P. C. McGhee had received any extras.

The Clerk was authorized to engage an assistant for the next ten days.

THE STREET INSPECTOR.

Councillor CAHILL said that Chief Johnston as Street Inspector, had performed his duties to the satisfaction of every person.

Councillor YELLAND said that the Chief had done a lot of extra work, regarding charity matters, and deserved great credit for it.

Moved by Councillor CAHILL, seconded by Councillor CHAMBERLAIN,—That Chief Johnston be allowed two weeks' leave of absence.—Carried.

THANKING THE MAYOR.

On motion the Mayor left the chair, and it was taken by Councillor Yelland.

Moved by Councillor KELLY, seconded by Councillor DOUGLAS,—That the thanks of this Council are due and are hereby tendered to His Worship Mayor Smith, for his able and impartial conduct as the presiding officer of this Council during the past year, and also for his untiring zeal in the interests of the town.—Carried unanimously.

Councillors Kelly, Rutherford, Hartley, Menzies, Richardson, Chamberlain and Yelland spoke of the fair and impartial manner in which the Mayor had performed his onerous duties, and gave him the highest credit, each delivering eulogistic speeches and all agreeing for once.

His Worship returned thanks. It was a matter of no small gratification to him to know that he had pleased the members of the Council. All the councillors had performed their duties well, and had been of great assistance to him. He stated that all the town officials had given the best of satisfaction, and deserved credit. He referred to the retiring councillors, and felt that their absence would be regretted.

THE RETIRING MEMBERS.

Moved by Councillor RUTHERFORD, seconded by Councillor CAHILL.—That the thanks of the Council be tendered to Messrs. Taylor, Chamberlain, Yelland and Hartley, the retiring councillors, for the manner in which they had done all in their power to advance the interests of our fast rising town.—Carried unanimously.

Councillors Rutherford and Cahill spoke highly of the energy and ability of the retiring councillors, and expressed regret that they would not sit at the Board during the coming councilloric year. They referred to Mr. Yelland, Chairman of the Charity Committee, and thought that it would be difficult to fill his place.

Councillors Hartley, Yelland and Chamberlain returned thanks.

The Council then adjourned.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

PLEASING PRESENTATION.

Mr. A. White, of the Midland, "Caned" by the Press Association.

On the occasion of the last excursion of the Canadian Press Association, a committee was appointed to select and present to Mr. A. White, the General Traffic Manager of the Midland Railway of Canada, a gift, in recognition of the many courtesies he extended to the members on the trip. It was thought that a cane would be appropriate, and accordingly one was imported expressly by the Messrs. Woltz brothers of Toronto.

Everything being ready Messrs. J. B. Trayes of the Port Hope Times, ex-President of the Association, Jas. G. Macdonald, of the REVIEW, and J. R. Stratton, of the Examiner, proceeded to the Oriental this afternoon, and in one of the parlors, Mr. Trayes presented the cane. In doing so he spoke of the fact that it was very seldom that he had been called on to perform an action that gave him as much satisfaction as this did. He spoke of the unvarying kindness and courtesy extended to the members of the Association by Mr. White. Through that gentleman's attentions, the pleasure of the trip had been greatly enhanced, and he felt sure that all the members of the Association would re-iterate his sentiments. In conclusion he expressed the wish "that in old age the staff might be a support and a memento of a pleasant trip."

Mr. White returned thanks for the handsome and costly gift, and expressed his gratitude, complimenting the members of the Association very highly.

The cane, which is one of the best we have ever seen, is of ebony, with a solid gold head, handsomely engraved, and bears the following inscription :—"Presented by the Canadian Press Association to Mr. A. White, of the Midland Railway, for kind attentions on their annual excursion, 1881."

Successful.

Ever since last Tuesday evening, when the Amy Lee Opera Company electrified the fortunate ones who were present, with their varied talents, a few of our enterprising citizens have been negotiating with the Manager for their return, and we are glad to be able to congratulate them on their success, a telegram having been received last night from The Theatre Royal, Montreal, that the Company will play here on Thursday and Friday, the 19th and 20th insts. All who heard them last Tuesday were delighted, would no doubt be only too pleased to again enjoy such an artistic treat; those who were absent on that occasion are just beginning to learn what they missed, and will have an opportunity of getting over their dissapointment on Thursday and Friday evening next. The real merit of this popular troupe cannot be over-estimated. "The Two Medallions" is a happy combination of pathos and comedy, and though teeming with mirth-provoking scenes and passages, is perfectly refined and could not offend the taste of the most fastidious.

Literary Association.

On Friday evening a meeting was held in the basement of the George Street Methodist Church, for the purpose of forming a Literary Association. The object of the society is mutual improvement and church work. The meetings are to be held fortnightly. The following officers were elected :—Rev. J. Shaw, President; Dr. Clark, 1st Vice-President; T. Braden, 2nd Vice-President; J. Emmerson, Sec.-Treas.

The public anniversary meeting will be held in the same church on Monday evening following, when addresses will be delivered by Mr. Pedley, and others.

Weights and measures.

Mr T. Cahill, Inspector of weights and measures, has again started out on a tour to inspect the scales and measures of the citizens. The law requires that the work shall be done every two years, and as that time has now expired since the last inspection, it now becomes necessary to do it again.

Baptist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Walker, of Galt, will preach in the Baptist church to-morrow, morning and evening.

THE CROWNER'S QUEST.

WHO FIRED MR. GEORGE McCOMB'S BUILDINGS?—ECHO ANSWERS WHO?

The Fire Inquest Amounts to Nothing—A Mass of Evidence—A Useless Proceeding—A Cranky Jury—The Council Censured.

As all of our readers are already aware, numerous incendiary fires have occurred in town during the last year and no clue whatever has been obtained as to the identity of the "fire bugs." The Town Council offered a large reward, but this plan failed. as all the others had As a last resort it was decided to instruct a coroner to hold an investigation, and from information received by his Worship the Mayor, it was thought that some light might be thrown on some or all of the five different attempts that had been made to fire the premises of Mr. George McComb on Simcoe Street.

Acting according to instructions Coroner Bell issued his warrant, summoned a jury and a host of witnesses, to meet at the council chamber on Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

At the appointed hour the Coroner read his instructions and swore in the following jurymen :—

W. E. SHERWOOD, Foreman.
R. B. LUNDY,	JOS. LUNDY,
JAMES CLOTWORTHY,	R. H. GREEN,
THOS. RUTHERFORD,	G. G. HILLIARD,
JAS. SAULTER,	E. GREEN,
W. McBAIN,	JOHN SAWERS,
JNO. DOHARTY,	WM. ENGLISH,

After they were duly sworn the coroner addressed the jury and pointed out their duty.

The Coroner and jury then proceeded to Mr. McComb's premises and made a critical examination, the place of origin of each of the fires being pointed out to them.

After some preliminaries the inquest was opened, the witnesses being excluded.

Mr. W. H. Moore, appeared for Mr. McComb.

THE EVIDENCE.

Mr. GEO. McCOMB sworn,—He owns the premises where the fires have taken place. The first fire occurred on the 1st of September last, about 7.30 p.m. The stables and sheds were burned then. He thought the first fire was incendiary, as the stable door which he always kept locked, was found open, when the fire was discovered. The hay loft was on fire when he first saw it. He had no knowledge as to how the first fire originated. The second fire was about the 1st of December. He knew nothing of its origin. It was set between two buildings, both stables. The third fire was in the water closet. It took place during December. The fourth fire was on the south side of the bakery, underneath the building. The fifth and last fire took place on the 3rd of this month, between the bake oven and the bakeshop. He knew nothing personally regarding the origin of any of the fires.

To Mr. W. H. MOORE,—He was told by Richard Stroud, that a fire was to take place. He did not suspect any person of being the incendiary. He thought he had no enemies that would do him any harm. The sheds burned, and those set, were not insured. The bakeshop belongs to him. He had no insurance on any of his property, but thought of getting a policy pretty soon. Mrs. Palmer told him that a fire was to occur, but she did not state the time. On the night of the first fire, there was a great storm with thunder and lightning.

Mr. E. PHELAN, Sr., was sworn. His evidence was in substance the same as that of the preceding witness. He knew nothing regarding the origin of any of the fires.

Mr. E. PHELAN, Jr., sworn,—He was one of the first to discover the second fire. It was about 11 o'clock, p.m. The fire was under the stable in a hollow log. It may have started accidentally, for instance from a cigar stub. There were indications that people frequently visited the place. The fire would no doubt have burned his father's premises. He knew of no enemies that would set the fire. There was no wind. He did not know how any of the fires occurred. He had heard that there were other fires on the same premises, but knew nothing about them. He did not see anything except the sills burning at the second fire. He did not see any paper, shavings or anything of that kind.

Mr. W. McBAIN a juryman, remarked that there was no use in sitting and listening to the same old story. None of the witnesses koew any more of the firing of the buildings than he did himself.

RICHARD STROUD, sworn,—He knew nothing as to how the fires originated. He was present at all of them. He had seen Mr. McComb's man smoking around the premises on the afternoon of the first fire, and had seen burned matches lying aroung on different occassions. He discovered a lot of burned papers under the bake-shop but saw no fire there. He had seen people throw down burning matches in the shed, where there was material that would easily take fire. He saw a coal drop on the floor in the bake-shop, by which a small hole was burned. He did not remember telling Mr. McComb that there was not much use in erecting the sheds again, as they would be burned down again, but he had told a boy so. He had no reason for suspecting any person. He was sleeping in the bake-shop when the second fire occurred. There were often drunken men wandering around the yard and premises. Mr. Phelan first informed him of the fire. He did not see any shavings lying around nor did he smell coal oil. People were in the habit of committing a nuisance, near the place where the fire was discovered. He did not smoke. The yard is a regular thoroughfare. There was no fire in the oven on either of the occassions on which the bake-shops was on fire. He noticed some burned paper near the place, where the fire was. It took place at night. His attention was attracted by smoke coming into the bake-shop. There was another fire over the oven, but that happened some time ago. He saw the burned paper in the water closet. It was customary to place paper in the place where the fire was discovered. A burning match may have been accidentally thrown in. The stable door was open when he saw the first fire. The oven needed watching as it was in bad repair. Pieces of bricks used to drop down and fire could escape through the holes, that was the reason that it was watched. He did not give any information to Mayor Smith. He did not see or hear any person about the premises when the fires occurred. He had no suspicions as to who the guilty parties were. He had heard Mr. Phelan say that "he wished the old stables was out of that."

Mr. SAMUEL GREEN, sworn,—This witness corborated Stroud's evidence in almost every particular. His oven is safe. He saw burned paper near the fire. He expected that the buildings would be burned from the fact that several attempts had been made to fire them. He was satisfied that two of the fires were of incendiary origin. The crown of his oven is in bad repair. There is a tin on top of the oven over a hole, but no fire escaping through that hole could do any harm.

AN ADJOURNMENT.

At this stage several of the jurymen who had been for some time exhibiting signs of uneasiness, expressed a desire to "cut the thing short" or "to hear a witness that knew something about the fire." Cross firing between the coroner and jury occupied some time, and an adjournment was made until 7.30 o'clock.

THE WIND UP.

The inquest was resumed at 7.30 o'clock. Three or four witnesses were examined, but knew nothing of the origin of the fire, and the investigation closed.

The verdict was in effect that the fires were started by some person or persons unknown, and the council was censured for ordering an inquest upon such flimsy testimony as had been advanced.

LETTERS have been received in Ireland announcing the bestowal of the late Cardinal Cullen's hat on Dr. McFettigan, Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of all Ireland.

ON Sunday, Dec. 18th, a board with the words "The commandment of the Chicago convention—Pay no rent," was found hanging on the Belfry of Freemont Catholic Church. After a good deal of difficulty the police succeeded in taking it down.

THE death is announced at Carrick-Blacker, near Portadown, of Major Stewart Blacker, for many years a prominent Ulster Orangeman. The funeral of Major Blacker was made the occasion of the most imposing demonstration ever witnessed in Portadown. Two thousand Orangemen from Portadown, Lurgan, Tandragee, with a large number of Prentice Boys from Derry, followed the hearse in procession attired in the regalia of their order. About 10,000 people in all took part in the ceremony.

OVER five hundred farmers and laborers, with fifty ploughs, recently assembled on the farm of Mr. Dennis Crosbie, Carrig Hill, Bannow, for the purpose of doing the winter plowing. This having been completed, they drew and carted several loads of potatoes, mangolds and turnips, and had them secured. The Carrig-Bannow Fife and Drum Band plased some spirited airs during the progress of the work. At its close a procession was formed, which marched to the village of Carrig, preceded by the band. The crowds dispersed, cheering for the "suspects," and "their leader, Mr. Parnell."

NO HOSPITAL NEEDED.—No palatial hospital needed for Hop Bitters patients, nor large salaried talented puffers to tell what Hop Bitters will do or cure, as they tell their own story by their certain and absolute cures at home.—New York Independent.

DON'T FORGET THE "SOZODONT," but use it regularly after every meal. It imparts a pleasant flavor to the mouth, changes offensive secretions into healthful, invigorates the gums, and cleanses the interstices of the teeth. Like old Hercules, it purifies the Augean stables which some have in their mouth.

A FAMILY FRIEND.—No family should be without Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain-Killer. It can be given to the infant for the Colic, and to the adult for Rheumatism. There is scarcely a disease to which it may not be beneficially applied. It contains no deleterious drug, but may be used for the various ailments of mankind.

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

WOMAN'S TRUE FRIEND—A friend in need is a friend indeed. This none can deny, especially when assistance is rendered when one is sorely afflicted with disease. More particularly those complaints and weaknesses so common to our female population. Every woman should know that Electric Bitters are woman's true friend, and will positively restore her to health, even when all other remedies fail. A single trial proves our assertion. They are pleasant to the taste and only cost fifty cents a bottle. Sold by Taylor & Macdonald.—2

A HOME CONVERSATION!

He fairly howled as he slammed the REVIEW on the floor and jumped on it.

"Why, whatever is the matter, my dear," said Mrs. Keepitup.

Matter enough! Confound these advertisements of Dolans' with their "Telegraphic News" and "Advice," and all that. They will have themselves read—no matter how a chap tries to dodge them. They are worse than St Jacobs Axle-greece. And what's a hang ed sight more, I believe you read them, too. I know it. These fellows are making money out of my pocket every day.

Since they moved into the new stores half the town has been running there.

Just so, my dear, but the town has to go somewhere, and if they can do better at DOLAN'S—the same as I can, who's to blame them for going?

"All right, buy what you like as long as you don't buy the BABY SHIRT."

The above is a section of an overture between an estimable couple. THE PEOPLE ARE RIGHT.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

MONDAY, JANUARY 16, 1882.

AS PROVIDED BY LAW.

THE TOWN COUNCIL FOR 1882 COMMENCE THE BUSINESS OF THE YEAR.

Routine Matters—Taking Declarations—Appointments of Messrs Pearse and Hall as Auditors—Striking Standing Committees.

As provided by law the newly elected Council for the councilloric year commenced business this morning at 11 o'clock.

The members having subscribed to the necessary declarations, the clerk stated that they had done so and were entitled to take their seats, and the ball was opened.

Present His Worship Mayor Smith in the chair and Councillors Cahill, Alford, McNaughton, Kelly, Poussette, Wilson, Rutherford, Menzies and Denne.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

APPOINTMENT OF AUDITORS.

The MAYOR appointed Mr. Edgecomb Pearse as one of the Auditors.

On motion of Councillor CAHILL seconded by Councillor MCNAUGHTON, Mr. John J. Hall was appointed the other Auditor.

The by-law was read a first time.

The council then went into Committee of the Whole on the second reading of the the by-law Councillor Menzies in the Chair.

The by-law was put through its various stages, signed and sealed, the salaries being fixed at $40 each.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON favoured fixing the salaries at $40 each, the same as was paid last year.

Councillor POUSSETTE thought that $50 was little enough for the work done.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON said that the present Clerk and Treasurer kept his books in such a manner that the Auditors had but little trouble and were well paid at $40.

Councillor DOUGLAS entered and took his seat.

STRIKING STANDING COMMITTEES.

Moved by Councillor CAHILL seconded by Councillor ALFORD that Messrs. Paterson, Rutherford, Douglas, Kelly, Denne and Poussette be a committee to strike the standing committees for the current year and that they report this evening.—Carried.

SOME REMARKS.

Councillor RUTHERFORD wanted the "squeaky" chairs oiled.

Mr. Beavis said he would look after the matter.

Councillor CAHILL wanted fresh ink, new pens and more paper.

Mr. Beavis also agreed to look after his wants.

The Council then adjourned until 7.30 o'clock this evening, to receive the report of the committee to strike standing committees for the year.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

DR. KINCAID'S ASSAILANT.

Is Tried Before the County Judge and Receives 18 Months in C. P.

John Dugan, who committed the dastardly assault on Dr Kincaid, M.P.P., on the 5th Jan. last was brought before His Honor Judge Dennistoun this morning at the Court House.

Mr. C. A Weller, appeared for the Crown, and the prisoner was undefended.

The charge was one of committing an assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

In response to His Honor's question of "guilty or not guilty" the prisoner pleaded "guilty" and said that he did not mean to do any harm, when he committed the assault.

His Honor then sentenced him to be imprisoned in the Central Prison, at Toronto, for a period of 18 months at hard labor.

Successful.

Ever since last Tuesday evening, when the Amy Lee Opera Company electrified the fortunate ones who were present, with their varied talents, a few of our enterprising citizens have been negotiating with the Manager for their return, and we are glad to be able to congratulate them on their success, a telegram having been received last night from The Theatre Royal, Montreal, that the Company will play here on Thursday and Friday, the 19th and 20th insts. All who heard them last Tuesday were delighted, would no doubt be only too pleased to again enjoy such an artistic treat; those who were absent on that occasion are just beginning to learn what they missed, and will have an opportunity of getting over their dissapointment on Thursday and Friday evening next. The real merit of this popular troupe cannot be over-estimated. "The Two Medallions" is a happy combination of pathos and comedy, and though teeming with mirth-provoking scenes and passages, is perfectly refined and could not offend the taste of the most fastidious.

Real Estate Transactions.

The half-acre lot on the corner of George and Charlotte streets has been purchased from the Walker estate, by Mr. E. Phelan, for the sum of $3,200 cash. The price is regarded by many as not being by any means exorbitant.

Mr. Charles Walsh, of Winnipeg, an old Peterborough boy, at present here on a visit, has been doing a little "dickering" in Manitoba lands since his arrival, and in consequence he finds himself some $1,100 ahead. We beg to congratulate him on his success.

The Manitoba town lot fever has struck here in earnest, and we believe that a number of our capitalists intend to visit the Prairie City in the course of a short time, with a view to investment.

We have seen telegrams to two gentlemen in town, who hold some choice property in Winnipeg, making them almost fabulous offers for their lots.

Railway Notes.

The tenders for the construction of the "missing link" were to be opened to-day, but up to the time of going to press we had not heard the result.

The case given below will be of interest to our readers to many of whom both of the litigants are well known. The World says that in the case of Ellis v. Bickford at Toronto on Saturday, the plaintiff sued for $1550, being arrears of wages alleged to be due him for services on the Grand Junction railway as civil engineer. He testified that the defendant had claimed that he had lost so much time through an accident while in his service, for which he had been paid $800 by the township of Otonbee, he did not owe him anything. The jury gave him a virdict for $450, Dr. Snelling appeared for the plaintiff, R. S. Applebe for defendant.

Our Town Council.

The Town Council of 1882, does not differ materially in composition from that of last year. It comprises two lawyers, two contractors and builders, two merchants, one government official, one shoemaker, one clerk, one tanner, one blacksmith, one carpenter and one miller, a good representation of the various professions and trades.

Colonization Company.

The Canada Gazette contains an application by Hon. Alexander Mackenzie and James Beaty, Jr., of Toronto; George A. Cox, of Peterboro'; Robert Jaffray and Fred. C. Denison, Toronto, for incorperation, as the British Canadian Colonization Company; capital $1,000,000; chief place of business, Toronto.

The Auburn Factory.

The wool house, capable of holding 200,000 pounds of wool, which has been in course of construction at the Auburn Factory for some weeks, has been completed by the contractor, Mr. A. Rutherford, and is now ready for occupation.

A Nuisance.

There exists on Hunter Street, in close proximity to the skating rink, a veritable nuisance in the shape of a pile of manure. Passers by are assailed with its not at all delightful odour. The police should see that it is removed at once.

No 1 Company.

Drill will take place on Wednesday evening at 7.30. A full attendance is requested.

A GOOD PREVENTATIVE for Fevers, Ague and Bilious Disorders is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters a strictly vegetable preparation. They Tone the system, purify the Blood and increase the appetite, and render those taking them almost proof against disease, Should be used in every case instead of pills. J. D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

AMERICAN.

THE GREAT TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Reid's address to the jury in behalf of Guiteau was a masterly effort. The assassin's speech has been printed and it is indeed an extraordinary one. He assumes the role of Brutus, states that he is not afraid of death, and hopes to be President in 1884. Judge Porter will follow.

DEATH OF A JOURNALIST.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 16.—Geo. W. Clason, formerly the publisher of the Ohio Daily Empire, which he sold to Vallandighan, and afterwards of the Daily News of this city died yesterday aged 90 years. He was a native of New York.

A MIXED CASE.

TRENTON, Jan. 16.—Edwards the bank robber, sentenced to 10 years imprisonment escaped, but after seven years liberty he was recaptured. The term for which Edwards was sentenced, expired last month, but the keeper contrary to the practise in this State refused to release him. The prisoner's counsel obtained a writ of Habeas Corpus. Judge Van Sickel decides that the prisoner must remain in custody until the time he spent out side of prison is made up. Edwards is backed up by considerable capital and influence, and it is probable that the case will be carried to the Court of Errors and Appeals.

MORE PROTECTION.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The Herald's Washington special says that representative Belford will introduce a bill to provide for leasing certain public lands in Colorado in tracts not exceeding 5,000 acres to any one person and for periods not exceeding 10 years. The Bill is intended to prevent further donations of public lands to corporations, and for the encouragement and protection of the business of raising cattle and sheep.

THE POST OFFICE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The Times' Washington special says the resolutions recently introduced by representative Neal, are regarded by many as an attack on the administration of the Post Office department.

THE DEADLOCK.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The Herald's Albany special says that it is understood that any further attempts to break the legislative deadlock will be postponed until after the funeral of Wagner.

AN OFFICIAL'S SUICIDE.

EUFAULA, Alabama, Jan. 16.—W. H. Locke, ex-Postmaster, suicided yesterday by shooting. The supposed cause is his arrest charged with embezzling Government funds.

A MEXICAN DEFEAT.

TOMBSTONE, Arizona, Jan. 16.—Sonora advices give details of a desperate fight near Yan-Yon, between Mexican troops and Indians in ambush. Five soldiers were killed and several wounded. The troops retreated.

MORE CROOKEDNESS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The Tribune's Washington special says that the Senate sub-committee investigating the unfavourable reports regarding the management of the Soldiers' Home of the District of Columbia, has requested Surgeon-General Barnes, President of the Commissioners of the Home, to appear before it on Wednesday.

PROSTITUTING THE CHUCH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—A Rochester special says that the pastor of St. Mary's Cathedral read a letter from Bishop McQuaid, which created a sensation. The Bishop says "I see by notices in the public press that you are engaged in taking up a collection in your church for amelioration of the condition of suspects now in prison in Ireland. I cannot permit the church to be used for any purpose having a tinge of political action about it, and so I must forbid the method you propose to follow, but as the end you wish to obtain is a good one and deserving of help, you are at liberty to organize a relief committee to meet at your own house or some other convenient place." The Bishop further states that the charge against him of want of regard for Ireland and her true interests is more than calumnious.

Iron Mining.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 13.—Mr Coe has sold a three-fourths interest in all his Hastings lands and mines to the proprietors of the Prince Edward Country Railway. Messrs. S. G. Ritchie, of Akron, Ohio, and J. B. & G. W. McMullen, of Picton. The railway will be at once built northward from Trenton to the townships of Wallaston and Tudor, where the largest of the mines are located. Ample docks of the most approved pattern will be built at Weller's Bay, on Lake Ontario, where the depth of water obtainable is from fifteen to twenty feet. Mr. Ritchie, the President of the railway company, is making arrangements for the erection of a Bessemer steel rail mill at the Lake Ontario terminus of the road.

Daily Evening Review

THOSE who are disposed to pay any attention to the vapourings of the Opposition press anent the decrease in the shipments of western grain by the St. Lawrence route during the past season, and the false influence which they seek to drain therefrom, will do well to make a note of the following statement from the N. Y. Bulletin, and the probable effects of the circumstances therein referred to upon shipments by both the St. Lawrence and the Erie canal. The Bulletin of the 4th says:—

"Everyone whose business it is to know about such things is aware of the fact that through business is being taken by all the trunk lines at rates which do not cover the cost of the work done. But it was not known that the feeling between the respective trunk line managers is becoming very bitter, and is intensifying the decision of each to make no concessions. This is what was said to-day, and what induced a good deal of selling of stock; for nothing is clearer than that the railroads cannot, any more than individuals or other corporations, afford to do business for nothing; and that if this railroad war is not to be settled, that there must yet be an important revision of prices."

Of course this sort of thing cannot last for ever, but so long as it does last, we cannot expect to see a boom in the shipment of grain by Canadian routes.

SHIP OR BARGE CANAL.

THE Bobcaygeon Independent in an article referring to the Toronto Board of Trade's condemnation of Mr. Capreol's canal says:—

"Ship canals are absolutely worthless. We don't want sea-going ships, sitting deep in the water, and rigged to fit them for fighting the seas and storms of the Atlantic, coming up into the upper lakes to get a load of wheat at Chicago for transport at Liverpool. What we want is a barge navigation from Chicago to Liverreal, where the barge would tranship its cargo on to the sea-going vessel. Such a barge navigation could be obtained by means of the Trent Valley Canal. Now that the Capreol Ship Canal has been finally rubbed off the list of possibilities, perhaps public attention will be more carefully bestowed on the merits of the Trent Valley scheme."

"MAKE THE ROLL RIGHT!"

Edward Blake.

FOLLOWING up, and in accordance with Mr. Blake's order to "make the roll right" by fair means or foul, the Globe of Saturday last contains the following editorial note:—

"There is a provision in the Assessment Act (Revised Statutes Ontario, chap. 180, secs. 3 and 16) which requires that every owner of unoccupied land, who is not a resident of the municipality where the property lies, and who desires his name to appear on the assessment roll and voters' list, must give notice in writing setting forth his full name, place of residence, and post office address, to the clerk of the municipality, on or before the 30th of January in each year, that he owns such land, describing it, and requires his name to be entered on the assessment roll therefor. The clerk then makes up a list of such non-resident owners of unoccupied land and delivers it to the assessor to be placed on the roll. Hitherto, we believe, it has been the practice to re-enter the name each year after it has once been put on the roll without a fresh request; but we have heard of an instance where the other course is being taken. Our friends who are non-resident owners of unoccupied lands should see that they give the proper notice in time, and care should be taken not to allow any manufacture of Conservative votes by assessing non-residents who have omitted to give the required notice."

That's it, by fair means or foul, "make the roll right." No matter how good a Conservatives vote may be, keep it off the roll, by hook or by crook. However, with such a barefaced notice as the one we have quoted before them, Conservatives will deserve a drubbing, if they are caught napping. One thing is clear, neither Mr. Blake nor the Globe are prepared to trust their case to the decision of an honest voters' list.

THE VETERAN PREMIER.

Length of Service—Different Offices—Premier Opposition Leader and Diplomatist.

Sir John Macdonald, was 67 years old on Wednesday. This is not an extraordinary span of life exactly, but considering that nearly two-thirds of it has been devoted to the service of the country, it marks a term deserving of note. Since 1844 Sir John has sat continuously in Parliament, and since 1847—barring the interregnum from 1373 to 1878, and one or two other brief periods—he was always in office. Thirty-eight years a deputy of the people and thirty years a Minister of the Crown. For an ordinary man this would constitute a bright record, but when that man has been a leader nearly all the time, it gives him a national prominence.

Let us look deeper into this record. SirJohn has served as Minister under six Governor-Generals—Elgin, Head, Monck, Lisgar, Dufferin, and Lorne, and seven Administrators—Rowan, Eyre, Williams, Mitchel, Windham, O'Grady, and McDougall. With the exception of the Finance Department and the Presidency of the Council he has filled every office in the Cabinet, having been successively Receiver-General Commissioner of Crown Lands, Minister of Militia, Attorney General and Minister of the Interior. He never held the sinecure of the Presidency of the Council, and was Postmaster General only one day, so that he does not know much about that. He is not only the oldest Privy Councillor still in harness, but also the first and only Colonial member of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council. He is furthermore the only Canadian distinguished as Knight Commander of the Bath. Of nearly two hundred members of the House of Commons who attended the first memorable Confederation session of 1867 only 28 have sat by his side without interruption till now, and their names are worthy of record for reference:—

Anglin, Gloucester; Richard, Iberville; Bourassa, St. Johns; Bowell, North Hastings; Brown, West Hastings; Burpee, Sunbury; M. C. Cameron, South Huron; Cartwright, Centre Huron; Colby, Stanstead; Costigan, Victoria, N.B.; Coupal, Napierville; Currier, Ottawa; Geoffrion, Vercheres; Huntington, Shefford; Mackenzie, Lambton; Masson, Terrebonne; McGreevy, Quebec West; Mills, Bothwell; O'Connor, Russell; Oliver, North Oxford; Pinsonneault, Laprairie; Pope, Compton; Rymal, South Wentworth; Smith, Westmoreland; Stephenson, Kent; Thompson, Haldimand; Tupper, Cumberland, and Wright, Ottawa County. The two members who come next to Sir John in length of service are Bourassa and Rymal.

It is often asked—who was the Father of Confederation? The question cannot be fully answered, but the nearest approach is the fact that Sir John presided over the Quebec Conference, which laid the foundation of that edifice, and was the recognized leader of the eminent men who took part in it. His patent of Knighthood bears the date of July 1, 1867, and he was appointed first Premier of the young Dominion.

Such a man must have uncommon qualities of head and heart, and Sir John has them. Some soreheads deny that there is statesmanship in this benighted country, but even they condescend to make an exception in favour of the subject of this sketch. His own admirers admit that he is fit to be Prime Minister of England. His genius for government is displayed by a trial of thirty years, and it was long supposed that he was fit for nothing else. But his career as leader of the Opposition from 1873 to 1878 showed him in another light. He then displayed his admirable tact and knowledge of men. His talents as diplomatist were exhibited in his numerous missions to England, and chiefly in the part which he took in the Treaty of Washington. The writer remembers an American official saying at that time that Sir John Macdonald was clearly the ablest man on the Joint High Commission.

In his private character he is universally popular. His hold on the affections of his followers is something extraordinary. There never was a more memorable meeting in our political annals than that immediately after his terrible downfall, when he offered to resign the leadership. The broken phalanx rose as one man to proclaim that they would never desert him. This confidence is the secret of their subsequent success. From that moment Sir John seemed to redouble his efforts and never displayed so many of his greatest qualities. Irrespective of party, every fair man must own that his present administration proves that he is an altogether superior man. We wish Sir John many returns of his birthday.—Moutreal Star.

THE HALIBURTON READJUSTERS

The Lindsay Post has the following editorial: "A phase of "readjustment" or "scaling down" of municipal indebtedness has cropped up in Haliburton, as will be seen from a summary report of the proceedings at the special session of the county council held last week, and printed in the Post supplement. The people of the provisional county have long been laboring under exceptional difficulties, and there is no doubt that their case should receive consideration from all concerned.

But before proceeding to consider the merits of the county situation we feel it our duty to state that certain parts of the proceedings last week must greatly weaken the case of Haliburton and must have a demoralizing effect if not held up to public condemnation. It has been known for some time that the late treasurer of Haliburton, Mr. S. S. Peck, M.P.P., was in default, and as the result of proceedings instituted by the county it has, after careful investigation, been judicially determined that the amount is $2,155. We regret to have to say that there is not the least doubt as to the default, and in using this term we are using the phrase held to be suitable to all breaches of trust by personages of some distinction. It is a source of surprise, not to say amazement, then, that the Haliburton county council should have adopted a resolution exculpating their late treasurer on the grounds set forth, and with the apparent purpose of having his assistance in the suggested readjustment of their railway debenture debt. It ought to have occurred to the county council that one of the first things that the creditors of the county will bring up will be the default of the county treasurer and the manner in which the county council has dealt with it. And it will surely stand in the way of the government taking up the question and dealing with in the way in which the people of Haliburton expect or have been led to expect. If it be impossible to recover the amount the creditors of the county would no doubt take that fact into consideration; but to stay proceedings and to surrender the treasurer's bonds without an express condemnation of the breach of trust and with the evident purpose of enabling Mr. Peck to secure a reduction of the county's indebtedness is a proceeding that will be viewed in a light altogether different from that in which it is evidently seen by the worthy reeves of Haliburton county.

It was supposed that even if he made restitution of the money in default Mr. Peck would "seek the seclusion that Dakota grants," in due time, where, it is understood, his children have taken up considerable land. The steps taken last week indicate that he intends to figure in public life, and the whole question therefore becomes a subject for comment. Public criticism would probably not have been expressed had the former course been followed; but under the present circumstances it is necessary to give the matter some attention in these columns. We regret to state that the necessity exists, but the interests of public and political morality are of much more importance than individual aspirations and the plans based upon these peculiar and questionable conditions.

We fear some rash promises, or what may pass as promises, have been made to the people of Haliburton, as to what may or can be done by the Ontario Government. If what we have heard is at all correct the plan that it is proposed to take would simply, in all probability, get the local government and the Reform party in the riding into discredit and difficulty. There is a plain, straightforward way of dealing with these things that will come out right in the end and wear longest. We have been told that people in the north have been urged not to pay their taxes in order to bring on a "crisis;" and when the "crisis" has been brought on the promise and the expectancy of some mysterious influence with the Government or with the capitalists obtained the peculiar white-washing resolution moved by Mr. Gainer. But then Mr. Gainer would move anything; the wonder to us and to others is that the Haliburton reeves did not see the other folly of hoping to succeed in the way they are going about it."

REVIEWS.

GAGE'S READERS.—We have carefully examined the new series of readers published by W. J. Gage & Co., Toronto, and edited by Prof. Meiklejohn, and unhesitatingly pronounce them the best we have ever seen. Their introduction into our schools would greatly facilitate the work of both teachers and pupils, and we hope that they will be authorized by the Minister of Education.

ENGLAND.

MR. GLADSTONE, the British Premier, reached his seventy-second year on Dec. 29th, having been born in 1809.

THE Presbyterians of Liverpool showed the largest attendance on the day on which the church going census was taken.

AN expenditure of £10,000 for the purpose of erecting an Art Gallery has been decided upon by the Exeter Town Council.

NOTHING has been heard of the balloon with which Mr. Powell, M. P., was carried out to sea. All hope of his safety is at an end.

THE Engineer states that a North of England firm are building a number of locomotives of American type for the United States.

IT is stated that the great strike which existed in the potteries for several weeks has cost the operatives no less than £150,000, without achieving their object.

THE marriage of Prince Leopold will be celebrated at St. George's Chapel, Windsor, either during the last ten days of March, or during the first fortnight of May.

THE Duke and Duchess of Albany will reside permanently at Claremont after their marriage. The duke's books, pictures, and other "properties," have recently been removed there from Windsor.

THE Volunteer force of Great Britain now includes 208,000 men, being 16,000 more than a year ago. Of the whole number 200,161 are returned as being efficient, a very high standard.

RHEUMATIC REMEDY.—There is no better cure for Rheumatism than Hagyard's Yellow Oil used according to directions on the bottle. It also cures Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, Bruises, lameness and all wounds of the flesh. All dealers sell it, price 25 cents.

IT IT SAID that some of the alkaloids which enter into the combination of Fellow's Hypophosphites, are extracted from trees which attain to a great age, and that this fact suggested to Mr. Fellows the idea of their employment. Whether the success of the preparation is due to this we are not prepared to say, but the idea is a good one.

INGENIOUS INVENTION.—Some shrewd Yankee has invented a key that will wind any watch; it is a neat attachment to a charm, and it is said to work like a charm. So does the grand Key to Health—Burdock Blood Bitters, the greatest discovery of the age. It unlocks all the secretions, and cleanses and invigorates the entire system. Sample bottles, 10 cents; large size, $1,00 of all medicine dealers.

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS 'TIS FOLLY TO BE WISE.—Dr. Bliss if not a success at probing for bullets, was highly successful in despatching bulletins: but the grandest bulletin of success is that which heralds the wonderful cures performed by Burdock Blood Bitters, that matchless tonic and blood purifier which acts at once upon the Bowels, the Skin, the Liver and the Kidneys, while it invigorates and strengthens the whole system.

EXTRAORDINARY SUICIDE.

A Lunatic Named Walsh Kills Himself in a Church—The Basilica the Scene.

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—The Basilica, formerly known as Notre Dame Cathedral, was this afternoon made the scene of a shocking tragedy, the victim being a man named Wm. A. James Walsh, who committed suicide by shooting. It appears that Walsh, who is a man of 45 or 50 years, had been drinking, and subsequently suffering from partia-delirium. While in this condition he sought shelter in a refuge attached to the Church, and under the charge of Father Malloy, where destitute persons are taken in and cared for. While there he refused to eat, seemed in terror, and used language implying an saying that he would rather kill himself than have any one else kill him. Being permitted to enter the church with another inmate of the Refuge to-day he disturbed the services Betweenitwo and three o'clock this afternoon Father Malloy sent a messenger to call a policeman, thinking it better to remove Walsh. Hearing of this intention Walsh ran into the Basement of the Church, which adjoins the Refuge. Police Constable Kane, accompanied by a messenger, went to the Church, and on entering soon caught sight of Walsh passing up the centre aisle. Kane followed, and when within six feet, Walsh, who had knelt and was rising up, suddenly

SHOT HIMSELF IN THE RIGHT TEMPLE.

Kane instantly seized him and wrested the revolver from him, Walsh seeming to resist though he never spoke. There were eight or ten persons, including several ladies, in the basement at the time, at their devotions. Two ladies were immediately in front of the suicide. They ran screaming out followed by the others leaving the policeman alone with Walsh. Several ladies fainted. As quickly as possible Dr. Valade was summoned. and when he arrived the wounded man's pulse was still beating. The seat and floor were crimsonedwith his blood. He died in a few minutes after. The body was taken to an undertaker. The affair has occasioned great excitement among the members of the congregation worshipping in the Basilica, a very large proportion of whom were French Canadians. Walsh is said to be from the Gatineau district.

LOSS BY FIRE.

Destruction of the Kingston Knitting Mills —Narrow Escape of Female Employees.

KINGSTON, Jan. 13.—About five o'clock an alarm of fire was sounded from box 13. The force turned out quickly, and after a drive of about a mile the fire was found to be raging in the Kingston knitting mill on King street west. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp in the spinning room, and the oil igniting soon caught the cotton and oily substances lying around. The fire spread with rapidity, and not a few of the sixty work-people had narrow escapes. As soon as the alarm sounded the whole mass of employees rushed for the doors. They had to pass through the room where the fire was raging. A girl named Colpack, states that she was the last of the twenty girls to get out. When the alarm sounded they rushed for the stairway. They were all on the second flat, and made their way through the smothering smoke to the door all escaping safely. Some lost their clothing, while others succeeded in saving a portion of it. When the fire brigade arrived it was seen to be useless to attempt to save the burning building, which was a vast tinder box, and they turned their attention to the tenement houses opposite. The fire was so intense that the barricade of doors, shutters, &c., used by the firemen to stand the heat, was on fire many times. Heroic work was done, but it was unavailing, for as the mill sank to the ground it sent up such a shower of sparks and huge peices of timber that the tenement houses were soon in flames, which, however, were prevented from spreading further. The entire loss will be about $40,000, distributed as follows :—Loss on knitting mill, $30,000 ; insurance, $10,000 ; Doran's tenements, $7,000 ; insured partially ; Mrs. Willis' stone residence, $3,000 ; partial insurance. In the mill was $4,000 worth of manufactured goods, ready for shipment, and an entire stock of material required for the coming season. The company had only been running the mill about a year, and their success was an assured fact. "B" Battery turned out and did good service in saving property.

OMEMEE.

ROBBERY.—The Herald says that either on Monday or Tuesday last some sneak thief entered the house of Mr. Wm. Dornan, of this village, and stole from a drawer in his bedroom $175, and about 25 pounds of pork. The thief must have been well acquainted with the premises, as a key was used for both the door of the house and where the money was kept. We hope the guilty party will be discovered and brought to justice.

ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday evening last Mr. W. B. Cawthorn's infont child met with what might have been a very serious accident. She was sitting on the floor, and a spool of thread with a fine needle sticking into it happened to fall close to the little thing, and in her endeavours to get it to play with, she lost her balance and fell, striking the head of the needle just above the left eye, which penetrated the forehead tween the skin and bone about an inch and a half. Mr. Cawthorne pulled the needle out but the point was missing, on examining the spool the point was found sticking in it. This should be a warning to mothers and persons in charge of small children to be very careful.

CAR FACTORY.—We are informed (on good authority) that a company is about to be organized for the manufacture of all kinds of flat and box railway cars. Mr. James Evans, proprietor of the Omemee Foundry, will be the head of the firm. Additional buildings will be joined to the already large foundry, and an extra staff of workmen put on. This is just what Omemee wants, and it will be a great benefit to the merchants as well as all our citizens and should be encouraged. A factory for the manufacture of all kinds of wooden ware, such as broom handles, pails, tubs, washboards, rake, hoe and shovel handles, &c., could be easily established in this vilage as we have first-class railway facilities, especially when the missing link from here to Peterborough is completed, for shipping to the front. If our village fathers would offer some inducements, we have no doubt such a business might be established, and would pay well.

A NOBLEMAN who inherited a very fine property in the midland countries eleven years ago, containing some of the richest and best cultivated land in England, finds himself now, in these bad times of agriculture, with ten large farms thrown on his hands. The tenants on most of these farms were almost patriarchal, the leases having descended from father to son for a hundred and fifty or two hundred years.

GATHERINGS IN THE HEAD.—"Although an entire stranger to you, I have received so much benefit from the PERUVIAN SYRUP that I cannot withhold my testimony in its favour. At different periods in my life I have been afflicted with gathering in my head, which discharged daily, either from one or both ears. Besides the digusting character of the complaint, it was at times attended with excruciating pain. I had recourse to both the Allopathia and Homœopathic treatment, but in vain. The last attack had troubled me nearly a year, when at the session of our Annual Conferance, held at Newburgh in April last, I saw a cerificate from some one who had been cured of a similial complaint by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP. To be brief, I purchased a bottle at the nearst drug store, and before it was half gone my trouble had entirely ceased, and at this writiug, nearly two months later, has not returned." Sold by all druggists. —From the Rev. Nathan Hubbell, Methodist preacher at Havaré Deleware Co., N. Y.

LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY COMPANY.

Satisfactory Reports of the President, Treasurer and Superintendent—A Good Suggestion—Election of Directors and Officers.

The annual meeting of the above company was held at the Council Chamber, at 12 o'clock, noon, to-day.

Present:—John J. Lundy, Esq., President, in the chair, and Messrs. Robert Dennistoun, County Judge, Rev. V. Clementi, G. H. Johnston, C. D. Macdonald, James Stevenson, R. D. Rogers, Wm. Eastland, W. H. Moore, Jas. Stratton, Charles Cameron, R. Kingan and W. Menzies, besides Messrs. Jas. Edwards, Secretary Treasurer, and John Kelly, Superintendent.

THE DIRECTORS' REPORT.

The President read the annual report of the Directors as follows:—

Report of the Directors of the Little Lake Cemetery Company for the year 1881, presented at the annual meeting 16th January, 1882.

Your outgoing Directors would congratulate the stockholders of the Company as to the favorable position it has arrived at, closing the year with a large sum on hand, notwithstanding having spent nearly $1,500 during the year.

The gross receipts have been $2,312.30, add to which the balance at the close of 1880, $1,176.79 making a total of $3,489.09. The expenditure for the year has been $1,495.43, leaving balance on hand 31st Dec., 1881, of $1,993.66, as will be seen by balance sheet.

A large number of lots has been sold, realizing some $1,068. A good share of permanent improvements have been made in cleaning and beautifying the lots, and the walks and roads.

The subject of purchasing lands adjacent to the Cemetery has engaged the attention of the Directors, but they have failed in accomplishing anything definite. They would, however, urge upon their successors to attempt obtaining more ground for burial purposes. The attraction is such that parties from a long distance, are desirous of "burying the dead" in Peterborough, and good eligible lots are being bought up rapidly. In the event of purchasing additional land, increased fences will be required. The present fences are very poor, and steps will have to be taken at an early day to renew them.

It is now nearly 30 years since the Cemetery was formed, on the 21st of June, 1852, there were 35 proprietors in the company, 22 of this number have passed away to the eternal world 13 only of the original number remain alive to-day. In view of the fact that we each have in our turn to depart hence, and the mutable state of every thing under the sun, the voice of wisdom addresses us all "whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might, for there is neither work, knowledge nor device in the grave to whither thou art fast hastening."

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) JOHN J. LUNDY,
President.

The report was received and adopted.

The weekly accounts of your caretaker we have assumed to have been approved by you; also the account for printing, stationery, postage, etc.

Your Treasurer has no receipt for the stump machine, he, having under instructions from the President, remitted a Post Office money order for the amount, and has not been able to obtain a receipt.

(Signed) JOHN J. HALL, EDG. PEARSE, } Auditors.

Peterborough, Jan'y 12th, 1882.

Total number of Interments 146.

In presenting the financial statement of the receipts and expenditures of the past year, I respectfully beg to call your attention to some of the improvements which have been made during the year.

A large area of ground has been cleared of trees, stumps and stones, and the lots evenly graded, and seeded with the choicest of grass seeds, and a large portion of the said grounds has also been terraced and sodded, which adds very much to the appearance of the lots so terraced. There have been 312 lots improved, which remain unsold, the proceeds of which, if sold, would exceed the expenditure of the past year, Also a number of the walks have been gravelled and some 200 yards of gravel has been put on the principal roads, which adds very much to the comfort of travel through the grounds.

A large number of evergreens and ornamental trees have been planted, which are doing well and will in a short time add greatly to the appearance of the grounds.

A yard fence has been built at the caretaker's house, and some repaird made to the building.

A number of rustic seats have been purchased and placed in convenient positions through the grounds, which have been very much used by visitors during thf summer months.

The Committee having procured the use of a horse in the cemetry, when required; a wagon, cart and harness have been purchased, and a new stone machine has also been added, the purchase of these articles will lessen the running expenses in the future.

I might say that the amount received during the year has been sufficient to meet all the expenses incurred for improvements and salary.

The fence on the west side of the Cemetery is in a dilapidated condition and needs repairing immediately in the spring. In this connection I would respectfully suggest that the Directors acquire the property for some distance west of the Cemetery, which if acquired and improved would greatly add to the beauty and general appearance of the grounds.

There being now sufficient funds on hand for those purposes, I believe that the present is a favourable time to purchase the said property.

I would also suggest that the Directors urge upon the Town Council the necessity of taking some steps to preserve Crescent street, which is annually wearing away from the action of the lake, the roadway now is quite narrow in several places, and the cost would now be very much less than a year or two hence.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
Peterborough, Jan. 16. JOHN KELLY.

The report was received.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS.

The election of Directors for the ensuing year then took place, Messrs. Moore and Stratton acting as scrutineers, and stating that the following gentlemen were elected:—Messrs. Dennistoun, Clementi, Lundy, Stevenson, Edwards, Eastland, Stapleton, Carnegie and Hamilton.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

MR. JAMES STRATTON, had suggested at a former meeting that a portion of the capital be invested and the interest used for the purpose of keeping all portions of the cemetery in order, after the graves and grounds have been improved. He again brought the matter up and asked the Directors to take the matter into their consideration, He paid a high compliment to Mr. Kelly, for his good management and for his courtesy. He did not come to oppose the present Directors, but simply to bring the matter before the meeting.

His HONOR JUDGE DENNISTOUN perfectly agreed with Mr. Stratton, and thought that some such move should be made as the one suggested. The beauty of two or three handsome blocks was greatly marred by one lot in bad condition.

Mr. STRATTON, said he would willingly pay $5 or $10 extra for a lot, provided he had no more to pay for all time.

The SUPERINTENDENT, in answer to Mr. Stevenson, said that nearly all the lots were now cared for, and it would not cost much to keep the remainder in order.

Mr. STRATTON felt confident that many of the present lot owners would willingly give $5 or $10 now, if they were released from future payments.

REV. V. CLEMENTI thought the present time was not opportune for bringing up such a matter. They had now under consideration the purchase of additional ground and the erection of a new fence. If these suggestions were carried out, the funds on hand would not amount to a very great sum. Again he had very grave doubts, as to whether the law would allow them to expend the money in the manner suggested by Mr. Stratton.

After some further talk of a conversational character the discussion ceased.

THE HOUR OF MEETING.

Mr. R. KINGAN said that the hour of meeting, 12 o'clock noon, was a very unseasonable one, and a very inconvenient one for many of the shareholders. He would like to see a large representation present at the annual meeting, and this would be accomplished by changing the hour of meeting.

The Secretary said that no hour was specified for meeting.

Mr. KINGAN moved that the hour of meeting be changed.

REV. V. CLEMENTI said that it was impossible to change that which had no existence.

His HONOR JUDGE DENNISTOUN said that they formerly met at 10 o'clock, but changed it, so as not to clash with the Town Council. He thought 12 o'clock noon, was the most convenient hour.

Mr. J. STRATTON suggested that the matter be left to the directors to consider.

DIRECTORS' MEETING.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, the following officers were elected.

PRESIDENT.—Mr. J. J. Lundy, re-elected.

SECRETARY-TREASURER.—Mr. Jas. Edwards, salary $75, re-elected.

SUPERINTENDENT.—Mr. John Kelly, salary $500, re-elected.

AUDITORS.—Messrs. W. Eastland and J. J. Hall.

The Weather.

The weather continues remarkably mild with slight flurries of snow at interval. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company are as follows.—Lakes—Fresh to strong westerly to north westerly winds, fair decidedly cooler weather, with local falls of snow.

SCOTLAND.

THERE are 222 penny banks in Glasgow with 60,000 youthful depositors, having at their credit £2311.

EXPERIMENTS are being made at Peterhead to quell the raging sea by "pouring oil on the troubled waters."

LORD Balfour of Burleigh was initiated into the order of Oddfellowship on the 17th Dec. in the Masonic Hall, Alloa.

OWING to the slippery state of the roads there were only some half a score of cattle at Culcabook market, Inverness, on the 23d Dec.

THE Sterling North Church is presently trying both harmoniums and American organs in their services, to see which they will adopt.

THE Rev. W. Robertson Smith's lectures on the Prophets are so numerously attended that he has had to re-deliver them in the Masonic Hall.

JAMES SCOTT, a tramp, was sent six days to prison the other day by Mr. Sheriff Smith at Elgin for stealing a ferret from a farm near Grantown.

ON the 25th Dec. Christmas services were held, not only in the Roman Catholic and Episcopal churches, but in a number of Presbyterian places of worship.

JOHN SINCLAIR and James Flett, farmers, Orphir, have been sentenced to three weeks' imprisonment for stealing wood, which had been saved from the wreck of the "Arcturus."

ON Saturday night, the 17th Dec., two men found a stranger lying helplessly drunk in the village of Gargonnock, and placed him in an empty pig-stye for shelter. On Sunday morning he was found dead.

THE bazaar in connection with the Free Gaelic Church, Greenock, which was held in the Town Hall, was concluded on the 24th Dec. and the total sum collected during the three days was announced to be closed on £1400.

A SEVERE gale has again been doing much damage along the British coasts, and many fishing boats have been wrecked, with loss of life. On the Clyde the storm at one time was so severe that several of the lights along the coast were swept away.

The Latest Fraud.

QUEBEC, Jan. 13.—A great fraud was committed at the expense of farmers in Kamouraska County last fall by a well-dressed sharper, who, under the assumed profession of grain dealer, went from farm to farm to purchase oats at 50c. per bushel, to be delivered in January. Contracts were signed in duplicate, and it appears that the duplicates in the purchaser's hand were nothing else than promissory notes, which have been transferred to other parties in Montreal, who want immediate payment. It appears that over eighty car-loads of oats were ready for shipment. The farmers of St. Anne, Riviere Ouelle, St. Denis and Kamouraska have been the most imposed upon. Those having sold, for instance, 400 bushels of oats, have signed notes for $400.

NO HOSPITAL NEEDED.—No palatial hospital needed for Hop Bitters patients, nor large salaried talented puffers to tell what Hop Bitters will do or cure, as they tell their own story by their certain and absolute cures at home.—New York Independent.

DON'T FORGET THE "SOZODONT," but use it regularly after every meal. It imparts a pleasant flavor to the mouth, changes offensive secretions into healthful, invigorates the gums, and cleanses the interstices of the teeth. Like old Hercules, it purifies the Augean stables which some have in their mouth.

A FAMILY FRIEND.—No family should be without Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain-Killer. It can be given to the infant for the Colic, and to the adult for Rheumatism. There is scarcely a disease to which it may not be beneficially applied. It contains no deleterious drug, but may be used for the various ailments of mankind.

WOMAN'S TRUE FRIEND.—A friend in need is a friend indeed. This none can deny, especially when assistance is rendered when one is sorely afflicted with disease. More particularly those complaints and weaknesses so common to our female population. Every woman should know that Electric Bitters are woman's true friend, and will positively restore her to health, even when all other remedies fail. A single trial proves our assertion. They are pleasant to the taste and only cost fifty cents a bottle. Sold by Taylor & Macdonald.—2

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

THE AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION.

FOR the first time for a number of years we have before us something worthy the name of an annual Report of the Council of the Agricultural and Arts Association. The volume before us extends to 111 pages, and contains, besides an abstract of the receipts and expenditures for 1880, the reports of the judges on prize farms in 1880 and 1881; report of the annual meeting at London; Prof. Mills' syllabus for a course of study in agriculture, and the holding of examinations annually at convenient cities throughout the province for farmers' sons, which no doubt will be put in operation by the incoming Council of the Association; results of the exhibition of 1881, as as compared with previous years; essays on restoring fertility to partially worn out lands, and on forestry and arboriculture, and the annual report of the Ontario Veterinary College, making altogether a very interesting and useful little volume.

Under existing circumstances it is to be regretted that the present report could not have been made to include the financial statement for the current year, as we believe it will prove, when published, that the present Council have effected very great reductions in the previous expensive management of the association, and introduced other reforms which will prove highly satisfactory.

In this particular part of the Province the present report will be received with particular gratification, inasmuch as it shows that the new secretary—Mr. Henry Wade—is proving himself the right man in the right place, and that with increased experience, their annual reports, under his direction, are likely to prove of substantial value to the farmers of this Province.

Various Opinions.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The Sun's Washington special says that a distinguished New England lawyer has given the opinion, feebly, as in some respects it has been made out, that Guiteau belongs to a class of criminals whom, when the plea of insanity has been set up, the juries have not found guilty and have been confined as lunatics. This is the view taken by quite a large number of lawyers and persons who view it as an ordinary case. The lawyers and others specially interested on behalf of the criminal express considerable confidence that the jury will not convict. Persons who have studied the jurors tend towards the opinion that a verdict of guilty will never be rendered by this jury.

They Tone the system, purify the Blood and increase the appetite, and render those taking them almost proof against disease, Should be used in every case instead of pills. J. D. SOUTH AMERICAN OIL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The Times' Washington special says that the reported condition of the market and the amount of surplus, caused the oil men to turn their attention to South America and endeavor to devise a plan for making a market there. This directs attention to the fact that in some parts of South America there are large deposits of petroleum of a good quality which can be procured without boring.

THE CANAL COMMISSION.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The Herald's Albany special says that the report of the special canal commission of 1881 will be presented to the Legislature on Wednesday. The report is signed by Williams and Foster, Republicans, and Murtha, Democrat. It is said that they are unanimous in their conclusions. The report states that the Commission was fully impressed with the conviction that unless steps are taken to cheapen the cost of transportation on the water routes, the canals must soon fall into disuse. The report refers to the Welland canal, and Mississippi river, as dangerous rivals of the Erie canal, and says that we must make the water route to the ocean through Erie canal, the cheapest one, and to accomplish this result we must make the canals absolutely free. The cost of maintaining them free however will be but a trifle compared with the benefits which will accrue to the state from the trade that would be thereby kept or brought within its borders. The cost of maintaining the canals during 1880 was $800,000, and had this amount been raised by taxation the counties of New York, Kings and Erie would have paid about 60 per cent, and 90 per cent would have been the entire sum contributed by the counties situated upon the water routes between lake Erie and the ocean. Report shows that the counties of Chautauqua, St. Lawrence and Wyoming received from New York city, for educational purposes in 1878 far more than those counties would have to pay towards maintaining free canals. The Commission recommends the immediate passage of a resolution submitting to the people an amendment to the constitution making the canals free. The Commission also recommends that the depth of water in the Erie and Oswego canals be increased to two feet by excavating a foot more from the bottom, and with the earth taken therefrom, raising the walls one foot. This, in the opinion of the Commission, would diminish the cost of transportation of grain at least one cent a bushel. The report states that the Erie canal paid into the treasury of the State over forty million dollars more than it cost. If the amount received by the carriers, warehouse and commission men is added to this sum the amount is increased to nearly $400,000,000. The report refers to the amount saved in taxes, and the larger increase of wealth in commercial counties. The Commissioners find that resident engineers can be dispensed with. The Commissioners recommend that the office of canal auditor be abolished, and the duties transferred to a bureau in the office of the Department. They are also of the opinion that the offices of canal appraiser and weighmaster can be safely abolished.

LOCKING THE STABLE, ETC.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The Alderman have passed resolutions declaring that the recent railway disaster could not have occured if competent flagmen had been stationed at the end of the cut, and if it had been properly lighted and patrolled, and directing above precations to be taken hereafter.

Decided by the Geese.

A case came up on Wednesday at the Western Police station which gave opportunity for utilizing the worldly wisdom and Scriptural knowledge of the authorities there. It was charged that a woman in the extreme western part of the city had stolen a lot of geese from a neighbour, both parties being owners of geese. As the geese were white, there was no way of identifying them, and the question was not a little perplexing. Capt. Lepsom suggested to Squire Talbot that if the geese were turned out they would go home, and thus demonstrate who owned them. The suggestion was acted upon, and yesterday morning the geese, in charge of a sergeant, were taken to their native haunts and turned loose. They soon struck out for their former home, and the goose trouble was amicably settled.—Baltimore Sun.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE GRANT.

A By-law confirming the resolution of the Council granting $100 to the Mechanics' Institute, for the year 1882, was then put through its various stages, signed, sealed and passed.

THE MUSKOKA SUFFERERS.

Councillor DENNE said that he had been accosted on the street during the day by about a dozen persons, asking for subscriptions to aid the Muskoka sufferers. As the Ontario Government had received thousands of dollars from that section, he thought that that body was the proper one to aid them.

Moved by Councillor DENNE, seconded by Councillor RUTHERFORD,—That the Mayor and Clerk be authorized by this Council to draw up a memorial and forward it to the Government, urging upon them the necessity of their assisting the sufferers in Muskoka.—Carried.

RULES OF ORDER.

Moved by Councillor CAHILL, seconded by Councillor MCNAUGHTON,—That the rules of order of the Council of 1877, as amended, be adopted by this Council.—Carried.

REMOVAL OF SNOW.

Councillor RUTHERFORD spoke in favor of the removal of snow from the sidewalks, the work to be done by contract. The work would cost but a small sum to each person, and would give employment to poor people during a hard season.

Councillor PATERSON said that teaming was now costing the town a very heavy sum every year and he thought that they should consider the advisability of buying a team. The horses could be used for teaming, drawing the steam fire engine and removing snow. He thought a great saving would be the result if his suggestion was adopted.

Councillor RUTHERFORD agreed with the previous speaker.

Councillor RICHARDSON would like to know how much carting, etc., cost. If we had not enough work for a team to do, we would find it very expensive to keep them idle. He would like to see the snow removed from the sidewalks by some plan or another.

Councillor POUSSETTE thought it would be economy to purchase a team. Besides the things mentioned, the horses might be used to draw the watering cart.

Moved by Councillor RUTHERFORD, seconded by Councillor DOUGLAS,—That the Clerk be authorized to ask for tenders for the removal of snow from off all the sidewalks in the Town for the year 1882, and that the Fire, Water and Gas Committee be authorized to open the tenders and report to the Council.—Carried.

Moved by Councillor RUTHERFORD, seconded by Councillor DOUGLAS,—That the Clerk be authorized to ask for tenders for the construction of two snow ploughs, and that the Fire, Water and Gas Committee be authorized to open the tenders and report to the Council.—Carried.

GASEOUS.

Councillor RUTHERFORD brought up the report of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee, brought in at the last meeting of the old council, and urged that it be now adopted.

Councillor CAHILL said that the report was one of a defunct Council.

The MAYOR ruled that the report could be submitted to the present Council.

Councillor DENNE had never heard of the report referred to.

Conneillor RUTHERFORD said that Councillor Cahill was a "cute one," and had voted to lay the matter over to the new Council, and now when it came up he wanted to "stave it off."

Councillor POUSSETTE thought the present Council could pass the report, a corporation never dies, even if the members of it do die. There was nothing in the statute that he was aware of to prevent the Council acting on the report. The lamp at the corner of Brock and Park streets is already in position, and the pipe half way up in it, and all it requires is to put the light in it. It was very necessary as a large number of people live in that portion of the town.

Mr. E. C. Hill said he was no new comer, but a resident of 32 years standing, and he thought that he deserved consideration at the hands of his fellow townsmen. He was an enterprising citizen, had paid a large amount in taxes and only asked that a light be put in a lamp that he had erected at his own expense, and had kept lighted for years. A large petition had been presented asking for the lamp at his corner, and he thought that the Council would order it to be lighted. No digging was required at all.

Councillor DENNE said that Mr. Hill only wanted the light, and would doubtless pay for it himself as he did not ask the Council to do so. The North Ward had only seven lamps and more were wanted.

Councillor DOUGLAS, "Question."

Councillor CAHILL contended that there was nothing before the Council. Mr. Poussette's logic was as all right enough, and Mr. Hill's statements were all well enough, but because that gentleman wanted a lamp, were they to erect it? The matter had been sprung on the old Council at the eleventh hour, after hanging over for months and he could see no good reason for such hurry now. It would cost the gas company a large sum to lay down the pipes the ground being frozen. The money asked to be voted was not only for this year but for years and years to come. Councillor Rutherford had tried to steal a march on the Council, and if the members were willing to allow him to ride over them, he could not help it.

Councillor DENNE raised a point of order.

The MAYOR could not sustain him as notice of the matter had been given.

Councillor DOUGLAS thought the matter should be dealt with by this Council. If Mr. Cahill had voted to clean up all the work of the last year, this matter would not have come up at the present time, but Mr. Cahill had voted against that, and in consequence he thought this Council should deal with it.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that the lamp asked for by Mr. Hill had only been petitioned for a few weeks before the end of 1881.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON thought that the western end of the town was well enough lighted, and particularly the portion where it was asked to place another lamp.

Councillor PATERSON said that no mine had been sprung on the Council as the lamps recommended had been asked for repeatedly. He did not favor placing a lamp at Mr. Hill's corner unless three or four others were placed in the same section of the town.

Councillor RICHARDSON always liked to favor a large petition, and he was in favor of granting Mr. Hill's request, as that gentleman had acted in an enterprising manner. He wanted more lamps in his section of the town, but was afraid of the expense.

Councillor KELLY wanted the matter of adopting the report left over, but thought that Mr. Hill's lamp should be lighted, as that gentleman had kept it lighted at his own expense for many years.

Mr. James Stevenson said that the Gas Company could not lay down pipes at present as the frost was too deep. The lamp at Mr. Hill's and the one on McDonell street could be lighted easily enough. There was no money in gas lamps and he was not at all anxious to put down more. If any person in town deserved a lamp, Mr. Hill was that person, as he had gone to a lot of trouble and expense to beautify his premises and erect a lamp.

Councillor KELLY said that Councillor Rutherford had opposed the erection of some lamps only a few months ago, but now he wanted no less than four lamps, all in his own ward.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that only one of the lamps was in his ward.

Councillor KELLY, another of them is just in the boundary.

Councillor CAHILL again raised a point of order.

The MAYOR again ruled against him.

Councillor CAHILL appealed to the Council against the Mayor's ruling.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that Councillor Kelly had a right to vote for the four lamps asked for, as no less than three of them were on the boundary between numbers two and three wards. He contended that his motion was perfectly in order and thought that Councillor Cahill was acting in a rather strange manner. With regard to the lamp at the Court House, perhaps the County Council would assist the the town in putting down lamps in that locality and thus benefit the citizens.

Councillor DENNE thought that as the County Council would sit next week, the matter might be left off for a time, in order to see if the County County would afford any assistance.

Two or three motions and amendments were then moved, the majority of them being for the purpose of allowing the movers to address the Council.

Councillor CAHILL again urged leaving the matter over as they would not lose anything by it.

Councillor DENNE thought the new members should have time to consider the matter.

The Report and all the amendments were declared lost, upon a vote being taken.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

Mr. POUSSETTE gave notice of motion that he would move at the next meeting of the Council that the gas lamps at the corner of Brock and Park streets be lighted.

THE FIRE INQUEST.

Coroner R. W. BELL stated that he had held the fire inquest as ordered, but could not find out anything regarding any of the fires. He also read the verdict, the latter portion of which censured the Council. He did not agree with the clause referred to, but thought that from the evidence adduced there were grounds for stating that the fires were incendiary. While they had not accomplished anything but hoped that the inquest would have done a deterring influence. He had kept the cost down to the lowest possible figure.

Councillor DENNE thought that the Council should have had better grounds before ordering an inquest.

Dr. Bell said that the Council could not put any person under oath.

The MAYOR said that complaints had been made to him. He ordered the police to investigate and report. They had done so and as there were suspicious circumstances, the inquest was ordered.

CAR WORKS.

Councillor CAHILL gave notice of motion that at the nex meeting of the Council he would move that the Council be enabled to take stock in, or otherwise assist the car works company, proposed to be established here.

PAYING THE JURORS.

Councillor POUSSETTE gave notice of motion that he would move at the next meeting that the jurors at the late fire inquest be paid.

The Council then adjourned for two weeks.

PROJECTING SIGNS AND SIGN BOARDS.

To the Editor of the Review:

DEAR SIR,—The passing of by-laws by the Town Council has always been pooh-pooed by the public as involving expenditure for so much waste paper, and very naturally so, as the by-laws have never, or only partially been enforced, except in matters involving expenditure of money, when parties interested had seen them carried out. Out of this feeling of security, the public has of late been rudely shaken by the action taken against Mr. Graham for erecting a sign board contrary to the by-law. Every one knows what consequences this had on most of the business men of the town, causing loss of time and a lot of annoyance. It is not my intention to criticize or find fault with the action, and I am glad that a reform much needed, has been brought about even at the cost of annoyance, but the manner in which it was done, without a word of warning was a most contemptible and mean one, and far from being appreciated by the public. Is it justifiable that because some one strikes me, I should turn round to strike the first person coming along? Such is Mr. Graham's prosecution. As such rigorous action has been taken to enforce this by-law, I hope the proper persons will not remain in the downcast state they have been for years in, but go to work with a will and resolution, to have all by-laws respected without consideration on whom the blow may fall, or such officers might find themselves some day in a similar dilemma, being brought up for neglect of duty, as there are many by-laws more important for the safety of the town, such as the fire by-law, displaying goods outside the stores, offering temptation to steal, congregating on street-corners, (an inspection of such corners on a Monday morning particularly reveals wonderful skill in drawing pictures by the aid of tobacco juice), the cow and pig by-law; the clanging of bells at auction is almost an insufferable nuisance to business men in close proximity. What a hideous noise it would create if every storekeeper would resort to this, to which they have as perfect a right as their neighbor. There is another nuisance to, which I will draw the attention of the Council, this is the dog nuisance. That so many dogs should roam about without the the tax being paid, should not for a moment be tolerated, and the example of other cities and towns issuing tags to be attached to dogs, should be adopted here as well, and all dogs not wearing them should be done away with.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I remain,

W. LECH.

Huron and Ontario Ship Canal.

On Saturday a deputation representing the Workingmen's National Union, waited on Hon. O. Mowat to urge on him the advisability of granting substantial aid to the Huron and Ontario ship canal. The delegation was well received, and urged on the premier that the enhanced value of the lands in the as yet unsettled portions of the province, and the additional price which the building of the canal would enable the province to obtain for the timber and mineral lands north of lakes Huron and Superior, would amply recoup any present outlay. Mr. Mowat expressed himself as being personally favorable to the building of the canal, and promised to lay the matter before the government.—World.

BEHEADED FOR FALLING IN LOVE.

A Young Chinaman Suffers Death for Daring to Love An American Girl.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 9.—Among the Chinese students who came to this country to obtain an education were two bright boys named Chin Chin Yateh and Chin Chin Chan, who came to this city. They were brothers, and entered the Hopkins Grammar School, where they made good progress in preparation for Yale College, While in this city they boarded in the family of Mr. Vester, No. 50. Densington street. When the students in this country were recalled by the orders of the Chinese Government last May, the two brothers left for Hartford, where they learned the telegraph business, and later on returned to China. During their residence on Kensington street Chan became interested in a young lady named Sherman, living near by. This fancy was strongly opposed on the part of Miss Sherman's friends, but Chan's attentions were continued, and were only interrupted by the departure of the young Celestial. The acquaintance was kept alive, however, and Chan has corresponded with the lady ever since. The principal reason for recalling the Chinese students was the fear on the part of the authorities that they were becoming thoroughly Americanized, and that they would marry American wives. They were here at Government expense, the object being to have them return to their native country with power to introduce American civilization. Advices received here state that Chan's persistence in his devotions to Miss Sherman coming to the knowledge of the Chinese authorities, the young man was condemned to death, and, according to Chinese customs, was beheaded in Hong Kong.

Another instance, showing the the narrowness of the policy of the Chinese Government, is the fact that a young Chinaman now living in the family of the late Dr. Bacon, having become converted to Christianity, was advised by the Chinese Commissioner at Hartford to remain in this country, as his return to his native country would be the signal for his death. He therefore remains in this country, and will study for the ministry. One of the latest labors of Dr. Bacon was in arranging for the young man's education.

ÆSTHETIC HOUSEKEEPING.

She was a graduate of Vassar, and when she married Julius Augustus Smyth, was very much like another young lady who has been embalmed in song—

Miss Palias Andora von Blurky,
Who didn't know chicken from turkey,
High Spanish and Greek she could fluently speak,
But her knowledge of poultry was murky.

However, she told Julius Augustus that she was a good housekeeper because her mother and grandmother were, and it ran in the family. So on the strength of this he went to housekeeping. She bought a sweet little morocco covered note book and an embroidered market basket, and carried a gold pencil, wore an æsthetic morning costume, and appeared like a vision of delight before the magnates of the cleaver at the Central Market.

"O, the dear, sweet, cunning little pigs," she exclaimed stopping at an aldermanic stand where several little roasters were on exhibition. "I'll take a couple of those. How much are they a pair?"

"Five dollars for two," was the realistic answer.

Isn't that rather high? Guess I'll take a yard of beefsteak and a pound of chewing gum instead and some—O, yes!—some sweetbreads. Julius said he wanted some nice, fresh ones, please, with plenty of raisins in them."

Then she sailed over to the poultry stall.

"Have you any chickens?" she asked of the woman in attendance.

"Heaps of 'em," was the reply.

"How much do they cost a heap?" she asked.

"Half a dollar a piece, mem."

"Well, send up a piece to my residence," and she turned to the next stall and picked up some little packages that looked very nice. "What is this sweet stuff that smells so lovely?" she asked of the red-headed boy behind the table.

"Limburger, miss, and it's just splendid; tastes ever so much better than it smells—have one?"

She took one, and then she asked the boy where they sold quail on toast.

"Ain't any in the market," answered the young reprobate. "Mother's gone after a load though, and we'll send you some as soon as they're in."

"What are these lovely navy blue berries?" she inquired. "They will just match my china. You may send me a bushel."

Finally she decided to try a quart, which she carried herself in the artistic basket.

"Have you any hen fruit?" she asked sweetly of an old fellow in a white apron.

He scratched his ear with a pencil for a moment:—"Mebbe you mean h'eggs," he volunteered.

These she also took charge of, as she wanted to make an omelet for Julius Augustus.

But she never did, or rather when she got home the omelet was made with a liberal admixture of blue berries, and the front of her æsthetic dress was ruined. Added to it was an odor that sent Julius into spasms, and frightened the cat to death; the limberger had melted.

The Vassar girl did justice to high Spanish and Greek in the explanation that ensued, and the next day they buried the morocco note-book and went to boarding.

Brandon.

The Souris Valley, south-west from Brandon, through which the C. P. R. branch of the Souris Valley & Bow River Road is surrveyed, and the construction of which will commence in the spring, is a fine country, and is rapidly settling up. This road opens up and passes through the immense coal and iron deposits recently discovered in the famous Souris Valley district. Brandon will undoubtedly become a large and prosperous city in a few years. Its central position will necessitate branch and intersecting lines of railways with the trunk line, and the splendid bridge now being constructed across the Assiniboine just east of the town will be utilized for a great southern line to connect with the North-western Road. As a distributing point it will have no equal outside of Winnipeg in the North-west. The Syndicate have let contracts for an immense emigrant shed to be built at the foot of Second-street, and intend using it as an outfitting station for emigrants, which will be the means of largely increasing the business in this rapidly rising city. It will also be the terminus of the C. P. R. for next season, and the point from which all Syndicate supplies will be shipped. All steamers running between Winnipeg and Fort Ellice stop at Brandon. Plans for "A Grand Palace Hotel," containing 140 bed-rooms, have been prepared by a Minneapolis firm, and work on the same will be commenced early in the coming spring. The materials for the construction are now being shipped from Minneapolis, so that no delay will occur in hastening the completion of so laudable an enterprise. The building alone will cost $75,000, and will have ten stores underneath, six of them facing Princess-avenue and the other four on Park-street.

A BOY dropped a live coal down the back of a schoolfellow for fun at Ware, Mass., and the burned youth's father thanks the joker's father ought to pay $1,000 damage.

OSCAR Wilde talks with a rhythmic chant, accenting every fourth syllable, thus:—"I came from England because I thought America was the best place to see.

MR. SCOVILLE has instituted a libel suit against the Chicago Herald, which charged him with fraud in connection with the Going bankruptcy.

WM. ELLIOTT, the famous oarsman, and a fireman on the steamer Arctic, were seriously injured at Queenstown by falling down a coal banker on the voyage out.

SCORFULOUS AFFECTIONS.—These loathsome ailments, including pimples, sore scalp, etc., arise from impure blood or impaired digeston. A single box of Harrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills has been known to sweep such affections out of the system root and branch For sale everywhere.

MESSRS. Bethune and David, Montreal, insurance brokers, having had a disput,e it led to a physical encounter on the streets. The matter will be ventilated in the police court.

THE Messrs. McMullen, proprietors of the Prince Edward railway, have entered into a contract with a Pennsylvania iron company, to deliver 45,000 tons of iron ore by December next.

ON Saturday afternoon a young man named James Fewings, son of Chief Fewings, of St. Thomas, had a narrow escape from a terrible death at Haggert & Cochrane's foundry there. He was passing within a short distance of the rapidly revolving saw when a piece of wood flew from the blade and struck him upon the side of the head, knocking him senseless. The young man was picked up and was soon all right, with the exception of a severe cut upon his neck.

DR. CARSON'S Pulmonary Cough Drops are an excellent Expectorant loosening the phlegm far more readily than any other preparation. For Coughs, Colds Bronchitis, Tickling in the Throat and Soreness and Tightness of the Chest, they have no equal. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, agent, Peterborough.

A GREAT ENTERPRISE.—The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company is one of Rochester's greatest business enterprises. Their Hop Bitters have reached a sale beyond all precedent, having from their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

A NUMBER of horses about Troy, N. Y., are suffering from "mud fever." The disease is not dangerous, and the chief symptom is a loss of the glossy coating of hair from the back and flanks. The cause of the disease is the deep mud with which the city streets and highways have of late been covered. The cold and dampness of this muddy coating upon the legs of horses no doubt contribute to the fever symptoms. One prominent teamster said the mud was unprecedented in continuance and in depth.

BISHOP BEVERIDGE.—A gentleman meeting the celebrated and excellent Bishop, Beveridge, asked him how he was. Beveridge replied: "If I answer in Latin, I am sic, sic; if in English, so, so." There are many, who, if they spoke truly would give the same answer as the excellent Bishop. They have contracted lung disease, or it may be are suffering from asthma, and in great danger of that fatal malady consumption. Take warning in time, use N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir, it is really what many have called it, the "king" of remedies. Sold by all druggists throughout the Dominion.

PRINCE LEOPOLD has gone to Germany to visit the family of his future bride. His marriage will take place at Windsor, and probably at St. George's Chapel; but this is not settled, as the Queen is at present disposed to command that the ceremony shall be celebrated in the private chapel within the Castle, where Princess Christian and, more recently, Brincess Frederica were married. It is thought, however, that she will yield to the anxious desire of the bridegroom that he may be married with precisely the same state as the Duke of Connaught.

WE have witnessed the magical effect of St. Jacobs Oil in the most severe cases of rheumatism, and without hesitancy, pronounce it the greatest remedy in the market. The Cincinnati Enquirer mentions the following statement from Mr. Burton, of the great stove firm of Redway & Burton of that city. "My boy was afflicted with the rheumatism badly; we had doctored with him a great deal, but could find no cure; I saw St. Jacobs Oil advertised so much, heard so much of its good qualities, that I at last determined to try it. I must say that it beats all my doctoring hollow. Two bottles of St. Jacobs Oil cured my boy of the rheumatism, when all other remedies which I had tried failed."

A PHILADELPHIA woman who just died at the age of 92, spent her honeymoon with her husband in Napoleon's expedition to Moscow. She saw the burning of that city, and on several occasions talked with the Emperor of the French. Her husband having been wounded, she dragged him over the frozen ground for nine weeks on a hand sleigh. A guide betrayed them to the Cossacks, and they were held prisoners for eighteen months, and were exchanged just in time to suffer the horrors and privations of Napoleon's retreat. Her sex was never discovered during all this time. Her experience seemed to have insured her a long life.

GATHERINGS IN THE HEAD.—"Although an entire stranger to you, I have received so much benefit from the PERUVIAN SYRUP that I cannot withhold my testimony in its favour. At different periods in my life I have been afflicted with gathering in my head, which discharged daily, either from one or both ears. Besides the digusting character of the complaint, it was at times attended with excruciating pain. I had recourse to both the Allopathia and Homœpathic treatment, but in vain. The last attack had troubled me nearly a year, when at the session of our Annual Conference, held at Newburgh in April last, I saw a cerificate from some one who had been cured of a similial complaint by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP. To be brief, I purchased a bottle at the nearst drug store, and before it was half gone my trouble had entirely ceased, and at this writiug, nearly two months later, has not returned." Sold by all druggists. —From the Rev. Nathan Hubbell, Methodist preacher at Havare Delevare Co., N. Y.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Complimentary Supper.

On Monday evening, Mr. Edward Bakewell, who has been employed in the press-room of the REVIEW office for some time, was tendered a complimentary supper by the employees of the office, previous to his departure to seek his fortune in the Prairie Province. The supper took place at Darcy's hotel and was the first that has taken place there since the building was rebuilt. Mr. Darcy can now boast of having one of the neatest, finest and most comfortable hotels in the town, and if we mistake not he will have no cause to complain of want of patronage. The spread was indeed a fine one, and would have done credit to any hotel, in any town in Canada. After the cloth was removed, metaphorically speaking of course, toast, speech, sentiment and song followed each other in rapid succession until a rather late hour. Mr. Bakewell in response to the toast of "our guest" spoke of the pain it caused him to part with so many friends, but hoped he would again meet with many of them. He returned thanks for the supper and spoke of the kind manner in which he had always been treated by the firm and his fellow employees. All the speakers complimented Mr. Bakewell highly on his sterling good qualities as a workman, and a man. "Our Host and Hostess" was the last on the list, and was fittingly responded to, after which the company separated.

Amy Lee Opera Company.

Our readers must not forget that this talented little Opera Comique play here on Thursday and Friday the 19th and 20th, and all who do not hear them will miss a decided treat. This is one of the few really first-class troupes on the road, and as they so seldom visit our inland town, we should give them a bumper house when they do come, and thus insure their speedy return. The following is the critique of the Toronto Mail on their performances in that city at the Royal Opera House :—

"The Amy Lee American Comedy Company opened at the matinee yesterday in the musical extravaganza "Two Medallions." There was a large attendance. The piece proved to be very amusing, while the musical selections were the most attractive feature with the audience. Miss Amy Lee, who takes the principal character, is a vivacious actress and singer, and received a warm greeting and frequent applause during her performance. Mr. Harry Smith, as Squire Butts, and Mr. Chas. Stanley, as Snooks, also won the favour of the audience, and took a large share of the honours. The company, as a whole, gave satisfaction, and the piece as an entertainment of a mixed character seemed to please very much. It was repeated in the evening to another large audience. The bill will be continued until further notice."

A plan of the hall is at Mr. Davis' bookstore, where reserved seats can be secured without extra charge. Go early and secure them.

The Weather.

The weather is warm, with the sun shining brightly, but probs promises a cold snap. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company are as follows.—Lakes—Moderate to fresh to westerly winds, fine colder weather, possibly local falls of snow. The temperature will fall below zero in most localities to-night.

Obituary.

POLICE COURT.

SIGN CASES.

TUESDAY, Jan. 17.—A large number of sign cases again came up this morning. The most of them were disposed of, the defendants taking down the objectionable signs and paying the costs. A few cases yet remain to be disposed of, but will probably follow in the wake of the others.

TO KEEP THE PEACE.

Joseph Pine, who has been in gaol for some days in default of sureties to keep the peace towards his wife, was brought before the Magistrate this afternoon, and as his wife paid the costs $3.50, the prisoner was liberated on his own recognizances.

THE SNOW BY-LAW.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—The Snow By-law is so well enforced this winter, that there is actually no snow on the sidewalk on George street at the present time, only glare ice, along which a boy was happily skating, near the Post Office, at one o'clock this afternoon.

Railway Notes.

Railway Legislation is likely to be an important feature of the present Session of the Legislature. On this subject the Globe says that the Midland Railway including the Grand Junction asks power to amalgamate with the Toronto and Nipissing, Victoria, Toronto and Ottawa, and Whitby and Lindsay railways, to construct links, to straighten traffic routes, and to construct the Toronto and Ottawa, now completely surveyed and located from Madoc to Ottawa. The local opposition to this project seems much weaker than in the case of the Toronto, Grey, and Bruce scheme, and it is anticipated that it may get through without much difficulty.

Mr Hogg has resigned his position on the survey staff of the Toronto & Ottawa Railway. Mr Gibson, one of the contractors, who built portions of the Whitby & Port Perry Railway, has been over the line, and will in all probability tender for the whole work. The contractors are expected over the road in a few days. Mr. J. B. Campbell, the right of way agent, has been in town for some time, and is kept busy. Work by the Company will shortly cease.

The tenders for the construction of the line of Railway from Peterborough to Omemee, popularly known as the "Missing Link," were opened on Monday, by a board or council consisting of Messrs Geo. A. Cox, President, Blackwell, Chief Engineer, Read, Secretary and Bailey, consulting Engineer. We learn that the tenders received were ten in number, and their was a great variance in the amounts. The contract was not awarded and the papers were taken to Toronto, where they will be placed before the Directors.

For Toronto.

Dr. Kincaid, M. P. P. having nearly recovered from the severe injuries inflicted on him by John Duggan, leaves to-day for Toronto, to attend to his Legislative duties.

The Military College.

Mr. Norman G. Hugel, son of Mr. A. Hugel, of Port Hope, has been admitted as a cadet to the Royal Military College, Kingston.

Smoke Gathering in Whiskers.

PATERSON, Jan. 10.—John H. Berdan, manager of Fuller's Express Company, of Paterson, is very sick with typhoid malaria. At 2 o'clock this morning Mrs. Braden leaned over her husband in bed to listen to his breathing; with a view of finding out whether he was in a healthful sleep. To her astonishmint she smelled smoke in his whiskers. Then her attention being thus excited, she was able to smell smoke in the air. She got up and found that the hall was full of smoke. The lower part of the house was on fire. Hastily arousing her husband she ran out into the street and shouted an alarm. Mr. Cerdan, although he had not previously been able to stir, in his excitement, got up and walked down to the front door, when he fell. He was carried to a neighbour's house. Instead of making him worse he was better yesterday than he had been. The damage to the house is probably $2,500. The family had a nrrrow escape. Some valuable diamond jewelry was lost, but nearly everything else was saved. The fire originated from the furnace in the cellar, and from appearances must have been burning for hours before it was discovered. Mrs. Berdan's coolness and promptness are highly praised. It is explained by experts here that the presence of smoke in a room can be detected in hair or fabrics when it cannot be smelled in the surrounding air.

Wild Horses in Australia.

The few horses which, escaping now and then from the paddocks of colonists on the edge of the settled districts of Australia, have made themselves at home in the freedom and abundant pastures of the interior, have multiplied to such an extent that, notwithstanding the numbers captured or shot every year, it is estimated that there are something like 100,000 of them in the two most populous colonies—Victoria and New South Wales—or roaming the plains immediately contiguous to their borders. To European ears the proposal to have a day's horse-shooting sounds inexpressibly barbarous; but the Australian farmers near the interior regard the troops of wild horses which may often be seen trespassing on their enclosed land as vermin. They do not possess any of the qualities which often make the wild horses of the South America plains valuable, and, besides destroying vegetation which might be made to support more valuable life, they not infrequently tempt the settler's horses to join them and adopt a vagabond life. Worse than this, they are suspected of communicating disease to settled districts. To meet the difficulty of dealing with the increasing hordes of wild horses. The Chief Inspector of Stock in New South Wales proposes that they should be classed as obnoxious animals, under the Pastures and Stock Protection Act.

From "The N.Y. Times."

Editor of the Times:—In reading the last number of your paper, I noticed you asked all who had been benefited by the letter published in your valuable paper about a year ago, to write the facts for publication. The letter from Dr. Bates created a great amount of excitement in this vicinity, as he is well and favorable known by every one here. His reputation as a man and as a physican gave every one the utmost confidence in all his statements, and this of course soon made the name "Kendall's Spavin Cure" not only familiar but very popular. In reply to your request I will say: About nine years ago I slipped on the ice and sprained my right limb at the knee joint. I was very lame and suffered excruciating pain much of the time since, and some of the time through I should be a cripple for life. Dr. Bates' letter printed in your paper gave me so much confidence in the virtues of "Kendall's Spavin Cure" that I tried it for my knee and less than one bottle completely cured me so that I have had no return of pain or lameness, for which, of course, I cannot feel too thankful. Since my recovery I have visited friends in the west and found that the following parties have used the grandest results in that part of the country. The Rev. John Rice, Hematite, Mo., used it on his owe person for an injury of 35 years standing and performed one of the most wonderful cures I ever heard of. J. L. McClure, of Strong City, Kansas, cured a badly lacerated and prisoned hand, from a hog bite and also removed an enlargement near the hip joint which had become large and troublesome. He also used it for pleurisy and found that bathing his chest with it relieved him at once. To my surprise I found that this wonderful remedy was better known in the west than it was in the east, and I found they were using it there for all animals as well as on human flesh with the very best of results, and I find so many cases whereever I go to confirm the favorable opinion I have already formed of it that I am glad of an opportunity of telling the readers of your valuable paper what I have learned in regard to it. Hoping to hear from others upon this very important subject, especially important to those who have suffered for years like myself, I remain.

Yours &c.,
J. A. ROYCE.

A Novel Advertisement.

The following advertisement, printed on a neatly framed card, made its appearance on the walls of the Listowell Post Office a few days ago :—

"The People's Church, Listowell, William F. Clarke, pastor. This church is for the people, governed by the people, and its officers are responsible to the people. It owns no creed but the Bible. It is not 'priest ridden' in any sense, for neither bishops, ecclesiastical court, conference nor any earthly power has the slightest authority over it. It acknowledges no Lordship but that of Christ. This is the only church in Listowell that owns its own property, and manages its own affairs without outside interference. This church receives all Christians to its fellowship. It extends a friendly hand to all good people. Its object is not to build up a sect or ism, but to make the world happier and better. It considers human creeds irreconcilable with free thought, and plants itself on the immortal maxim of Chillingworth, 'The Bible and the Bible alone is the religion of Protestants.'"

NO HOSPITAL NEEDED.—No palatial hospital needed for Hop Bitters patients, nor large salaried talented puffers to tell what Hop Bitters will do or cure, as they tell their own story by their certain and absolute cures at home.—New York Independent.

DON'T FORGET THE "SOZODONT," but use it regularly after every meal. It imparts a pleasant flavor to the mouth, changes offensive secretions into healthful, invigorates the gums, and cleanses the interstices of the teeth. Like old Hercules, it purifies the Augean stables which some have in their mouth.

A FAMILY FRIEND.—No family should be without Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain-Killer. It can be given to the infant for the Colic, and to the adult for Rheumatism. There is scarcely a disease to which it may not be beneficially applied. It contains no deleterious drug, but may be used for the various ailments of mankind.

IT IT SAID that some of the alkaloids which enter into the combination of Fellow's Hypophosphites, are extracted from trees which attain to a great age, and that this fact suggested to Mr. Fellows the idea of their employment. Whether the success of the preparation is due to this we are not prepared to say, but the idea is a good one.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Vegetable Balsamic

ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry: then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

STRYCHNINE.

A Man named Mountenay Attempts to Poison an old Couple—He is Committed.

Bobcaygeon, Jan. 17.—On Sunday morning last Dr. Bonnell was called to attend an old couple named Stewart, living about four miles from here, who had been taken suddenly ill. On going out he found they were both suffering from a dose of strychnine. Suspicion pointed to one William Mountenay, whom Dr. Bonnell caused to be arrested. The facts are that Stewart had a sum of money in the house to pay his rent with, and had asked Mountenay to call and tell his landlord, but Mountenay, instead of doing so, procured two bottles of whiskey, one of which he dosed with strychnine, and went back to Stewart's in the afternoon, giving each of the old couple a drink. In the evening he concluded to stay over night, and before going to bed invited the old couple to take a drink before retiring, which they at first declined, but after pressing they both drank, Mountenany drinking out of the other bottle. They then all retired. As soon as Mrs. Stewart got to her room she fell in front of the bed in convulsions, saying she was poisoned. Mr. Stewart ran to the nearest neighbour, and on returning fell himself in front of the stove in convulsions. Emetics were given to both, and the doctor sent for. They are now both out of danger, having had a very narrow escape. The bottle containing some strychnine was found in a field the next day. The evidence was clear against Mountenay, and to-day he was committed to the Lindsay gaol to stand his trial.

A Pitiful Story.

Halifax, Jan. 16.—Samuel Grose (coloured) lives at Lake Loon, Darmouth, in a very poor tenement of two rooms, which is in winter time wretchedly cold. He works most of the time in the Montague mines. His wife has been sick for months, and unable to leave her bed, which was in the inner room. Outside was the so-called kitchen, and in it was a ten-months-old baby in a cradle. Grose came on Saturday afternoon and threatened to chastise his boy, about six or eight years old. The youngster ran away, and his father did not think of looking for him then, but as night came on he started out in search, and after several hours found the poor little fellow on the floor of a wretched barn where there was no hay, with his feet and legs frozen to the knees. The boy was sensible but lethargic. His father carried him to the house, where, however, there were no means of restoring the frozen limbs until the neighbours were summoned, and meanwhile, where was the baby of ten months old? An investigation showed that the infant had kicked off the scanty clothes with which it was covered; it's bed-ridden mother had been unable to respond to its cries, and it was frozen to the centre of the body. Such aid was offered as was at hand, but the probability is that both children will die.

"Twenty-Four Years Experience," says an eminent physician, convinces me that the only way to cure nervous exhaustion, and weakness of the sexual organs, is to repair the waste by giving brain and nerve foods, and of all the remedies compounded, Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. THE CANAL QUESTION.

New York, Jan. 18.—The Herald's Washington special says that interviews with a number of Senators and Representatives disclose that the general sentiment is in favor of this Government controlling any inter-oceanic canal or ship railway that may be constructed. Opinions differ with reference to Government subsidies or guarantees, also with reference to the route to be adopted. Senator Maxey and Representative Kemet oppose the canal project. Several gentlemen are non-commital. Senator Maxey said, "I think that America is more interested in the subject of the inter-oceanic canal than any other country or all other nations, and should control it. We should have a controlling influence in any canal or railroad built, but it would avert international trouble as far as American capitalists could build an American canal and control it. If we build it with American capital and the company is chartered by Congress, this Government would certainly have the exclusive control. The company could not control enough to build it, but I do not say or give any opinion as to what did the Government should give." Hiscock said: "It is a matter of great importance, and as it is coming up before Congress, I don't care about talking on the subject at present."

THE N.P. AND THE ST. LAWRENCE ROUTE

FOR some weeks past the Globe and its echoes throughout the country have been making much of the decreased shipments of western produce by way of the St. Lawrence in 1881 as compared with 1880, as an evidence of the injury which the National Policy is doing to our Canadian route and the interests connected therewith. Like most of their grievances this one is easily proved to be built upon a foundation of sand, so far as the N. P. is concerned.

While it is quite true that shipments by the St. Lawrence route have been considerably less in 1881 than in 1880, it is also equally true that this decline has been general and by no means confined to the Canadian route. From figures before us we learn that the receipts and shipments at the Atlantic ports named have been as follows for the two last years, viz.:—

RECEIPTS.

Ports.	Bush. 1880.	Bush. 1881.	Per Cent.
New York..	161,127,892	135,601,594	Dec. 16
Baltimore...	53,850,524	41,451,562	Dec. 23
Philadelphia	45,276,697	27,502,605	Dec. 39
Boston.....	31,762,543	34,351,780	Inc. 7
New Orleans	21,106,039	18,855,180	Dec. 16½
Montreal....	23,628,012	19,984,165	Dec. 15

EXPORTS.

New York..	122,597,913	90,571,083	Dec. 26
Baltimore...	45,146,811	33,775,675	Dec. 25
Philadelphia	30,470,733	18,153,103	Dec. 40
Boston.....	18,760,267	16,142,150	Dec. 14
New Orleans	14,860,111	12,483,736	Dec. 16
Montreal....	25,846,310	17,589,133	Dec. 32

Now, if, as the opponents of the N. P. contend, the decrease in shipments by way of the St. Lawrence is due to its injurious effects upon our shipping interests, will the Globe kindly inform us how it is that the receipts at New York, New Orleans, Baltimore and Philadelphia all show a larger decrease than that of Montreal. It surely was not the N. P. that brought about the decline in their case, and if not the cause must be looked for elsewhere.

But this is not all. Although western shipments via the St. Lawrence show a decline in 1881 as compared with the preceding year, it is to be remembered that the shipments during both 1879 and 1880 (under the N. P.) were very much larger than those of the years preceding. The figures for the last seven year's (four under the Globe's pet revenue tariff and three under the N. P. being as follows :—

Year.	Receipts—Bush.	Shipments—Bush.
1875	17,324,036	15,497,150
1876	19,086,560	17,643,592
1877	18,785,984	17,307,544
1878	21,915,218	20,860,816
1879	22,973,164	22,456,981
1880	23,628,012	25,845,310
1881	19,984,165	17,589,133

If facts prove anything, surely the foregoing figures prove that the N. P. is in no way responsible for the decline on 1881—or if it is, that it must get credit for the increase of 1879 and 1880, which more than counterbalances the decline upon which they are building so much nonsense. The reader will observe, too, that while the average shipments irom Montreal during the first four years named were 17,829,275 bushels, the average of the last three years has been 21,963,808 bushels—or an average increase under the blighting influence of the N. P. of over three millions of bushels. But as a matter of fact, as we have always contended, the N. P., under a proper bonding system, can have very little, if any effect, upon the transport of western produce to the sea-board by Canadian channels. The fluctuations which have, and which will continue to take place in the quantities transported by the various routes arise, (so far as the export trade is concerned) from causes apart from our tariff arrangements. In the first place the quantity to be transported depends upon the character of the crop. After a bountiful harvest all the routes must have more to do than following a bad one. Then other circumstances are constantly arising which influence the course of this trade. For instance, during the past season, in addition to the rapid development of the Mississippi route, and the consequent diversion of western grain thereto, there has raged, and is still raging, a railway war for the conveyance of western produce to the sea-board, which has seriously affected all the water routes, as is amply proved by the fact that while 71,909,964 bushels of grain were shipped from Buffalo by the Erie canal in 1880, only 31,151,761 bushels were shipped by the same route in 1881, which is a falling off of over fifty-five per cent. Does the Globe mean to say that this decline was caused by the Canadian National Policy, and if not what were the causes which produced this result, which were not calculated to produce the same result on shipments by way of the St. Lawrence? Will it condescend to answer?

GRACEFULLY RETREATING.

The Examiner's "own correspondent" at Toronto writes to our contemporary :—

"There are not a few Liberals in this city who would like to see the tariff question allowed to rest, and the contest with the government fought out on other lines. They will hardly have their wish, but as Mr. Mackenzie, in his Lambton speech declared that in his opinion there could be no immediate lowering of the customs duties and that vested rights under the tariff should be respected, the fiscal issue will certainly recede to some extent into the back ground, unless between this and the general election there should be a recurrence of times sufficiently hard to cause general discontent."

This is one instance out of many of signs that the Reform party are growing uneasy as to their present platform. We have no doubt that many Liberals, more loyal to their party than to their country, would willingly see the fiscal issue recede to some extent into the background. They are more ready to desire this, as they are well aware that a considerable number of Liberals, who set the welfare of their country before that of their party, are willing to support a Government that favours native industries, rather than one which confesses itself unable to aid our own manufacturers, and frames its tariff for the benefit of those in other countries. A "recurrence of times sufficiently hard to cause general discontent" is the last hope of these dispairing patriots, who would gladly see the country suffer, if they could in consequence recover the power they misused. But happily this hope is not likely to be realized. Under the present tariff the country is growing rapidly more prosperous—it seems indeed to be entering upon a long epoch of prosperity, and the voters have sense enough to know when they are well off, without troubling themselves about theoretical arguments that they ought to feel themselves oppressed. They know that there has come a happy change for them and their neighbours, and they also know who it is they have to thank for it.

While the Globe and other organs of the Reform party, including that in our own town, continue to fulminate against the tariff which is building up our trade and benefitting the whole community, it is vain to persuade the electorate that no fiscal change would follow a change of Government. Even if a Reform administration would content themselves with making some slight improvements in a tariff which is thus tacitly admitted to be in the main good for the country, men of common sense will prefer seeing such improvements trusted to the hands of those who introduced the policy, rather than the tender mercies of those who attacked it so bitterly, till they found it too popular with the people for them to be prejudiced against it.

DEATH OF A BROTHER.

What he Did, And What Part of Masonry he was of the Dominion.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14—It was learned with general regret in the city this a.m. that Mr. T. D. Harrington, late Receiver General, had died suddenly at Prescott, of heart disease. The deceased gentleman was during his whole life time identified with the Masonic fraternity of Canada and held the offices of Provincial and Grand Master, etc., previous to the formation of the Grand Lodge of Canada in 1855, which was organized mainly through his efforts. The brethren rewarded him with the highest gift they could bestow by electing him their Grand Master which position he held for several years. He took an active part in the formation of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Canada, and in 1857 was elected its first Grand Principal, and retained the same position for several years. Through his efforts these bodies became the most influential of their kind on this continent. In connection with Messrs. S. B. Harman, of Toronto, and Jas. A. Henderson, of Kingston, he was empowered by special letters patent from H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, then Supreme Grand Master of the Orders of the Temple and Malta, to instal and proclaim Col. McLeod Moore Great Prior of those Orders in the Dominion of Canada, in his capacity of Grand Sub Prior. At the time of his decease he held the office of Sovereign Grand Commander of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite in and for the Dominion of Canada and its dependencies. His funeral took place on Tuesday and was largely attended by Masons from all over the Dominion.

FENELON FALLS

ALMOST A FIRE.—The Gazette says that about dark on the evening of the sixth inst, a maid servant in the McArthur House came running down stairs with the startling information that one of the parlors was on fire; and Mr. Pauwels, the landlord, found, upon reaching the room indicated, that a lamp had exploded or been upset, and that the carpet around the table was covered with blazing oil. Opening off the parlor is a bedroom, and Mr. Pauwels emptied a pitcherful of water over a quilt, with which he succeeded in smoothering the flames, but in so doing got his right hand so severely burned that it still has to be enveloped in bandages. Exactly how the fire occurred does not appear to be known, but the supposition is that it was caused by the lamp being filled too full, which is frequently done by persons who do not know the danger of it.

AN ESCAPE.—Last Monday night three of the men working at the bridge in this village had a rather narrow escape from death by drowning. Their names are Charles Healey, Frederick Dewell and Donald McKay, and they were engaged in removing one of the needle beams of the old bridge, which naturally gave way beneath their weight when they had cut through the rusty bolts which upheld it. As the slide was dry at the time, the water under the bridge was between two and three feet deep, and the current being swift and the rocky bottom almost as smooth as glass, the men were in imminent danger of being carried over the falls, in which case their chance of escape from death would have been very small. But fortunately, they fell from the upper side of the bridge and near the south end, and were swept against a couple of logs that had grounded close to the wall of the slide. Mr. Hasley, the superintendent of the work, who was looking on at the moment of the accident, sprang from the lower side of the bridge and was down upon the logs by the time the men reached them, and by his assistance all three scrambled out of the water. Two of them escaped with a ducking, but the other, Healey, had one of his ankles dislocated and is still laid up.

DON'T FORGET THE "SOZODONT," but use it regularly after every meal. It imparts a pleasant flavor to the mouth, changes offensive secretions into healthful, invigorates the gums, and cleanses the interstices of the teeth. Like old Hercules, it purifies the Augean stables which some have in their mouth.

THE LION CATASTROPHE.

Certain Proofs Obtained of the Loss of the Vessel and All on Board.

ST. JOHNS, N.F., January 12.—The steamer Cabot, despatched on Tuesday morning last by the Newfoundland Executive to the supposed scene of the Lion Steamship disaster, returned at four o'clock this evening. The result of the investigation is the assurance that the steamer and every soul on board perished in the waves suddenly and without a warning note of danger. The list of the dead is now swelled to fifty-three. Not a vestige of the hull was discovered while a great deal of loose gear and deck fittings have been picked up. No body of seaman or passenger has been recovered save that of the unfortunate lady, Mrs. Captain Cross. When found floating she was fully dressed and must have remained on deck all night. Even her outer scarf, caught by a brooch clasp, remained undisturbed? Her trunks, labelled with her address, were found floating beside her. In reply to the question put by your correspondent to an efficient pilot sent down with the Cabot as to the locality of the shipwreck, he replied that beyond all doubt she struck the steep cliff that rises on the northern side of Plymouth Cove in the western side of Baccalieu Island, and went down head foremost and immediately into the deep water. The perpendicular cliff rises above the doomed steamer over four hundred feet almost vertically, and is surmounted by the light-house. It sinks vertically below the surface to a far greater depth. Not a moment, it is believed, was given for thought or action. The upper spars and yards crashed down from aloft and smashed the boats in pieces on deck.

A FATAL CLIFF.

The steamer was deeply laden with coal and general provisions, and prepared for the coming seal fishery. She had a very heavy deck load and was below the load line of safety, so that, having once dashed head-long on the precipitous cliff, her bows were immediately submerged, and she sank as rapidly as might a crowbar and brought down every soul on board along with her. The one person whose body was recovered sat aft on the quarter deck, as was her wont, and probably clutched one of her trunks and thus drifted into Plymouth Cove along with it. A small break or cleavage in the huge soaring cliff strangely enough received the main part of the wreck of this once stanch and splendid steamship, for in Plymouth Cove all the debris discovered by the investigation of the Cabot was found along the beach or in the land wash. The place is not more than 200 yards wide and has only a meagre indraught. There is not the slightest reason to assume that a boiler explosion followed upon the collision with the land, as not one splinter of the solid hull of the steamer was found afloat. The particularized items of passenger gear and general wreckage found by the Cabot search are as follows:—Four trunks, unlabelled; two ladies' hats, five ladies' caps, one felt hat, several articles of ladies' dress, a large quantity of pine lumber, several kerosene oil casks, some of them empty and broken; two molasses puncheons, two barrels of olive oil, one new spar, sixty feet in length; three pieces of the main hatch and one middle beam, all in sound condition; the covering of the after hatch with slides attached and unbroken; one harness cask with cover off; one piece of painted board recognized as the stand for the side light; one piece of hatch, canvass covered, identified as the slide of the lower forward companion; one side of the companion door; bar of foretop-gallant and forecastle door, white painted. Besides these items two poop deck ladders and one topgallant forecastle ladder were found. The remnant of the steamer's long boat, with the name Lion painted on the counter, and the ship's jolly boat, broken, were also recovered.

CAUSE OF THE DISASTER.

The saddest feature of the complete demolition of this stout steamer early on a fine winter morning is that she was lost in an unruffled sea, with a clondless moonlight sky above her, while as a whaling and sealing steamer she has during the past fifteen years, been successfully battling with storms and northern ice floes, and was quite as strongly built of heart of oak and metal as the Proteus or the Arctic, that recently penetrated almost through Barrow's Straits. The explanation of the calamity is that in the uncertain light of the morning, the captain, despite his skill,, was deceived by an obscuring and illusive frosty vapour over the the land. The number of passengers lost, at first believed to be forty-three, has undergone a terrible increase. Since the first particulars of the disaster were cabled it has come to light that a party of ten railway navvies, discharged the day before the steamer sailed from St. John's, jumped on board the Lion at the eleventh hour, taking advantage of the free passage to their homes afforded by this steamer, and they thus swell the sacrifice of human life to fifty-three. It is generally feared that day after day other unfortunates may be missed, who must be numbered among the victims of this catastrophe.

GATHERINGS IN THE HEAD.—"Although an entire stranger to you, I have received so much benefit from the PERUVIAN SYRUP that I cannot withhold my testimony in its favour. At different periods in my life I have been afflicted with gathering in my head, which discharged daily, either from one or both ears. Besides the digusting character of the complaint, it was at times attended with excruciating pain. I had recourse to both the Allopathia and Homœpathic treatment, but in vain. The last attack had troubled me nearly a year, when at the session of our Annual Conferance, held at Newburgh in April last, I saw a cerificate from some one who had been cured of a similial complaint by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP. To be brief, I purchased a bottle at the nearst drug store, and before it was half gone my trouble had entirely ceased, and at this writiug, nearly two months later, has not returned." Sold by all druggists. —From the Rev. Nathan Hubbell, Methodist preacher at Havare Deleware Co., N. Y.

PREJUDICE KILLS.—"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Patients.—Telegram.

MAN'S AFTER INFLUENCE.

Man while you journey through this vale of tears,
Pause and reflect upon the future years,
Not years of life as they pass o'er your head,
But after years, when you sleep with the dead.

Many while passing through this world of strife,
They think that death obliterates acts of life.
Live, speak and act, but never bear in mind,
When they are gone, influence remains behind.

Die, be forgot, is but the body's doom,
Each word and act must either blight or bloom,
Death can't erase one pure or filthy stain,
Whether good or bad their impress will remain.

The obscene language carelessly expressed
Oft leaves its poison in a neighbour's breast;
Dark acts committed little thought of then
May yet prove ruinous to your fellow men.

Death and the grave will hide you from men's view,
But your life's influence cannot die with you;
Your great life's drama bears its fruits, it must
Long after you have crumbled into dust.

You ask me why I ask in solemn tone,
Was your life passed unnoticed and alone?
Did not some fellow brother hear or see
Some sinful word or act performed by thee?

Can you believe they will not show their power
On some weak brother in a tempting hour?
He saw your acts without remorse or shame,
By your example he commits the same.

Onward, O man, a holy life pursue,
And leave your marks as life you journey through;
A noble influence worthy to remain,
That may from sin some living friend restrain.

Live, speak and act while life's probation last
Deeds that will praise you when your days are past;
Long after death has laid you in your rest,
Your acts may shine forth in some living breast.

Good name in life is better far than gold,
And after death its value will unfold
Inward and outward as the ocean's roll,
So your life's influence on some living soul.

Life is a stage, each man must act his part,
Either to do good or corrupt the heart;
Play well your part, and when life's scene is o'er,
Your deeds will shine back brighter then before.

Fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers, do—
Guard well your speech, likewise your actions too;
Your influence now will live when you're forgot,
And bear their fruits, although you know it not.

AN OLD LOTHARIO.

A Man of 70 Years of Age Charged with Abducting a Girl.

HAMILTON, Jan. 16.—Owen Nowlan, a man 70 years of age, the keeper of a livery stable and saloon, and who is well-known among sporting men, is charged with abducting a blooming Teutonic maiden of 18 summers, named Cleffie Oelbaumer, who has been residing with her grandfather. The old gentleman's home has been very comfortable for her and he has educated her to a fair degree, but Cleffie has been very wayward, and was nearly always on the streets and in places where she should not have been. On Friday last she met Nowlan and drove with him to Dundas, where they remained till Saturday, when both were arrested, Nowlan for abduction and the girl for vagrancy. The case will be tried on Friday next.

Wooden Bread.

It has lately been discovered that whiskey can be made from saw dust, and while we were yet calculating on the good times when one can "set e'm up" without stint or limit, and as to what is likely to be the increase in the snake product, if science keeps on in this fashion, along comes another scientist, and informs us that we may also have bread made from wood. We clip the following from a recent edition of Good Health:—"It is well known to the botanist that many plants besides those commonly used for food, contain nutritive elements. Nearly all plants contain starch. The barks of several aspens and pine trees contain so much of this substance that it can be extracted from them as from potatoes by trituration with water. It exists also in the roots and other parts of perennial plants to such an extent as to have been employed in the preparation of bread in families. In illustration of this we quote the following directions, given by Prof. Autenrieth, for preparing a palatable and nutritious bread from the beech and other woods destitute of turpentine: 'Everything soluble in water is first removed by frequent maceration and boiling; the wood is then to be reduced to a minute state of division, not merely into fine fibres, but actual powder; and after being repeatedly subjected to heat in an oven, is ground in the usual manner of corn.' Wood thus prepared, according to the author, acquires the smell and taste of corn flour. It is, however, never quite white. It agrees with corn flour in not fermenting without the addition of leaven, and in this case some leaven of corn flour is found to answer best. With this it makes a perfectly uniform and spongy bread; and when it is thoroughly baked and has much crust, it has a much better taste of bread than what in time of scarcity is prepared from the bran and husks of corn. Wood flour, also, boiled in water, forms a thick, tough, trembling jelly, which is very nutritious."—Northwestern Lumberman.

Adirondack Preserves.

Mr. Wm. Pickhardt, of New York, has purchased a tract of 6,000 acres of land, on Schroon lake, called the Pharaoh property, which lies in the eastern portion of the Adirondack region. This large area he proposes to preserve from the profanation of plow or woodman's axe, and devote it entirely to natural wildness, and to be the home of untamed beast and bird. The price paid for the tract was $10,000. The owner will appoint keepers, hunters will be watched, and, if possible, no poaching will be allowed, while violators of the game law will be prosecuted. A section of aristocratic old England let down in the woods of northern New York.

A colonizing company, with a capital of one million dollars, has been formed by the Hebrews in Canada, for the purpose of assisting their persecuted brethren in Russia to emigrate, and settle in the North-West.

SCORFULOUS AFFECTIONS.—These loathsome ailments, including pimples, sore scalp, etc., arise from impure blood or impaired digeston. A single box of Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills has been known to sweep such affections out of the system root and branch For sale everywhere.

DURING the year 1881 there were shipped to Europe from New York alone over seventy-two and a quarter million bushels of grain, not one solitary bushel of which was carried on an American bottom. It is estimated that the United States pay nearly eight million dollars to foreigners for the ocean transport of grain.

LORD Erskine had a regular form of reply to those who wrote to him soliciting a subscription and the form was this:—"Sir,—I feel much honoured by your application to me, and here I beg to subscribe" (here the leaf had to be turned over) "myself your very obedient servant, Erskine."

A GREAT ENTERPRISE.—The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company is one of Rochester's greatest business enterprises. Their Hop Bitters have reached a sale beyond all precedent, having from their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

THE English gentry also are now trembling for their hunting, and the Duke of Beauford has addressed a letter to the gentlemen of his hunt as to the great want of consideration frequently shown toward the land and crops of farmers.

A Pennsylvania woman, who leaped upward to hang a dress on a hook caught a ring on one of her fingers in the hook and hung there, her feet not touching the ground, until her cries brought assistance. She was painfully wrenched, but not seriously harmed.

LAME BACK.—Lumbago, Kidney complaint, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all pain and inflammation are speedily cured with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Croup, sore throat, colds, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, chilblains and all wounds of the flesh are quickly healed by Yellow Oil.

IT is proposed to light up the greater part of the Suez Canal by electricity, with the two-fold object, first of enabling operations to be carried on at night instead of during the day, and next, in order that vessels may pass through at all hours instead of blocking up the passage and anchoring, as hitherto.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

AN Omaha communion service was delayed for some time the other day because of the Sunday liquor law. There was no wine in the church, druggists refused to sell any without a prescription, the whole congregation was waiting, and no way out was found until a good church member managed to steal a pint of port at a store when the clerk's back was turned.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

THERE is still living a lineal descendant of Martin Luther, in the person of one Herr W. Wolters, of Stuttgart. He was formerly a Court actor, and claims descent through Luther's daughter Anna. The male line has long been extinct, the last representative of it having died in 1720. This was Prof. Luther, of Leipsic.

HAUNTED ME.—A Workingman says: Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged until one year ago, by the advice of my postor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost."—Christian Advocate.

THE Duke of Westminster is thinking of using his power as a landlord to induce the tenants under him in London to consume their own smoke. He has sent out a private commission to investigate the matter, and, if they report favourably, it will probably be made one of the conditions of a Westminster lease that one's chimneys emit no smoke.

AN able and faithful pastor in Chicago wrote incidentally in a private note:—'If I should tell how my salary is allowed to run on, how I have borrowed money at eight per cent. to keep out from debt, while the church was owing me, how in a recent collection for a poor missionary church I was obliged to give over one-third of the entire amount to make up the required sum, you would think that somewhere in this great city there is something wrong."

IT is a pleasure, when afflicted with rheumatism, to cure yourself when it can be done so effectually and inexpensively, as with St. Jacobs Oil. Mrs. Ann Dougherty resides at 364 E street, South Boston. She is an elderly lady, and has been afflicted with salt rheum between her fingers for over sixteen years. She suffered terribly, and tried all kinds of remedies without obtaining any relief. She used St. Jacobs Oil four times, and by that time she could sleep at at night, which she could not do before. She used St. Jacobs Oil again and got better and better, until now she is entirely cured. She commenced the use of St. Jacobs Oil about two months ago, and now thinks there is nothing like it. Her hand used to swell terribly, but all that has gone now. Her disease commenced to abate about the time she first used the Oil, but she has had no swelling since.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

A. O. U. W.

At the regular meeting of Peterborough Lodge, 135, Ancient order of United Workmen, on Tuesday evening, the following officers were installed for the ensuing term, by Bro. T. G. Gillespie, D. D. P. M. W.:—

P.M.W.	Bro. T. G. Gillespie.
W. M.	Bro. Jos. McClelland.
Foreman	Bro. J. Lee.
Overseer	Bro. Geo. Hutchinson.
Recorder	Bro. D. D. Galletly.
Financier	Bro. J. R. Stratton.
Receiver	Bro. A. Clegg.
Guide	Bro. B. Earl.
I.W	Bro. J. Armour.
O.W	Bro. A. McLean.
Medical Examiner	Bro. Dr. King.

Mr. Joseph McClelland was elected the representative to the Grand Lodge.

Of all our secret societies, the Ancient Order of United Workmen is probably the least known, for the reason that it has only been established amongst us for a short period. The order was instituted in Meadville, Pa., in the year 1868, and the first lodge was established in Canada at Thomas, in 1877, and in June, 1880, the membership in this Province having reached over 2,000, Ontario was set apart as separate jurisdiction. Since assuming control of its own affairs the Ontario branch has made unprecedented progress and now there are over 114 lodges, with over 4,000 members. The objects of the Society are "Mutual Aid and Protection." Every member participates in the beneficiary fund of the Order to the extent of $2,000, and the fund is supported by means of assessments fixed at $1.00 each, levied upon every member of the Order, in the jurisdiction where the death occurs. It has been found so far, that an average of twelve assessments per year has been sufficient to meet all death claims, so that all can see it affords a cheap insurance. We are pleased to learn that the Order in Peterborough is making rapid strides and increasing in membership at each meeting.

Vennor Once More.

Mr. Henry G. Vennor, of Montreal, the celebrated weather prophet, telegraphs to us that "there are indications of the approach of a storm period of considerable force, which I think is likely to sweep over a large portion of this continent, and possibly Europe between the 20th and 22nd days of the month, (Friday Saturday or Sunday,) this will probably be marked by general gales and by snow or rain storms according to locality. New York and the neighboring seaboard are likely to suffer, also other seaboard cities of the middle states. The temperature will not likely be low. Snow storms are likely to occur in Great Britain, accompanied by severe gales. There may be cold weather with snow in the extreme south about the 24th and 25th."

Another One.

A telegram from Bobcaygeon informs us that Mr. Read, a merchant here, has received the sad news of the death of his son, killed while lumbering in Michigan. The body will come here on Wednesday. This is the fourth young man within a year who has left for Michigan and returned a corpse. The young man was well known to many in town, and in company with others we extend our sympathy to the afflicted family.

A Card.

Dr. Kincaid, M.P.P., left last evening for Toronto to attend Parliament, but he does not intend to neglect his professional duties as he will be at home from Friday until Tuesday of each week. In the meantime Dr. Alexander will promptly attend to all calls, night or day, left at the office.

To Haliburton.

Quite a number of railway men and citizens left this morning for Haliburton, upon the invitation of the Midland railway officials. We have, no doubt, that they enjoyed the trip to the "pole."

Personal.

Mr. Archibald Fleming, formerly editor of the Port Hope Guide and Peterborough Examiner, is now editor and manager of the Lexington, Kentucky, Evening Transcript.

Croft House.

Just received another brewing of "Nor-West" Cream Ale. Finest ale made in the Dominion.

Amy Lee Opera.

We cannot resist adding a few final words of praise, to what we have already said in favour of this company before they appear to, what, we hope, will be large and appreciating audiences, to-morrow and Friday evening, and we do not think we can pay them a higher tribute nor more effectually quash any feeling of doubt as to their real merit which may yet exist in the minds of a few, than by quoting the enconiums passed upon them by some of the leading papers in the Dominion :—

The principal feature, of course, is the performance of the leading role by Miss Amy Lee. This young lady is a bright piquant little actress, who sings prettily and manages to captivate her audience by her vivacious manners. She was several times recalled.—Montreal Gazette.

Mr. Harry Smith as Penobscot Butts, hit the fancy of the house very successfully with his family song, "I'm the only one that's left of all the Family," and Mr. Stanley makes a very droll, "ebony embellishment" to the piece. There is one part of his performance really excellent; it is his imitation of the mocking bird, which is among the best we have heard, and was loudly encored.—Ottawa Free Press.

"The Two Medallions" was presented for the first time in this city yesterday by the Amy Lee Comedy Company. The house, both at the matinee and evening performances was well filled. The Opera has many pleasing and taking airs, which, judging from the unstinted applause, was not lost upon the audience. As Ilene, Miss Lee made a favourable impression. She possesses a sweet voice, together with a winning way, which could not fail to be attractive. Miss Laura Clairon, as Pinkette, was good, as was Miss Ettie Eiselle, as Clotilde Caiebson. Mr. Harry Smith made a decided hit as P. Q. Butts, "The Village Squire." The Spooks of Mr. Charles H. Stanley was excellent, and is seldom equaled.—Toronto Globe.

The plan of the hall is at Mr. Davidson's book store, not at Mr. Davis', as mentioned in this column yesterday.

Well Deserved Tributes.

Mr. Meredith in concluding his speech on the address says that they had to lament the death of Mr. Scott, of Peterborough who passed away after a lingering illness. He had retained a seat in the House for several years, and occupied a prominent position in the Conservative party, and if he had lived, would have attained a high position in the country. He had endeared himself to all who knew him. He had never been betrayed into using an unkind word even in the heat of debate, and even his political foes must regret his decease. Another member of the House who had past away was Mr. Rosevear, Durham, a gentleman who was liked by both sides of the House for his manly conduct, his geniality, and his shrewd honesty. He thought that the departed gentlemen would long live in their memories. (Applause.)

Mr. Mowat in his reply said he entirely concured in the remarks of the leader of the Opposition relative to the loss the House had sustained in the death of their late associates. He recognized the amiability, kindly disposition, and talents of the late Mr. Scott, and also the sterling worth and honest character of the late Mr. Rosevear.

Railway Notes.

On Tuesday forenoon the abjourned annual meeting of the shareholders of the Toronto and Nipissing Railway Company took place. The election of directors resulted in a re-appointment of last years' officers, Mr. W. Gooderham being appointed president, and Mr. G. Gooderham vice-president. The agreement between the Toronto and Nipissing, the Whitby, Port Perry, and Lindsay, the Toronto and Ottawa, the Grand Junction, the Midland, and the Victoria Railway Companies was submitted to the meeting and approved. As soon as the bill at present before the Provincial Parliament becomes law, the amalgamation of all these lines under the name of "The Midland Railway of Canda" will therefore be an accomplished fact.

The Midland trains of late have been arriving punctually on time, showing either that they are increasing their speed, or, that the Grand Trunk trains are making connections, a thing that we are inclined to doubt, judging from past experience.

Temperance.

The annual meeting of the Ontraio Branch of the Dominion Alliance was held in Toronto on Tuesday. It was decided that a delegation should wait on the Government, recommending the introduction of temperance text-books into the Public Schools, asking the Legislature to pass a law forbidding the sale of liquors to minors, and to amend the Crooks Act by doing away with the granting of licenses to grocery dealers, &c. It was recommended by the Alliance that candidates for the Dominion and Local Legislatures should pledge themselves not to support any measure likely to injure the efficacy of the Scott Act.

The Weather.

Snow has fallen to-day, but not in sufficient quantity, to make good sleighing. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company are as follows.—Lakes—Fresh to strong, south-westerly to southerly winds; cloudy to fair weather, with light falls of snow in some localities. Higher temperature, followed to-morrow by westerly to north winds.

No. 1 Company and Snow Shoe Club.

Drill to-night as usual at 7.30. Drill shed open from 7 o'clock for use of single sticks, boxing gloves, &c. After the drill a meeting will be held at the armoury for the purpose of re-organizing the Snow Shoe Club. All old members and others interested are invited to attend.

St. George's Society.

The annual meeting of the St. George's Society for the election of officers and other business. will be held in the Council Chamber, this evening, Wednesday, January 18th, at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

The Home.

The Committe of the Peterborough Protestant Home, regret to say that until further funds are at their disposal, all out door relief will cease after Tuesday, the 31st of January, 1882.

VACCINATION.

A case of Small-pox in Hamilton—Remarks of the City Medical Officer.

The news that a case of small-pox had occured in Hamilton created a scare in that city on Friday. The house in which it happened, 84 Queen-street South, was instantly isolated, the members of the family being forbidden to communicate with others. The young man who took the disease was vaccinated when a boy, and the family have been vaccinated since the discovery of small-pox in the house, and there is in reality little cause for alarm. At present, not only is there no such case in Toronto, but this city is exceptionally healthy. While, however, this is the case the following circular, issued by Dr. Ryall, city medical officer of Hamilton, may be timely—Re-vaccination during the prevalence of an epidemic, or after the lapse of eight or ten years from the primary operation, is considered necessary. A scar upon the arm, the result of a previous vaccination, affords no certain evidence that the protective influence is not lost. No so-called vaccination which does not result in what is known as a characteristic sore or vesicle is safely to be relied upon. There is no other method than that universally adopted of making the insertion upon the abraded skin or beneath the skin of some portion of the body which can with any degree of safety, be relied upon. All persons exposed to the contagion should be immediately re-vaccinated, even though the experiment may have been unsuccessfully tried a short time previously. Public funerals of persons dying from smallpox should be avoided.

CLINTON.

Special to the Review, Jan. 18.

JAMES WALKER'S saw mill and bending factory, was destroyed by fire this morning. The loss is about $3,000. Insurance about $1,200, in the Huron and Middlesex Mutual.

Music at the Rink.

The management have arranged for the presence of the Peterborough Fire Brigade Orchestra Band at the Rink every Friday evening, during the remainder of the season.

YOUNG, MIDDLE AGED, OR OLD MAN, suffering from nervous debility and kindred weaknesses, should send two stamps for large treatise, giving successful treatment. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

WOMAN'S TRUE FRIEND—A friend in need is a friend indeed. This none can deny, especially when assistance is rendered when one is sorely afflicted with disease. More particularly those complaints and weaknesses so common to our female population. Every woman should know that Electric Bitters are woman's true friend, and will positively restore her to health, even when all other remedies fail. A single trial proves our assertion. They are pleasant to the taste and only cost fifty cents a bottle. Sold by Taylor & Macdonald.—2

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I have advised many ladies to try your "Favorite Prescription" and never see it fail to do more than yon advertise. Yours truly, MRS. A. M. RANKIN, 141 Bates Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

TIMELY WARNING.—Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping coughs, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Mr. D. D. Hay moved the address in a speech which which was principally an attack upon the Dominion Government. Mr. Robinson seconded the address.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Meredith, Mowat, Morris, Hardy, White, Sinclair, French, Deroche, Broder, Awrey, Madill, Gibson, Macmaster, Young and Lauder.

Naturally following the lead of the mover the debate turned largely upon the boundary and disallowance questions.

Mr. Meredith in his able speech, which we give in full, completely turned the tables upon the reformers, showing that it was owing to their neglect that the boundary question was not long since settled.

The speeches of Mr. Morris and Mr. Macmaster, on the Conservative side, also dealt forcibly with the untenable position of the administration on these two important questions.

The debate is still in progress.

A NORTHERN JAUNT.

A Trip to Haliburton in Which Railway Men and Other Citizens Participate.

On Wednesday morning upon invitation of Mr. Geo. A. Cox President of the Midland railway, a number of citizens left Peterborough to visit Haliburton, the terminus of the Victoria branch of the consolidated Midland line.

Owing to pressing business Mr. Cox, was not able to go, but sent the principal officers of the line. The trip was made by special train and was in every respect one of the most enjoyable that those present ever participated in, Mr. White, the General Traffic Manager, doing everything that he possibly could to promote the comfort of all, and when we state that he succeeded, as he always does, that should be sufficient for our readers.

At Fenelon Falls the party was met by the Reeve and members of the Municipal Council, who assured the officials that they had full confidence in Mr. Cox, and knew that he would not be a party to doing anything detrimental to their interests.

At Kinmount the municipal officers of the township were on hand, and as they were all shippers, they realized that when the amalgamation was completed, instead of paying freights over three lines of railway, they would have to pay freight, but over one, and by the tariff that came into force on the 1st of Jan. last, they found that the rates over the railway had been reduced from 18 to 25 per cent. The deputation stated that with the three railways, they had often great difficultty in reaching Toronto and other centres, but that with the lines under one management, there was no trouble at all.

The official train was met by the representative men of the different towns and villages through which it passed, and all of them congratulated the officers upon the completion of the consolidation scheme.

At Fenelon Falls the question of the erection of a new station came up and Mr. A. White, for the President, said that as soon as the amalgamation was ratified by Parliament, the company guaranteed that suitable buildings would be provided.

At Kinmount the dealers in and exporters of rough products, cordwood, etc., were met, and satisfactory arrangements made with regard to rates etc.

As regards Minden, the same remarks will apply.

At Haliburton the party was detained by a dinner provided by Messrs. Irwin and Boyd, the owners of the principal mill and store in the place. This firm send their logs and timber to Nassau Mills, where it is cut into lumber, of which they ship over 12,000,000 feet every year. This firm cut a class of lumber that has long been neglected by our furniture manufacturers, but which owing to the scarcity of walnut is now coming into general use, we refer to black birch. In proof of the statement that it is coming into great demand, we may mention the fact that Messrs. Irwin and Boyd have received orders for 500,000 feet to be delivered during the coming season. The country in the vicinity of Haliburton has been lavishly supplied with black birch, by nature, and Messrs. Irwin and Boyd are endeavouring to show that they can supply the rapidly increasing demand, in order to meet the requirements of the trade, to take the place of the now extant walnut supply.

At Haliburton an exceedingly pleasant and agreeable afternoon was spent, and all reached home on the 10 o'clock train, much pleased with their "jaunt to the north," and loud in their praises of the manner in which they had been used by the officials of the Midland Railway.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From our own Correspondent.

Farwell Supper.—A farewell supper was given to Mr. Mathew Young, Sr., by his many friends at the Point, at the Lake View House, on Tuesday evening last, numbering about 25. Mr. Chalmers, Sr., took the chair. The supper which consisted of oysters (reflected credit on mine hostess Mrs. Kearney as being A 1). This supper is the first of the kind that has taken place here. It was given owing to the fact that our old settler was going to depart from our midst. Mr. Young having been in and around this section of the township of Smith for over 50 years. He lately purchased a farm in the township of Ennismore, where he intends to reside the remainder of his days. Mr. Young and his family will be missed here. We are very sorry at all times to part with a good neighbour, therefore he carries with him the best wishes for his success in after life in his new abode.

The Saw Mill.—Your correspondent was invited over the other day by Mr. McGregor to see how the new circular saw went since putting in the new wheels. Really it works splendidly, and will make lumber out of sawlogs in quick time. He also informs me that it is Mr. Chalmers' intention to add 40 feet to the length of the mill for the purpose of adding a butting saw and edger; and very likely next year a lath machine will also be added. Mac. feels proud of his little giant wheels he purchasrd last fall at the manufactroy at Picton. The extra water power is immense.

Dugan's Shanty.—Really it would be worth any one's while to visit Mr. Chalmer's shanty, on the road to Burleigh Bridge, to see how the Waterous' Engine works and to see the quantity of hardwood logs it cuts into stove wood in a day. Arthur had a good gang at work, and in the course of a week or so will have several hundred cords of wood piled along the shore of Clear Lake at Sandy Point, in readiness for shipping to Lakefield on the opening of navigation, per steamer Cruiser. The wood is of excellent quality, being chiefly maple. Arthur has also got a large quantity of sawlogs. Large cedars and ties were drawn down to the shore of Clear Lake. Being a live man he means business and will continue to push things as long as their is sleighing. He is to be seen now wearing his hat on his forehead, and that denotes everything going smooth. I like to see a foreman like him working, as every one under him works with a will and to please.

On Thirty Days' Trial.

We will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to young men and older persons who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality, etc., guaranteeing speedy relief and complete restoration of vigor and manhood. Also for Rheumatism, neuralgia, Paralysis, Liver and Kidney difficulties, Ruptures, and many other diseases. Illustrated pamphlet sent free. Address Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich.

Madrid, Jan. 19.—It is announced that the Pope will not receive the Spanish pilgrimage if it assumes the character of a political demonstration. The pilgrims will number twenty thousand, and will be led by the principal prelates.

A Vexed Clergyman.—Even the patience of Job would become exhausted were he a preacher and endeavoring to interest his audience while they were keeping up an incessant coughing making it impossible for him to be heard. Yet how very easily can all this be avoided by using Dr. Kings new discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Trial bottles given away at Taylor and Macdonald's.—2

A Good Preventative for Fevers, Ague and Bilious Disorders is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters a strictly vegetable preparation. They Tone the system, purify the Blood and increase the appetite, and render those taking them almost proof against disease, Should be used in every case instead of pills. J. D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

Never Neglect a Cough or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

King Luis embraced King Alfonso and Queen Christina kissed Queen Pia, their suites and Ministers and ladies-in-waiting taking a cordial leave amidst a vast crowd of country people and visitors. The Portuguese paid military honours, with guns booming a salute. The band played the royal march of Spain, and as the train slowly left ringing cheers for the first time rose from the assembled Portuguese. The last words of Alfonso to Dom Luis were: "We expect you in Madrid in May" (alluding to the promise made by the Portuguese soverign to be present at the inauguration of the great wine exhibition of 1882.) THE BOUNDARY QUESTION.

His Position Reviewed by Mr. Meredith—The Mowat Government's Game Exposed—Partyism at the Root of the Difficulty.

In the course of his speech on the address, Mr. Meredith, the leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, spoke as follows with regard to the Boundary question:—

Hon. gentlemen were endeavouring to make out that the refusal of the Dominion Government to confirm the boundary award had some effect in curtailing the boundaries of Ontario. Surely hon. gentlemen would not in that House attempt to put forward such a doctrine! By the terms of the B. N. A. Act the limits of the province are defined and declared to be those of Upper Canada, and neither the award of the arbitrators nor the legislation of the Dominion Parliament had altered in the slightest degree the right and title of the province in that matter. He was at all times prepared to maintain the rights of the people of Ontario, but he was not prepared in regard to any matter in which the people of the Dominion had a voice to throw the apple of discord into the company, to follow hon. gentlemen present in their efforts to precipitate discord between different members of the Dominion, and depart from the constitutional methods of obtaining a settlement of the question. (Cheers.) He asked the House to bear with him for a few moments while he dealt with that question from a point of view which should be well considered by the House. He desired to ask, in view of the facts which lay at the root of this question, whether the responsibility for the position in which the boundary question now stands does not rest with hon. gentlemen opposite and their friends at Ottawa. The House would recollect that from Confederation down to 1874 this subject of the northern and western boundaries of the province was the subject of discussion and consideration between the Governments of the Dominion and of Ontario. In 1874

A PROVISIONAL AGREEMENT

was entered into between the then Minister of the Interior (Mr. Laird) and the present Commissioner of Crown Lands (Mr. Pardee). By the terms of that arrangement a conventional boundary line was agreed upon, to continue in existence until the definite settlement of the boundaries was arrived at. By an agreement entered into between the present Minister of Education and one of the members of the Dominion Government, provision was made for determining by arbitration the question of the boundaries, and by the terms of the Order-in-Council, and of the memorandum of agreement, which is on the records of the province, it was contemplated at the time that before arbitration should take place the consent of the Ontario Legislature and the Canadian Parliament should be obtained to the arbitration. It was in express terms declared that the Governments of the Province and Dominion, respectively, should procure from their respective parliamentary bodies their authority to the arbitration and conformity with the award which should be made by the arbitrators. The view which the hon. gentlemen conducting the negotiations then held was

A STATESMANLIKE VIEW.

They saw that on such a question, which was likely to arouse feelings of jealousy among the smaller provinces, it was of the utmost importance that the Parliament of the Dominion should be committed to the adoption of th award before the award should be made, because it might well be said that if the result was to add largely to the area of Ontario, the difficulty which had been raised would occur. The documents showed that it was contemplated by the contracting parties that before the arrangement should go into effect there should be legislation enacted both by the Ontario Legislature and Dominion Parliament. Now, what course was pursued? In 1874 this Legislature, acting upon that provision, passed an Act by which it delegated to the Parliament of Canada the right to declare what were the true northern and western boundaries of Ontario in accordance with the arbitrators' award. Why did hon. gentlemen opposite not see that they obtained from the Parliament of Canada similar legislation? If they had secured that legislation the jealousy of the smaller provinces would not have been aroused, and the whole difficulty would have been obviated, and the award would now have been binding. He charged hon, gentlemen opposite with being responsible to the people of this province for the position of the boundary question. The House had now a declaration from the Lieutenant-Governor with respect to the subject, from which the conclusion must be drawn that there was a change subsequently in the policy of the Dominion Government. Whether it was that the Dominion Government could not agree to assent beforehand to ratify the award when it should be made, or whether it was that the Dominion Government desired to retain in their hands the power to ratify it or not, as the award might prove satisfactory or otherwise, at all events there was the fact

THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT REFUSED to bring down a measure confirming the award. The hon. Premier made a statement from his place in this House to the effect that he had pressed on the Dominion Government the passage of a similar Act to that enacted by the Ontario Legislature, that they either had or were about to pass such measure; but they ultimately refused to do so. What did that indicate? Did it not indicate that the Dominion Government insisted upon reserving to the Parliament of Canada the right to pass on the award after it had been made. What was the course pursued by the Government of Ontario? By the provisions of the Act 38 Vic., which was passed by this Legislature, its operation was entirely suspended until a proclamation had been issued by the Lieutenant-Governor bringing it into force. This Lieutenant-Governor was never advised to issue his proclamation and there is no law on the statute book by which Ontario either authorized the award to be made, or provided that the province should be bound by the award when made. When did hon. gentlemen opposite pass their Act, enacting that they agreed to be bound by the award? It was not until the award had been made, and the territory awarded to Ontario, that those hon. gentlemen came down to the House and asked it to confirm the award. (Cheers.) Therefore, the hon. gentlemen had committed themselves to the position that both they and the Dominion were entitled to pass judgment on the award after it had been rendered. In 1874 Hon. Wm. Macdougall, then representing South Simcoe, introduced a bill for the purpose of repealing the act referring the boundary question to abitration, and the hon. member then pointed out the difficulty which had since arisen. His desire was that the Act should be repealed; that the question should not be referred to abitration, but should be dealt with by reference to the Privy Council. In the course of that discussion the hon. gentlemen touched upon the point of reserving the right to on the award by Ontario, and the objection that the hon. gentleman took was that, not the Government of Ontario, but the Parliament of Ontario, should pass on the award after it was made. Hon. gentlemen opposite never disputed the propriety of the province keeping in its own hands the right to pass in the award. It does not now lie in thier mouths to because they have come to the conclusion that the award is one that should be enforced. What has been the course of those hon. gentlemen since the award was made? They said they had been deprived of a large and valuable addition to Ontario. Beyond that memorable trip made, he was going to say, under the leadership of the hon member for North Perth (Mr. Hay) —(laughter)—what had the Government done to show their desire to take possession of the territory? They had sought to make political capital rather than to promote the interests of the province in dealing with the boundary question. (Cheers.) The award was made in 1878. It had been for some time manifest to the people and to this House that the Dominion Parliament was not disposed to give effect to that award; that it felt, as was shown by the report of the committee appointed on the subject, that the award was not a reasonable and fair one. What had hon. gentlemen opposite been doing? He could understand and go with them heartily in any protest against the matter being allowed to remain in abeyance, or in a strong protest on the part of Ontaron, because he believed and one that should be ratified; but they were not to arrogate to themselves the right to speak for the Dominion, and the proper course to have adopted would have been, Ontario having made a protest against the proceedings of the Dominion, to have taken proper constitutional steps to have had the question determined in the only way in which it could now be determined. It was not a dignified procedure for a province like Ontario to keep protesting in almost whining tones. It would have been much more creditable to hon. gentlemen opposite, and more in keeping with the dignity of the province, to have made one formal, solemn protest against the action of the Dominion, and then to have adopted the only measure possible to have the matter settled in a constitutional manner. Could hon. gentlemen opposite, by any method they could devise, even by the means suggested by the hon. member for North Perth, the Globe, and the London Advertiser, take possession of that territory? Could they give effect to that award in any way? Only the Dominion Government could give effect to it. Therefore, the course which the hon. gentlemen should have adopted was the constitutional method to have the question determined. Had the premier done that? His whole course had been an attempt to make political capital, and arouse the sentiments of the people on a subjection which he thought they could be aroused, and he did not care whether that course aroused bitter feelings which might lead to civil war. It was a course unworthy of him, and of the Liberal party of Ontario. (Cheers.) Would it be believed that, although the Government came down to the House, and induced it to pass a most formal and strong protest against legislation which was taking place at Ottawa, yet, so far as the records show, they never took the trouble to send that resolution of protest to the authorities at Ottawa. (Cheers.) If anything were wanting to show that the Government's action was.

THE AWARD WAS A FAIR ONE

A PIECE OF CLAP-TRAP,

done with a view to influence the elections, it was that circumstance. (Cheers.) He asked the leaders of the Government what were the means which the question could be settled. It had been put beyond their control; the Parliament of Canada had avowed its intention not to give effect to the award; and the course must now be either by negotiation with Manitoba or by reference to the Privy Council. Although the Legislature had provided funds to do so, no steps had been taken. Had he opened negotiations with Manitoba? He had not. Minor matters indicated how far hon. gentlemen opposite were willing to go to make capital against the Dominion Government. The leaders of the Government in this House, in order to make it appear how much the province was being injured and the progress of the country retarded, made the deliberate statement that the

CONVENTIONAL BOUNDARY AGREED UPON

in 1874 had still an existence. Last session at Ottawa his leader took the ground that the bill extending the boundaries of Manitoba could not go into effect in order to defeat that arrangement for a conventional boundary, so that the hon. gentlemen's leader took it that the conventional boundary was still in existence.

Mr. FRASER—Sir John Macdonald took the ground, as you will see by his speech.

Mr. MEREDITH—It was the contention of the hon. gentleman's leader. He (the speaker) quite agreed, however, with some of the observations made by hon. gentlemen opposite on that question. He would take as strong ground as anyone that the people of Ontario would never willingly submit to have wrested from them a single inch of territory, whether it were composed of rock or fertile soil. The Conservatives were present to maintain the position of Ontario, but when it became a question of involving the province in difficulties and dangers, in which the hon. member for North Perth (Mr. Hay) and the leaders of the Liberal party in this province would involve them, they of the Opposition were not prepared to go in that direction and endanger the interests of the whole Dominion. They held that the proper course to pursue was to bring the question to a determination by the only constitutional method now open to them. It might be said that the course they were pursuing was an unpopular one; but when the people came to understand both sides they would support that they had too much patriotism to do anything to jeopardize the interests of the whole Dominion, and were not prepared to follow hon. gentlemen opposite in the extreme course which they were prepared to take. It would be said that they, the Opposition, were not taking the same ground as they did on previous occasions. The question was now a different one from that which was presented to them at two former sessions. At that time it was an unsettled matter, and it was uncertain as to what course the Dominion Parliament would take with respect to it, and they felt that, although hon. gentlemen opposite were endeavouring to place them in a difficulty, and make it appear as if they were condemning their friends at Ottawa, they were willing, in order to strengthen the hands of the Provincial Government, to put aside their feelings, and they supported them in the resolutions submitted to the House. But when the question has been removed beyond the control of the Dominion Government it would be undignified, and not treating properly the province, to continue to protest, and not take measures to secure a settlement. It was urged that great injust ce had been done, and that spoliation was going on in the timber limits. That was the more reason why hon. gentlemen opposite should endeavour by constitutional means to have the matter determined once and for ever. (Cheers.)

THE POSITION OF THE OPPOSITION,

GATHERINGS IN THE HEAD.—"Although an entire stranger to you, I have received so much benefit from the PERUVIAN SYRUP that I cannot withhold my testimony in its favour. At different periods in my life I have been afflicted with gathering in my head, which discharged daily, either from one or both ears. Besides the digusting character of the complaint, it was at times attended with excruciating pain. I had recourse to both the Allopathia and Homœpathic treatment, but in vain. The last attack had troubled me nearly a year, when at the session of our Annual Conferance, held at Newburgh in April last, I saw a cerificate from some one who had been cured of a similial complaint by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP. To be brief, I purchased a bottle at the nearst drug store, and before it was half gone my trouble had entirely ceased, and at this writiug, nearly two months later, has not returned." Sold by all druggists. —From the Rev. Nathan Hubbell, Methodist preacher at Havare Deleware Co., N. Y.

PREJUDICE KILLS.—"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Patients.—Telegram.

IT IT SAID that some of the alkaloids which enter into the combination of Fellow's Hypophosphites, are extracted from trees which attain to a great age, and that this fact suggested to Mr. Fellows the idea of their employment. Whether the success of the preparation is due to this we are not prepared to say, but the idea is a good one.

DON'T FORGET THE "SOZODONT," but use it regularly after every meal. It imparts a pleasant flavor to the mouth, changes offensive secretions into healthful, invigorates the gums, and cleanses the interstices of the teeth. Like old Hercules, it purifies the Augean stables which some have in their mouth.

ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation: when the cough is more observable, but rather dry: then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The first meeting of the new Council of this village, took place in the Council Room, Lakefield, on Monday evening, the 16th inst.

Mr. Sanders, the Clerk, stated that Mr. R. C. Strickland was elected as Reeve, and Messrs. Wm. Cox, John Hull, John H. McWilliams and Richard Hill, had taken, subscribed to and filed their declarations of office and of qualification. Thereupon the Reeve took the chair, and called the Council to order, all the members being present.

The minutes of the former meeting were read and confirmed.

Moved by Mr. HILL, seconded by Mr. COX, —That the question of separating the offices of Clerk and Treasurer be left over for consideration until the next meeting.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. JOHN H. MCWILLIAMS, seconded by Mr. WM. COX,—That the sum of five dollars be paid to Mr. George McIlmoyl as constable's costs.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. MCWILLIAMS, seconded by Mr. HILL,—That the sum of ten dollars be granted to Mrs. Clarkson, as charity.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. WM. COX, seconded by Mr. MCWILLIAMS,— That a By-law to appoint Municipal Auditors be now read a first time.—Carried.

The Council went into Committee of the Whole, with Mr. McWilliams in the chair.

The REEVE nominated Mr. W. H. Casement, and the Council Dr. Caldwell, and the blanks being filled in accordingly, the Committee rose and reported the By-law.

The Council resumed, when Mr. HULL moved seconded by Mr. MCWILLIAMS,—That a by-law to appoint Auditors be now read a third time and passed, endorsed, sealed and signed by the Reeve and Clerk.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. HULL, seconded by Mr. MCWILLIAMS,—That this Council do now adjourn.—Carried.

CLERK AND TREASURER.

On Monday last, the 16th instant, considerable excitement was caused in the forenoon by it becoming known that Messrs. Sherin and Wallace were circulating petitions in favor of separating the offices of village Clerk and Treasurer. In the afternoon a counter petition was started. At the Council meeting held in the evening of the same day, the Council room was nearly full of ratepayers, who were present to hear the discussion, which it was understood would take place on the presentation of this petition to the Council. The discussion became very warm and animated as it wore on. Mr. J. C. Sherin said there had been an editorial in the REVIEW which he greatly admired, and in which it was stated that the extensive frauds that had been discovered lately in Belleville and Brockville were caused by the two offices being united. Mr. Sanders, in replying, denied that such was the case. He said that the REVIEW had never made a statement so absurd. The discussion was continued by Messrs. Wallace, Griffin, Dr. Bell and the Reeve.

NEW BRIDGE.

Mr. Wynne, bridge builder, came to Lakefield on Monday morning last, and has, during the early part of the week, been busy preparing and getting timber ready to clear away the old bridge and prepare the abutments for the new iron one which is to be erected in a few days. It is proposed to facilitate travel by running a ferry across the river above the dam, by means of a scow, during the time the bridge is down.

LEFT FOR THE OLD COUNTRY.

Mr. Henry J. Lefevre, of Uplands near Lakefield, left for the Old Country last week, on a visit. Mr. H. returns in the Spring. It is reported that he intends to import some fine specimens of thorough-bred cattle at that time. We wish Mr. Lefevre a pleasant journey and safe return.

NEW ARRIVAL.

Lakefield boasts of three first class Doctors and this week a surgeon dentist has became a resident of the village, in the person of J. W. Ivory Esq., Honor Graduate of R. C. D. S., Toronto, who has opened an office, and put out a shingle at Dr. Armour's, on Queen-street

NORTH MONAGHAN.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Council then adjourned to meet again on the 30th instant.

FROM ALL OVER.

MISS KELLOGG told a Cincinnati reporter that the late Henry G. Stebbins had managed her money affairs from the time she went on the stage until his death, and most successfully. "During my recent tour in Europe," she said, "he made $250,000 for me by a fortunate investment.

OSCAR WILDE is described as 26 years old, six feet four inches in height, as straight as an arrow, broad shoulders, and fists like sledge hammers. That settles it. We assure Mr. Wilde that this paper has always called him a poet equal to either Shakespeare or Milton, and a gentleman whom it would be a pleasure and honour to know; but if he visits Norristown we should prefer that he would not ask to look over last year's files of the Herald—Norristown Herald.

DR. CARSON'S Pulmonary Cough Drops are an excellent Expectorant loosening the phlegm far more readily than any other preparation. A GOOD story is told at the expense of the freshmen of Brown University, in Providence. They had ordered their annual dinner of a caterer and prepared to have an elaborately good time, including speeches and songs. At the time appointed they marched in procession to the dining hall, with banners flying and appetites sharp. They found the table littered with scant remnants of the feast, which had been eaten by the sophomores, who had imposed themselves on the caterer and induced him to get the dinner ready an hour earlier.

A FAMILY FRIEND.—No family should be without Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain-Killer. It can be given to the infant for the Colic, and to the adult for Rheumatism. There is scarcely a disease to which it may not be beneficially applied. It contains no deleterious drug, but may be used for the various ailments of mankind.

A CURIOUS character named Antoine Thomassen recently died in Paris. He accumulated a small independence as a "man of letters" under the Second Empire, though he could neither read nor write. His business was to let his name be used as that of responsible manager to any anti-Bonapartist journal which employed him, to go to prison on behalf of that journal, to fight duels for it, to suffer for it physically whenever someone had to suffer for it. His name had been signed to some of the fiercest writing ever penned against the Empire, and on the strength of that he always posed as an important litterateur.

WOMAN'S TRUE FRIEND—A friend in need is a friend indeed. This none can deny, especially when assistance is rendered when one is sorely afflicted with disease. More particularly those complaints and weaknesses so common to our female population. Every woman should know that Electric Bitters are woman's true friend, and will positively restore her to health, even when all other remedies fail. A single trial proves our assertion. They are pleasant to the taste and only cost fifty cents a bottle. Sold by Taylor & Macdonald.—2

HAUNTED ME.—A Workingman says: Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged until one year ago, by the advice of my postor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost."—Christian Advocate.

A CHARMING New York lady desiring to do something on Christmas for the surprise and delectation of her husband—a well-known wit and charming companion—procured one of the beautiful home cards in vogue about this season and hung it above his chair. On entering his dining-room on the festal day, he beheld a novel legend in shining letters, which read, "God bless our home!" This truly noble sentiment must have charmed him, for two days afterward (just time enough to prepare his legend) a card of similar size and illumination was found above the chair of the lady of the house, but less reverent than the former, it read, "G—d d—n our cook!"

THE largest Ink House in the world (Thaddeus Davids & Co.) is at 127 William Street, New York, and Mr. Geo. W. Davids was induced to employ St. Jacobs Oil in seeking relief from the pangs of rheumatic gout, a disease which he inherited, and which at times proves very troublesome. He has used the remedy with very great satisfaction, indeed. It relieved him within twenty-four hours after commencing to apply it of a pretty sharp attack of his hereditary foe. He was therefore disposed to think kindly of it as an extremely efficacious liniment. Mr. Davids further stated, that St. Jacobs Oil had been used by members of his family for neuralgia, and, in one case for the mumps, with the most gratifying results.

THE extensively published romance of Chin Chin Chin, the Chinese youth who was ordered home fron New Haven and beheaded at Hung Kong for presuming to love a young lady of the Elm City, has received a death-blow. The Rev. Dr. Wentworth, formerly a missionary to China, writes to the Troy Times that this story cannot possibly be true; that Hong Kong being a British settlement an execution like that described could no more take place there than in New York or London. It is intimated that the shrewd Celestial may have devised this desperate hoax in the hope of touching the heart of the New Haven girl, who is said to have looked coldly upon her lover.

BISHOP BEVERIDGE.—A gentleman meeting the celebrated and excellent Bishop, Beveridge, asked him how he was. Beveridge replied: "If I answer in Latin, I am sic, sic; if in English, so, so." There are many, who, if they spoke truly would give the same answer as the excellent Bishop. They have contracted lung disease, or it may be are suffering from asthma, and in great danger of that fatal malady consumption. Take warning in time, use N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir, it is really what many have called it, the "king" of remedies. Sold by all druggists throughout the Dominion.

EX-GOVERNOR BOCKULL, Georgia, recently said in regard to the probable future of political issues in the South: "We in the South are in the midst of political chaos, and when we emerge from it the large majority of our people will be found united in favor of material issues—abolition of all direct taxes; free coinage and hard money; protection for American industry and capital on land and sea; national appropriations for public improvements and free education, while the minority will cling to sentimental theories. So far the National Republican party is in advance on these coming issues, and if that party maintains the advance it will become the majority party of the South. If it hesitates or falters, a new party on these issues will rise and usurp its place."

DUNHAM, P. Q., March 10th, 1879.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—About a year ago I fell in the road on to some ice and was badly hurt in the hip joint, which caused me much suffering. I tried various remedies, but none gave relief until I tried Kendall's Spavin Cure. I applied it full strength twice a day for two weeks during last October, and it effected a perfect cure. I have since then been well and free from lameness. It is very valuable for man as well as for beast.

Yours truly,

Curling Notes.

A curling match was played at the rink on Wednesday evening between north and south, the dividing line being Brock street, and resulted after a well-contested game, in a victory for the north by two shots.

On Monday night a curling match was played here between Port Hope and Peterborough, one rink a side. After some of the best play ever seen here, the local rink was victorious by four shots. The match was merely an informal one. The ice was in splendid condition, indeed, one of the Port Hope players told us that it was the best he ever played on.

Matrimony in Manouba.

The Belleville Intelligencer remarks that a young man, recently from Manitoba, is commissioned by a number of bachelors to offer such inducements to a like number of marriagable young ladies as may induce them to leave Ontario and accept a home and a good husband in the great North-West. The bachelors of Manitoba he says are all good looking and wealthy. Railway fare will be paid to Winnipeg, Brandon, Emerson and other points. The young man is now in Brantford, and will probably visit Belleville shortly.

New Foundry.

We are glad to learn that Messrs. McLean, Brayshaw & Co., have secured the lease of Helm's old stand, on Simcoe street, with the object of establishing a foundry and machine shop. There is plenty of room for this addition to our industries, as the present foundries are obtaing more orders than they can fill. The new firm is composed of some of the leading hands from the principal foundry in Peterborough, so they may be relied on to turn out first class work.

Railway Notes.

We are informed that the tender for the construction of the "missing link," will not be awarded for two or three days yet.

At The Ball.

Among the names of those present at the Lieutenant Governor's ball, at Toronto on Wednesday night we find that of Mrs. Dr. Kincaid, as "Harvest Queen." She wore a short underskirt of pale moss green plush, trimmed with shaded satin ; bodice and drapery of pale pink silk ; white lace chemisette ; over-skirt ornamented with field poppies, hops, wheat, and grass ; wreath of poppies.

A Card.

Dr. Kincaid, M.P.P., left last evening for Toronto to attend Parliament, but he does not intend to neglect his professional duties as he will be at home from Friday until Tuesday of each week. In the meantime Dr. Alexander will promptly attend to all calls, night or day, left at the office.

Amy Lee Opera.

We cannot resist adding a few final words of praise, to what we have already said in favour of this company before they appear to, what, we hope, will be large and appreciating audiences, to-morrow and Friday evening, and we do not think we can pay them a higher tribute nor more effectually quash any feeling of doubt as to their real merit which may yet exist in the minds of a few, than by quoting the encomiums passed upon them by some of the leading papers in the Dominion :—

The principal feature, of course, is the performance of the leading role by Miss Amy Lee. This young lady is a bright piquant little actress, who sings prettily and manages to captivate her audience by her vivacious manners. She was several times recalled.—Montreal Gazette.

Mr. Harry Smith as Penobscot Butts, hit the fancy of the house very successfully with his family song, "I'm the only one that's left of all the Family," and Mr. Stanley makes a very droll, "ebony embellishment" to the piece. There is one part of his performance really excellent ; it is his imitation of the mocking bird, which is among the best we have heard, and was loudly encored.—Ottawa Free Press.

"The Two Medallions" was presented for the first time in this city yesterday by the Amy Lee Comedy Company. The house, both at the matinee and evening performances was well filled. The Opera has many pleasing and taking airs, which, judging from the unstinted applause, was not lost upon the audience. As Ilene, Miss Lee made a favourable impression. She possesses a sweet voice, together with a winning way, which could not fail to be attractive. Miss Laura Clairon, as Pinkette, was good, as was Miss Ettie Eiselle, as Clotilde Caiebson. Mr. Harry Smith made a decided hit as P. Q. Butts, "The Village Squire." The Spooks of Mr. Charles H. Stanley was excellent, and is seldom equaled.—Toronto Globe.

The plan of the hall is at Mr. Davidson's book store, not at Mr. Davis', as mentioned in this column yesterday.

Nearly a Fire.

On Wednesday evening a small fire occurred at Clegg's flour mill on Dickson's race. It caught in a place where a board covered a hole in the chimney, but was extinguished before it had gained any headway. If it had not been discovered in time the probabilities are that an extensive fire would have occurred.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company are as follows.—Lakes—Moderate winds fine weather and lower temperature to-day. Southerly winds and rising temperatures to-morrow.

AHA !—Dentists who have tried "Teaberry," pronounce it the finest thing on the face of this earth for the teeth and breath. 5 cent samples.

"Twenty-Four Years Experience," says an eminent physician, convinces me that the only way to cure nervous exhaustion, and weakness of the sexual organs, is to repair the waste by giving brain and nerve foods, and of all the remedies compounded, Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. See advertisement in another colmnn.

WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it ; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic ; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

A FATAL SHOT.

A Daughter of a Brockville Alderman the Victim—An Accidental Discharge.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 19.—This afternoon about half-past one o'clock, a very distressing accident happened to Miss Ida Quigg, aged 22, daughter of Mr. James Quigg, alderman of this town. It appears that the young lady immediately after dinner retired to her room, and was, it is supposed, engaged in dusting a dressing-case upon which lay a loaded five-shooter Smith & Weston revolver. It is thought that in moving the revolver she must have caught the trigger in some way, as it went off, shooting her fatally in the pit of the stomach. The family who were down stairs, on hearing the report and her screams, ran up to the room and found her laying on the bed, which was close to the dresser. Although medical aid was immediately summoned, and everything done for her aid, she never recovered consciousness. Miss Quigg was a very bright, intelligent and lively young lady, and her sad death has cast quite a gloom over a large circle of acquaintances.

TORONTO.

A RECKLESS ACT.—A short time ago a man named Forbes made a bet of $100 to $75 with another man that he would walk across the bay on the 17th instant. Accordingly at an early hour on Tuesday morning Forbes secured a long pole and started on his dangerous trip from the Northern Elevator. A large number of his friends had assembled on the wharf to watch his exploit. The ice bent under his weight, and his friends becoming alarmed, entreated him to return, but he was inexorable, and buttoning his coat tightly around him, he waved his hand and commenced running towards Hanlau's Point. About a rod from the wharf the ice was very thin, and as Forbes proceeded his uneasy motion revealed to his friends that there was danger ahead. Presently a shout was heard from Forbes, and in an instant he fell through the ice. By means of the pole which he held in his hands, he was able to extricate himself from his perilous position, and what was the surprise of his friends to see him still direct his steps toward the Island. He had not gone over ten yards, when the ice broke again and down he went. He again managed to get out with the help of the pole, and seeing that it was impossible to cross, he turned and started on the return journey toward the wharf. He broke though twice on the way back, and when he at last reached the wharf, he was completely exhausted and almost perished with cold.

MASONIC CONCERT.—The Warder says that the Masonic fraternity of the town have completed their arrangements for a concert, to be given in the Opera House, on Thursday evening, the 9th of February. From the names that we place before our readers we have no hesitation in saying that the coming concert will surpass any ever held in town, or in fact, in this part of the province. The professionals are Miss McManus, Miss Scott, Miss Boyd, Mr. Warrington, and Mr. Darby, all of Toronto. Besides the above ladies and gentlemen the best local talent has been secured.

ABOUT ROYALTY.

MADRID, Jan. 19.—At 10 o'clock this morning King Luis and Queen Maria Pia, with the Portuguese Ministers and court, arrived at the frontier station of Elvas, where the interview between Alfonso and Luis took place in 1877. The parting scene between their Majesties was quite touching. King Luis embraced King Alfonso and Queen Christina kissed Queen Pia, their suites and Ministers and ladies-in-waiting taking a cordial leave amidst a vast crowd of country people and visitors. The Portuguese paid military honours, with guns booming a salute. The band played the royal march of Spain, and as the train slowly left ringing cheers for the first time rose from the assembled Portuguese. The last words of Alfonso to Dom Luis were: "We expect you in Madrid in May" (alluding to the promise made by the Portuguese soverign to be present at the inauguration of the great wine exhibition of 1882.) Their Majesties stopped an hour at Badajos, and will arrive in Madrid at twelve o'clock to-night with Senor Sagasta, in time for to-morrow's important Council of Ministers.

THE IRISH COMMISSION.

BELFAST, Jan. 19.—Commissioners O'Hagan, Little, and Vennor yesterday delivered judgment in the first appeal from the decisions of the Assistant Commissioners, who reduced the tenants' improved fixed rents lease from £63 10s. to £30. The question was whether the rent should be varied. The Commissioners, Vennor dissenting, affirmed the decision of the Assistant Commissioners. Great importance is attached to the judgment, which settles a point in the Land Act known as Healey's clause. The case will be carried to the Court of Appeals.

QUEEN'S EVIDENCE.

CORK, Jan. 19.—To-day the outlaw leader Connell pleaded guilty. He will be a witness against other members of his band.

SINEWS OF WAR.

VIENNA, Jan. 19.—The Austrian Government will ask the delegations (the 120 members who compose the Parliament, and whose jurisdiction is limited to foreign affairs and to war) for a vote of extraordinary credits amounting to 6,700,000 florins. This expenditure is made necessary by the recent uprising in the Balkans and by the increased ordinary expenditure for the army.

A NIHILILIST SENTENCED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 19.—Melinikoff, the Nihilist who attempted to assassinate General Tcherevine, was to-day sentenced to twenty years in the mines of Siberia. When Melinikoff had finished a flowery speech in his own defence, his father rose excitedly and cursed him.

THE HERZEGOVINA INSURRECTION.

VIENNA, Jan. 19.—On Tuesday a detachment of infantry encounterd the insurgents near Kortera, Herzegovina. An officer and five soldiers were wounded. The insurgents fled, leaving six dead and four severely wounded. A complete insurrectionary organization exists. Austria has protested against the attitude of the Turkish Consul at Ragusa. It is stated that Austria contemplates the temporary occupation of Montenegro. The insurgents are destroying the telegraph lines and shooting officials and workmen who attempt to repair them.

SPECULATORS RUINED.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—A number of Lyons speculators have been ruined. No financial disaster is known in Paris, but all depends on the ultimate position of the Union Generale. The crisis will only touch speculators. The panic has not been equalled since April, 1877. The Bank of Lyons-et-Loire has failed. Every stock in the market is affected.

A CIRCUS ON FIRE.

BUCHAREST, Jan. 19.—The circus Kermsier was burned to-night. The flames spread so rapidly that it was with difficulty that the persons in the establishment could escape. When the fire was under control it was discovered that many men and horses had perished. Intense excitement prevailed. The horrors were increased by the fearful struggles and howlings of the beasts in the managerie opposite the circus. Many beasts were terribly scorched, and the blow is very heavy.

FINANCIAL PANIC.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—The frantic speculation which for some time past has been going on at Paris Bourse to-day led to something very like the beginning of a panic. The shares of the Catholic bank L'Union Generale fell from 2,390f., late night's quotation, to 1,300f. The shares of the Banque des Pays Austrichiens, an affiliation of the same enterprise, fell from 750f. to 650f. Suez canal shares declined from 2400f. to 2,225f., and even Rentes were slightly affected, the 5 centimes, and closing at 114f. They are not likely, however, to fall much lower. The position of several large brokers here is believed to be shaky.

CONSPIRACY IN NEPAUL.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Calcutta advices say that a conspiracy in Nepaul against the British residents has been discovered. Eighty notables have been arrested and twenty-one military officers summarily executed.

THE BEY OF TUNIS.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—It is stated that the Sultan has resolved to dethrone the Bey of Tunis and the whole Hassein dynasty, replacing them by Ali Ben Kalipha, leader of the Tunisian insurgents.

AMERICAN.

THE SUPREME COURT.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The Times says that it is expected that a bill granting Hunt, of the Supreme Court, permission to retire will be passed by the Senate this week.

THE RAILROAD DISASTER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—At the Spuyten Duyvil inquest Conductor Hanford testified that he believed the train was stopped by a person not connected with it applying the air-brakes. This could have been done, as the end ran through the cars connected with the valve. It was placed there as a precaution against accidents. There was a party on the train singing, smashing hats, and conducting themselves in a disgraceful manner. They were passing around bottles of whiskey, and the foundation of the accident was rum. He had not sufficient help on the train to stop such proceedings. Among the passengers were ex-Coroners, Senators, Assemblymen, and Aldermen, and he could not deprive them of their bottle. This was an everyday occurrence, but more especially so on Fridays. Engineer Burr, of the Tarrytown train, testified that he had passed 350 feet ont of the cut before he saw Melius. Had he seen him as he emerged he could have stopped the train in time.

GUITEAU'S TRIAL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—The Tribune says that Guiteau's Counsel says that Cox will allow him to address the jury after all and the prosecution will probably not oppose Guiteau's speaking. It is understood that several districts of the Supreme Court, if not a majority, are of the opinion that Guiteau has a right to be heard in person, as well as by counsel. The trial has seriously affected almost every person obliged to attend it. The prosecution failed to insist at the outset on gagging Guiteau on his removal from the room on account of the discovery that if either of these things was done the Court would order a new trial. Cox expected a retraction of the decision that Guiteau should now speak. The case may not go to the jury before Wednesday. Letters received indicate intense feeling against Guiteau among the inmates of insane asylums throughout the country.

FLORIDA'S SWAMPS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—The Sun says that in reference to the alleged swamp land frauds in Florida, it is asserted that after heavy rains the swamps are overflowed every where, and what may be high or dry lands to-day, may to-morrow be reasonably certified as swamp or overflowed lands, and it might be difficult to establish either at a permanent sale.

THE TRUNK LINES.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—The Herald says that Commissioner Fink states that the agreement reached by the representatives of the trunk lines yesterday must yet be ratified by the Presidents of the Grand Trunk and Baltimore and Ohio Companies. He did not doubt that it would be ratified. Wm. K. Vanderbilt, who represented the New York Central at the meeting, states that they arranged to make a reduction in eastbound freight of 20 per cent, in provisions 25 per cent and on westbound freight of 45 per cent. It was also decided to appoint a commissioner to settle the question of differential rates.

AN INFATUATED WOMAN.

Elopement of the Mother of a Family at Tilsonburg—The Runaway Caught.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., Jan. 19.—last week a young man and a woman, apparently somewhat older, arrived in this city from Lower Canada and engaged rooms as man and wife in a boarding house here. The man, who is a painter by trade, got employment immediately, and his wife was engaged to do housework for her board. On Monday an old lady, the mother of the woman in question, arrived here from Canada and sought the assistance of the police to ascertain the whereabouts of her daughter, who, she stated, was a married woman with several children, but had deserted her home and family and eloped with a young fellow with whom she had been acquainted but a short time, and who, she believed had brought her to this city. The pair were found at the boarding-house living as man and wife. The woman, whose name is Mrs. Richard Britton, left for home at Tilsonburg, Ontario, with her mother, much against her inclination. The man, whose name is John Boughner, was locked up, but was released last night, no one appearing for the prosecution. The woman, who is five years older than the man with whom she eloped, being 27 years of age, admitted that she had a good and kind husband in Canada, but she did not care for him after becoming acquainted with the other, with whom she appeared to be completely infatuated, and it was a long time before she could be persuaded to return with her mother to her husband and children.

AT the Cork Assises, J. W. Southwick, late manager of the Munster Bank at Kilgnane, was sentenced to five years' penal servitude for fraud and forgery.

"Twenty-Four Years Experience," says an eminent physician, convinces me that the only way to cure nervous exhaustion, and weakness of the sexual organs, is to repair the waste by giving brain and nerve foods, and of all the remedies compounded, Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. See advertisement in another column.

Dr. Campbell, of Bishop's College Faculty of Medicine, says of Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya: "It is really a very elegant and beautiful preparation and is taken with ease by the most fastidious palate. But what is of more importance is, that it is a reliable medicine, and is useful in a large number of cases. We have employed it tolerably extensively during the past year, and have every reason to be satisfied with the results it produced. We, therefore, have no hesitation whatever in recommending it."

BARKING UP THE WRONG TREE.

ALTHOUGH the revenue derived from woods and forests stands second in amount among Ontario's receipts, it is really surprising to note the manner in which so important a subject is treated, when referred to, by both parties in the Legislature. For instance, in the speech delivered from the throne the other day, on the opening of the present session of the Ontario Legislature, we are told that the recent sale of timber limits was effected "in the interest of settlement and revenue," which means, we suppose, that now that the right to cut the timber on the lands in question has been sold to private individuals, the Ontario Government proposes to minimize its value both to the purchaser and to the Province by throwing it open to indiscriminate settlement under the "Free Grant Act," and the only objection which the leader of the Opposition apparently has both to what has been done, and what is proposed to be done, is that the Legislature was not consulted as to the expediency of the sale before it took place.

Now, all this, to our mind, is very much like barking up the wrong tree. In the first place, all past experience proves that those lands, which are chiefly valuable for their timber, as the prices realized for these limits amply prove them to be, are not the best for bona fide settlement, while their attempted settlement unavoidably causes the destruction of much valuable timber by fire, and thereby a loss of revenue to the Province, and a loss of employment both directly and indirectly to the people, of infinitely more benefit than any settlers which will ever make a permanent home on these lands—especially at the present time, when the North-West offers so many inducements to the intending agriculturist.

We had hoped that in view of past experience, and in view of the necessity which exists for making the very most of our timber resources, the present Ontario Government would have been prepared to try the experiment of setting apart the district covered by the recent sale for timber production only, and adopted special measures for protecting the timber growing thereon from destruction by fire. The importance of the revenue yet to be derived therefrom by the Province, and the importance of making the very most of the forests which we are so fortunate as to inherit from the past, should forbid any carping over any reasonable expenditure for such a purpose, or any high-falutin about the rights of the would-be-settler to settle wheresoever he pleases. So far as settlement is concerned, the question simply is, Will the Province, as a whole, derive most benefit from protecting the timber, or from the settlers which will go on these lands? Whenever the lands are chiefly valuable for the timber upon them, it cannot be questioned that the timber is worth both directly and indirectly much more to the province than any settlement which is likely to take place on such lands under existing circumstances, while we do not think it would be difficult to prove that the timber thus protected would add more to the population of the Province in the course of its manufacture than is likely to follow from opening the land itself to settlement under the Free Grant Act.

ONE-SIDED FREE TRADE.

Mr Lister, a leading silk maufacturer of Brantford, England, writes to the Morning Post: "Is it not unjust to the working classes that, whilst their tea, beer and tobacco are taxed to the extent of millions, silks, laces, articles de Paris, soft goods and manufactures to the extent of about £40,000,000, are allowed to come in free, and altogether for the rich and well-to-do classes. It is not alone that millions are taken out of their pockets by having their luxuries taxed, but what is far worse, their very means of subsistence—their very bread is taken from their mouths by foreign workmen making articles of luxury for the rich which pay no tax. How long can this unjust—I may say unrighteous—system go on, for no reason but to support a fanatical fetish called Free Trade? I employ over 3,000 workers at Manningham and Addingham mills in the manufacture of silk; and as I import all my raw material from India, China or Japan, and carry it through all its processes, and dye and finish ready for the shopman's counter, I have an opportunity of knowing the amount of wager expended in producing a given quantity of silk goods; and, based upon this knowledge and experience, I am prepared to say that during the last twenty years—that is, since the date of the Cobden treaty—there has been a loss of between £50,000,000, and £60,000,000 of workmen's wages on the silk imported during that time, and that at the present time there is a yearly loss of between £3,000,000 and £4,000,000 that might gladden the heart of many a suffering toiler; and all this is sacrificed at the shrine of Free Trade. It certainly is not for the good of the country, and still less for the good of the working classes."

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

IT IT SAID that some of the alkaloids which enter into the combination of Fellow's Hypophosphites, are extracted from trees which attain to a great age, and that this fact suggested to Mr. Fellowa the idea of their employment. Whether the success of the preparation is due to this we are not prepared to say, but the idea is a good one.

HAUNTED ME.—A Workingman says: Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged until one year ago, by the advice of my postor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost."—Christian Advocate.

GATHERINGS IN THE HEAD.—"Although an entire stranger to you, I have received so much benefit from the PERUVIAN SYRUP that I cannot withhold my testimony in its favour. At different periods in my life I have been afflicted with gathering in my head, which discharged daily, either from one or both ears. Besides the digusting character of the complaint, it was at times attended with excruciating pain. I had recourse to both the Allopathia and Homœpathic treatment, but in vain. The last attack had troubled me nearly a year, when at the session of our Annual Conferance, held at Newburgh in April last, I saw a cerificate from some one who had been cured of a similial complaint by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP. To be brief, I purchased a bottle at the nearst drug store, and before it was half gone my trouble had entirely ceased, and at this writiug, nearly two months later, has not returned." Sold by all druggists. —From the Rev. Nathan Hubbell, Methodist preacher at Havare Deleware Co., N. Y.

BREEDING.

Good or Bad as Displayed by the Rising Generation.

The following communication written by a lady appeared a day or two ago in the St. Thomas Journal. It contains a good deal of pith in small space:—

SIR,—I wish to offer a few comments on the following extract from Judge Hughes' address delivered at the opening of Elgin County Court on the 13th of last December:

There are many of our young men, and indeed, young women too, who when you meet them on the streets or elsewhere show the utmost lack not only of good breeding but even of any breeding at all.

Yes, we young men and women do show a lack of good breeding, at all, even of any breeding, Yes, we are hard, and coarse, and vulgar, and irreverent, no matter what our station in life, but are we altogether to blame? I think not. Did you ever notice two little children in a family? The baby admiringly watches, doubtfully watches, delightedly watches, and imitates the older one. It is the same all through life. The example of an older one is powerful for good or evil. Children and young people are very observant. A pleasant and courtly manner possesses great charms for them and it is so rare that they are thrilled by its beauty and its unexpectedness.

One day last fall I was walking up Dundas street, London, with a little boy, a clever little fellow, six years old. A few feet in front of us were three gentlemanly-looking, men one of whom was talking animatedly to his companions. They had just passed the centre of the crossing, when up from a side street came a dilapidated old waggon, drawn by a sorry looking horse, the horse driven by a forlorn little woman, whose protector was a shabby, shivering little boy. The waggon stopped on the crossing, and the woman addressed the gentlemen, now a few feet from her. The one in the centre turned quickly and, courteously raising his hat as he did so, walked up to the waggon—she appeared to be asking directions. He gave them, seemed anxious that she should thoroughly understand, and when she bowed her thanks he again courteously raised his hat and rejoined his friends. He was a man of the world. One glance would tell him that she had neither wealth nor position, yet he treated her with a deference most men would think due only to a duchess, or one in their own "set."

No wonder our little boy was deeply impressed, and when he went home he told grandma all about it. "Grandma," he said, "when I'm a man I'll do that nice, kind way when a lady speaks to me. He did it beautifully, grandma, this way," gracefully doffing his little cap. He appreciated not only the kindness of the act, but the grace of it.

As Emerson says, "There is a happy way of doing everything, even boiling an egg." I meet a gray-headed old gentleman very often. He must know I am of the "army of working women." I am not young, nor am I beautiful, yet when he passes me he always takes his pipe from his mouth with the hand farthest from me. Nice, kind old gentleman! God bless him, and make me worthy of his gentle courtesy.

What a fearful capacity for veneration we men and women have? (women especially). How few worthy objects to bestow it upon? What terrible shocks we get sometimes, and how debasing and sorrowful the effects of them?

There is another old gray-headed gentlemen here. When you go into his office to pay your rent, you always have to leave with a brighter opinion of yourself. Why? Because, if he happens to be seated when you enter, he arises. If he has his hat on, he takes it off, and then invites you to be seated while he writes out a receipt. That done, he accompanies you to the door, opens it for you, and closes it after you. he is no "respecter of persons." The wife of a labourer said to me the other day, "he treated me like a lady." Are you surprised that she should know what is due to a lady? We seem to know instinctively—to require no instruction as to what good breeding is in others. Are many such fine examples of good breeding shown the young by the old? Very very few.

I like the odour of good tobacco, I feel faint and sick and very tired, and the waft of its perfume from the other room is as a cordial, but when I have occasion to address the gentleman who uses it, and he listens to me with his pipe in his mouth, I think is he worthy of respect, or am I?

Business took me into the office of a public official the other day. I did not come upon him suddenly, as he sat at the head of a rather long room. His chair was a little back, and his hat was on his head. He never budged, but answered my questions in that position, I have seen him with his hat off he is old and bald-headed. No wonder so many men are bald-headed. They deserve to be. Are many such coarse examples of ill-breeding shown the young by the old? A great many.

A peculiar and varied experience having given me a knowledge of the manner and opinions of high and low, rich and poor, I could say a great deal upon this subject. I know there are cads of both sexes in high life as well as in low life, and gentlemen and gentlewomen among the poor and lower, as well as among the rich and well born, for good manors are not and should not, be peculiar to, or confined to any one class.

You pass a mechanic with blackened face and hands, and he will take his pipe from his mouth; a refinement of good breeding which prehaps you did not expect; yet "three clerks in a row," who think themselves his superiors will puff, puff their smoke right into you face, and add insult to injury by squeezing you nearly to a pancake before you can get past them on the sidewalk.

"Good manners are made up of petty sacrifices." Conductors of trains could tell a good deal of "manners up on the road"—relate acts of selfishness and boorishness, not all committed by the young.

THE $10,000 BEAUTY.

A Chat with Louise Montague, the "Original Jacobs."

When the reporter of Taggarts' Sunday Times was ushered into the presence of Miss Louise Montague, she was about to leave the house for an afternoon's constitutional on Chestnut street. The lady's greeting was cordial, and in answer to the representative's apology for the intrusion, she smilingly remarked, as she removed the seal-skin cloak that touched the carpet—a robe fit to adorn royalty—

"Never mind. Don't say anything about it. I am at your service. I've become used to this sort of thing. Propound your conundrums, and I'll do the answering.

"How did I like my trip? On the whole, first rate. Of course there were some discomforts and some mishaps. The season was a long one, and extended through twenty-four States. Besides, you will recollect the summer was an unusually hot one, the streets were dusty and dirty, and water was at a premium. In some of the hotels out west it was with great difficulty that one dould secure water enough even to wash one's face. In many instances, Mr. Forepaugh was obliged to rely on the railroad folks for a supply from their store for his stock."

"I suppose," she remarked jokingly, "that Lalla Rookh found it just as dusty, dirty and hot, and that was one of the realisms of the representation. In the way of mishaps, I was once unceremoniously pitched out of the howdah by a vicious elephant, and thereby more frightened than hurt."

"At Bowling Green, Kentucky, I was quite seriously injured by a train colliding with the circus sleeping cars. It was a narrow escape. One of the porters was killed, and another seriously injured."

"How did the Forepaugh Show do? Great. It was Fourth of July every day, from the beginning of the season to the end. In truth, I got tired of seeing so many people. The attendance in Chicago was something fabulous, and it is said that the turn out to witness the procession—"

"And to get a peep at yourself?"

"I did not say that—exceeded anything of the kind ever known there before. The streets all along the line of march were almost impassible, and the sidewalks were packed solid with human beings. One man, in his excitement, fell out of the window to the pavement below and broke his neck."

"Overcome by the charms of the princess," suggested the reporter.

"When we passed through Fifth avenue, New York, there was well nigh a serious panic, as it was, people were crowded into basements, and rolled down stone steps, but fortunately no one was seriously injured."

"Of course it was a trying position, to appear as I did in the howdah on the back of an elephant, to be gaped and gazed at by tens of thousands, but it was in the bond, and I fulfilled my part of the contract while Mr. Forepaugh carried his out to the letter."

"How were you treated by the crowds attracted to witness the procession?"

"Well, with a single exception they used to cheer me, and clap their hands; that is the gentlemen and good-looking ladies, but the homely ones bit their lips."

"In envy?" suggested the reporter.

"At Buffalo there was a fierce circus war carried on with another show. While our procession was moving through the streets, their bill-posters followed me, halloing, 'She ain't no ten thousand dollar beauty. She only gets thirty dollars a week,' and not satisfied with that, they actually threw missiles at me."

"I was not aware," interupted the reporter, that any circus manager would permit his representatives to go as far as that.

"You have no idea," resumed Miss Montague "to what ends their hate and envy will carry them. The conduct of the representatives of that show became so outrageous that Mr. Forepaugh was obliged to put five of them in jail, and he only permitted their release upon the intercession of one of their employers, who pleaded with him in their behalf."

"What are your plans for the future?" asked the reporter.

"I have re-engaged with Mr. Forepaugh, for next season. He intends to re-produce the pageant of 'Lalla Rookh departing from Delhi,' on a much grander scale. In the meantime, before the opening of the season, as stipulated in my contract, I shall not appear in public. You know I am a professional vocalist. I have received very many flattering offers, but to all Mr. Forepaugh makes one answer. No, as I am enjoying my rest, and my salary is satisfactory, I have no fault to find with my retirement from the boards."

"I see that another show is imitating the Forepaugh Show, and are advertising for a beauty."

"Oh, that's the day after the fair," laughed the ten thousand dollar beauty. "Forepaugh had worked the boom all last summer. Charlie Day worked it up. I am the 'Original Jacobs' and the public knows it. 'It must be sorry birds that wear borrowed plumes.' Circus managers admit that the ten thousand dollar beauty created the greatest success ever known in the circus business in this country. Adam Forpaugh furnished the money, Charles H. Day invented the project, and I won the prize, and am enjoying it."

With this burst of enthusiam and triumph, the Montague donned her furs for her projected but interrupted pedestrian exercise.

The reporter then left the presence of the fair Louise, impressed with the belief that the Montague was as bright as she was beautiful, and that there had been no mistake made in the award of the ten thousand dollars.—Philadelphia Times.

Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

PREJUDICE KILLS.—"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Patients.—Telegram.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 20, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

The "Two Medallions."

As we fully anticipated, Bradburn's Hall was filled last night by one of the most select audiences ever seen in it, to hear the Amy Lee Troupe, in the "Two Medallions." The performance throughout gave the very best satisfaction, although in some respects, it was not as good as that given before. The play has no plot worth speaking of, but affords ample scope for the various performers to exhibit their versatile powers. While the play is a variety one, it is of such a refined character that the best lady in the land could not find the least fault with anything that is said or done from the beginning to the end. The music is fine and "catching," after the style of "Pinafore," "Patience," and kindred operas. The company is a good one, and numbers several fine vocalists, who never failed to bring down the house. Of the characters we must say that all filled their parts to perfection. Of course Miss Amy Lee, as Ilene and the Princess Louise, was the centre of attraction. This lady is a piquant finished actress, and well deserves all the encomiums that have been passed on her. She made a hit and henceforth may be classed among Peterborough's favorites, a distinction that is accorded to but few. Mr. Harry A. Smith as Penobscott Quincy Butts, "The only one that's left of all the Family," took the house by storm, and on two or three occasions he was forced to re-appear after the curtain had fallen to give "just one more verse." The words and air of his song at once catch the popular fancy, and now every other man or boy you meet whistles, sings or lilts it. His make up was perfect. Miss Clairon, as Pinkette, was excellent, and the same may be said of Miss Eiselle, as Clotilde. This lady has a fine voice and sings very sweetly. Miss Watson, as Matilda, acted the part of the old maid to perfection. Mr. Gale made a good Billings. Mr. Stanly, as Spooks the negro, was "great," and in the opinion of many he fully shared the honors with the leading characters. His "policeman act" and imitation of the mocking bird were really excellent. This evening the "Two Medallions" will be repeated, and if true merit deserves a house, the hall should be packed. Popular prices 25 and 50 cents. Secure your seats early to hear Butts sing "I'm the only one that's left of all the Family." It is well worth the price of admission, alone.

Railway Notes.

The Kingston Whig says that the Toronto & Ottawa R. R. Co., are buying the right of way and chopping and clearing the line of road between Arden and Bridgewater. Mr. Scouten has a large contract of clearing the road of timber, etc. Rockcutting is being done near Bridgewater. According to the Echo the people of Arden can hear the blasts when the wind is fair. Mr. Campbell is in some of the townships buying right of way. It is bought through Kennebec. The right of way varies from $3 per acre. Cost of clearing $16 to $20. The Quebec and Ontario have six camps of about sixty men near Sharbot Lake, locating their line. Their line passes through the village of Arden and the new survey will not differ greatly from the old. The two roads will bea bout two miles apart at Arden.

Dairymen's Convention.

The Eastern Dairymen's Association will hold their Annual Meeting and Convention in the City of Belleville, on the 7th, 8th and 9th of February, 1882. The usual reduction in railroad fares will be made to parties wishing to attend, by first obtaining a railroad certificate from the Secty., Harford Ashley, Esq., Belleville, Ont.

Bells.

We notice that many persons are in the habit of driving through the town without bells, a thing that is contrary to a by-law and punishable by a fine. The custom is a dangerous one, as the approach of a team or single horse is only made known by means of the bells. If the police brought a few cases before the Magistrate it might have a good effect.

Run Over.

On Thursday afternoon a small boy, whose name we did not learn, was run over on George Street, just above Hunter by a horse and cutter. The boy was knocked down and the horse trampled on him, but Dr. Clarke who attended him, states that he is not seriously injured.

Our Member.

The Globe says that Dr. Kincaid, M.P.P. for West Peterborough, took his seat on Thursday afternoon. As this gentleman was elected as an Independent member, considerable curiosity was felt as to who would introduce him to the Speaker, as, perhaps, indicating in some degree his political leanings. Dr. Kincaid's sponsors were Messrs. Lees and Mack, the former an independent member of Conservative antecedents, and the latter also elected as an Independent, but leaning somewhat in the Liberal direction. This solution of the problem was regarded generally as a very ingenious one.

He Skipped.

The other day a young lad named Morgan, residing in Ashburnham, was brought before a J. P. charged with the larceny of $14 from a farmer. The youth was committed for trial and wishing to consult a lawyer he was taken to the office of one of our legal luminaries.....While there he made an excuse to get down stairs and was allowed to go upon promising to return at once. He went down and has not been seen since. He is a sharp one and almost deserves his freedom. Justice was blind that time, sure enough.

The Weather.

The weather continues fine during the day and cold at night. Last night, perhaps the heaviest frost of the season fell. Vennor's "cold wave" has yet to come, but doubtless it will arrive before the end of the month:—The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company are as follows.—Lakes—South-westerly to south-easterly winds, cloudy mild weather with slight showers of snow or rain in some localities to-day; rain and snow to-morrow.

A Card.

Dr. Kincaid, M.P.P., left last evening for Toronto to attend Parliament, but he does not intend to neglect his professional duties as he will be at home from Friday until Tuesday of each week. In the meantime Dr. Alexander will promptly attend to all calls, night or day, left at the office.

Music at the Rink.

The management have arranged for the presence of the Peterborough Fire Brigade Orchestra Band at the Rink every Friday evening, during the remainder of the season.

Croft House.

Just received another brewing of "Nor-West" Cream Ale. Finest ale made in the Dominion.

HASTINGS.

SUDDEN DEATH.—The Star says that our village was shocked on Thursday evening last, by the annoucement of the sudden death of Mr. Walter Renwick. The deceased gentleman had been for some time past in very poor health, but which neither relatives, nor friends viewed with uneasiness. Alarming symptoms of congestion of the lungs set in shortly after noon on Thursday, which terminated in death about four o'clock. The remains were interred in theHastings Necropolis on Saturday evening.

"GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN."—This pathetic epitaph, though usually applied to friends in the spirit land, is equally appropriate in referring to the departure of one of our citizens last week, i. e., W. A. Curtis, the whilom book-keeper of Mr. Peters. 'Tis the old, old story, wine and women, ending in hypocrisy, embezzlement, &c. When shall we see his like again?

A DEER HUNT.—On Sunday 8th inst., Mr. David Tierney, of Norham, was rather surprised to see a fine deer leisurely walking along the gravel road, near Norham. Mr. Tierney, immediately gave chase on foot and captured the animal near the toll gate south of the village. The deer is quite tame and is evidently a domesticated one which has escaped from its owner.

ACCIDENT.—A man named Houtailing got his leg broke at Mr. P. O'Neil's farm, Asphodel, on Monday last, whilst engaged in loading logs on a sleigh. Dr. Clark was sent for and set the fractured limb.

ANOTHER.—A brakeman named Russel met with an accident while coupling cars here on Saturday last, three fingers on the right hand being badly smashed.

RACES.—The annual races of our sister village, Cam pbellford, are to take place on Crow Bay on the 8th and 9th prox.

Burning Theatres.

Since 1610 523 theatres have been burnt down in the old and new world, 460 disasters of this kind having taken place within the last hundred years (up to 1878), while from 1871-8 the average rate was thirteen theatres per annum. In the list of localties, London, with 31, i s at the head; Paris, with 29, follows next; the youthfuf city of New York has 20, and the yet younger San Francisco 21. Barnum's theatre, in the Empire city, has been burned down no less than five times; while Astley's in London, and the Grand opera in Paris, have each been destroyed four times. Her majesty's Drury Lane and Covent Garden have been thrice laid waste by fire; while numerous London theatres can boast of double conflagration, the oldest being the Globe on Bankside, which was burned down A. D. 1613. Though the Vienna disaster, with some 800 or 900 lives to its score, ranks first for fatality, there have been very nearly as bad. When Lehmann's theatre, in St. Petersburg, was destroyed (1836), between 600 and 700 lives were sacrificed, though the official accounts returned but half that number; the Cariaruhe court theatre (1847), with about 200 victims, the Brooklyn (1876), with nearing 300, and the Nice catastrophe, come next.

Not long ago we happened to be seated at the same table at the hotel with Doc. Palmer, County Attorney of Taylor county, Ky. Everybody there knows the Dr. who lives in Louisville, Ky., and everybody likes him. We soon introduced a favorite subject in that section, and, as usual, found an instance of the powerful efficacy of St. Jacobs Oil, the Great German Remedy. Mr. Palmer said: "I had a bad attack of rheumatism in the left shoulder. I applied St. Jacobs Oil and was permanently cured. On another occasion I was attacked with neuralgia, and, profiting by my former experience, became doubly indebted to St. Jacobs Oil for a cure of that most excruciating torment. I recommend it to everybody I see suffering with that class of disease."

FROM ALL OVER.

TWENTY thousand persons have been vaccinated within the last few weeks in Rochester.

JULIA A. SCOTT, the original of Mark Twain's "Collonial Seller," has been accidentally drowned.

AN enormous mass of rock fell one thousand feet from the mountain side near Glarus, Switzerland, and destroyed orchards, roads and meadows.

CAPTAIN GEORGE E. TYSON, who drifte dfor seven months on an ice flow in the Arctic regions, heartily endorses the scheme of Cheyne to attempt to reach the north pole by balloons.

DON'T FORGET THE "SOZODONT," but use it regularly after every meal. It imparts a pleasant flavor to the mouth, changes offensive secretions into healthful, invigorates the gums, and cleanses the interstices of the teeth. Like old Hercules, it purifies the Augean stables which some have in their mouth.

A GOOD PREVENTATIVE for Fevers, Ague and Bilious Disorders is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters a strictly vegetable preparation. They Tone the system, purify the Blood and increase the appetite, and render those taking them almost proof against disease, Should be used in every case instead of pills. J. D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

MRS. ABRAHAM LINCOLN is an inmate of a Turkish and electric bath establishment in New York. Dr. Sayer finds that she suffers from chronic inflammation of the spine cord and diseases of the kidneys, and that cataract has appeared in both eyes.

SCORFULOUS AFFECTIONS.—These loathsome ailments, including pimples, sore scalp, etc., arise from impure blood or impaired digeston. A single box of Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills has been known to sweep such affections out of the system root and branch. For sale everywhere.

THE last of the great newspapers issued at Florence, when it was the capital of the Italian Kingdom, has transferred its office to Rome. Florence is now virtually left without a paper, only two or three pocket-hand-kerchief gazettes seeing daylight within its walls.

A FAMILY FRIEND.—No family should be without Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain-Killer. It can be given to the infant for the Celic, and to the adult for Rheumatism. There is scarcely a disease to which it may not be beneficially applied. It contains no deleterious drug, but may be used for the various ailments of mankind.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

A PEORIA (Ill.) merchant hired a new clerk who was presently called upon for a quart of viniger. He went to a barrel and filled the measure. That afternoon the merchant was surprised to find that all his customers in the neighborhood were making a run on vinegar. At the last moment, when it was to late, he found that the new clerk was selling vinegar from the whisky barrel.

A VEXED CLERGYMAN.—Even the patience of Job would become exhausted were he a preacher and endeavoring to interest his audience while they were keeping up an incessant coughing making it impossible for him to be heard. Yet how very easily can all this be avoided by using Dr. Kings new discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Trial bottles given away at Taylor and Macdonald's.—2

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

BOB INGERSOLL officiated at the funeral of the little son of George O. Miller in Washington. "They who stand with breaking hearts around this little grave," said he in his address at the Congressional Cemetary, "need have no fear. The larger and nobler faith in all that is, and is to be, tells us that death, even in its worst, is only perfect rest. We know that, through the common wants of life—the needs and duties of each hour—their grief will lessen day by day, until at last this grave will be to them a place of rest and peace—almost of joy. There is for them this consolation:—The dead do not suffer. If they live again, their lives will surely be as good as ours. We have no fear. We are all children of the the same mother, and the same fate awaits us all. We, too, have our religion—and it is this:—Help for the living—hope for the dead."

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

PRESBYTERY MEETING.

The Presbytery of Peterborough met at Cobourg on the 16th January. Twelve ministers and six elders were present It was unanimously agreed that no further steps be taken towards the separation of Norwood and Hastings. It was reported that Mr. Fleming was making satisfactory progress in the study of Greek and Hebrew. From papers laid on the table it was shown that the Temperance Hall at Apsley had been secured as a permanent place of worship for the Presbyterian denomination. Upon motion of Mr. Bell, it was resolved that all Session Records be produced at next meeting for examination. The Rev. Mr. McKay of Woodstock, being present, was invited to correspond. A circular was read anent the claims of Manitoba College and was, in the meantime, laid on the table. The matter of drawing the attention of the congregations, within the bounds, to the circular of Dr. Reid, regarding the General Assembly Fund, was remitted to Mr. Windell, who has charge of said fund. The report of the Home Mission Committee was read and ordered to be engrossed with the minutes of Presbytery. Upon motion of Mr. Bennett, the remit on the sustentation and supplemental schemes was referred to a committee to consider and to report at next ordinary meeting of Presbytery. An application was made by the members of Ork Hill congregation for reunion with Garden Hill and Knoxville. The Clerk was instructed to take the usual steps in such cases and to cite all the parties interested to appear at next ordinary meetings of Presbytery. It was agreed to grant to Oak Hill the liberty of supplying their own pulpit until the question of union be finally disposed of. There was laid on the table a call from the congregation of Cobourg, addressed to the Rev. R. P. McKay, of Scarboro', in the Presbytery of Toronto. The call was signed by two hundred and five members and 133 adherents. An accompanying paper guaranteed a stipend of $1,200 per annum, in monthly instalments. There is also a manse. The call was sustained as a regular gospel call and ordered to be transmitted to the Presbytery of Toronto. Commissioners were appointed to represent the Presbytery and congregation in prosecution of the call. The next meeting of the Presbytery was appointed to be held in St. Paul's church, Peterborough, on Tuesday the 21st March, at two o'clock in the afternoon. A letter was read from Mr. Wendell, tendering the resignation of his charge. Commissioners were appointed to visit the congregations and to cite them to appear for their interests at the meeting in Peterborough. Mr. Cleland reported regarding the state of the Synod and Presbytery Fund. The difficulty between Bethseda and Alnwick in the matter of the proportion of salary to be paid by each congregation was remitted to a new committee. The congregation at Campbellford obtained leave to sell a portion of Church property, as applied for.—William Bennett, Presbytery Clerk.

THE IRISH COMMISSION.

Belfast, Jan. 20.—Commissioners O'Hagan, Little, and Vennor yesterday delivered judgment in the first appeal from the decisions of the Assistant Commissioners, who reduced the tenants' improved fixed rents lease from £63 10s. to £30. The question was whether the rent should be varied. The Commissioners, Vennor dissenting, affirmed the decision of the Assistant Commissioners. Great importance is attached to the judgment, which settles a point in the Land Act known as Healey's clause. The case will be carried to the Court of Appeals.

THE HERZEGOVINA INSURRECTION.

Vienna, Jan. 20.—On Tuesday a detachment of infantry encountered the insurgents near Koretera, Herzegovina. An officer and five soldiers were wounded. The insurgents fled, leaving six dead and four severely wounded. A complete insurrectionary organization exists. Austria has protested against the attitude of the Turkish Consul at Ragusa. It is stated that Austria contemplates the temporary occupation of Montenegro. The insurgents are destroying the telegraph lines and shooting officials and workmen who attempt to repair them.

GAGGING THE PRESS.

Vienna, Jan. 20.—The evening papers were confiscated to-day for reporting a speech of the president of the united Left, denouncing the attempts to drag the Crown into the political arena.

PUTTING IT DOWN.

—Dublin, Jan. 20.—A member of the Ladies' Land League has been sentenced to a month's imprisonment in default of bail for good behaviour. Parnell, O'Kelly, also O'Brien, the editor of United Ireland, have been remanded for a further period of three months.

ARCTIC SEARCH.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—The steamer Lena, which aided the Nordenskjold's expedition, and which now is stationed in the river Lena, has been placed at the disposal of the searchers for De Long.

RELEASE OF SUSPECTS.

Dublin, Jan. 20.—The question of liberating Mr. Parnell and the other members of Parliament will be debated at the forthcoming Cabinet Council in Dublin Castle. There is much difference of opinion on the subject, some persons high in authority favouring their immediate release. Mr. Quinn, assistant secretary Doriss, who had charge of the legal department of the League, and three clerks of the United Ireland will be released immediately. Mr. Dillon's release may be looked for at any moment. In London there is a rumour that Mr. Parnell and the other imprisoned members of Parliament were asked to give an undertaking not to continue the Land League agitation for a certain time. On refusing this they are not likely to be released in time to attend Parliament.

THE EGYPTIAN CRISIS.

Cairo, Jan. 20.—The situation at Cairo is daily becoming more embarrassing. The Chamber of Deputies is acting in entire accord with the disaffected colonels. Cherif Pasha will make a final appeal to the Chamber explaining why its demands cannot be granted.

THE PANIC AT PARIS.

Paris, Jan. 20.—The panic on the Bourse in Paris causes a greater sensation than the so-called Ministerial crisis, and the settlement on February 1st is anticipated with anxiety. Most securities and the various government funds closed at an improvement.

NO CRISIS.

Madrid, Jan. 20.—There is no foundation for the rumour of a Ministerial crisis being imminent. The Minister for the Colonies is preparing a plan for the general conversion or the consolidation of the arrears of the Colonial treasury into a five per cent. stock, the revenue to be guaranteed by the Custom House dues of the Cuban capital together with a subsidiary guarantee from the Mother Country.

REVOLUTION IN BOLIVIA.

Lisbon, Jan. 20.—Advices received from Buenos Ayres to December 20, report that a revolution has broken out in Bolivia. The attitude of the United States with reference to the affairs of Chili and Peru was viewed with dissatisfaction by all the South American republics.

THE HERZEGOVINIAN RISING.

Vienna. Jan. 20.—The insurgents near Dobar, Herzegovina, slaughtered a detachment of ten Anstrian soldiers and burned their quarters. The insurgents also defeated the Austrians near Bieddagora. Telegraphic communication with the disturbed districts is prohibited. The Austrian commander has established his headquarters at Ragusa.

AMERICAN.

THE GREAT AESTHETE.

Baltimore, Jan. 20.—Society here is enraged because of the failure of Oscar Wilde to attend the grand reception last night, for which great preparations were made. The reception was to hear a lecture by Archibald Forbes. Wilde and Forbes had a dispute on the train and Wilde refused to get off here, continuing on to Washington.

HORRORS OF SMALL-POX.

Jensey City, Jan. 20.—A family named Williams, living in a basement, was discovered in dreadful destitution here to-day. Williams died of small-pox last week and the authorities burned the only bed the family had. Mrs. Williams was taken with the disease and lay on a heap of rags on the floor. Her little boy and girl were both dead beside her this morning, and another child is dying. The neighbors were willing to render aid, but were afraid to approach the family on account of the disease.

Nursery Medicines.—We do not believe in dosing children with drugs and medicines from the time they arrive in the world till they are grown, as some do. We have found a little castor oil and a bottle of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer safe and sure remedies for all their little ills, and would not do without them.

A Good Preventative for Fevers, Ague and Bilious Disorders is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters a strictly vegetable preparation. They Tone the system, purify the Blood and increase the appetite, and render those taking them almost proof against disease. Should be used in every case instead of pills. J. D. BLESSING THE WATERS.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 21.—On the 6th of January of the Russian calendar, the feast of the Epiphany (January 18), the annual ceremony of blessing the waters took place. This is always performed by the Emperor as the head of the church. An octagonal chapel with ten steps had been erected behind the Winter Palace on the quay of the courtyard fronting on the frozen Neva. This year a large crowd assembled as usual, but to their great disappointment the Emperor did not preside over the popular ceremony. This is the second time within two months that Alexander has failed to appear at annual ceremonies which his predecessors never missed. The first occasion was the military fete of George. This has discontented both the army and the people. It is said that those entrusted with the Czar's personal safety would not permit him to attend, thus confirming the belief that St. Petersburg is not as yet sufficiently purged of terrorism. Mgr. Isidore, Metropolitan of Novgorod and St. Petersburg, presided, in the Emperor's absence, at the blessing of the waters assisted by several other high ecclesiasticals. Previous to the procession a solemn religious service was celebrated in the cathedral of the Winter Palace in presence of the Grand Duke Prince Alexander of Oldenburg and other members of the Imperial family.

A LAST HOPE.

The Herald's Washington despatch says that Scoville occupied five days with his speech to gain time, so as to throw the case over to the next term of the court, and to defer the final hearing until March, so as to delay the execution of the sentence until September. Should the jury bring in a verdict of guilty, if as asserted, the court be governed by the new rule, this will now avail the defendant, although the case will not go to the jury until Monday or Tuesday.

JEWELRY SMUGGLERS.

Extensive seizures in Western Ontario towns and Cities—Posting the Department.

Montreal, Jan. 20.—A few weeks ago jewelry to the value of about $1,200 was seized in Montreal. It was the property of a dealer named Patterson, carrying on Business in Boston. Mr. Falkiner, barrister of Belleville, was retained by Patterson to look after his interests. Though this matter is anything but ended, sufficient is known to indicate that there is a gang of jewelry smugglers operating in Canada. Patterson on being himself detected agreed to give full information to the minister of customs, and as "earnest" money he deposited $1,000, to be forfeited in case he did not prove the correctness of his statements. Acting on the information thus received an officer of the department was sent out to make inquiries and investigations. The result was more than surprising. Acting on the information received from Patterson, seizures have been made in Kingston, Belleville, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Guelph and other towns in the west. It looks as if there was a thoroughly organized gang at work, with accomplices and connections in all the chief towns in the west.

CONFIRMED FROM OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—Extensive seizures of jewelry have taken place at Kingston, Toronto, London, Guelph, and other places. One of the parties to the systematic defrauding of the customs, an American exporter, has acknowledged the fraud and has given information to the department.

Dr. Campbell, of Bishop's College Faculty of Medicine, says of Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya; "It is really a very elegant and beautiful preparation and is taken with ease by the most fastidious palate. But what is of more importance is, that it is a reliable medicine, and is useful in a large number of cases. We have employed it tolerably extensively during the past year, and have every reason to be satisfied with the results it produced. We, therefore, have no hesitation whatever in recommending it."

ANTI N. P. WISDOM.

THE following sayings of the wise-man of the Globe are culled from a recent editorial on the American tariff in that journal:

"As to the lumber tax of $2 a thousand we have only to ask any American producer of lumber to consent to an abolition of the duty in order to learn that he is perfectly satisfied a fall of prices would ensue."

Ergo: Every producer of lumber, or rather every owner of a pine tree, and every one engaged in its manufacture in the U. S. must be benefitted by this duty. And in view of the trade which will soon be opened up to our Canadian lumbermen in the Nor'-West, similar benefits will accrue to them from the imposition of the Canadian duty. The Globe, however, would admit American lumber free into the Canadian Nor'-West, while that grown in Canada must pay a duty when sent to the American market. Such is its idea of taking care of one's self.

"The American street car companies are similarly well satisfied that, if it were not for the tariff they would get Canadian horses more cheaply."

Ergo: The American raiser of horses is benefitted to the extent of the duty, and why should not Canadians be similarly protected—especially in view of the large demand opening up in the west?

"The New York butcher, too, by whom prime Canada lambs are sold at 50 cents a pound, knows very well that the purchaser pays the duty on the animals."

Ergo: The American raiser of similar lambs must be benefitted to the extent of the duty. and why should not his Canadian brother be put in the same position, with regard to his own market?"

"Barley and malt constitutes one-quarter of our dutiable exports to the States. If any one can show us an instance of Canadian barley selling in the states for less than the price of American barley and the duty added we will believe in the theory that the Canadian pays this duty."

Does the wise man of the Globe mean to assert that the American maltster pays for Canadian barley the price of American barley of precisely the same quality, and the duty besides, i. e. when American barley can be bought for $1.00 per bushel, he pays for the same quality of Canadian barley $1.15 per bushel. If he does, he asserts what everybody knows to be nonsense, and if this is not what he means, then what does he mean, when he says an instance cannot be given where Canadian barley does not bring a price equal to that of the "American and the duty added."?

"As to the wheat sent to the States, one of two things is perfectly clear: Either that wheat was merely going through in bond to England; or it was some particular grade such as extra fine white wheat, on which American millers could afford to pay the amount of duty above the English price."

So far as that going through "in bond" is concerned, it pays no duty, therefore does not come into competition with the home grown article. With regard to that upon which the duty is paid, we are glad to have at last a confession from the Globe that there are wheats of different "grades" and that some countries which produce large quantities for export, may yet require to import "particular grades," and as a consequence the home producer of these "particular grades" is benefitted by the duty to the extent of the duty imposed—and ergo the American grower of "extra fine white wheat" is benefitted by the imposition of a duty on wheat, notwithstanding the immense surplus production or wheat in the same country. In the same way the growers of "spring" wheat in Canada have been benefitted by the imposition of the duty, as is amply proved by the relative prices of spring and fall wheat before and after the imposition of the duty. The wise man had better try again.

Treasure in a Tree.

In Newlin's township, North Carolina, about ten days ago, Joe Woody contracted with a colored man, Ephraim Alston, to have some rails split. Near a school house Woody allowed the pupils to cut a tree and use the top for firewood. Ephraim went to work on the butt of this tree, splitting it into rails. When it had been quartered, the next thing was to heart each section, as practical railcutters understand. In doing the latter act he struck a regular bonanza, and twenty-six pieces of glittering gold coin fell out, worth $10 or more each. These coins were concealed in an inch and a quarter auger hole, over which the tree had grown, in thickness about four inches. On the outside no traces of the hole could be seen. From the growth of the tree since the boring of the hole it is supposed that the coins were put there not later than 1812. In diameter the tree was about two feet, and it is not likely that the concealing dates are as far back as revolutionary times.—Alamanc Gleaner.

COBOURG.

FIREMAN'S FUNERAL.—The Sentinel-Star says that the firemen were called upon on Saturday afternoon Jan. 14th to perform the sad duty of burying another of their brethren; we refer to the late Henry Craig, whose remains were interred in St. Peter's Cemetery. He had been a member of the Cobourg Fire Department for a number of years, the Hook and Ladder Co. being the one in which he was a member, and in which he had held most of the offices. The deceased was well and favourably known, and kept hotel on Second street, opposite the market, for a long period. There was a large attendance of firemen and others, the solemn procession being headed by the Fountain Hose Band.

HANDSOME DONATION.—Among the many legacies bequeathed by the late Major D. Campbell of Cobourg, was the very handsome sum of $500 towards building a Rectory House in this Parish. This was willed prior to any steps being taken to erect the present handsome building, and which has proved a very acceptable addition to the fund.

ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn that Mrs. Cole, wife of Mr. N. N. Cole, of this town, while on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Clemens, Tyrone, met with a serious accident recently while driving from Bowmanville to her mother's residence. The carriage in which she was riding, while passing another vehicle, was driven over the edge of the road at a dangerous spot, and she being thrown out had her thigh broken.

FIRE.—On Wednesday afternoon a fire occurred in a woodshed near the residence of Major Walker. The building was distroyed, but through the exertions of the brigade, the fire was prevented from spreading to the residence.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—On Thursday afternoon last, while Mr. and Mrs. R. Mulholland were out driving, the horse became frightened. This alarmed the lady, who jumped out of the cutter, and in doing so broke her ancle. We are pleased to add that she is getting along well.

A LARGE YIELD.—On the farm of H. Covert, Esq., last summer, from one bushel of white oats, there was a yield of fifty-two bushels, and five pounds! Who can beat this.

CAMPBELLFORD.

WATERWORKS.—The Herald says that a trial of the water works in connection with the new woolen mills was made on Monday last, when two large streams of water were thrown about 125 feet from the building. When properly applied it is claimed that a stream can be thrown with sufficient force to rip the shingles off the roof of a building. The system is an excellent one for protection in case of fire.

HORSE CHOKED.—A valuable mare belonging to Mr. James Corbett who resides in the north-western part of Seymour, was choked to death one day lately. This is the second horse that Mr. Corbett has lost within a few months. The first one killed itself while Mr. Corbett was driving it near this village, death having been caused by a broken shaft penetrating the animal's abdomen.

GRAIN.—A large quantity of grain has been shipped from the railway station, here, since the market opened a few months ago. We will give a statement of same in future issue.

PRESENTATION.—A presentation was made to Mr. R. J. Sykes, at his home, last night, for his faithfulness in attending church choir practice of the Methodist Church for the past ten years. The gift was made by members of the choir and others.

GALWAY.

IRON WORKS.—The Bobcaygeon Independent says that at the last meeting of the Township Council, Mr. Mills, of the firm of Parry and Mills, appeared before the council to ask for a bonus in aid of the establishment of a blast furnace. The subject was debated at great length. Mr. Mill explained that the erection of the furnace would give employment to 150 men constantly, that it would necessitate the improvement of a vast amount of wild land, and would involve the consumption of two thousand bush. of charcoal daily, the making of the charcoal creating in itself a considerable industry. The Council rejected the application for a bonus. Mr. Mills then asked that 4,000 acres of land should be exempted from taxation, the land to be used solely for the purposes of the furnace. The application was favorably entertained by the council, but time was taken to consider what conditions were necessary, and for how many years the exemption should be granted. I need not say that throughout the entire district a hopeful expectancy exists that the furnace may be built, and that the disposition prevails to encourage the enterprise in every possible manner. Our Council, at its next meeting, will probably show more enthusiasm in the matter, and assist Mr. Mills as far as they can in this important enterprise.

NORWOOD.

RIB BROKEN.—The Register says that Mr. Thomas Peoples of this place while "skidding" logs in Kinmount, the other week, met with an accident, whereby he had one of his ribs broken, and was otherwise severely injured. It appears that while standing in front of a pile of logs, a companion of his while engaged in "straightening" the pile, accidently rolled the top log, which went bounding down the other side and struck Mr. Peoples on the chest, knocking him several feet. He was immediately conveyed to the shanty, where he was speedily attended to, and was shortly afterwards removed to his home in this village. He is recovas rapidly as could be expected.

CONTRACT COMPLETED.—Mr. M. Nicoll has just completed his contract with Rathbun & Co., having turned out about 65 set of bob-sleighs during the past month. The sleighs are all steel shod, and built out of the very best oak, and cost a little over $2,000. We believe the firm for whom they were built expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the manner in which the work was performed. A large number of men have been engaged in removing the sleighs to the shanties during the past week.

WARKWORTH.

CARNIVAL.—The Norwood Register says that the skating carnival at Warkworth, came off as announced on Friday evening last, and was notwithstanding the rain, and the bad state of roads, fairly attended. The number on the ice, in costumes was small, owing, no doubt, to it being the first masquerade held in the place. Mr. J. Hendren, of this place, in his "Indian Chief" costume, "took the cake," the speculators all agreed that it was the best on the ice. The Norwood Cornet Band, under the efficient leadership Mr. W. H. Mullins, was present, and played some fine selections during the evening. Should the weather prove favourable, Mr. Reid will give another one in the course of three or four weeks, which, he says will surpass anything of the kind ever given in this section of the country.

A MURDERER'S STRATAGEM FOILED.

Invention of a New Instrument of Death by a Berlin Locksmith.

BERLIN, Dec. 26.—A new system of garroting has been invested here by a most dangerous criminal of the name of Wilke, who, fortunately, is safe in the hands of the police. On Thursday last two men, conscience stricken, presented themselves before the authorities, accusing themselves of having conspired with a locksmith (the man Wilke) to hire furnished rooms in different parts of the town for the purpose of extoring money in the following manner:—One of them was to go to bed pretending to be ill, and send for a doctor. As soon as the physician arrived and bent over the bed an iron collar of special contrivance, hid beneath the counterpane, was to be applied to his neck until he had signed a bill of exchange; then he was to be strangled and thrown into a canal which was close at hand. Wilke had devoted much ingenuity to the construction of this instrument which they described as something like a pair of tongs or pincers fixed on the end of a long iron tube, with a winch at the bottom, by means of which the tongs could be made to close as tight as one liked. The peculiar virtue of the nefarious invention was to consist in preventing the victim from crying for help by immediately depriving him of the power of utterance. Wilke had also constructed two steel traps for the victim's feet. The conspirators had begun by hiring a room at fifty-nine Elisabeth Ufer, where the Schiffahrts-Kanal has an unusual width, and would facilitate the disposal of dead bodies. That very evening, the accomplices declared, had been agreed upon for committing the first murder, and Dr. Lehrs, living close by on the Kaiser-Franz Greae-dier-platz was selected as the victim.

As soon as this confession had been made policemen were sent to the house mentioned, where they were told that a man who pretended to be employed at the Government office for Weights and Measures had, a few days ago, hired a room and paid a fortnight's rent in advance, but that he had not shown himself since; he had, however, sent a trunk into his room the day before. The directory having been referred to, and showing that no person of the name of Wilke was employed at the office in question, the constable proceeded to open the trunk, in which they found two mantraps, and all the component parts of the garroting machine. The trunk was carefully reclosed, and the landlady warned not to say a word about the visit. An agreement was then come to between the police and Wilke's two accomplices, that the latter should at first assist their comrade in carrying out his diabolical plan, and only turn around upon him when the victim's life was in danger. Several constables were concealed in a neighboring room, and at seven Wilke appeared, entered his bedroom with his confederates, went to bed, and sent for Dr. Lehrs. Instead of the latter, a policeman came in disguise, and inquired after the health of Wilke. The ruffian at once sprang up, and put his pincers to the pseudo physician's neck. The latter, having managed to make Wilke understand that he had very little money about him, he was requested to fill up a check. On his refusal Wilke turned the winch, until the victim began to be afraid for his life, and began stamping on the ground. This was the signal for the accomplices to let the constables' hands loose, and for the police to enter and seize the criminal in the very act.

Thus arrested, the scoundrel has since confessed that he intended procuring himself a sum of money, of which he was in great need, by garroting, but denies having had any intention of taking his victim's life. He pretends that he purposed to abscond with his accomplices after committing the deed and cashing the checques, leaving the Doctor to the chance of being released from his iron collar in course of time. Wilke turns out to be 25 years old, a native of Austria, and possessing a wife and children, who live separated from him. He has been for two years constructing his garroting instrument, and ever since Dec. 8 has been bent on executing his plan. The instrument is described as being cleverly constructed after a principle derived from a mediæval instrument of torture contained in the Markische Museum. Dr. Langerhaus, member of the Prussian Parliament, was selected to be the second victim, and a member of the Reichstag as the third.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic

ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

JOHNNY FROST.

Hey, Johnny Frost, you have come again,
With brush and paint for the window pane,
Your spears hang in sheaves
From the cracking eaves—
Your Sanscrit covers the window pane.

I'll read your tales on the window pane;
Thought and fancy can soon make them plain;
Forests silver white,
And mountains of light,
And Arctic worlds on the window pane.

Ah! in your points on the window pane
The heart finds traces of want's hard strain
Near your castles high
Humble hovels lie—
Woe has a share of the window pane.

Wee cold-blue feet crowd the window pane,
And hungry mothers, a sad-eyed train,
And frosty grey hairs,
By many years' cares
Made white, tell tales on the window pane.

But fancy shows on the window pane
That some are kind to the hearts in pain;
Between me and you
I hope it is true—
This glimpse of love on the window pane.

WHAT FOODS ARE MOST ECONOMICAL?

With an advance of 20 to 100 per cent., and more, in the price of stable foods, the above is now a most important question to over 40 millions of our people, and one of much interest to 7 or 8 millions more. Probably there are not two millions who take no thought or care as to the cost of their daily diet. Meats, flour, potatoes, cornmeal, and milk, are the main articles of sustenance for the great masses. Fish, rice, beans, and oatmeal (recently), with lesser amounts of some other articles, are consumed; but these altogether do not, we judge, constitute one-tenth of the food of the entire people, perhaps not more than five or six per cent.

Dried or smoked beef, ham, and cheese, rank high, but dried fish outranks all others. The nutritive value of dried codfish is remarkable, and it deserves special attention, 100 lbs. of it supplying as much nutriment as 341 lbs. of beef! It is cheap and abundant everywhere, because very portable, and easily kept. It yields labor-sustaining aliment at from one-third down to one-ninth of the cost of beef in different sections of the country. It is easily digestible, and if properly freshened and cooked, it can be made palatable and acceptable to a very large class needing to practice economy.

FLESH-FORMERS—HEAT-PRODUCERS.

The occupation of any class of persons has much to do with deciding the most economical foods. It is estimated that, in a temperate climate, an average man needs, each 24 hours, simply to sustain life without increasing his weight, about 11½ ounces of heat-producing and 4½ ounces of flesh-forming foods. Laborers, and those putting forth much exertion, need most of the flesh-forming food, such as lean meats of all kinds, eggs, cheese, fish, beans, peas, oatmeal, bread, cabbage, roots, etc.

Those exposed to cold, need more of the heat-producing foods, as fat meats, cornmeal, and generally those articles containing large amounts of oil or starch or both, of sugar, etc.

Those working hard in cold weather need much of both kinds combined, as in pork and beans.

Wheat contains about 69 per cent of heat-producing, and 11 per cent of flesh-forming elements. Indian corn about 70 per cent of heat-producing starch and oil, and 9 per cent of flesh-formers. Beans and peas about 52 per cent of heat-producing oil and starch, and 25 per cent of flesh-formers.

Milk admirably combines flesh-forming curd or cheese, and the heat producing oil (butter) and sugar. All kinds of cheese, including the cottage or sour milk cheese, are exceedingly strength-giving food. All skimmed milk may be very economically used in supplying cottage or soft cheese as a strength-giving human food. This soft cheese is in utility and value, very like lean meats.

SUNDRY FOOD ITEMS.

Maccaroni makes an excellent variety in the scarcity of vegetables, and should be much better known, and more used by the masses here. It is the staple food of the common people in Italy, indeed of most classes. It is made of strongly glutenous wheat flour; hence is flesh-forming, while its starch supplies the heat. It may be cooked tender in boiling water, seasoned with salt and eaten with or even without cream sauce, or milk or butter. After boiling it can be put in a pudding-dish, with about a quarter of its weight of grated cheese sprinkled over it and lightly baked. The addition of cheese makes this diet about equal to lean meat as a flesh former.

Ripe peas should be more commonly used. A bowl of good pea soup is as gratifying as a hearty dinner on a cold day. To make a gallon of it, wash a pint of peas and soak them over night; then boil in five pints of water, gently simmering three hours or so, until thoroughly soft. With a potato masher rub the soup through a colander or wire sive. A pound of beef or ham bone may be boiled with the peas. The soup may be seasoned in various ways—with onions, cloves, pepper, sugar, any or all of them, to make them most palatable.—Bean soup may be made similarly.

Stewed carrots are a far more nourishing and economical human food than is generally known, and they should not be mainly left for animals. Scrape the roots, chop into small pieces, and stew in water until very tender. They may be seasoned with flour-and-butter sauce—all the better with cream added—and in various other ways. Some like them made piquant with a dash of ayenne.—American Agriculturist for December.

Mr. Francis Wise, the distiller, died at Cork on December 29th, at an advanced age. He was a man of enormous wealth and had the reputation of being a millionaire. His contributions for religious and charitable purposes were on a liberal scale. He gave £20,000 towards the erection of a Protestant cathedral.

Upwards of ten thousand people, accompanied by dogs, men on horseback, bands, and banners, assembled on December 26th, at the Knock House, near Parsontown, where Lord Huntingdon's hore stopped from fox-hunting. They marched to Knockshegown, a famous fox covert in North Tipperary. Many of the people carried long poles with foxes, hares, and other game attached to them. The police watched the proceedings but did not interfere.

Do Not be Deceived.—In these times of quack medicine everywhere, it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise, and which really does as recommended. Electric Bitters we can vouch for as being a true and reliable remedy, and one that will do as recommended. They invariably cure Stomach and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary difficulties. We know whereof we speak, and can readily say, give them a trial. Sold at 50 cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—3.

Prejudice Kills.—"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Patients.—Telegram.

A committee of citizens of Montreal selected by the committee of ladies of the Harvey Institute has been appointed to make an investigation into the cruelties which have caused so much indignation in that city. Strong objection has, however, been raised to its constitution, as some of the members are the husbands of the ladies who sanctioned the practices of the matron.

"On The Hip."—This rather inelegant expression, used popularly to indicate that condition of things in which one person holds another securely by some circumstence, word or act, finds literal exemplification in the following narrative by Mr. John Rourk, of Ottawa, Canada. Mr. Rourk says: I have been subject to hip disease for 8 or 9 years, and have tried all kinds of remedies, but found nothing to give me any relief until a friend advised me to try St. Jacobs Oil. I tried it, and after using 1½ bottles I am entirely relieved of pain, and have not been troubled since, now nearly six months. This is what people would call getting hip disease "on the hip."

A WAGGISH HACKMAN.

A man stepped up to one of the hackmen at the Union Depot yesterday and wanted to know where he could procure a bottle of whiskey. "Jump right in, sir, jump right in, and I will take you where yon can get the finest kind of whiskey very cheap." The unsuspecting individual in response to the invitation jumped into the hack and was driven down the street at lightning speed before he had time to collect his thoughts. The mercenary hackman drove out Grand Avenue and north on that thoroughfare until they reached Washington Avenue, when he turned east and directed his course toward the river, finally halting in front of a saloon near Sixth street. Here he jumped from his box and opened the door of his coach, when the stranger asked him why the "mischief" he had taken him so far?

"Well, retorted the hackman, "you wanted me to take you out to get a bottle of good whiskey, and you can't get that everywhere."

Seeing that it was useless to parley with the hackman, the stranger then procured the whiskey, and asked to be taken back to the depot as soon as possible, as he desired to take the train.

The hackman said he had other engagements and coulden't afford to do it unless he received a dollar for his trouble.

As the stranger imagined it was five or six miles, to the depot he paid the dollar and said: "Well, then, go ahead, I presume I must stand it." In about four minutes to the man's astonishment, the hack halled in front of the depot. He coulden't understand how it took him such a long time to reach the whiskey shop and only a few brief moments to return. But that didn't alter the case any, as the hackman had the dollar while the stranger had nothing to show for his trouble but a little experience and a bottle of whiskey.

THE MARKET REPORTS.

Saturday, Jan. 21.—The market to-day was one of the smallest we have seen for some time, on account of the disagreeable weather and bad sleighing. At an early hour the number on the square was very small, but about 11 o'clock the attendance was somewhat larger. Beef and pork were the principal products offered, the former bringing $6 and $6.50 for a prime article. Pork sold at from $7 to $8, depending in the weight of the animal. Apples and potatoes sold at quotations as did various kinds of vegetables.

The old music hall, since it has been set apart as a butter, egg, fowl, etc., market, is always a busy place during the morning, and a large quantity of the things offered are disposed of. As usual, the prices differed according to quality.

Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—I have used your Spavin Cure on a bone spavin and am pleased to report that it has taken the enlargement completely off. It took only one bottle to perform the cure. I am confident that if it is properly used it will do all you claim for it.

Kendall's Spavin Cure

ON HUMAN FLESH.

Thousands of trials on Human Flesh has proved beyond a doubt that "Kendall's Spavin Cure" has sufficient strength to penetrate and virtue to cure the worst cases of rheumatism, corns bunyons, frostbites or any bruise, cut or lameness which are not affected in the least by ordinary liniments. It does not blister, but on the contrary, removes all soreness.

Dunham, P. Q., March 10th, 1879.

Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—About a year ago I fell in the road on to some ice and was badly hurt in the hip joint, which caused me much suffering. I tried various remedies, but none gave relief until I tried Kendall's Spavin Cure. I applied it full strength twice a day for two weeks during last October, and it effected a perfect cure. I have since then been well and free from lameness. It is very valuable for man as well as for beast.

Yours truly,
Chester K. Green.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Railway Notes.

The Globe says that Mr. Drinkwater, Secretary to the Canadian Pacific Railway Syndicate, writes explaining the Company's intentions in many important particulars. With a view to commencing the construction of the Rocky Mountain section from both east and west in the opening of 1883, during six months of this year five hundred miles of continuous track will be laid across the prairies. The Thunder Bay branch will be operated as soon as handed over by the Government; the Pembina Mountain branch will be open in time to move the coming season's crops, and the Sault Branch will be constructed without delay. As for the Eastern Section, the Company by keeping the line as near the shore of Lake Superior as possible, hope to complete speedily several minor sections and open the same for local traffic and obtain through traffic within five years. The Syndicate disclaims any connection with or interest in any railway project east or south of Montreal or west of Perth.

The Port Hope News says that the new furniture was placed in the Midland railway official car in Toronto on Wednesday. The sofas and chairs are covered with heavy maroon leather.

We are informed that the tender for the construction of the link from here to Omemee, will be awarded in the course of a day or two. Two of the lowest tenderers are now here, and a third will come on Monday, when a consultation will take place and all the preliminaries be fixed.

The Mail says that the directors of the Ontario and Quebec Railway evidently mean business, and are putting forth every effort to secure the early completion of the line. Next week four additional surveying parties will be sent out by Mr. Ross to assist in locating the road east of Toronto, and with the two now at work they hope to have everything ready for the construction parties early in the spring. Several of the municipalities along the route have intimated a desire to connect with the line, but if they wish their claims attended to, they will have to take immediate action, or, perhaps, be left out in the cold. As soon as the frost leaves the ground the work of constuction will be commenced, and no doubt will be carried on with the same energy that has been characteristic of the management hitherto.

The Theatre.

Another large and delighted audience greeted the Amy Lee Comedy Company on Friday night. The play was the "Two Medallions," and the rendition of it was fully as good as that on the previous evening, and gave the greatest satisfaction. This evening this talented company play positively for the last time in Peterborough. As will be seen by the programme, an immense bill is offered, embracing the best selections from "Patience," "Ollivette," "La Mascotte," the three reigning operas of the day. Songs by Mr. Stanley, Mr. Smith, "I'm the only one that's left of all the family," Miss Eiselle in operatic gems, and the entire strength of the company in roaring farces and musical sketches. From the bill of fare offered, it will be seen that there will be unlimited fun and amusement, all put on in the most refined manner, presenting nothing whatever that may be termed objectionable. It is only on very rare occasions that such a treat is offered to our citizens, and we hope that they will show their appreciation of the company by packing the house. Popular prices. Positively their last appearance.

Night Owls.

A gentleman requests us to inform the young gentlemen (?) who made night hideous on Friday, by singing (?) on George street between Brock and McDonnel streets, that if they repeat the offence, the Police Magistrate will have a few cases to dispose of. A word to the wise should be sufficient. If an officer patrolled that section of the town, it would greatly benefit many large ratepayers who wish to sleep during certain hours of the night.

Good Pork.

Mr. John Moloney, Reeve of Douro, sold two porkers this morning that weighed 435 and 418 respectively. He received $8 per hundred.

Croft House.

Just received another brewing of "Nor-West" Cream Ale. Finest ale made in the Dominion.

ANOTHER BOY.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—This morning between 11 and 12 o'clock another boy was skating along the sidewalk on George Street, between McClelland's corner and the Post Office. Bless his heart, how he enjoyed the fun! and how the ladies stood on one side to let him pass, not, of course, because they were afraid of having their toes ground off, or the flounces of their dresses torn, but simply in admiration of the manly little fellow who scorned to get out of anybody's way.

An auctioneer's bell was ringing on the same street at the same time, so that what with the skating and the music, one could almost fancy oneself in a rink, without having to pay an entrance fee.

A RATEPAYER.

Farewell Supper.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says that on Monday evening a very friendly gathering took place at the Forest House, being a farewell Supper to Mr. W. Snowdon, who was about to remove to Peterborough to become proprietor of Phelan's Hotel. Between twenty and thirty gentlemen sat down to supper. The chair was taken by Captain Bottom, Reeve, and the Vice Chair by Mr. Howson, the ex-reeve. A number of speeches were made, and a gentleman present distinguished himself by some of the most execrable singing ever heard in public. It was simply awful. This was the only incident at all calculated to mar the enjoyment of the evening. Mr. Snowden's health was proposed in a very able manner by the chairman, and was received with loud and long continued applause. Mr. Snowden replied in a few well chosen words and a number of gentlemen present spoke of their high estimation of the guest of the evening. Among the speakers were Messrs. Petrie, Junkin, Howson, Dr. McCamus, Robinson, Davies and many other of our most distinguished townsmen. The meeting was of the most genial and friendly character, and gave gratification to all concerned.

Business Notes.

Two more stores are being fitted up on George street, and as soon as they are occupied, which will be in about a month, there will not be a vacant store in town, that we are aware of.

Plate glass fronts are being placed in two more stores. The others will soon fall into line, and give us nothing but plate glass fronts on George street.

Mr. John Moloney has disposed of his grocery and provision business to a gentleman from Belleville, who will open out on Saturday next.

The attendance of farmers in town to-day was not as large as it usually is, the bad weather and poor sleighing accounting for it.

A Nuisance.

Now that the time for granting local licenses is approaching, in the interests of our merchants we would suggest to the Committee the advisibility of fixing a place for the carters to stand. At present they stand on the principal corner in town, and in consequence the business of the merchants in the vicinity is greatly interfered with. The vacant place in front of the billboard at the corner of Water and Hunter streets might be utilized, and thus remove what is at present a nuisance. We hope the Committee will consider the suggestion.

The Weather.

The weather to-day has been in every sense disagreeable. Snow has been falling nearly all day, but not in any great quantity. Vennor's promised storm has not yet filed an appearance. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company are as follows.—Lakes—Cloudy mild weather, with rain or snow to-day; high north-westerly to southerly winds, and falling temperature to-morrow. Monday will be cold.

Fine Horses.

There are at present at the fine stock repository of Messrs. Stapleton and Walsh, twenty-two good general purpose and draught horses, which are to be shipped at the beginning of the week. The repository is now the resort of all the horsemen of the town and county, and a large business is being done in buying and selling stock.

A Card.

Dr. Kincaid, M.P.P., left on Tuesday for Toronto to attend Parliament, but he does not intend to neglect his professional duties as he will be at home from Friday until Tuesday of each week. In the meantime Dr. Alexander will promptly attend to all calls, night or day, left at the office.

Another Contract.

The shanty sleighs manufactured for the Messrs. Gilmour and Rathbun, by Mr. T. E. Fitzgerald, gave such great satisfaction, that he has received and executed a supplemental order, making altogether a large number that he has shipped.

Personals.

Mr. J. M. Ferris, M.P.P., was at the "Caisse" last night.

Dr. Kincaid, M.P.P., is home from Toronto for a day or two.

A REMARKABLE CURE.—From Lewis Phelps of West Townsend, Vt.—"Several years since I took a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, where it remained without relaxation. I was then in Massachusetts; and growing worse and becoming unbale to attend to my business, I returned home, and commenced searching in earnest for some medicine which would restore my lost health. I consulted physicians, I tried many remedies, but obtained no help, but daily grew worse. I had a terrible cough, and raised a good deal of blood. I had profuse night sweats and severe pain in my side. I continued in this state for months, and became so weak that it was with great difficulty I could walk, when I was advised to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and to my great joy I soon found that this remedy had arrested the disease. I continued to use the Balsam to the extent of five bottles, and have since then experienced no difficulty of the lungs. I believe the Balsam saved my life, and I shall ever hold it in high estimation." 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

A Coming Event.

By reference to the posters it will be seen that a grand skating carnival, the first for two years, is to take place at the rink on Friday, February 3rd, on which occasion handsome and valuable prizes will be offered for the best skaters, best costumes, etc., full particulars of which will be found on the bills. The management have spared no pains to make the affair a success, and judging from past experience, the number in costume will be large.

Curling Medal Competition.

Two rinks of the Peterborough Curling Club play two rinks of the Brockville Club in Belleville on Thursday the 26th inst., for the R. C. C. C. Medal, play to commence at 1 p.m., 25 ends. D. Pitceathly, Esq., of Belleville will act as umpire.

A Sad Story of Culture.

A somewhat absent-minded Boston lady, who occupies a highly favoured position in the literary world, gives an amusing account of her latest "brown study" and its effect on the London public. She was dressing to go out with a blind friend one day last summer, and having completed her toilet, joined him at the door, when they proceeded leisurely through some of the most fasionably frequented streets to their destination. She at last observed the people looking curiously at her, and not being given to vanity, wondered why, but still walked on, chatting contentedly with her friend. Suddenly a peculiar glance from a passer-by caused her to put her hand to her head, when lo! her bonnet was not there! Of course it had dropped off, and rushing into a shop she wrote out a minute description, with reward offered, of the missing article, and had it placed in the windows of the shops along the route they had come, then seeking the seclusion of a cab hastened home as soon as might be. On entering her room the first object that greeted her now fully awakened vision was the bonnet, that had never been taken out walking at all, reposing quietly on the bed.—Boston Saturday Gazette.

TIMELY WARNING.—Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping coughs, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

HAUNTED ME.—A Workingman says: Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged until one year ago, by the advice of my postor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost."—Christian Advocate.

BISHOP BEVERIDGE.—A gentleman meeting the celebrated and excellent Bishop, Beveridge, asked him how he was. Beveridge replied: "If I answer in Latin, I am sic, sic; if in English, so, so." There are many, who, if they spoke truly would give the same answer as the excellent Bishop. They have contracted lung disease, or it may be are suffering from asthma, and in great danger of that fatal malady consumption. Take warning in time, use N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir, it is really what many have called it, the "king" of remedies, Sold by all druggists throughout the Dominion.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. THE FINANCIAL PANIC.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—It is stated that many Roman noblemen and Vatican attaches are sufferers through the decline of the share of the Union Generale. A considerable sum of "Peter's Pence" is said to have been invested in these shares. The Lyons Branch of the Union Generale is beseiged by Lyons brokers. It has stopped payment and the bankers held a meeting on Friday evening to consider the situation.

ARCTIC SEARCH.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 21.—Danenhower and nine men who left Jakutsk on January the 8th are expected at Irkuskt at the end of the month. Melville's fruitless search for Delong and his comrades was in an easterly direction from the mouth of the Lena. The place where the instruments and records were found have been indicated by the erection of cairns.

REDUCING RENTS.

BELFAST, Jan. 21.—A conference of 2,000 tenant farmers yesterday adopted resolutions declaring the reductions of rent made by the sub-commissioners are inadequate. Landlords Dickson, Given and Russell, members of Parliament, supported the resolution.

RELIGIOUS DISTURBANCES.

CAIRO, Jan. 21.—Disorders are reported at Damietta, Egypt, in consequence of the hostility of the soldiers and Mussulmans against the Christians.

A NEWSPAPER SENSATION.

ROME, Jan. 21.—The editor of the Diretto of Rome, and the principal members of his staff, have resigned in consequence of the sale of the paper to the Banque Franco-Romaine of Paris. It is expected the editor of the Liberto will follow the example, if he has not already done so. M. Obeleight, the proprietor of several papers and contractor for advertisements, recently sold his rights over the Diritto Fanfulla, Pungola, Liberta, Bersagliere, and Italie to a group of French speculators, of whom M. Fremy, the leading shareholder in the Credit de France and Banque Franco-Romaine, is the chief. His version of the affair is that his advertisement agency has been transformed into a company, two-thirds of whose shares will be taken by Italians, and the papers will undergo no change in politics. These explanations, however, are doubted. The aims of the movement are believed to be more political than financial.

THE ROYAL TRIP.

MADRID, Jan. 21.—The New York Herald's correspondent telegraphs that in common with many other people which happened to be in the Retiro park at the time, I saw a very unusual and tuching sight on Thursday. The King and Queen were taking their afternoon drive when just on the entrance of the park they met a parish priest carrying the Visticum. Their Majesties at once alighted and followed with their equerries and servants, the whole party carrying lighted tapers and the King walking bareheaded. The priest led them as far as a humble house in one of the poorer Madrid suburbs near the bull-ring, where a man lay dying of small-pox. Their Majesties waited patiently while the sacrements were administered, and having left alms for the sorrow-stricken family of the deceased, walked back wich the priest to the parish church, this time followed by hundreds of people of rand whom they met on their way, and accompanied by the blessings of the by-standers. I hear that a number of brilliant fetes, including bull fights and a review of 30,000 troops, will be given in May, on the occasion of the visit of the King and Queen of Portugal.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

LEMBURG, Jan. 22.—Divine services were held in the churches and synagogues yesterday, in memory of the Poles slain during the insurrection of 1863.

THE SCRUTIN-DE-LISTE.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—The resolution passed yesterday by the Committee on the Revision Bill, although apparently admitting partial revision of the constitution, does not satisfy the Cabinet, as it not only fails to provide for the insertion of the scrutin-de-liste, but implies that the rights of congress are sovereign and unlimited.

MORTALITY IN TUNIS.

A Paris despatch says:—A confidential report of Dr. Pazzi, of the Red Cross Society, asserts that notwithstanding M. Gambetta's statement that the deaths among the troops in Tunis only amount to 1,600, they are nearer 30,000, but the fact is concealed by the removal of the invalids.

A HARD FIGHT.

RAGUSA, Jan. 21.—A corporal in charge of an excise post north of Bilek was attacked on the 16th by 200 insurgents. He defended himself in a house for thirty hours, and on the withdrawal of a portion of his assailants, fought his way through to Korito. He has received a gold medal. A lieut.-colonel commanding a body of Landwehr with a convoy of provisions and ammunition while marching over the mountains between the main road and the Montenegrin frontier on the 9th was continuously engaged with the insurgents. The latter were repulsed on all sides. The huts they occupied were fired, and the ammunition accumulated therein exploded. In eight encounters since the 16th Between Korito and Bilek, a lieutenant and a private were killed, five men wounded and one is missing. The insurgents suffered heavily.

DINNER TO HANLAN.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—A dinner was given in honour of Hanlan, the oarsman, at the Aquarium on Saturday. 72 persons were present.

THE INSURRECTION.

RAGULA, Jan. 21.—The focus of the insurrection lies in the district which was the scene of the first uprising against the Turks in 1875. Insurgent corps are forming in the mountains near Nevisinjo, Galtzko, Gubinje, Focha, Bilek, and Terbinje. The warlike clan of the Zubie, on the borders of Krivoscia, have burned their homesteads and joined the insurgents under the well-known guerilla chief Vulkalovich, and the villagers on the Herzegovinian frontier near Ragusa are following their example. The rising seems to have been simultaneously planned, The insurgents do not lack resources. The orthodox Mohammedans are fraternizing with the insurgents, and the Mohammedan gend'armerie is deserting en masse. The position of the isolated Austrian ports in the upper Herzegovina is very precarious, despite the feverish activity of the military authorities in despatching reinforcements. At Durban from ten to twenty soldiers were cut to pieces, and five soldiers were cut down in the very suburbs of Castelnuova. The situation in the Dalmatian-Herzegovinian frontier was so critical that the garrison of Ragusa had to be sent forward in the night to reinforce the endangered posts. The movement is stated to be a thoroughly national one. A serious engagement was fought between Gatzko and Bilek, the result of which the Austrians are endeavoring to conceal. It is reported that they were repulsed.

THE EGYPTIAN CRISIS.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The Egyptian crisis is becoming daily more acute. A Liberal paper defines it as really a struggle between the Controller-General backed by England and France, and the nationalist party supported by the Sultan, with Germany and Austria in the background. If the assembly establishes its claim to regulate the budget, the existing European ascendancy will be overthrown, and the foreign bondholders will no longer govern the country. Everything points to the necessity of England and France speedily deciding whether to execute their implied pledge to maintain the existing arrangements by force. Englishmen are beginning to regret the entanglements with France, which make independent action on their part impossible. The situation in Egypt is complicated by the positive fall of Gambetta and the uncertainty as to what line his successor may take.

RETURNING THE VISIT.

MADRID, Jan. 22.—A number of brilliant feats, including a bull fight and a review of 30,000 troops, will be given in May on the occasion of the visit of the King and Queen of Portugal.

TREATY WITH THE U. S.

BELGRADE, Jan. 22.—Prince Milan, in opening the Skuptshina to-day, announced that a consular convention and commercial treaty had been concluded with the United States.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

HAVANA, Jan. 21.—The authorities of Samana have offered the commander of the United States steamer Despatch all the aid he requires in making surveys in the waters there. Advices from Port au Prince to the 13th state that five armed men were recently found hidden in the Executive Mansion. They declared that they were sent to assassinate President Salomon. Forty persons are supposed to be implicated in the plot. On the night of the 11th seven armed men seised the Governor of the town of Auxaises and were conducting him to prison when a guard captured them. The next morning they were condemned and executed.

AMERICAN.

SPUYTEN-DUYVIL DISASTER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Senator Kiernan says that if there was drinking on the train wrecked at Spuyten-Duyvil it was not among the members of the Legislature. Cahill, proprietor of a hotel here, says he saw no drink of any kind used on the train. It is stated that Police Commissioner Nichols, Holahan, and others will be summoned by the coroner on Monday.

THE COMING SESSION.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Mr. Gladstone, in a letter asking his supporters to attend the opening of Parliament on the 7th prox., says matters of pressing interest will be submitted at the earliest practicable date.

ABOUT GOULD.

SEDALIA, Mo., Jan. 21.—August Johanemeyer, a farmer living along the Missouri, Kansan, and Texas railway, has been gaoled, in default of 3,000 bail, on a charge of attempting to wreck a train upon which Jay Gould and party were passing on the 9th inst. The obstruction was discovered a few minutes before the train passed. It is said that Johanemeyer had stock killed by the trains, and that his motive was revenge.

GAMBETTA'S BILL.

PARIS, Jan. 23.—Gambetta's declaration at Saturday's meeting that if the bill for the revision of the constitution should pass congress, the two houses would go beyond the scheme of revision previously adopted by the Senate and deputies, and would place itself in a revolutionary position requiring the intervention of the President of the republic, created a great sensation. His apponents consider the matter as conveying a distinct threat that the Republic of France seeks to minimize. A very bad impression was created by explaining that "Gambetta" merely meant that in the event of Congress passing an illegal decree no President would in accordance with constitutional precaution refer it to the Chambers for reconsideration. The committee on bills will report to-day. The discussion in the Chambers is expected to begin on Thursday.

THE GREAT CASE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The new term of the Court begins to-day, and Guiteau, if convicted, cannot be hung until thirty days after the end of next term, which ordinarily would end about June the 14th. An experienced lawyer says that Scoville's speech was prepared to make the jury disbelieve anything that Guiteau might say, as to the favourable nature of public opinion.

A COUNTER VIEW.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—A Washington special to the World says that the movement for a reciprocity treaty with Mexico is gathering strength. WANTED—A GOOD CRY.

EVERYONE who has followed the debate which has taken place on the address in the Ontario Legislature must be convinced that the Mowat Government, in conjunction with "their friends at Ottawa" feel the want of "a good cry" to go before the electors with in 1883.

Straws generally show the way the wind blows, and straws have not been wanting, of late, which all go to show that Mr. Blake, Mr. Mowat, and their political friends, are shaky about trusting their future political fate to either the National Policy or Syndicate issues, or both combined. They feel that the sentiment of the country is against them on both of these questions, hence their desire to raise a cry or cries which will at once catch the popular ear, and serve to throw into the background the more important and practical issues of the coming contests. Whether Mr. Blake (we say Mr. Blake because everyone understands that Mr. Mowat is but a puppet in his hands) will be successful in playing the same game in 1883 which he played in 1871 remains to be seen. Memories are sometimes short, but the memories of the people of Ontario will have to be exceedingly short if they soon forget how they were fooled by the high-falutin of the same party in 1871, over "poor Scott" and Sandfield Macdonald's insidious attacks upon the "rights" of the people and their representatives in Parliament. By raising issues which time has proved were mere empty sound, and by adopting modes of attack, which the less said about, the better for his reputation, Mr. Blake succeeded on that occasion in displacing what is now conceded on all hands to have been the best Government which this province has ever seen, and through it securing the larger prize at Ottawa.

Having no Scott murders to fall back upon just now, "Canada's great statesman" has evidently decided to make a grand stand over Provincial versus Dominion rights, apparently forgetting that Ontario is a part of the Dominion. If the Dominion, as a Dominion, is acting injuriously to Ontario, it cannot but be injuring itself. If one part of the body politic suffers, the whole must suffer, and for the Dominion to purposley injure Ontario would be very much like biting its nose to spite its face. Again we are told that the Dominion authorities are trampling upon our rights as a Province, because they have exercised the power of disallowance vested in them with reference to the Rivers and Streams Bill of last session. Well, if the Act in question be one which should not have been disallowed, and the disallowance of which is indeed destructive of Provincial rights, has not every province in the Dominion an equal interest with ourselves in seeing that a bad precedent is not set, because although it may be Ontario's turn to suffer to-day, they cannot tell whose turn it will be to suffer to-morrow. Oh! But says Mr. Mowat, no bill affecting the rights of private property, passed by the Ontario Legislature, should be disallowed by the Dominion authorities, although he has not the courage of his opinions to demand that the right of disallowance be taken away from the Dominion authorities altogether, and the Provincial Legislature left to work their own sweet will with the private and dearest rights of the people; and yet such is the legitimate and only conclusion, if successful, to which Mr. Blake's present crusade can lead. Left untravelled by the power of disallowance, it is not difficult to imagine, from past experience, what the probable result would be. We, in this county, have had a taste of ex post facto legislation in the matter of the Grand Junction bonus, and we fancy that taste is sufficient to make most of the electors of this county think that it would have been much better, and saved a world of trouble, had the power of disallowance been exercised on that occasion. In discussing this matter, it is always to be remembered that the power of disallowance, in no way authorizes the Dominion Government to make new laws for us, or alter the laws as they exist. By disallowing any measure, the Dominion authorities only leave the law proposed to be altered as it was. True, Mr. Mowat, or some of his friends for him, have ventured to suggest that the Rivers and Streams Bill was disallowed for political reasons, and to please a political supporter. Well, if it was, is it not equally possible that the same measure was passed for political reasons and to please a political supporter? It is unfortunately notorious that the bill, although nominally a public one, was passed to settle a dispute as to private rights, which was at the time before the courts, and that the only difference in the result of the two Governments' action was, that while that of Mr. Mowat proposed to take the matter out of court and settle it in favour of one of the belligerents, the action of the Dominion Government left it in the hands of the court, left each of the belligerents exactly where they were, and left their respective rights to be decided not by the Local Legislature, but by the tribunal, which in every civilized country is entrusted with the decision of private disputes.

THE PACIFIC RAILWAY.

The Syndicate's Plans of Construction—A Progressive Programme.

The following letter appeared in Saturday's Mail :—

In view of the persistent misrepresentation of the company's plans, I am instructed by the directors to make the following statement, and to respectfully request its publication in your paper :—

First,—That it is the intention of the company to push the work of construction, from Winnipeg westward, with the utmost possible vigour during the coming season, with the object of opening the country for settlement as early as possible, and to facilitate the transport of men and material to the heavier work in the Rocky mountains, which it is the purpose of the company to attack simultaneously from east and west in the spring of 1883. To accomplish this the company will have to perform the feat unparalleled in railway history of laying the rails on 500 miles of track on the continuous line in about six months, but if the season is not very unfavourable they believe their arrangements are such as will ensure success.

Second,—The Pembina Mountain branch, which was partially graded last year, will be completed, and ready for operation, in time to move the coming season's crops.

Third,—The work on the eastern section of the main line is now being prosecuted at two points, and with as large forces as can be economically employed. As surveys are completed and on the opening of spring, these forces will be added to. It being the intention of the company to keep the line as near the shore of Lake Superior as possible, it is expected that other points will be available for placing the work under contract. The adoption of the new alignment will shorten the Sault Ste. Marie branch and will open Algoma Mills, and probably other ports on the lakes, for traffic with Chicago and other important business centres, as well as with Thunder Bay, pending the completion of the all-rail route, which, it is estimated, will occupy five years in construction.

Fourth,—The construction of the Sault Ste. Marie branch, thus reduced in length to about sixty miles from the proposed point of junction on the main line, will be hastened instead of retarded by the change, it being the settled purpose of the company to build the line without delay, and to connect with all and every railway that can exchange traffic with it at the international boundary.

Fifth,—The company proposes to use the Thunder Bay branch so soon as it is handed over by the Government for all the North-West traffic, both passenger and freight, that it can influence, and no arrangement has been entered into with any railway in the United States or Canada that could in any way interfere with that design.

Sixth,—The company, recognizing the necessity of having its main eastern terminus at Montreal, will take occasion as opportunity offers to arrange with existing or proposed railways for its traffic between this point and its main line; but the company has no connection with, and no intention of being interested in, any railway project east or south of Montreal or west of Perth.

Yours, &c.,
C. DRINKWATER,
Secretary.

A NEW CANAL SCHEME.

A Canal Across the Michigan Peninsula—Bid for Western Traffic.

DETROIT, Jan. 19.—A special from Washington to the Detroit Post and Tribune says:—"Mr. Willis, of Michigan, was before the Committee on Railways and Canals this morning, and presented a scheme for a ship canal from Saugatuck to Detroit, utilizing the waters of Kalamazoo river. His scheme proposes a canal about 110 feet in width at top and about 80 feet at bottom and of depth enough to allow the passage of vessels of 1,500 tons. It is proposed to have six or eight docks and it is asserted by the projectors that the distance from Chicago to Liverpool would be made about 500 miles shorter by building this canal. Mr. Willis will have another hearing before the committee next week, and he will then present specifications and explain the plans more in detail. It is claimed by Mr. Willis that the route is better adapted for a canal, and the expense will be less than that of any other canal yet proposed. The committee has already several projects of this kind before it. The entire cost of the proposed canal will be about $5,000,000, it is estimated. Mr. Willis has been identified with railway interests for fifty years and was connected with the early contractors in building the Pennsylvania railroad.

REVIEW.

THE CANADIAN HORTICULTURIST.—The January number of this publication by the Fruit Growers' Association of this Province comes to hand, not only doubled in size, but much improved in every way, and is of itself worth much more than the annual subscription to the Association of one dollar, which not only secures a copy of the Horticulturist for the year, but also a copy of the annual report of the society, and a choice of one of the four following articles, viz :—1st, a plant of Spirea Prunifolia; or 2nd, a plant of Lee's Prolific Black Currant; or 3rd, three bulbs Gladiolus; or 4th, a vine of Moores early Grape. Every one who occupies a foot of ground or keeps a flower pot should send their subscription to D. W. Beadle, St. Catherines and secure all the advantages attachable thereto.

South Simcoe.

COOKSTOWN, Jan. 20.—The convention of delegates from the several branch societies of the South Simcoe Liberal-Conservative Association met yesterday in the Temperance hall, Cookstown, for the purpose of selecting a candidate to fill the vacant seat in the House of Commons caused by the death of Mr. W. C. Little, the late member. The six municipalities of the riding were well represented, over three hundred delegates being present. After taking six ballots the Chairman declared that Lieut-Colonel Tyrwhitt had been chosen by the convention as the candidate of the Conservative party of South Simcoe in the coming election.

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at ten cents a week.

FROM ALL OVER.

AS Mr. Rogers was crossing a field in the neighborhood of Gilford, he saw a large snake which he at once killed. On taking it home he found it measured twenty-one inches.

MR. R. EVANS, Tecumseth, met with a painful accident last week. He was in the act of leading out an ox to the slaughter house when the animal started, and his fingers got caught in the rope, one of which was so badly injured that it had to be amputated.

MRS. SPRIGHT, of Orillia, who has for many years held the position of Matron at the Institution for the blind, at Brantford, has been appointed to a similar position in the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, at an increased salary.

LAME BACK.—Lumbago, Kidney complaint, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all pain and inflammation are speedily cured with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Croup, sore throat, colds, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, chilblains and all wounds of the flesh are quickly healed by Yellow Oil.

WM. MORRIS, of Essa, was badly hurt in a threshing machine on Thursday last, and, but for the breaking of some portion of the gearing just as he was caught, he would probably have been killed. Dr Bell was summoned to attend the unfortunate young man, and he is now recovering.

Two men fought desparately at Rosemount, Minn., and one was killed with the knife which he held in his own hand. The case is likely to puzzle a jury, as some of the witnesses say that the wound was caused by a fall upon the knife, while others are sure that the survivor grasped his antagonist's hand, and in that manner made the stab.

DR. CARSON'S Pulmonary Cough Drops are an excellent Expectorant loosening the phlegm far more readily than any other preparation. For Coughs, Colds Bronchitis, Tickling in the Throat and Soreness and Tightness of the Chest, they have no equal. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, agent, Peterborough.

AT the recent demonstration at Avondale, Mr. Parnell's residence in Wicklow, there were 600 carts engaged in carting the manure and 173 ploughs in operation. The men were decorated with green boughs. Toward the close a dung cart was paraded, from whica rose the effigy of 'The Last Landlord," through which was driven a large four-pronged fork, amid great enthusiasm.

FREE OF CHARGE.—All persons suffering from Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, or any other affection of the Throat or Lungs, are requested to call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store and get a trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, free of charge, which will convince them of its wonderful merits and show what a regular sized bottle will do. Call early.—3.

THE German customs officials have contrived to double and treble the taxing the wrappers and labels as essential parts of the consignment. Thus cheese enveloped in silvered or tinfoil wrappers they now levy duty on as silvered wares. American corned beef in tins is taxed as fine iron wares. The latest feat of ingenuity in this direction is taxing Chinese liquors, essences, &c., which are contained in glass bottles covered with Chinese letters and figures on thin silk, as silk and satin.

M. RENAN is writing his confessions, and the history begins at the Seminary of Saint Sulpice. The theological college is curiously described. Here is an example of the reverent way in which a theologian speaks of his first spiritual director: "M. Gottofrey had the ravishing rosy face of an English miss. It was the most extraordinary example of suicide by mystic orthodoxy. I never knew a man who could have been better loved by women. He had in him an infinite wealth of love."

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

By the use of Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites the nerves becomes reinforced in strength, the stomach is made capable of digesting the food, the food changes to blood, the heart becomes strengthened to pump the blood, the lungs distribute and oxidise the blood, healthy blood displaces unhealthy muscle and tubercolous matter, the patient becomes vigorous, and then by using his constitution as intended by a beneficient Creator, he may live up to the ripe old age, when, like the corn ready for the harvest, he drops for the husk.

THE Monaco crown jewels—those of the late Mme. Blanc—realized handsome sums at the Hotel des Ventes. The auctioneers had arrayed themselves in evening splendor, a proceeding which always denotes a sale of exceptional solemnity. It was a rather doubtful world, as far as the feminine part of it is concerned, but there was no doubt about the diamonds. A necklace of 313 pearls, with clasp in brilliants, was sold for $62,500. Two rows of pearls, a hundred to each string, were bought for $23,000. A diadem of diamonds "fetched" $43,000. The three days' sale produced $220,000.

A SPIRIT of gratitude prompts me to address this brief note, writes Wesley Sisson, Esq., attorney-at-law, Chicago Ill. Three months ago I returned from Mobile, Ala., and was immediately attacked with what is known as sciatic rheumatism. I employed three physicians in succession, giving each one ample time to afford relief if it had been in his power. I was not materially benefitted by their services and was beginning to despair, when a friend who had experienced the effects of St. Jacobs Oil advised me to give it a trial. I refused, because I did not think rheumatism could be cured by any outward application. Insisting upon a trial of it he sent me two bottles. Unable to meet this kindness by further refusal, I had the remedy applied to the parts effected. But before the first bottle had been used up, I began to be relieved of the painful lameness in my hip and knee, and when the second bottle was out, I could dress myself and walk about. I continued to use it, and am now able to go down to my office and attend to business. Should persons afflicted as I was, desire a stronger testimonial, I shall tell them if they call upon me, to give St Jacobs Oil a fair trial; and I now feel as though I could assure them the same grateful and speedy relief as I have experienced.

THE DEVIL'S APRON STRING.

"Tied to his mother's apron string."
This is the cry of youth,
If she would stay his wandering,
Or guide him in the truth.

Tied to his mother's apron string,
If in her anxious love,
Some foolish act or wilful sin
She venture to reprove.

Tied to his mother's apron string;
Reject her gentle sway,
And let the devil hold the rein,
And guide you where he may.

Tied to the devil's apron string,
Boast not that you are free,
He'll curb you with an iron will,
And lead to misery. A. H. R.

DISTRICT INTELLIGENCE

LINDSAY.

Visit of Bishop Cleary.—The Post says that a very interesting service took place at St. Mary's Church, Lindsay, on Thursday morning last, the occasion being the celebration of a requiem high mass to the memory of John Fleming, who died at Waterford, Ireland, some four weeks ago. The deceased was father of Father Fleming, curate of St. Mary's Church. Father Fleming acted as celebrant, assisted by Father Reilly as Deacon, and Father Hortigan as sub-Deacon. There were also present Father Connolly, Downeyville; Father Fitzgerald, Fenelon Falls; and Father Browne, Port Hope. His Lordship, the Bishop of Kingston, was also present, as well as Father Stafford, of St. Mary's. The attendance of the congregation was very large. At the conclusion of the service His Lordship addressed the congregation. He expressed the pleasure it gave him to see such a large gathering on a week day, and it spoke volumes for the regard the people had for their curate, Father Fleming. He esteemed it as a strong indication of the piety and true regard for their religion that they should have left their duties and come together as they had done. His Lordship gave a short disquisition on the doctrines of purgatory. If faults were not expiated by good works in life they must be atoned for in penance. But where? Not in heaven, for nought but the pure could enter there. Not in hell, for just souls by the mercy of God could not go there. Therefore God had himself provided a medium where souls could in time grow white and clean. The service to-day was a tribute from the heart to the dead, and a bond that held us when other bonds had slipped. The Catholic people would reverence their clergy as the priests gave up their life and services to the Church and for their souls. It was this principle of love that urged them to meet and give this token of their regard for Father Fleming, and would remain with that clergyman ever a green and pleasant memory. His Lordship was sure that it would be additionally helpful in cementing those bonds of love between the pastor and his people. At the conclusion of his address His Lordship announced that he would address the people on Sunday morning next, after mass.

Accidents.—A serious accident happened to Mr. L. Downey while out chopping in Mr. T. Cuff's woods last Monday. It appears that his son and Mr. Cuff had gone off with a load and on the way back were delayed by the train blocking the street for some time. There being but a small load left he thought he would cut some more. He felled a tree but it lodged almost half way up a tall stump. He went to dislodge it, and while chopping it through, his axe caught in a branch which caused it to strike him across the top of the foot, making a purple gash and cutting the small toe completely off. He was immediattely taken to Dr. Kempt's office, where it was stitched up and dressed. He is getting along well.....A boy by the name of Rodgers had his large toe cut off while out chopping. He was taken home and the toe stitched on. It is healing nicely and the boy wants to go out again. It is also reported that Arthur Elsworth, of Fenelon, had his foot badly cut while chopping in the bush.

Lorne's Medal.—Miss Mary Cogan, of this town, has received the medal and diploma given by the Marquis of Lorne to the successful competitor from the Loretto Convent, Lindsay, and also the sum of $50 given by his grace Archbishop Lynch to Roman Catholics who obtained second-class certificates. The young lady, who is a grand-daughter of Mr. J. O'Leary, is to be congratulated on the honor she has won.

Shipment of Pork.—Mr. Geo. Matthews, pork packer of this town, recently shipped ten tons of salted side pork to Waubaushene. As there has not been enough coming into town to supply his demand he has been obliged to ship from other places. One shipment from Chatham was made up of five hundred hogs, while a large quantity from Peterborough was sent forward so hurriedly that it had only received its first salting.

MILLBROOK.

New Industries.—The Herald says that it is rumoured that the saw mill machinery on the Agricultural Works premises, near the Midland Railway Station, Millbrook, has been sold, which reduces the cost of the Agricultural Works Property to such an extent that parties are now negotiating with Mr. Foster with a view of re-establishing the Foundry and Agricultural Machine Works. This will be an important step in the right direction, and the enterprise should be encouraged by the tax-paying people of Millbrook. There is nothing that will tend so much to the building up of the village as manufactures, therefore it behooves every well-wisher of Millbrook, to foster and encourage manufacturing in their midst. The reviving business in the primises spoken of will be but the beginning of renewed energy and activity in this locality, and with a proper appreciation of the advantages of manufacturing and with proper inducements others may be prevailed upon to organize other and important branches of industry.

Complimentary Supper.—On Tuesday evening last a few friends gathered together in Mr. Steel's Hotel in this village, to bid a farewell to Mr. Frank Marsh, of Kells and Armstrong, who was about taking his departure for his home in the United States. Frank has made friends and well wishers while here and had there been a more extended notice the gathering would have been larger. As it was, with jest, song, and repartee, the evening passed pleasantly around. Great credit is due Mr. Steele for the spread provided on the occasion.

HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Council Meeting.—The Harvey councillors elect, met at the Town Hall on the 16th Jan'y, 1882, George Oliver, Reeve, David Brodie, John Clarkson, James Ingram and Robert Tedford, Councillors, tyled their several declarations of qualification and office, as the law directs, and took their seats at the Council Board. Minutes of the last meeting read and confirmed. A by-law was passed, signed and sealed appointing James Hicks and W. P. Chase auditors for the current year. A by-law was passed appointing township officers for the current year, James Weir, assessor; Wm. Weir, treasurer; J. S. Carindell, clerk; James Coons, D. R. officer for polling sub-division No. 1; James Richmond D. R. officer, sub-division No. 2; A. McMartin D. R. officer, sub-division No. 3. Also the overseers of highways, pound keepers and fence viewers. A resolution was passed authorizing the Reeve and Clerk to sign and affix the corporate seal, to memorials to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council and the Legislature of Ontario, to pass an act to establish and confirm the bearings placed on the map of the Township of Harvey, by T. B. Clementi, P.L.S. On motion the Reeve was instructed to attend to the interests of the Township at the adjourned sale of lands for arrears of taxes. The Council adjourned to meet at the Clerk's office on the 6th day of March next.—Con.

OMEMEE.

Y. M. L. A.—The Herald says that at the meeting of the Young Men's Literary Association held in the village hall on Friday evening last, the following officers were appointed for this year,—Mr. John Williamson, President; Mr. W. H. Curry, 1st Vice-President; Mr. George Sherwood, 2nd Vice-President, Mr. Jos. Pritchard, Secretary Treasurer, Mr. A. Williamson, Librarian. The association is steadily increasing.

Complimentary.—An old lady, formerly a resident of the neighborhood, but now living in Winnipeg, who is a constant reader of the Herald, considers this place an earthly paradise, although she is enjoying the best of health in that country.

Brown's Bridge.—The Reeves of Emily, Ops and Manvers met on Thursday last, for the purpose of letting the contract for the building of Brown's bridge over Pigeon River. After several bids were made the contract was finally awarded to Thos. Stephenson, Esq. The bridge is to be completed by the 1st July 1882.

Accident.—We regret to learn that Robert, eldest son of Mr. W. Adams, of Emily, met with a severe accident on Wednesday last. He had taken dinner to the men who were chopping in the woods, and while they were eating the young man took up an axe to chop and by some means got an ugly gash in one of his feet.

Booming.—This week there has been a regular boom in wood, sawlogs, shingle bolts and tan bark, no doubt on account of the sleighing we have been blessed with.

PORT HOPE.

Sudden Death.—The Guide says that Wm. Rundle, sr., a laborer who lives on Protestant Hill, had been sawing wood all day yesterday, (Friday.) On retiring to rest he knelt to say his prayers, and whilst paying his devotions to his maker his spirit took its flight. He was about seventy years of age, and has a son a conductor on the Midland Railway and another on the Toronto and Nipissing.

Divorce in High Life.

New York, Jan. 20—Annette Tilden brought an action for a limited divorce from her husband, Mifano C. Tilden, and to-day Judge Barrett signed an order directing him to pay to her a weeky almony of $25 and a counsel fee of $750. She claims they were married by a justice of the peace in 1874, the only witnesses being her father and mother. By agreement the marriage was kept quiet, as Tilden was but 18 years of age and desired to take a degree at the university before publically acknowledging his wife. In 1875 Tilden ceased to visit her, and subsequently by the death of his father, William Tilden, he became possessed of $500,000. The defendant claims that the marriage was procured by the design of his wife, being much older than he and having subsequently confessed that she had a design on him. He also says that he was under the influence of wine and has brought an action to annul the marriage. Mrs. Tilden denies the allegations.

How to Cure a Cold.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

Do Not be Deceived.—In these times of quack medicine everywhere, it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise, and which really does as recommended. Electric Bitters we can vouch for as being a true and reliable remedy, and one that will do as recommended. They invariably cure Stomach and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary difficulties. We know whereof we speak, and can readily say, give them a trial. Sold at 50 cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—3.

Prejudice Kills.—"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Patients.—Telegram.

A Remarkable Cure.—From Lewis Phelps of West Townsend, Vt.—"Several years since I took a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, where it remained without relaxation. I was then in Massachusetts; and growing worse and becoming unbale to attend to my business, I returned home, and commenced searching in earnest for some medicine which would restore my lost heath. I consulted physicians, I tried many remedies, but obtained no help, but daily grew worse. I had a terrible cough, and raised a good deal of blood. I had profuse night sweats and severe pain in my side. I continued in this state for months, and became so weak that it was with great difficulty I could walk, when I was advised to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and to my great joy I soon found that this remedy had arrested the disease. I continued to use the Balsam to the extent of five bottles, and have since then experienced no difficulty of the lungs. I believe the Balsam saved my life, and I shall ever hold it in high estimation." 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Kendall's Spavin Cure
ON HUMAN FLESH.

Thousands of trials on Human Flesh has proved beyond a doubt that "Kendall's Spavin Cure" has sufficient strength to penetrate and virtue to cure the worst cases of rheumatism, corns bunyons, frostbites or any bruise, cut or lameness which are not affected in the least by ordinary liniments. It does not blister, but on the contrary, removes all soreness.

Dunham, P. Q., March 10th, 1879.
Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—About a year ago I fell in the road on to some ice and was badly hurt in the hip joint, which caused me much suffering. I tried various remedies, but none gave relief until I tried Kendall's Spavin Cure, I applied it full strength twice a day for two weeks during last October, and it effected a perfect cure. I have since then been well and free from lameness. It is very valuable for man as well as for beast.
Yours truly,
Chester K. Green.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Railway Notes.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that the turn table at the Grand Trunk and Grand Junction Railway Junction is to be removed to its old position at the intersection of Pinnacle and Wharf streets. The site where it is to stand was purchased this morning by the Grand Junction Railway Company.

We are informed that a gentleman has been purchasing the right of way for the Ontario and Quebec Railway through Ashburnham, following the survey approved of by Mr. Lumsden, so that it would appear that the company mean "business," and we are to have a competing line to the Grand Trunk.

Mr. Fairman, of the firm of Cooper, Eairman & Co., Montreal, is at the Oriental Hotel. He is here about the supply of steel rails, &c., for the Missing Link, and also with a view of tendering for the waterworks supplies.

All Right This Time.

All the persons who have been abusing Vennor for his false predictions must admit that he hit the nail on the head this time. His telegram, as published by us several days ago, gave notice of a cold snap for Sunday, and as we all know, it came with a vengeance. On Saturday night snow fell to the depth of two or three inches, and on account of its soft character many predicted rain, but during the night the weather changed, and on Sunday morning the coldest weather of the season greeted us. To-day has been very cold, but the wind of yesterday has dropped and there is no drifting or flying snow. The thermometer reached a very low point, some say as low as 26° below zero, while others go still farther down. No matter how low it may have gone, it's cold enough for us. Frozen noses, ears and cheeks are plentiful.

Curling Notes.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that the Curling Club met on Friday evening. The only important business transacted was the selection of four skips for the year. Those selected are —John Jellett, Thos. Thompson, W. H. Campbell, and Angus McFee. It was decided to make arrangements for a match with the Peterborough Club.

The competition among the members of the Curling Club for the Governor General's Medal is now in progress. It is what they call a "point" game.

The ice at the rink is now in splendid condition and the curlers are having any amount of fun, in their own quiet way of course.

The Weather.

"It's the coldest day of the season" remarks every second person that you meet, and we fully agree with them, it is. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows.—Lakes—North westerly to northerly winds, fine, very cold weather with local falls of snow. The temperature will fall lower to-night than last night and will range from 16 below zero in southern Ontario to nearly 40 below in northern.

The Theatre.

The last performance in town by the Amy Lee Comedy Company was witnessed by a large and rather noisy audience. The performance was fully up to the mark, and all who took part were loudly applauded. As usual Messrs. Smith and Stanly were fine, and both of them had to respond to encore after encore. Should the company ever visit us again, a bumper house will be the result, as certainly no troupe that has ever visited us for a long time, has given the same satisfaction.

Accident.

One of the workmen engaged at the Ashburnham elevator was rather seriously injured this morning by a board from one of the scaffolds falling on him. He was carried into a neighboring house and medical aid summoned. He is now out of danger.

To the Public.

Mr. Allan H. Macdougall has associated himself with Mr. W. H. Cluxton in the insurance business, and may be found at Mr. Cluxton's office prepared to transact business with insurers in first-class companies.

Croft House.

Just received another brewing of "Nor-West" Cream Ale. Finest ale made in the Dominion.

STILL ANOTHER BOY.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—At 11 o'clock this morning I saw still another boy skating on the sidewalk on George Street outside the Calsse Hotel, opposite your office. Perhaps you caught sight of him. His arms and legs were going like a windmill in a blizzard.

Outside Davidson's bookstore stands a notice to the following effect, "Skating to-day." I suppose the boys regard the notice as one of universal application, and, as they say, in an Irish row, "wherever you see a head, hit it," so the Peterborough boys say, "Wherever you see ice, utilize it." Perhaps our town authorities look upon the matter in the same light.

A RATEPAYER.

Peterborough, January 23, 1882.

Ashes.

We notice that some of the merchants put ashes on the slippery sidewalks in front of their places of business. A town by-law requires that such shall be done, but like many other by-laws, the provisions of it are broken very often. If all deposited a shovelfull, people would be able to walk up and down street.

For Winnipeg.

Messrs. C. J. Seymour and W. Browne left for Winnipeg this morning, where they intend to settle down and grow up with the country. We have no doubt they will succeed as well as all our young men have done.

Personal.

Dr. J. F. O'Shea, a native of this county, has determined to take up his residence among us, and as will be seen by his advertisement, has opened an office on Hunter Street.

HORRIBLE MURDER.

Michael Rourke Butchers Another Man With an Axe.

BURLINGTON, Ont., Jan. 21.—A horrible murder was committed last night, about four miles from Cumminsville, by a man about twenty-five years of age, named Michael Rourke, who boarded with an old man named Maher and his daughter, whom he murdered with an axe. The murderer was in the house when Maher's son returned home from Waterdown about ten o'clock. The murderer attacked the son with the axe. Young Maher defended himself with a stick which he had in his hands, and the murderer then fled. Maher then locked the house, which was in darkness, struck a light, found his father lying dead with a gash in the side of the head, then went into another room and found his sister lying on her back dead, having also been killed by a stroke of the axe in the back of the neck. The murderer is still at large. He is of light complexion, no whiskers, sandy moustache, dark hair, slim built, about five feet ten or eleven inches, dark clothes, black sack overcoat, low shoes, and hatless.

Starting Bee-Keeping.

Those who contemplate starting in bee-keeping the coming season should procure at once and thoroughly master some one of the several excellent Manuals that treat of bees. This done, the prospective apiarist should subscribe, for one of the apicultural papers, several of which are published in this country. The text book study will prepare one to read understandingly the paper, and by such reading a person will keep abreast of the improvements, and also will be in the way to take advantage of all that may help him. Apiculture is advancing rapidly, and he who does not keep informed will soon be left in the wake of his more enterprising brother. After a thorough study of the subject it will pay well to visit some wide-awake bee-keeper, and spend a day or two with him. We are happy to state that one does not need to go far now in any part of the country to find such an one. Such a visit will do much to remove the timidity that one is apt to feel in approaching these insects. The book-knowledge will become practical, as the various truths and descriptions are illustrated.

The next step will be to purchase some bees. It is usually a mistake to buy more than three colonies. After this it is best to go no faster than one can from the increase of his own bees. The best bees for the beginner are the Italian. These are excellent, and what is more important they are very amaciable, and seldom sting. The colonies should be strong, and purchased of a reliable bee-keeper, that there may be no mistake as to their character. The bee should be in a movable comb hive, with a frame of the form generally used in the locality. If one wishes to sell bees, such a frame will help to dispose of them to better advantage. We prefer, all other things favorable, a frame which is 11½ inches square, outside measure. The beginner will also need a bee-veil, a smoker, and from three to six hives fully equipped. It will pay to purchase an extractor, and from ten to twenty pounds of comb foundation.—American Agriculturist.

From the N. Y. "Times."

Editor of the Times:—I have been watching the correspondence in your paper for the past few weeks with much interest. Having been in the practice of medicine for many years, I have learned to have no confidence in the many proprietory medicines which are on the market and it was through the excellent recommendation given by Dr. Bates, and the knowledge I had of his veracity and ability as a physician that ever led me to lay aside my long existing prejudice, to try the only wonderful remedy, named Kendall's Spavin Cure which I find so many of your readers have also found so valuable. Rheumatism has afflicted me for years, and with all the skill I have professed to have in treating others I found myself unable to do anything to cure myself entirely. After suffering for some years the difficulty became located in my hip, and nothing that I could do seemed to affect it until I began to use Kendall's Spavin Cure, which has cured me completely. In all my experience as a physician I have never been able to make any compound which penetrates so thoroughly and works so admirably in removing old standing ailments, and at the same time hardly produce any irritation of the skin. It has done such wonders with me that I have the utmost confidence in its efficacy, and can recommend it with the confidence that the proprietors do not claim too much for it.

Respectfully,

J. R. PORTER, M. D.

Scranton Pa., Sept. 24th, 1881.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

THE STOCK MARKET was irregular to-day. Bank shares, except Montreal, were lower. City gas stock was two per cent. higher, selling at 155.

THE ALLAN MAIL steamer Circassian, from Portland via Halifax, arrived out on Sunday.

OTTAWA.

Special to the Review, Jan. 23.

IT IS GENERALLY BELIEVED that the season at the capital will be an unusually gay one. So much so, in fact, that American families of note have signified their intention to winter here. Many Canadian families outside of political circles are negotiating for accommodation at the Palace Hotel.

THE ANNIVERSARY of the birth of Mendelssohn will be celebrated here by a musical recital in the St. James' Hall, the programme consisting entirely of this composer's work.

MRS. VERMING, wife of Mr. R. Verming, of the Marine and Fishery Department, died suddenly this morning from the rupture of a blood vessel.

FENELON FALLS.

SUDDENLY SOBERED,—Last Saturday afternoon one of the navvies employed on the Victoria Railwry was on the train coming from Lindsay, and being somewhat under the influence of whiskey, he was not only rather noisy and truculent while in the car, but persisted in going out on the platform—a dangerous place for a man in his condition. Telling a passenger who warned him to be careful, to mind his own business, he apparently became—probably out of sheer obstinacy—somewhat more reckless than before, and the coneequence was that he missed his hold of the railing, fell from the platform, and turned so many involuntary somersaults when he touched the ground that those who witnessed the accident thought he was badly injured if not killed. With the proverbial luck of drunken men he escaped without the slightest hurt, and having picked himself up and shaken the snow from his garments, started after the train, which was stopped as soon as possible, but not before the pursuer had run fully half a mile, as it was going at its ordinary speed when he fell. Either the fright or the subsequent violent exercise appeared to have completely sobered him, for he sat still during the rest of the trip to the Falls, no doubt congratulating himself upon his escape.

TIMELY WARNING.—Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping coughs, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

HAUNTED ME.—A Workingman says: Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged until one year ago, by the advice of my postor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost."—Christian Advocate.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

A CHURCH QUESTION.

The Globe says that the Imperial Privy Council has reversed the verdict of the Quebec Courts in the Presbyterian Temporalities case. This decision, we believe, declares invalid the legislation in Quebec and also in the other Provinces uniting the Presbyterian Church of Canada and the Canadian Church in connection with the Kirk of Scotland, on the ground that since these Chnrches extend over the Dominion the Act of Ucion should have been passed by the Dominion Parliament. It will apparently be necessary to commence the work of legislation de novo, which cannot be set about too soon.

He said he was the Lieutenant of a secret band in the Mill Street District, the Captain being Jeramiah Riordan. Orders by the captain for clipping certain people and for shooting others in the legs were found on Connell. The latter asserted that there was no foundation for the statement that he made preliminary overtures with the police to get arrested. The evidence of Connell created a profound sensation.

NIHILISTS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23—The reports that have found their way to the foreign press lately as to the doings of the Nihilists are for the most part altogether false or gross exaggerations. That Nihilists are still at work is unhappily too true, but they are working under very great difficulties, and have not recovered from the severe blow dealt them by the arrest of many of their most determined agents after the catastrophe of March 1st. Nearly all that has been said lately as to plots of assassination, incendiarism, etc., is a tissue of falsehoods. According to rumours arrests have been made wholesale, during the past month as many as 700 in one day, but as a matter of fact the number of captures was insignificant. Recently, however, the police took into custody four individuals whom they had been following for some time past in hopes of laying hands on their accomplices. Finding that their footsteps were dogged, the male prisoners, of whom there are three, turned upon the detectives and attacked them, but they were soon arrested. The police then went to their lodgings in Mogiloffsky street, where they captured a woman, who attempted to defend herself with a dagger, and in the apartment they found a printing press, with various concomitants, revolutionary proclamations, revolvers, false passports, etc.

THE EGYPTIAN CRISIS.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The Egyptian crisis is becoming daily more acute. A Liberal paper defines it as really a struggle between the Controller-General backed by England and France, and the nationalist party supported by the Sultan, with Germany and Austria in the background. If the assembly establishes its claim to regulate the budget, the existing European ascendancy will be overthrown, and the foreign bondholders will no longer govern the country. Everything points to the necessity of England and France speedily deciding whether to execute their implied pledge to maintain the existing arrangements by force. Englishmen are beginning to regret the entanglements with France, which make independent action on their part impossible. The situation in Egypt is complicated by the positive fall of Gambetta and the uncertainty as to what line his successor may take.

PORT HOPE.

BURGLARS.—The Guide says that last Sunday Mr. Henry Brice and family, residing on lot 24, 4th concession of Hope (near Wesleyville), locked up the huose and went to church. On their return it was found that the house had been entered by the window and a number of articles stolen. Mr. Brice, on examining the ground, found the tracts of a man leading westward to a barn on Mr. A. Ball's farm. After securing assistance Mr. Brice and party entered the barn, and noticing the hay in a disturbed condition took a fork, and after probing around struck something hard, and on removing the hay found a man, having all Mr. Brice's goods in his possession. He was immediately put under arrest and brought to Port Hope and placed in the cells. He said he had two companions, a man and a woman who were camping in Mr. Fred. Holdaway's woods, near where the robbery had been committed. Mr. Brice returned home, and accompanied by Mr. Fred Holdaway, went to the woods and found a man and woman by a fire made from Mr. H's cord wood (without any shelter) making themselves as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. They were also put in the lockup. On being brought before His Worship Mr. Holland, this morning, the prisoner first arrested gave his name as Henry McCallum, a machinist from Gananoque, aged 23, and was on his way west looking for work. He pleaded guilty of stealing a pair of boots, a dress, two pairs of stockings, a ham, a pair of scissors, and two handkerchiefs. After hearing several witnesses the magistrate sent the prisoner down for trial. The other prisoners gave their names as Wm. and Mary Johnston, man and wife. The man said he was a labourer, on his way to Oshawa looking for work, and were from Napanee. He denied all knowledge of the robbery. They had come from Cobourg on Saturday, and feeling tired had gone into the woods to camp. The man and woman were aged respectively 29 and 28, and were both respectably dressed. The man had not a very prepossessing face, and had an insolent way of speaking when addressed, and when asked by the magistrate what his occupation was, replied, "I'm a worker, 'you bet,' and am looking for a job." They were both committed for being persons without visible means of support, to four months in gaol.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN and when you perceive any fowl or animals in your barn yard, or in your stable suffering from disease or ill health mix their feed with Harvell's Condition Powders, and the result will satisfy you. These great specifics are sold everywhere. Remember this!

NURSERY MEDICINES.—We do not believe in dosing children with drugs and medicines from the time they arrive in the world till they are grown, as some do. We have found a little castor oil and a bottle of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer safe and sure remedies for all their little ills, and would not do without them.

BISHOP BEVERIDGE.—A gentleman meeting the celebrated and excellent Bishop, Beveridge, asked him how he was. Beveridge replied: "If I answer in Latin, I am sic, sic; if in English, so, so." There are many, who, if they spoke truly would give the same answer as the excellent Bishop. They have contracted lung disease, or it may be are suffering from asthma, and in great danger of that fatal malady consumption. Take warning in time, use N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir, it is really what many have called it, the "king" of remedies. Sold by all druggists throughout the Dominion.

THE CATTLE TRADE.

THE rapidity with which the cattle trade of Canada has developed within the last few years, and its intimate connection with successful farming in at least the older districts of the Dominion, renders everything connected with it of interest to all classes of the community, as well as to those engaged in agricultural pursuits.

Although the first shipment of stock only took place in 1874, and continued to be looked upon as a sort of experiment until 1877, we find that the shipments of live stock to Great Britain from Canadian ports from 1877 to 1881, both inclusive, have been as follows:—

	Cattle.	Sheep.	Horses.	Hogs.
1877....13 to	1,400	9,509	351	430
1878....	18,655	41,250	690	2,027
1879....	26,176	78,780	386	3,391
1880....	50,817	81,547	49	700
1881....	45,535	72,400	...	...

Previous to 1874 our surplus stock found a market in the United States, but the numbers thus disposed of were comparatively small, and the quality of the animals, except in a few instances, inferior. Since the direct shipments commenced, as was to have been expected, more attention has been paid to this important department of Canadian farming, and a marked improvement has already taken place in the character of the cattle and sheep shipped from Ontario and Quebec, and in view of the large importations of improved breeding stock during the last two years, a still greater improvement may be looked for in the near future. From a statement made by Prof. McEachern, the Dominion Inspector of Stock at Montreal, we learn that in 1880 there were imported for breeding purposes into the Province of Quebec from Great Britain, 103 cattle and 20 sheep; into Ontario 29 cattle, 414 sheep, and 6 pigs; and into Nova Scotia 12 cattle, while during the past season, 1881, the importations for the same purpose were,—Into Quebec 283 cattle, 122 sheep, and 3 pigs; into Ontario 164 cattle, 744 sheep, and 16 pigs; and into the North West Territories 156 cattle; into New Brunswick 37 cattle, 75 sheep, and 28 pigs; into Nova Scotia 9 cattle; into Prince Edward Island 1 cattle, 28 sheep, and 1 pig; and 204 cattle and 168 sheep via Montreal for the Western States.

As to the various breeds imported, we are informed that the importations were made up as follows:—

Herefords	206	82	288
Aberdeens	37	146	183

Total Beef Cattle	280	337	617

South Downs	9	26	35
Lincolnshire	1	0	1
Hampshire	1	0	1
Total	289	890	1179

The breeds of pigs imported were:—Berkshires 38, Suffolks 4, and Yorkshires 11.

Such a large importation of high bred stock, fairly spread over the Dominion, and containing among their number many animals of rare merit, selected regardless of cost from the best herds in Britain, cannot fail to have a most beneficial effect upon the future stock of the country, and confer benefits which can hardly be over-estimated. Without animals that will produce superior qualities of meat, it is useless for the Canadian farmer to try and compete successfully in the foreign market, as only such animals can be shipped at a profit, while early maturity is of scarcely less importance, as every day gained is a day's keep saved. That all animals of the same kind are not worth the same money per pound, is amply evidenced by a statement in the American Agriculturist, that while the price of all cattle sold in New York Markets during 1881 has averaged a trifle over ten cents per pound for the estimated weight of the dressed quarters, the lower grades have sold at times even below seven cents, and the best grades up to thirteen cents and 14 cents and above, with the estimated dressed weight greatly in favor of the better animals, and that during August, October, and December, when the price of sheep declined greatly, some of the poorer grades sold as low as two cents per pound live weight early in December, though the best sold then at six cents.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Privy Council Judgment in Dobie v. the Temporalities Board.

By cable despatch from London it is learned that the suit of Dobie v. the Temporalities Board of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, has been decided by the Privy Council, the decision of the Canadian Courts being reversed with costs, which are very heavy, though the precise terms of the settlement are difficult to determine owing to the brevity of the cable announcement. The case, it will be remembered, was begun on December 30th, 1878, by the Rev. Robert Dobie, on behalf of the Old Kirk of Scotland. The suit arose out of the union of the Presbyterian Churches in 1875, when an Act was passed by the Legislature of the Province of Quebec amending the Act of the late Province of Canada, incorporating what was popularly called the temporalities Board, which managed the funds of the Presbyterian Church of Canada in connection with the Church of Scotland. The amendment provided different modes for the election of the members of the Board, and while preserving the vested rights of stipendiaries, also provided for handing over the funds to the new united Church, the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Rev. Mr. Dobie attacked the constitutionality of this legislation, holding that the funds belonged to the minority, and refusing to enter the Union, claiming that he had a right to continue the old church under its old name. He asked for an injunction prohibiting the members of the Temporalities Board of the Presbyterian Church in Canada from administering the funds of the Temporalities Board. At the time of the sebularization of the clergy reserves the ministers of the then Presbyterian Church of Canada in connection with the Church of Scotland commuted their shares of that division, which were formed into a permanent endowment fund for the Church. When the formation of the various Canadian Presbyterian bodies into one united Church was consummated in 1875 it was arranged that only those ministers who had belonged to the Presbyterian Church of Canada in connection with the Church of Scotland should share in the benefits of the fund, with the understanding that upon the decease of the present stipendiaries the fund should be divided between Queen's College and the fund for the benefit of aged and infirm ministers. When the union took place a new Board was appointed to administer the fund under the name of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Mr. Dobie asked that the fund should be declared the property of the Presbyterian Church of Canada in connection with the church of Scotland, a few of whose members had refused to join the main body of the ministers in creating the Union Presbyterian Church in Canada. The injunction was granted by Judge Jette, but when the question came up on the merits of the case the action was dismissed by him. This decision was sustained on appeal in a somewhat singular manner. Judge Ramsay, Judge Tessier, and Judge McCord held the Quebec Act creating the Board to be unconstitutional. Chief Justice Sir A. A. Dorion held the Act to be constitutional. But Judge McCord held that the Rev. Mr. Dobie had no legal interest in the case, and therefore sided with the minority in sustaining Judge Jette's ruling in the Court below. The case was urged in Canada by Mr. J. L. Morris and S. Bethune for the Union Presbyterian Church, and by Mr. D. McMaster and Mr. M. M. Tait for the prosecution.

THE QUEBEC ACT UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

The cable to Mr. Morris states that the Privy Council have pronounced the Quebec Act, under which the Board are acting, to be unconstitutional, with cost, and only ordering the members of the Board not to sit until duly elected, but the Privy Council refuse Mr. Dobie's prayer to have it declared that the funds belong to those ministers who did not join the Union, and refuse his prayers to have it declared that the ministers who joined the Union are deprived of their stipends. Thus the main prayers has not been granted, and it is reduced to a mere question of costs, the object of the action being to obtain the funds.

ABSOLUTE INJUNCTION AGAINST THE BOARD.

The cable to Mr. McMaster states that the judgment of the Privy Council sets aside and declares unconstitutional the Acts passed by the Local Legislatures affecting the temporalities fund of the Presbyterian Church of Canada in connection with the Presbyterian Church of Scotland, leaving the fund under the control of the Presbyterian Church of Canada in connection with the Church of Scotland, as originally established by the Act of the old Province of Canada. The effect of the judgment is to leave the fund at stake, about half a million dollars, in the hands of the Presbyterian Church of Canada in connection with the Presbyterian Church of Scotland, and to render the injunction absolutely against the Board as now constituted under the Union Acts, with full costs of all the Courts.

Until a detailed statement as to the judgment is received it is impossible to tell what is to be the exact bearing of the decision by the Privy Council.—Globe.

THE CUMBERLAND FRESHETS.

Great Distress Prevailing in Nashville—Ten Thousand People Homeless.

NASHVILLE Jan. 22.—The city is hemmed in on nearly every side by the flood. Provisions have taken an upward tendancy. Two thousand workmen are idle and ten thousand people are homeless, and great distress prevails. On Friday night the families on the outskirts passed hours of sleeplessness, not knowing the moment they would be forced to fly. Some women and children became panic-stricken and begged for help. The sewers burst in every direction, and the loss to the city from this source will be immense. The caving of a street in South Nashville broke the gas pipes, and that part of the city is in darkness.

LATER.—The river has reached a point seven inches above the rise of 1849, making 52 feet 3 inches. A large amount of drift is now floating down the river, with now and then small bridges which spanned the streams in the upper country. The river rose to such a point as to force a large number of additional families out of their homes. The people are gratified that the river has reached a stand to-night, with the hope that it will be falling to-morrow morning.

After Pine, Paper.

In a paper on the white pine of Michighan, Mr. W. H. Ballou shows that the quantity of pine in that state has decreased from 135,000,000,000 feet on 20,000,000 acres of land to 35,000,000,000 feet on 10,571,000 acres. Some 5,000,000,000 feet are now annually taken away, so that in seven years the supply will be exhausted. It almost seems a despairing task to hope ever to raise forests for another such enormous production, and science will have to devise other materials as a substitute for wood. Lumber is already made in boards an inch thick from wheat straw, and can be colored so as to resemble any real lumber. The inventor manufactures two thousand square feet of a more durable and cheaper material than lumber from a ton of straw.—Popular Science Monthly.

ANOTHER HORRIBLE MURDER.

An Amaranth Farmer Shot Dead and his Residence Fired.

SHELBURNE, Jan. 22.—John Smith, a quiet and inoffensive citizen of the township of Amaranth, residing about four miles from here, was foully murdered in his own house about six o'clock last night. The unfortunate victim was a bachelor about or over fifty years of age, and usually lived alone; but it happened that when the murder was committed a nephew named Johnny Smith, about fourteen years of age, was with him.

THE BOY'S STORY

is that his uncle and himself, after taking supper together, seated themselves by an open fireplace, and shortly afterward he heard a report either of a gun or pistol, and the old man fell. He looked towards the window from whence the report came and saw a tall man with a dark moustache. The boy immediately started for the door, which was opposite the window, when the man fired at him, the ball passing through the top of his cap. He ran for dear life towards a neighbour's house, which is quite a distance, he looked back and saw the house on fire. He alarmed the neighbours as soon as possible, and returned with them to the burning building, and

and one leg burned off below the knee. The old man was reputed to have kept a large sum hidden about the house. It is not known whether he had any at the time or not. There is no clue to the assassin except what can be gleaned from the boy's story.

THE GREATEST EXCITEMENT PREVAILS

as the old man was universally respected by all who knew him.

Thos. Norton, M.D., Coroner, will hold an inquest to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

J. P. Macmillan, County Crown Attorney, drove up from Orangeville this morning, and is doing all in his power to secure the arrest of the guilty party. The body is in charge of village constable Henderson.

Crank—Its Definition.

Whence the term? A reference to the authorities show that two hundred years ago it meant "a cheat," "an impostor," but it became obsolete, perhaps from the dying out of crank. If it died out and disappeared from general use, however, it did not die out with that grand old veteran of literature, Carlyle. He has used the term repeatedly, and brought it down to the present day as meaning "dim of vision, violent of temper," and the meaning is further developed by the following description: "A headstrong, very positive, loud, dull and angry kind of man." This is Carlyle's notion, and it gives a pretty good idea. It must be admitted that the word is not like so many of our later words of Yankee birth or origin, but comes from a royal stock. It was born in the old Scandinavian days, and had an existence before the Saxons went into England. Primarily it meant a "twist" and is as good to-day as ever.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

Vegetable Balsamic

ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes loose and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are also drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

FEMALE EMIGRATION.

A MODERN GIRL'S IDEAS.

What is all this talk about emigration
That Lorne is making "over the sea,"
If I understand the situation,
I think he had better just let things be.
"Women are scarce"—well, I'd like to know it,
Here we are, numbering seven to one;
Our chances of husbands are slim—I can show it,
And will be sliminer if this thing goes on.

Here we are maidens lingering, sighing,
"Wasting our sweetness on desert air,"
And for all our scheming, and all our trying,
We can't get husbands our lot to share.
It ain't that we're useless—we know our duties,
We can cook and wash, can scrub and sew—
We may not be rosy like English beauties,
But we've style and accomplishments—that I know.

Don't we take interest in all around us?
In Churches and Sunday-schools, missions and such,
Why, if men were as plentiful, they would surround us,
And force us to marry—but do they?—not much.
And as to these pioneers out on the prairies,
Who are dying for wives—I know it ain't so,
Why don't they ask us, they have no cause to fear us,
Let them say "Come along," and we'd willingly go.

Now let me advise all my fair English sisters
To calmly reflect ere they cross o'er the sea,
They are just as well of in the pay of their masters,
With as good chance of husbands at home as have we.
No, no, let us girls have a chance first to marry,
Then bring out your shiploads if girls get scarce,
But to talk of that now—every Tom, Dick, and Harry Knows perfectly well that the thing is a farce.

JEMMS KAYE AND THE LAW OF GRAVITATION.

Auld Mr. M'Cunn is an extrornary scientific man, aye propounding some new theory aboot something, and fairly bamboozling kind o' plan sailink folk like mysel' that are quite content to tak' things as they come, without diving awa doon to the age o' antiquities tae fin' oot the why and the wherefore.

The ither nicht we were haeing a wee drap toddy, and jist as I wis lifting my gless up Mr. M'Cunn spiers quite sharply. "What gars the epples fa' aff the trees, Mr. Kaye?"

"Guid gracious, Mr. M'Cunn," I says as I laid doon my gless, "what a like question. Were ye tasting afore ye cam in?"

"No," he replies. "I'm in sober earnest!"

"Weel, then," I remarks, "it disna say much for your intelligence. What mak's the epples fa' aff the trees? What's tae hin'er them fa'ing aff?"

"Tut! tut! ye dina understand me; why do they no hing on for ever?"

"Why do they not hing on for ever? because they fa' aff."

"But what gars them fa' aff?"

"What wid mak ye fa' aff?"

"Noo, Mr. Kaye, there's nae use in getting angry, or in bantering me. Answer my question scientifically!"

"Weel, a' the scientifically that I can answer it is that eppless, grossats, an' everything I ken o'—except may be orangers, and I'm no acquant aboot them—fa' aff if they are no pulled. I suppose it is the wecht that dis it."

"Man, Mr. Kaye, it's weel seen ye never read Sir Isaac Newton. It's the law o' gravitation does it."

"I've herd of the gravitation water works oot at Barrhead," I says, "but never o' gravitation eppless."

"But it's the law o' gravitation, Mr. Kaye; the earth attracts the epples tae it, and so they fa'."

"Oh, Mr. M'Cunn," I says, "ye're getting faur owse deep for me! Ye're ga'ing owre the score a'thegither! talking aboot the earth attracting epples! Why does it no attract your heid?"

"Because its fastened on."

"Oh, Mr. Kaye," he says, "ye're owre thick-heided—Ye don't un'erstan thae scientific things. Noo, for instance, if you throw up your hat intae the air, why does it fa' doon again?"

"Mr. M'Cunn," I replies, "I'm afraid its mair than drink that's wrong wi' ye. I doot—I doot—there's a slate aff. This is awfu'."

"Aye, but answer me, Mr. Kaye."

"Ye'll get nae answer frae me—if ye dinna like to ask sensible questions ye can let it alane. Hae ye been reading ony o' Bradlaugh's books?"

"Gravitation again, Mr. Kaye! and noo, if ye rouw a bool along the floor, why will it go to a certain length and then stop?"

"Mr. M'Cunn," I says, "this is getting waur and waur. I wish ye were safely hame and in yer ain bed; for I don't want ye tae be taking ill here, and if I'm ony judge ye're in for a sharp attack o' the measles. Tae think that a man o'—is it sixty-nine or seeventy ye are?"

"Sixty-nine."

"Weel, tae think that a man o' sixty-nine wid be havering awa' aboot epples fa'ing off trees and bools rouwing alang the floor, and tae say its science! Ye were talking aboot Sir Isaac Newton and the epple. Was that him that fired at the epple on his grandfather's heid? There's a recitation aboot it."

"Oh, that wis William Tell—a different man a'thegither. You're no well read, Mr. Kaye."

"Weel," I says "certainly I'm no weel up in scientific subjects like you, but I try tae be as practical as I can, and I look at what's going on roon aboot me, and I often see in the papers that money is chape. Noo, Mr. M'Cunn, that has often puzzled me, and I wad like ye tae explain it. Wnen money is at it's very cheapest, wid ony o' the banks gie me poun' note for nineteen shillings? And they talk aboot money fluctuating! Guid gracious, it's aye fluctuating—from one pocket tae anither.

Mr. M'Cunn wi' a' his science, couldna explain this—he owned he was bate and said he agreed wi' me that a poun' was a poun' a' the warl ower.

"Noo, Mr. M'Cunn," I says "that's jist whaur ye gang aff the reel, ye see; ye haver awa' aboot epples fa'ing aff the trees—what dis it matter tae you or me whither they fa' aff or no, ye canna prevent it I suppose—an' yet ye never fash your thoom aboot this money being chape, altho' it micht be worth something to get to the bottom o't. If I wis hauf as clever as you are, I wad never rest till I kent what it meant. Hooever, whatever it may be in London, it seems to be aye the same hereaboots, so we'll say nae mair aboot it, but jist sit intae the fire and hae anither 'gless o' toddy, and I'll gie ye a guess that oor minister gaed at a pairty I wis at the other nicht—

"Why is a wee bird sitting on a telegraph wire like a penny?" Noo what do ye think o' that ane? Could ye answer? No, I thocht no. It's a grey deep ane—because it's heid's on the one side and it's tail's on the ither.' It's no often ye hear as guid ane as that, Mr. M'Cunn."

A GERMAN told the truth by accident on a certain occasion, and it is barely possible that we might repeat his words. "You go right along," he said "until you come to a fence with a hole in it, then after a while you will come to a house with a great pig in the yard. Dot's me."

LAME BACK.—Lumbago, Kidney complaint, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all pain and inflammation are speedily cured with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Croup, sore throat, colds, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, chilblains and all wounds of the flesh are quickly healed by Yellow Oil.

THE Chinaman named "Ling Look," who has killed a boy at Brighton, England, by the careless use of a cannon in a stage feat, is well known in this country as a performer. He is a German, but shaves his head, wears a quene, and dresses in Chinese fashion, "all in the way of business."

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. DO NOT BE DECEIVED.—In these times of quack medicine everywhere, it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise, and which really does as recommended. Electric Bitters we can vouch for as being a true and reliable remedy, and one that will do as recommended. They invariably cure Stomach and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary difficulties. We know whereof we speak, and can readily say, give them a trial. Sold at 50 cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—3.

PREJUDICE KILLS.—"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Patients.—Telegram.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

An Important Industry.

During a recent visit to Messrs. Hall Bros.' establishment on Water Street, we found them busily employed making biscuits with their improved machinery, enabling them to turn out eight barrels a day. They were also making confectionary of all discriptions, and the packing rooms showed the active nature of their business. They have four teams constantly on the road, supplying goods from Newcastle as far north as Haliburton, and from Trenton to the west of Lindsay, a territory of a hundred miles square. They are also the largest dealers in cigars, both home and imported, in this section of the Province. Such an industry is a decided benefit to the town, and speaks highly for the enterprize of the firm.

Serious Accident.

We regret to learn that Mr. Edmund Chamberlain met with a somewhat serious accident yesterday afternoon. He was driving into town from his own house, when his horse shied at a log which had been left in the road, by someone who is hauling logs. The horse turned sharply round, dashed over a ditch and threw Mr. Chamberlain out. After lying for some time unconscious, he partially recovered and was able to get home, no one being present at the time of the accident to render assistance. He suffered intense pain, and it is thought that the collar bone is broken and some of the ribs dislodged. This morning he was somewhat easier.

Peterborough Ranger's Snow Shoe Club.

The first tramp of the season will take place to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, starting from the Drill Shed at 7.30 sharp. All old as well as new members are invited to be present. The club has on hand for this year's races a silver cup, presented by Lieut.-Col. J. Z. Rogers, and also the Lawyers' and Bankers' prize, contributed last year for a steeplechase. The snow-shoe tramp will take the place of the usual weekly drill of No. 1 Company.

The Weather.

Last night the thermometer fell to more than 30° below zero. To-day, though very cold, it is a trifle milder. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows.—Lakes—Fresh to stormy, north easterly to south easterly winds; increasing cloudiness; rising temperature, followed by snow to-night or to-morrow.

The Man for a New Country.

Mr. Calcutt has removed the machinery of the steamer King-Fisher to Hamilton's foundry to be overhauled. He intends taking it to St. Boniface, Manitoba, where he will place it in his brewery; he will also utilize it to run an oatmeal mill, broom factory and canoe manufactury, and if spreading ground can be obtained near his premises he will fix up his flax mill machinery.

Correction.

Owing to a mistake, the second and third prizes for best dressed lady at the carnival to take place on February 3rd, were omitted in the list on the bills. Prizes are as follows:—

1st, Silver Jewel Case, value, $8.
2nd, Japanese 5 o'clock tea set, $4.50.
3rd, Epergne, $3.

The prizes will be on exhibition in Mr. Wm. A. Sanderson's window on Thursday, 26th Jan.

Slippery Sidewalks.

To-day the sidewalks are again in a disgraceful state, pedestrians being driven to the middle of the road to find a sure footing. A shovelful of ashes as required by the by-law, would remove this inconvenience, but the town officials seem to have exhausted all their energy in looking aloft after the signs, and cannot see what is under their feet.

To the Public.

Mr. Allan H. Macdougall has associated himself with Mr. W. H. Cluxton in the insurance business, and may be found at Mr. Cluxton's office prepared to transact business with insurers in first-class companies.

County Council.

The County Council is now in session, having met at two o'clock this afternoon.

WATER FOR LIVE STOCK.

The importance of an abundant supply of water for the animals of the farm, at all times and under all circumstances, as an essential condition of the healthy and efficient performance of the functions of animal life, is two often entirely overlooked. The analyses of the carcass and offal of oxen, sheep, and pigs, made at Rothamsted, by Lawes and Gilbert, in their ivestigation of the composition of the increase of these animals, in fattening, shows that water constitutes more than one half the live weight of the animals of the farm, fat animals containing somewhat less, and lean animals considerably more. In man, phisologists estimate water to constitute from ⅔ to ¾ of the weight of the body. In the functions of nutrition and excretion, the water of the system performs an important part. The food taken into the stomach must be in soluble form before it can be taken up by the absorbents and transferred to the blood, which in its circulation throughout the body carries the elements of nutrition to the various tissues, where the material required for their particular use are appropriated. But this transformation of the food into substances that can be assimilated and made use of by the tissues, is not a simple one; it must be acted upon in its course through the organs of digestion by various fluid secretions from the time it is introduced into the mouth until it is received into the circulation.

The quantity of saliva secrected by animals, for instance, is surprising. Experiments by Lassaingo show that 100 lbs. of dry hay fed to a horse required a secretion of 400 lbs. of saliva; 100 lbs. of oats required a secretion of 113 lbs. of saliva; while 100 lbs. of green food required but 49 lbs. of saliva to prepare it for swallowing. Concentrated foods, like grain, therefore, seem to make a smaller demand upon the glands for the secretion of saliva, than the coarser foods like hay; and dry hay imposes a much greater tax upon the salivary glands than green feed. Green feed has not only an advantage over dry in the amount of saliva required to prepare it for digestion, but the reports of the German feeding experiments seem to indicate that it is much more readily digested. M. Colin estimates that saliva secreted by a horse when fed on dry food at 92.6 lbs. in 24 hours, and the quantity secreted by a cow under similar conditions at 123.5 lbs. in 24 hours. The saliva is, however, but one of the many secretions that are required to prepare the food for process of assimilation.

But from this enumeration of one of the leading activities of the animal economy, it must be seen that the amount of work performed by the internal organs of the body is not inconsiderable, even when the animal is apparently at rest, and that a supply of water to maintain the equilibrium of these fluids and keep them in proper proportion to the denser tissues, is of great importance.

It will also be readily seen that the supply of water should be constant, or at least frequently repeated, to secure uniformity in the fluidity of the blood and the various secretions. Water must be recognized as a food, and it should be given with the same regularity as other food. Magendie found that dogs, supplied with water alone, lived from six to ten days longer than those that were deprived of both food and water; so that water has undoubtedly an important function to perform in the system, aside from the dilution of other nutritious substances. The addition of green feed, in some form, to the winter ration of our farm animals, will be found advantageous for many reasons, and the amount of water required by them as drink will by this means be diminished.—American Agriculturist.

IRELAND.

THE Earl Kilmoney has been elected a representative peer of Ireland, in the room of Viscount Bangor, deceased.

THE average rent of land per acre in Ireland is three dollars per annum. This would make the rental of the island the round sum of $57,576,960; while the whiskey bill of the nation amounts to $96,115,510—the amount of rum over rent is $11,538,550.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J. D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

HAUNTED ME.—A Workingman says: Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged until one year ago, by the advice of my postor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost."—Christian Advocate.

BIG OIL STRIKE AT BOTHWELL.

A "Boom" in Oil Enterprises Already Manifested.

Quite a flutter of excitement has been caused in Bothwell by the strike of an excellent oil well by Messrs Robinson and Nash, of that town, which has peen pronounced to be the best strike since the "excitement." A large number of citizens have visited the well and are enthusiastic as to its capabilities, and further enterprises are already being talked of by the speculative inclined. As a good deal of scepticism has already been expressed regarding the oil producing capabilities of the Bothwell region this strike comes in rather opportunely to prove that there is an excellent show to encourage operators to try their fortune, and there is every reason to believe that further steps will shortly be taken to develop this undoubted latent wealth.

This well is on the property owned by Nash, Clarke & Son, and no well was ever known to have failed on it. Two of the "Company's Wells," in the "good old days," when oil flowed like water around Bothwell—there were two wells on this lot—yielding $7,000 profit each, and were only shut down when oil fell to such an absurdly low price that it did not pay to pump. Since that time those wells have gone to rack and ruin, but there is no doubt but heaps of the greasy fluid still remains to be extracted from the territory.

Mining in Hot Places.

If there are to be found anywhere in the world a set of human salamanders, we may claim the credit of having them here on the Comstock. What would scorch a man who lives wholly on the surface chills a miner inured to the heat of the lower levels. A miner who has been for some months past working in one of the hotest sections of the Comstock, a day or two since gave a reporter his experience of the heat which miners are often called upon to encounter. He says that in working at points where the thermometer marks a temperature of 115 to 120 degrees great thirst is experienced. No ice water is too cold too be swallowed with a relish. Men go to the water barrel in which huge chunks of ice are floating about, and with their picks chop up the ice in order that the water may be rendered colder by being filled with fine fragments. Often this does not satisfy them, and they chew and swallow lumps of ice.

The natural temperature of the human body—of the blood—is about ninety-eight degrees, Fahrenheit; therefore, when a man remains in a hot place for an hour, or even half an hour, his blood, and his whole body, become heated to a temperature of 115, 120 degrees, or whatever may be the temperature of the place in which he is at work. It is then that the miner begins to pour down ice water and eat ice. The strangest thing about the business is that it does not hurt any of the men. Often they swallow such quantities of the ice water that their stomachs will not retain it. All they do on such occasions is to swallow more of the same water, but more cautiously.

When the men are working in extremely hot places the temperature of the place to which they come to cool off—the cooling-off station—is probably one hundred degrees. This temperature—which would almost roast a surface man—appears cold to a man who has come from a place where the thermometer marks 110 to 115 degrees. In a place where the temperature is ninety the man will feel so cold as to shiver. Often at the cooling-off station, where the temperature is 100, the perspiration will cease and the man wil begin to feel very uncomfortable. On leaving and going back to where the temperature is from 115 to 120, as the perspiration begins to start, there is for a minute or two an intolerable itching over the whole body. As each closed pore re-opens it produces a tickling sensation. However, as there is a free flow of perspiration all this trouble ceases, and the man feels quite comfortable and so remains until his whole body—blood, flesh, and bones—again reach a temperature of from 110 to 120, when he becomes wild for ice water and ice. It is not a little strange—when we consider that ninety-eight degrees is the natural temperature of the blood—that serious results do not follow exposure to a degree of heat almost sufficient to cook the blood in the viens.—Virginia City (Nev.) Enterprise.

Bearing Its Fruit.

The Orillia Packet says:—

"Our Reform friends in Mara have carried out the instructions contained in Mr. Blake's "private and confidential" circular to his followers, so far. While admitting that Mr. Wm. McPhee has fulfilled the duties of Assessor faithfully and well, and some even stating their hope of seeing him restored to the position next year, they have succeeded by petition to the Council, in getting another appointed Assessor for this year. It may be all right, but taken in connection with Mr. Blake's exceedingly suggestive circular, it looks as if there is to be some "whispering." At all events, our friends will do well to see that, neither by accident nor design, any Conservative voters shall be omitted from the list, and that there be no opposition votes manufactured. It is stated that the gentleman named for Assessor, feeling the anomalous position in which his appointment under such circumstances places him, thinks of declining to act. This goes to show that he, at least, is honest and possessed of right feelings, and since "the Conservative must not be appointed this year," this indicates that the Council has made a judicious selection, among those politically eligible. We therefore hope he will act."

ENGLAND.

THE army of the Duke of Waldeck, whose daughter Prince Leopold is about to marry, contains one hundred men.

FROM the new catalogue of the National Portrait Gallery of London, it appears that the collection comprises nearly 700 faces of men and women belonging to all periods of English history, the earliest being that of Robert, Duke of Normandy, who died in 1134.

THE so-called gold axe of KingKoffee of Ashantee, recently sent to Queen Victoria, has been deposited, at the Queen's order, in the museum at South Kensington. It is not a beautiful thing to look upon, nor is there so much gold about it as its name would imply.

AT a meeting of the General Committee on the 3rd inst.—the Prince of Wales in the chair—it was announced that £3,350 had already been subscribed to the Dean Stanley memorial. It was resolved to entrust the execution of the recumbent figure in Henry VII. Chapel to Mr. Boehm, A. R. A.

LIVERPOOL has a ship stationed in her harbour whose mission it is to reform the young vagabonds that grow up in that city, Manchester, and other northern towns. During the past year two men who were reformed and educated on board this vessel were appointed to command large merchant ships, and seven were made chief officers.

THE Marquise of Huntly, who is wanted at the Mansion House on a charge of fraud, had an estate of 85,900 acres, with a rent-roll of £20,000. He married the daughter of a wealthy Lancashire banker, and yet at 34 years of age he is in evident distress. Of course it is the old, old story. He has only gone the same road as the Marquis of Hastings, the Earl of Aylesford, and half-a-dozen other aristocratic patrons of the turf.

SCOTLAND.

THE military authorities have under consideration a proposal to build a barracks on the west side of Inchkeith.

MR. WM. DONALDSON, retired baker, Buckie, who died last week, has left £250 to purchase a town clock for Buckie.

THE Duke of Sutherland has subscribed £100, and the Marquis of Stafford £50, to the Mansion House fund for Defence of Property in Ireland.

PROFESSOR HUXLEY has been offered the professorship of natural history in the University of Edinburgh. It is worth about £2000 a year.

IT has been definitely ascertained that the number of trees uprooted by the gale of October 14th in the Tyninghame policies and woods amount to ten thousand.

ON the 27th Dec. Mr. Wm. Glass, gamekeeper to Mr. Hunter, shot at Mickera, Gleniff, a bird with the head and tail of a pheasent, while the breast and feet are those of a blackcock.

THE sum of £30 has just been received by the Burgh Parochial Board, Paisley, from an old woman who, as a foundling, became chargeable to the parish from the year 1808 to 1812.

WONDERS will never cease. The Glasgow Free Church Presbytery has agreed to overture the General Assembly in favour of the introduction of instrumental music in public worship.

THE financial ruin of the Marquis of Huntly, Premier Marquis of Scotland, seems to be as thorough as that of the late Marquis of Hastings. His eldest brother is M. P. for Huntingdom.

MR. D. W. STEVENSON, A. R. S. A., has been awarded the third place in the competition for the sculpture for Blackfriars Bridge, London. His subject is, "India Visits Britain." The cost of each group is to be £6,000.

A LIST is published of nine farms in East Lothian of the aggregate rental of £10,535, which have just been re-let at £7,364. Yet East Lothian is acknowledged to be, perhaps, the best cultivated county in Scotland.

EX-PROFESSOR Robertson Smith has been ordained an elder of the Free High Church, and another row has arisen through his qualification that he only adhered to the subordinate standards in so far as they agreed with Scripture.

THE frost was so intense on the 23rd Dec. that many persons were skating around the margin of Locbleven, but a decided thaw set in the next day, and heavy rain fell, so that the streams came down in full flood, and many acres were under water.

A MOUND in the Gala policies near Galashiels has been opened, and the supposition confirmed that it was connected with the ancient sun worship. Distinct traces of artificial formation were found, and at some depth there was found a quantity of charcoal.

ON the 22nd Dec. a shock of earthquake, accompanied by a deep growling noise, proceeding from north to west, was felt throughout the entire length and breadth of the parish of Laggan. Houses shook, slates rattled, and plates and other dishes fell from the walls.

THE Relief Committee of the City of Glasgow Bank has relieved 948 cases—of parties who were ruined by its failure. These individuals had held among them stock to the extent of £536,000, and surrendered property valued at £3,000,036. The relief consisted mainly in the purchase of annuities.

ON the 24th Dec., by invitation of the Duchess of Argyll, a number of the inhabitants of Inveraray proceeded to the Castle, where a magnificent Christmas tree had been fitted, the sight of which, when lighted up, excited great admiration. They were well treated, and the young folks received numerous presents.

A REMARKABLE CURE.—From Lewis Phelps of West Townsend, Vt.—"Several years since I took a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, where it remained without relaxation. I was then in Massachusetts; and growing worse and becoming unbale to attend to my business, I returned home, and commenced searching in earnest for some medicine which would restore my lost heath. I consulted physicians, I tried many remedies, but obtained no help, but daily grew worse. I had a terrible cough, and raised a good deal of blood. I had profuse night sweats and severe pain in my side. I continued in this state for months, and became so weak that it was with great difficulty I could walk, when I was advised to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and to my great joy I soon found that this remedy had arrested the disease. I continued to use the Balsam to the extent of five bottles, and have since then experienced no difficulty of the lungs. I believe the Balsam saved my life, and I shall ever hold it in high estimation." 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

"MAKE THE ROLL RIGHT!"

—Edward Blake.

The Montreal Gazette has the following editorial on Mr. Blake's circular, and the falsehoods of the Reform journals in reference to it:—

"The Franco-Canadien goes the whole hog when it has a point to make. Referring to the political circulars which have recently been issued by the Conservative leaders and Mr. Blake respectively, it tells us that "the circular of Mr. Blake containing only proper recommendations, was given to the public without hesitation by the Liberal press." As a matter of fact it was only published by the Liberal press after a copy having been obtained; it was published in substance by the Peterborough REVIEW, and in full by the Ottawa Citizen. It was sent out as a private and confidential circular, for the eye of the faithful only, and one can hardly wonder at this, when we reflect that it recommended the Clear Grit associations to capture the assessors, and get the rolls made right while in his hands, in other words to induce an officer sworn to perform the simple duty of assessing property, without reference to politics, to become the agent, in the performance of his work, of a political cabal. A more monstrous suggestion was certainly never made by a political leader."

A GRAND SUCCESS.

The Montreal journal Canada First, which is certainly not a supporter of the administration of Sir John Macdonald, says:—THE London Advertiser asserts that the N. P. is a failure and that its most ardent supporters, cannot avoid admitting it. If the London Advertiser owned property in Montreal where three years ago 2,000 houses were vacant, it would realize the fact that the N. P., far from being a failure, is a grand success, and were it not for the numerous manufactures springing up in our midst landlords, would suffer terrible in this city. The refineries alone give work to 800 employees.

The Tea and Coffee Duties.

MONTREAL, Jan. 21.—The deputation appointed to wait upon Sir Leonard Tilley regarding the question of abolishing the duties on tea and coffee, returned from Ottawa yesterday morning and report having met with a most cordial reception from the honourable gentleman. They found, however, that it was impossible to make the proposed change until the House met, but some means will in all probability be devised whereby the question will be settled in the early days of the session, without waiting until the budget is brought down, as customary. The matter of rebate was also discussed, but it was found that serious difficulties stood in the way of carrying out the suggested alteration; but it was agreed that arrangements would be made at once to allow any number of packages to be taken out of bond without regard to the customary limit of duty for ex-warehouse entries, which is $20. This will no doubt be a great convenience to the whole trade, as country merchants are buying only in very small quantities.

MADRID, Jan. 24.—In the Petiro park a very unusual and touching sight was witnessed on Thursday. The King and Queen were taking their afternoon drive when, just at the entrance of the park, they met a parish priest carrying the viaticum. Their Majesties at once alighted and followed with their equerries and servants, the whole party carrying lighted tapers, and the King walking bareheaded. The priest led them as far as a humble house in one of the poorer Madrid suburbs near the Bull Ring, where a man lay dying of small-pox. Their Majesties waited patiently while the sacrament was administered, and, having left alms for the sorrow stricken family of the deceased, walked back with the priest to the parish church, this time followed by hundreds of people of rank whom they met on the way, and accompanied by the blessings of the bystanders.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Sixty or seventy persons visited the jail on Sunday to see Guiteau. most of these merely glanced at the prisoner, who, arrayed in his court suit, was seated at a table in the cell and busily engaged in sorting, reading and answering about three hundred letters. He shook hands with those who went in and were introduced, but was not in a talkative mood being busily interested in his mail. On the table were two large piles of unread letters, while on the floor was a wicker basket full of those he had answered. As Guiteau was not disposed to talk, the visitors who spoke to him said but a few words, and ended these with a request for autographs which he furnished willingly and in unlimited numbers. His brother was present a good while.

ASSESSORS AND THEIR DUTIES.

In view of the fact that the right to vote is based upon the assessments made for municipal purposes, and also that two general elections are likely to be decided by those who will be entitled to vote in accordance with the assessment returns for the current year, it is not surprising that both political parties are preparing to watch with more than ordinary care the performance of a work which has undoubtedly been used, although we do not think to the extent some would have us believe, to disfranchise good votes, and enfranchise bad ones, simply for the purpose of gaining a party advantage, or undesirable that we should call attention to the responsible duties which devolve upon those who accept the position of assessor.

Although somewhat long, we think in setting before the reader the duties of assessors, bearing upon the point under consideration, we cannot do better than quote very freely from the Statute itself. Under the heading of duties of assessors we find it declared that "the assessor or assessors shall prepare all assessment rolls in which, after diligent enquiry, he or they shall set down according to the best information to be had:—

1.—The names and surnames in full, if the same can be ascertained, of all taxable persons resident in the municipality, etc.—Sec. 12.

2.—And of all non-resident owners who have given notice (in writing, setting forth his full name, place of residence and post office address, to the clerk of the municipality on or before the thirtieth day of January in each year, that he owns such land, describing it), and required their names to be entered on the roll.—See sec. 3 and 12.

3.—When the land is owned or occupied by more persons than one, and all their names are given to the assessor, they shall be assessed therefor in the portions belonging to or occupied by each respectively.—Sec. 19.

4.—Every farmer's son bona-fide resident on the farm of his father or mother at the time of the making of the assessment roll, and who has not been temporarily absent more than four out of the preceding twelve months, shall be entitled to be, and may be entered, rated, and assessed on such roll, in respect of such farm, in manner following:—

1—If the father is living, and either the father or mother is the owner of the farm, the son or sons may be entered, rated and assessed, etc.

2—If the father is dead, and the mother is the owner of the farm and a widow, the son or sons may be entered, etc.—See sec. 20.

5.—All residents of the municipality, at the date of the election, who have continuously resided therein since the completion of the last revised assessment roll therefor, and who are in receipt of an income of not less than $400.—See sec. 76 M.A.

From the foregoing extracts from the Statutes it will be observed that the duties of assessors are so set before him that he who reads may easily understand his duty, and these duties are no matter of choice. He shall make diligent enquiry, and after this diligent enquiry he is to act in accordance with the result, and not in accordance with the instructions of any Grit or Tory self appointed committee. And not only does the law in the most positive manner require him to carry out the instructions contained in the Statute, but before he enters on the duties of his office he has to take a solemn declaration (or oath) that he "will truthfully, faithfully and impartially to the best of his knowledge and ability, execute its duties." We cannot believe with such things as these staring them in the face, that the number of assessors who will willfully violate their instructions and oath of office is numerous, although we are unwillingly obliged to confess that we have too much reason to believe that some have done so. For instance, only recently our attention was called to a voters' list, which showed on the face of it that sons of farmers who were only tenants were over and over again put on the list under the Farmer's Son Clause, notwithstand that the statute is explicit that only the sons of owners shall be so rated. Of course where this was done, whether it was done willfully or through ignorance, one need not expect that much attention had been paid to the law in other respects, in fact one might expect that that assessor was a law unto himself.

If the self appointed committees which are supposed to be at work all over the country just now, would turn more of their attention to making the assessors do their duty in accordance with the statute, and less of it to making him act the part of a partizan, in defiance of his declaration of office, it would be much better for the country. What we want is an honest and fair voters' list. We are willing to trust our cause to a fair field and no favor. Neither can it be said that a way of punishing the Assessor who fails in the performance of his duty is wanting. The same statute from which we have been quoting also provides that "If any clerk or assessor makes any unjust or fraudulent assessment, or copy of any assessor's roll, or wilfully and fraudulently inserts therein the name of any person who should not be entered, or fraudulently omits the name of any person who should be entered, or wilfully omits any duty required of him, he shall on conviction thereof before a court of competent jurisdiction be liable to a fine not exceeding $200, and to imprisonment until the fine is paid, in the common gaol of the county or city, for a period not exceeding six months, or to both such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the court." Even this is not all, because even if the Court should take a merciful view of the case, and to find it neither wilful or fraudulent, there is another section which imposes a fine not exceeding $100 on those assessors and clerks who refuse or NEGLECT to peform any duty required of them. If one half of what is said about the manner in which our assessments are made is true, there is evidently a rich field "for fines" open to any one who will take the trouble to bring our assessors to book, and if those who charge these officials with crookedness are not prepared to prosecute they should keep silent. We presume it is not even now too late to call those who have done wrong to account for last year's misdeeds, if not, one or two examples of fines imposed would do more to secure, not a one-sided but an honest assessment in 1882, than anything else that possibly could be done.

THE "GLOBE" PLATFORM.

The Toronto World has the following terse descriptions of the Globe's self-contradictory platform:—

"After a good deal of changing of base the Globe appears to have settled down on these two planks on which to go to the country in '83: (1) although a few manufacturers may have benefitted, the country at large is no better off than before the tariff, and in fact the times are bad, (2) the good times are not in any way due to the N. P., and the manufacturers are all suffering because of it."

CLERK AND TREASURER.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I am much obliged to you for sending me, as requested, a copy of your editorial condemning the practice of one person holding the two offices of clerk and treasurer of a municipality, which appeared in the Review in May, 1880, my reference to which your Lakefield correspondent misrepresents in last week's issue.

What I stated was that I approved of the editorial refered to above, and that frauds have been discovered in Brockville and elsewhere since.

By inserting the above you will oblige,

Yours truly,

J. C. SHERIN.

Lakefield, Jan. 24th, 1882.

LAKEFIELD SCHOOL.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I have been informed by several persons that an opinion prevails among a number of ratepayers of this place, that when approached some time since by the Chairman of the board of P. S. Trustees, with regard to a reduction of my salary as teacher, I had intended making that reduction had I not been advised to act otherwise. I wish to state, in justification of all concerned, that I did not consult with or receive any advice from any person, outside of the School Board, either directly or indirectly, with regard to my salary, nor did I even give an opportunity to any one (except the Board) to offer such advice until I had given my decision to the chairman. I did not at any time think of accepting a reduction, and if any misapprehension was possible it must have arisen from my not giving an answer at once to the chairman. My hesitation, however, arose not from any indecision with regard to the reduction, but as to whether it would or would not be most prudent for me to place my resignation in the hands of the board.

Arrival of the Governor-General in Ottawa.

(Special to the Witness.)

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—The Marquis of Lorne arrived hear at 11.50, having made the run from Prescott in an hour and a half. The entire run of 1,022 miles from Halifax to Ottawa was made in forty-three hours and fifty minutes, which is remarkably good time considering the delays experienced owing to the roads being blocked by yesterday's storm. He was met at the St. Lawrence & Ottawa station by all members of the Government in town and commanding officers of the various militia corps of the city. It is was intended that he should be received by guard of honor from the Governor-General's Foot Guards and Princess Louise Dragoons, but owing to the intense cold they did not turn out. For this reason the presentation of the civic address was postponed to some other occasion. He was received, however, with a royal salute of 21 guns by the Ottawa Field Battery. His Excellency shook hands with all those who had assembled to welcome him, and at once drove to Rideau Hall. He appears to be in excellent health, and states that he enjoyed his trip to the old country immensely.

(Press Despatch.)

It is natural to suppose that His Excellency's guests will not be very favourably impressed with their first experience of a Canadian snowstorm. But as the season wears on they will doubtless come to the conclusion that Canada is not after all the cold and inhospitable country it is supposed to be by the inexperienced. It is understood that a round of festivities will begin at the Government House with the opening of Parliament, Lady Balfour doing the honors in the absence of the Princess. Two ball balls and numerous dinner parties are on the tapis. It is generally believed that the season at the Capital will be an unusually gay one, so much so infact that many American families of note have signified their intention to winter here. Many Canadian families outside of political circles are also negotiating for accommodation at the new Palace hotel.

WESTWOOD.

Fire.—The residence of Mr. John Caldwell, was completely destroyed by fire on Saturday afternoon. The fire had gained such headway before discovered that it was impossible to save any of the contents. It originated from some wood piled near the stove in the kitchen. Loss $1,000; insurance, $400.

LINDSAY.

Abuse of Office.—There are many remarks of the unfairness of the proceedings of Mr. Matthie, the License Inspector, who is dealing largely in cigars. It is easy to understand that the hotel keepers can hardly refuse to give him orders however unwillingly, and how impossible it is for other dealers to compete with him. It is a scandal that such a use should be made of a public office.

If you are Bilious, take Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," the original "Little Liver Pills." Of all druggists.

"Don't Give up The Ship" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

A Good Preventative for Fevers, Ague and Bilious Disorders is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters a strictly vegetable preparation. They Tone the system, purify the Blood and increase the appetite, and render those taking them almost proof against disease, Should be used in every case instead of pills. J. D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

Never Neglect a Cough or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

Free of Charge.—All persons suffering from Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, or any other affection of the Throat or Lungs, are requested to call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store and get a trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, free of charge, which will convince them of its wonderful merits and show what a regular sized bottle will do. Call early.—3.

Had Suffered Many Physicians and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

By the use of Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites the nerves becomes reinforced in strength, the stomach is made capable of digesting the food, the food changes to blood, the heart becomes strengthened to pump the blood, the lungs distribute and oxidise the blood, healthy blood displaces unhealthy muscle and tubercolous matter, the patient becomes vigorous, and then by using his constitution as intended by a beneficient Creator, he may live up to the ripe old age, when, like the corn ready for the harvest, he drops for the husk.

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

The Assassin's Address to the Jury—A Remarkable Exhibition of Nerve.

WASHINGTON, Jan 21.—Upon entering the Court-room to-day Guiteau took a seat in the witness-box, remarking as he laid out his papers, "I sit down because I can speak better, not that I am afraid of being shot. This shooting business is getting played out."

At an intimation from Judge Cox the prisoner carefully arranged his glasses, and with a flourish began to read from manuscript as follows:

"The prosecution pretend that I am a wicked man. Mr. Scoville and Mr. Reed think I am a lunatic, and I presume you think I am. I certainly was a lunatic on the 2nd of July, when I fired on the President and the American people generally, and I presume you think I was. Can you imagine anything more insane than my going to that depot and shooting the President of the United States? You are here to say whether I was sane or insane at the moment I fired that shot. You must say, by your verdict, sane or insane, at the moment the shot was fired. If you have any doubt of my sanity at the moment, you must give me the benefit of that doubt and acquit. That is, if you have any doubt whether I fired that shot, or as the agent of the Deity. If I fired it on my own account I was sane. If I fired it supposing myself the agent of the Deity, I was insane, and you must acquit. This is the law as given in the recent decision of the New York Court of Appeals. It revolutionizes the old rules, and is a grand step forward in the law of insanity. It is worthy of this age of railways, electricity and telephones, and it well come from the progressive State of New York. I have no hesitation in saying that it is a special providence in my favor, and I ask the court and jury so to consider it. Some of the best people of America think me the greatest man of the age, and this feeling is growing. They believe in my inspiration and that Providence and I have really saved the nation another war. My speech, setting forth in detail my defence, was telegraphed Sunday to all the leading papers and published Monday morning, and now I am permitted by His Honor to deliver it to you."

He then explained to the jury that his speech opened with a quotation from his Christmas greeting to the American people, and in using it for the opening of his speech to the jury he had neglected to cut out this date, "Christmas 1881." After thanking his counsel, and paying a very high compliment to the zeal and ability which Mr. Scoville had displayed—whom he proposed soon to reward with a very liberal fee—he extended his grateful acknowledgements to the Court, the jury, officers and bailiffs, and last but not least, to the American press. The latter were a power that generally crushed a man when they got down on him first, but when they knew his motives they changed their views, and now they were treating him very fairly.

With this introduction, the prisoner took up a newspaper and proceeded to read to the jury his published speech. His manner, to the casual observer, seemed as completely self-possessed as usual, but behind the ostentatious affectation of composure there was an intensity of feeling that was only held in control through the undoubted strength of will and nerve which the prisoner has shown all the way through. His excitement was betrayed by a slight hectic spot high up on each cheek of his usually colorless face, and by the unusual deliberation with which he began and for some time continued to speak. Whether this excitement was from the merely superficial effect upon his emotions naturally incident to the occasion, or whether it proceeded from a deeper and more overpowering influence, the true realization of his position, an almost convicted murderer pleading for his life, it were difficult to devine. Whatever the origin or character of the feeling, it finally gained the ascendancy over his powers of control, and as he reached that of the speech "I have always served the Lord, and whether I live or die"—he broke down completely, stopped, tried to choke down the rising lump in his throat, but found it impossible to keep back a genuine sob. Taking out his handkerchief, he buried his face in it for a few seconds, wiped his eyes, and with a determined effort, started on again. He seemed to recover his composure so quickly that some believed the whole effort was manufactured. His sister, Mrs. Scoville, however, apparently thought otherwise. She was deeply affected, and wept and sobbed bitterly for some minutes. After this incident Guiteau continued to read, occasionally adding brief comments upon the text.

As he proceeded with the reading, all appearance of nervousness gradually wore off, and with the utmost composure, and an unction that bordered upon the ludicrous, the prisoner read on, with an attempt at every conceivable form of oratorical, rhetorical and dramatic effect. His description of the taking off of the President was given with striking effect. At times he closed his eyes or turned them heavenward, waved his body back and forth, sank his voice to a whisper, or raised it to a high treble. At times the intensity of his utterances seemed to react upon himself, but the effect was but transitory, and, with the exception of the one instance noted, there was no other indication of breaking down. At frequent intervals he paused to emphasize some sentence or sentiment by repeating it or commenting upon it. At one time pausing he leaned toward the jury, and, emphasizing with his head and hands, said with an attempt at great solemnity of utterance:—"I tell you, gentlemen, just as sure as there is a God in Heaven, if you harm a hair in my head, this nation will go down in blood. You can put my body in the grave, but there will be a day of reckoning."

Guiteau concluded his address at 12.15, and upon an announcement by Col. Corkhill that Judge Porter would be unable to speak to-day, the Court adjourned until Monday.

Boys and Thimbles.

No man can, like the writer, live sixty years, without often wishing he had learned to use a sewing-thimble well in his early boyhood, especially if he has gone about the world much. Buttons will come off, stitches will break, and how handy it is for boys at school, for a man at a hotel, at a friend's house, indeed anywhere away from home—often at home—to be able to whip on a button, stop a starting rent, and do many others little sewings, without calling on a woman, or perchance sending for a tailor, before being able to appear at a hotel table. One seldom, if ever, learns to use a thimble, if this part of his education has been neglected in small boyhood. The writer has travelled a good deal, and at a rough guess he has broken threads at least five hundred times in attempting to work a needle through a button or garment without a thimble. Boys, take our advice, and every one of you learn to use a thimble well before you grow up. Do it this winter; it is not feminine to do so. Do it, and if you live long you will many times thank us for this advice.—American Agriculturist.

FROM ALL OVER.

THE panic on the Paris Bourse still continues. A considerable number of Peter's Pence shares are reported in the wreck.

LOUIS RIEL, well known in connection with the Red River insurrection, and now an exile from the country, is reported to be in the vicinity of Willow Creek, Montana.

NOT a single bushel of 72,000,000 of grain sent to Europe from New York last year went in an American ship. In 1880 about 1 per cent. of the shipments was by American vessels.

AS AN instance of the renewed interest now felt by old France in its wholesome colony we are glad to learn, that by a recent order of the Prefect of Police, one of the streets of Paris has been named Rue du Canada.

TIMELY WARNING.—Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping coughs, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

YOUNG, MIDDLE AGED, OR OLD MAN, suffering from nervous debility and kindred weaknesses, should send two stamps for large treatise, giving successful treatment. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

AN electric light machine drew many visitors at Louisville, and they intruded upon the workmen in an evasperating way, wholly disregarding the "no admission" placard. By hitching wires to the metal door-knob, and turning on a powerful current, the men secured the desired seclusion, and the intruders were dreadfully shocked.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I have advised many ladies to try your "Favorite Prescription" and never see it fail to do more than you advertise. Yours truly, MRS. A. M. RANKIN, 141 Bates Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

LAME BACK.—Lumbago, Kidney complaint, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all pain and inflammation are speedily cured with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Croup, sore throat, colds, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, chilblains and all wounds of the flesh are quickly healed by Yellow Oil.

MR. ASHMEAD BARTLETT BURDETT-COUTTS was waited upon recently by the secretary of a Southern Conservative Association, and asked if he would be their candidate upon the occurrence of an early vacancy. Mr. Burdett-Coutts replied hat he had already twelve applications for the general election, to some of which he had given a definite response, but in the event of an early vacancy he would be free to consider the matter.

"ATLAS" says:—"At the Governor gallery I observed a young man with unmistakable rouge upon his cheeks. I am told that the fashion of making up the complexion is by no means unknown among our gilded youth. While young women imitate men in the masculinity of their attire, empty-headed young men perhaps deem it advisable to endeavour to maintain the true balance of things by making their faces resemble those of the girls.

MR. CHILDERS, SECRETARY OF WAR, gives out that the Government will pursue unflinchingly their Irish policy, and will only interfere with debate in Houes of Commons to the extent of preventing useless talk. There is no real danger to freedom of speech involved in judicious checking of interminable talk against time. The enforcement of traditionary rules of liberty which would hinder the ascertaining and carrying out of the people's wishes, though a majority of their representatives after fair debate, would be a more serious breach of popular liberties than would be the checking of palpable attempts to turn constituional defences into positions of assault against the national will.—Witness.

Tony Pastor owns and runs a first-class theatre on Broadway, New York City, and has gathered about him the best troupe of variety artists that could be obtained anywhere. The company has just completed a brilliant engagement at the Walnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, and after the present tour they will reappear in Tony Pastor's own theatre in New York City. Mr. Pastor is the originator of his peculiar school of character singing, and has made himself immensely popular, having realized by his talents a large fortune.

The writer of this article met Mr. Pastor recently at the Bingham House, in Philadelphia, and found him as genial in private as he is amusing before the public. During our conversation I enquired as to his physical health, and he replied that, notwithstanding the strain on him in the discharge of his professional duties, it was excellent. He had occasionally severe pains, either the result of rheumatic attacks or colds, but any complaints of that character never troubled him long, as he had found out a remedy for all such annoying affections. I asked him what the remedy was, and he replied, "St. Jacob's Oil." I then learned from Mr. Pastor that he considered the Great German Remedy an excellent preparation for the cure or relief of rheumatism, and that it was about the only thing used among professional people for that distressing complaint. He took bottles of it with him whenever he went travelling, and would not be without it, and knew that it was very popular with a number of members of his own company. A conversation held subsequently with various members of the organization revealed the fact that St. Jacob's Oil had been performing most invaluable service for them in the war of curing them of rheumatism. Nearly every artist in the troupe used it, and was enthusiastic in its praise, and the writer was really forced to the conclusion that Tony Pastor was certainly in luck in having so valuable an article known and employed by his intimately good company of performers, for it enabled every one to be always in his place, thus insuring comfort to the management and genuine satisfaction to the public. Tony Pastor would certainly be in trouble without St. Jacob's Oil. At least, other managers whose artists have been temporarily unsupplied, have noticed the difference between St. Jacob's Oil in stock and St. Jacob's Oil out of stock—among the members of the companies.—N. Y. Clipper.

How Voltaire Cured his Decaying Stomach.

In the "Memoirs of Count Segar," there is the following anecdote: "My Mother, the Countess de Segur, being asked by Voltaire respecting her health, told him that the most painful feeling she had arose from decay in her stomach and the difficulty of finding any kind of aliment that it could bear. Voltiare, by way of consolation, assured her that he was once for nearly a year in the same state, and believed to be incurable, but that, nevertheless, a very simple remedy had restored him. It consisted in taking no other nourishment than yolks of eggs beaten up with the flour of potatoes and water." Though this circumstance concerned so extraordinary a person as Voltaire, it is astonishing how little it is known and how rarely the remedy has been practiced. Its efficacy, however, in cases of debility, cannot be questioned, and the following is the mode of preparing this valuable article of food as recommended by Sir John Sinclair: Beat up an egg in a bowl, and then add six teaspoonfuls of cold water, mixing the whole well together; then add two tablespoonfuls of farina of potatoes; let it be mixed thoroughly with the liquid in the bowl; then pour in as much boiling water as will convert the whole thing into a jelly, and mix it well. It may be taken alone or with the addition of a little milk in case of stomachic debility or consumptive disorders.

FOR EMIGRANTS.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS, OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON, COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase and pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an Acre.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE MUNICIPALITIES OF COUNTY PETERBOROUGH.

H. Collins, Esq., Reeve of North Monaghan, Elected Warden of the County of Peterborough for the Year 1882.

The CLERK called the Council to order and asked for nominations for Warden.

ELECTION OF WARDEN.

Moved by Mr. LANG, seconded by Mr. OLIVER,—That Mr. Collins be elected Warden for the current year.

No other nominations being made, the clerk declared Mr. Collins unanimously elected.

Mr. COLLINS having taken the oath of office, was conducted to the chair by his mover and seconder, and returned thanks in a few suitable words for the honor conferred upon him.

The minutes of the last day of last session were read and confirmed.

APPOINTMENTS.

Moved by Mr. SANDERSON, seconded by Mr. LANG,—That Mr. John J. Hall be appointed auditor for the current year.—Carried.

The WARDEN said that having heard no complaints against the other auditor of last year he would re-appoint Mr. F. J. Bell as one of the auditors for the current year.

Moved by Mr. PEARCE, seconded by Mr. BURNHAM,—That Messrs. Rorke, Golborne, Strickland, Sanderson, Lang, Moloney and the mover and seconder be a committee to strike the several standing committees for the year.—Carried.

On motion of Mr. GOLBORNE, seconded by Mr. LANG,—Mr. John Carnegie was appointed Sessional clerk.

On motion of Mr. GOLBORNE, the several communications in the hands of the Warden and Clerk were referred to the several committees to which they relate.

On motion of Mr. PEARCE the Council adjourned until 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

WEDNESDAY.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment. All the members were present.

The minutes of yesterday were read and confirmed.

The WARDEN read the following letter from Dr. Kincaid, M.P.P.:—

PETERBOROUGH, Jan. 25, 1882.

To H. Collins, Esq., Warden:

DEAR SIR,—Being informed that a medical man has taken the very extraordinary course of applying for my position as Jail Surgeon on the ground that my Parliamentary duties may interfere with my attendance upon the jail, I beg leave to inform the members of the County Council through you that I am in a position to render the same services I have always done, as I will be in Peterborough three days each week, and I have an able partner, Dr. Alexander, who will attend faithfully during the few days each week that I will be absent.

I remain, faithfully yours,

R. KINCAID.

—Referred to Committee on Appointments.

DEPUTY REEVES.

The WARDEN stated that his attention had been called by several members of the Council to the fact that there were doubts as to whether Douro was entitled to a Deputy Reeve or not.

Mr. E. B. EDWARDS explained the law on the matter, as to either Douro or Asphodel being entitled to Deputy Reeves under the Municipal Act.

On motion of Mr. BURNHAM, seconded by Mr. STRICKLAND,—The matter of the right of townships to have Deputy Reeves be referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Sanderson, Pearce, and Strickland, with power to call for papers, etc., and take legal advice thereon, and report at a future meeting of the Council.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. MOLONEY presented the following report of the Special Committee appointed to draft the several standing committees:—

COUNTY PROPERTY.—Messrs. Burnham, Sanderson, Stewart, Moloney, Crough, Burgess and Rork. Mr. Rork, Chairman.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.—Messrs. Lang, Crough, Kidd, Fitzgerald, Burgess, Welsh, Golborne, Mansfield, Strickland, Moloney, and Pearce. Mr. Lang, Chairman.

SCHOOLS.—Messrs. Moloney, Oliver, Pearce, Fitzgerald, Golborne, Stewart, Burgess and Crough. Mr. Moloney, Chairman.

FINANCE AND ASSESSMENT.—Messrs. Golborne, Strickland, Lang, Moloney, Burgess, Pearce, Burnham, Kidd, Rork, Crough and Sanderson. Mr. Golborne, Chairman.

PETITIONS.—Messrs. Mansfield, McCliggot, Stewart, Oliver and Welsh. Mr. Stewart, Chairman.

APPOINTMENTS TO OFFICE.—Messrs. Sanderson, Golborne, Welsh, Kidd, Oliver, Moloney, Crough, and Strickland. Mr. Sanderson, Chairman.

ON EQUALIZATION AND ASSESSMENT.—Messrs. Pearce, Lang, Moloney, Kidd, Burgess, Strickland, Burnham, Golborne, Rork, Sanderson and Crough. Mr. Pearce, Chairman.

—The report was adopted.

On motion of Mr. GOLBORNE a By-law confirming the appointment of Auditors was put through its several stages and passed.

COUNCILLORS' INDEMNITY.

On motion of Mr. PEARCE a By-law in accordance with the Municipal Act, fixing the per diem allowance for attendance at meetings of Council at $3.00, and travelling expenses at 10 cents per mile. In introducing the by-law, Mr. Pearce stated that the amount named in the By-law was the amount named in the statute, and was what was generally received throughout the province by county councillors and that it was to be remembered that while it might seem a somewhat large allowance for those in the immediate neighborhood of the town, it would no more than cover the expenses of those who came long distances.

Messrs. FITZGERALD and STRICKLAND, while not opposing the By-law, expressed themselves satisfied with matters as they were.

The By-law was accordingly put through its several stages and passed unanimously.

BORROWING POWERS.

On motion of Mr. GOLBORNE a By-law was passed authorizing the Warden and Treasurer to borrow from time to time such monies as may be required to meet current expenditure.

LAKEFIELD BRIDGE.

Mr. STRICKLAND called the attention of the Council to the inexpediency of placing the new iron bridge at Lakefield on the old wooden piers, and urged that the Council should even yet have stone piers placed thereunder.

Mr. SANDERSON explained that the committee had considered the propriety of erecting new piers as proposed by Mr. Strickland, but that they were deterred from taking any action on account of the estimated exxpense being in the neighborhood of $6,000.

The matter was referred to the Road and Bridge Committee.

THE POULTRY ASSOCIATION.

Mr. J. R. STRATTON, President of the Midland Poultry Association, appeared before the Council and presented them with tickets of admission to the exhibition of the Association, which was accepted.

The Council then adjourned until three o'clock, p.m.

The Poultry Show.

The annual exhibition of the Midland Central Poultry Association opened on Tuesday at the old Music Hall. The show is the best ever seen here, and surpasses that of many more pretentious societies. All the birds shown are first-class, and all the leading breeders of the province are represented. The sand hill crane, belonging to Mr. John Taylor, is an object of interest to all visitors, as it stalks around the room, apparently paying no attention to anything that may be going on. It was captured some 250 miles north of Winnipeg, and was brought here by Mr. W. J. Larmour, Mr. S. Butterfield, of Sandwich, Ontario, acted as judge and gave the best of satisfaction. The exhibition remains open this evening and all poultry fanciers should not fail to visit it. We will publish the prize list to-morrow.

A Surprising Charge.

A country journalist utters this mild protest: A doctor will sit down and write a prescription; time, five minutes; paper and ink, one-fourth of a cent; and the patient pays $1, $2, $5, $10; as the case may be. A lawyer writes ten or twelve lines of advice, and gets from $10 to $20 from his client. An editor writes a half-column puff for a man, pays a man from fifty cents to $1 for putting it in type, prints it on several dollars worth of paper, sends it to several thousand people, and then surprises the puffed man if he makes any charge.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED.—In these times of quack medicine everywhere, it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise, and which really does as recommended. Electric Bitters we can vouch for as being a true and reliable remedy, and one that will do as recommended. They invariably cure Stomach and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary difficulties. We know whereof we speak, and can readily say, give them a trial. Sold at 50 cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—3.

HAUNTED ME.—A Workingman says: Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged until one year ago, by the advice of my postor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost."—Christian Advocate.

PREJUDICE KILLS.—"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Patients.—Telegram.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anfone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

THE BURLESQUE ENDED.

C. J. Guiteau, Gen. Garfield's Assassin, found guilty.

THE CLOSING SCENES OF THE CELEBRATED CASE.

HOW THE PRISONER RECEIVED THE VERDICT OF THE JURYMEN.

They Agree After Fifty Minutes Consultation, and are Unanimous—Scenes and Incidents—Sayings and Doings of the Leading Characters—The very Latest.

Special to the Review, Jan. 26.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Judge Porter again addressed the jury to-day. The confusion was worse than at any other time during the trial. The prisoner was almost constant in his interruptions, and smarting under the dressing he received. At 3.15 Judge Cox, addressed the jury, going over the evidence in an exhaustive manner. As soon as he had finished the jury retired. At a quarter to five the prisoner asked permission to retire and was allowed to do so.

THE VERDICT.

Promptly at half-past five the prisoner was ushered back to his seat. The candle flames showed his face to be no paler than it had been all day. His eye was more fixed, and his whole manner carried out the determination not to break down. Presently the judge returned to the bench, Mr. Scoville took his old seat by the table, and counsel for the prosecution were also in their places. When the jury entered the twelve stolid faces that had defied interpretation during the trial still betrayed no signs, although their early return was taken as evidence of their decision. Foreman Hamlin, the clerk of the court, rose as soon as the panel had answered to their names.

The clerk asked the usual question, "Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon your verdict?"

"We have," said the foreman.

"Guilty as indicted?" asked the clerk.

"GUILTY AS INDICTED,"

replied the foreman.

Some one in the audience started applause, a cheer was heard in a corner, but it was quickly suppressed.

"If the court pleases," said Mr. Scoville, but he was interrupted by the clerk, who proceeded, saying, "Gentlemen of the jury, hear the verdict rendered as by your foreman, who says that you find the defendant, Charles J. Guiteau, guilty as indicted. So say you all?"

"So say we all," replied the jurymen in chorus.

Guiteau sat immovable, and uttered not a word.

Mr. Scoville desired to have the jury polled.

"John Hamlin," called the clerk.

"Guilty," came the response, and so on down through the panel, each one answering without hesitation the fatal word that made many shudder.

HOW THE PRISONER TOOK IT.

Among those who did not shudder, however, was the prisoner. He kept his position intact and as the twelfth juror answered he called out, in an ordinary tone of voice. "God's blood will be on the head of that jury. That's my answer to that."

AN APPEAL TO BE MADE.

Mr. Scoville said he desired to file a motion for a new trial.

The Court said he could have four days in which to do so.

Mr. Scoville then said he hoped that if there was any privilege he was entitled to at that time he should not be deprived of it, as he did not know the customs of the court.

Judge Cox told him a motion for arrest of judgment could also be filed within four days.

The court then turned to thank the jury, but Guiteau's voice was heard again. "God will avenge this outrage," said he, and that was all There was no further scene. The prisoner then prepared to go out. The court thanked the jury for their patience and attention, assured them they would take home with them the endorsement of their own consciences and of the public, and discharged them. They received the congratulations of many friends.

The prisoner was conducted up stairs again, and the court room was soon cleared.

GUITEAU "GUILTY."

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The Tribune says that during Porter's closing remarks yesterday, Guiteau took up from the floor a bundle of papers, expecting the Court to adjourn as Porter sat down, Scoville evidently wishing that the jury should not go out while still under the influence of his speech. He asked for an adjournment until to-day in order to prepare requests to the judge for charges. After some talk the decision was left to the jury. They consulted for a moment, and then the foreman said they would prefer to hear the charge now. This was to all present plainly an indication that the jury had agreed. Scoville resumed his seat with an air of deep dejection. Just before the assassin was brought down again to the court room he was told by the guards that the jury had found a verdict of "guilty."

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—A Washington special to the Sun says that Cox's charge swept away all cobwebs which the lawyers on each side had constructed. The jury would have been ready to return in five minutes after they left, if they had not thought it better to remain out a while longer.

STRUCK DUMB.

One of the officers said that he could not say anything. He was almost scared to death. The jury took two ballots. On the first, eleven votes were cast for conviction and one blank. This was given by Heimlein, who wanted to be assured that Guiteau had said that the notoriety he would gain by killing the President would

INCREASE THE SALE OF HIS BOOK.

This was proved to him and the next ballot showed twelve votes for "guilty." The trial lasted just seven days less than the agony of Garfield. The assassin was guarded from the court room to the van by twenty officers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The Times says that one of the jurors said last evening that there never was a moment since the evidence was complete when the jurors were not ready to render a verdict. He did not believe that the arguments of counsel one way or other upon the jurors. The jury, he said, had been absolutely ignorant of the drift of public opinion during the trial. They had not been at all impressed with the belief the unanimous opinion being that his insanity was shammed.

MADE ANY IMPRESSION

THAT GUITEAU WAS INSANE,

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The Herald says that day in Court was the stormiest of the whole trial. It is doubtful if the wisdom of allowing the was more completely justified on any other day than this. The conduct of the trial by Cox has the approval of most of the distinguished members of the bar of the district.

Marshall Henry says "I know that Mrs. Garfield lived in hope that the wretch

WOULD BE PRONOUNCED INSANE

by the jury. When Guiteau was taken to the Marshal's office, he declared that it would be impossible for the jury to agree, as there were men on the jury who knew he was inspired. "Why these men are not going to be governed by any idea of inspiration," remarked a bailiff. This displeased the prisoner, who earnestly replied, "You don't know what you say. You are talking about high-toned Christian gentlemen on that jury, who understand my case." After the jury returned to the Court-room, Guiteau's face expressed which was intensified as the foreman said, "guilty," as indicted. Scoville appeared surprised by the verdict. After the court adjourned Guiteau said, "Providence has not deserted me. The general term was especially constituted to help me out of this trouble." As Guiteau stepped from the van at the jail he was noticed to be depressed, but upon nearing the Warden's office, where his handcuffs were removed, he thanked the mounted policemen, also those driving, saying, "For your sake I am truly GLAD THE TRIAL IS OVER."

INDESCRIBABLE DESPAIR AND HORROR,

He stated, "The verdict was not a surprise to me. I saw Porter's remarks were having some weight with the jury. Cox's charge was fair from his stand-point, but he did not dwell heavily enough on the decision of the New York Court of Appeals. If he had done this I WOULD HAVE BEEN ACQUITTED.

I have no complaint. It will all come out right. I have not given up all hopes. I intend to go to court in 'Banc.' I think there is a good chance there for me. The Court in Banc will have to discuss the question of jurisdiction, and on this issue

I EXPECT A NEW TRIAL."

In his cell the assassin ate and drank sparingly. Two guards have been assigned to his cell to prevent an ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.

Guiteau stated that he had no fault to find with Scoville or Reed. They are both fine gentlemen and did the best they could, but their theory was wrong. Their defence was on the wrong line. The inspiration idea should have been

POUNDED INTO THE JURY'S HEAD.

Guiteau said that a prominent lawyer of Baltimore named Atkinson has volunteered to argue the question of jurisdiction before the court in "Banc." Guiteau said:—"It is appointed into all men to die and

NO MAN WILL DIE BEFORE HIS TIME.

No man can say to-day that he will be alive to-morrow. Clarkson N. Potter two weeks ago was attending my trial, to-day he is in his grave." The prisoner when told that it was best to be cheerful, said:—

"THAT'S GOOD ADVICE."

He said he was obliged to the Warden for assigning guards to his cell as they would be company, and he could talk a good deal with them. A juror, who it was said had insanity in his family, was counted by the assassin as sure to be on his side, It turns out that he was of Guiteau's sanity. Jno. Guiteau has no expectation or hope of a new trial for the assassin, or of delaying the case still further.

GUITEAU'S RELATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—At the Guiteau trial the prisoner said, "My sister has been doing some silly talk in Chicago. She means well, but she is no lawyer." Porter said that feeling that it was necessary that the case should be concluded as soon as possible, he would simply touch upon a few salient points of the evidence. Porter believed that John W. Guiteau was to contribute evidence and save his brother. At the last interview with his brother, Guiteau continually interrupted him.

I consulted physicians, I tried many remedies, but obtained no help, but daily grew worse. I had a terrible cough, and raised a good deal of blood. I had profuse night sweats and severe pain in my side. I continued in this state for months, and became so weak that it was with great difficulty I could walk, when I was advised to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and to my great joy I soon found that this remedy had arrested the disease. ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

THE debate on the address is still going on. Mr. Mowat admitted that he, had received from the Dominion Government some time since a practical proposition for the settlement of the boundry difficulty. Mr. Hardy denied the charge that he had added a sentence to a report of one of his officers, but admitted that he had omitted a paragraph. We pointed out a year ago that these paragraphs were omitted from a public document, because Mr. Hardy would not consent to attract emigrants by statements of the prosperity of the country for fear they should tell in favour of the N. P. and therefore garbled an official document. Mr. Neelon delivered a very strong protectionist speech and declared he would support Sir John Macdonald on this question.

WHATHASIT TO DO WITH THE FARMER!

"Mr. LAUDER—The working men were well employed, and at good wages.

Mr. HAY—What has the N. P. to do with that?

Mr. LAUDER said the hon. gentleman knew it had a great deal to do with it. In this city alone, to mention only one branch of industry, there were now five piano and organ factories, employing hundreds of men, where there was only one small one before the N. P.

Mr HAY—The N. P. did not do that.

Mr. LAUDER—Why, but for the National Policy these factories would not exist.

An HON. MEMBER—What has that to do with the farmer?"

We suppose where ignorance is bliss, it is folly to be wise. It would certainly be folly to attempt to knock anything into the head of "an Hon. Member" who does not understand the farmer to have any interest in the welfare of any class of the community except his own. According to this hon. member, apparently it would have "nothing to do with the farmer" if every city and town and village in the country and every factory and every mechanic in the country were wiped out of existence. As we have said, there is no use arguing against such senseless individuals, even though they may be "hon. members" but there is one question which we would like to ask of these people who profess to think and who ask: what has these things to do with the farmer? and it is this: where is the country in which the farmer (or any other class, for that matter) is prosperous, that is not a manufacturing country? We defy them to point out a prosperous agricultural population. that has not more or less mixed up with it a manufacturing population, go where they will. Will they accept the challenge?

McLAREN vs. CANADA CENTRAL R. R.

In the case of McLaren vs. The Canada Central Railway, for damages for lumber burnt by sparks from a locomotive, after a long trial the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing the damages at $100,000. Mr. Justice Osler then directed judgment for the plaintiff for $100,000, but the entry was not to be made until the fifth day after the next Hilary sitting. The following were the questions submitted to the jury by the judge, and the answers made:—

Q. How did the fire occur—from sparks or cinders cast out from the locomotive, or from some other cause?

A. We think the fire occurred from sparks cast by the locomotive.

Q. If you find that the fire was caused by fire cast out by the locomotive, did it come from the smoke-stack or the ash-pan?

A. From the smoke-stack.

Q. If you find that it came from the smoke-stack, was it from any imperfection in the construction of the stack, or from the way in which it was managed by those in charge of the train?

A. Imperfection in the stack.

Q. If you find that it was from any imperfection in the construction, state what the imperfection was. Was there anything too large, or was the opened or unfastened bonnet improper, or was the cone too close to the netting?

A. Cone too close to the netting.

Q. Would there be more substantial danger of fire from a bonnet provided with a mesh of the size used by the defendants than from that used by the Northern Railway, which appears to be the smallest in use?

A. Yes.

Q. Were the defendants, in your opinion, guilty of negligence in using such a mesh?

A. No.

Q. Was the plaintiff guilty of contributory negligence in piling his lumber so near the track, or by allowing sawdust to remain on it, or by not having sufficient appliances to extinguish fire? If the plaintiff was guilty of negligence, could the defendants, by the use of ordinary care and diligence, have prevented the injury?

A. Not as to piling the lumber, or as to the sawdust, but somewhat as to appliances. We think the defendants could have prevented the fire.

Q. What was the actual value of the lumber destroyed?

A. $100,000, including ties and rails.

Q. Do you allow anything for interest?

A. No.

Another question was then raised by Mr. McCarthy, and at the request of His Lordship the jury once more retired, this time to consider whether the bonnet-rim of the smoke stack fitted to the bed. They occupied fifteen or twenty minutes in discussing this question, and at a quarter to eleven o'clock returned for the third and last time to say that the bonnet-rim did not fit so completely as it should have done.

PETERBOROUGH ABROAD.

A Former Citizen Turns Smuggler and is Gaoled by Uncle Sam's Cops.

From the Bradford, Pa., Era of the 18th of January, we clip the following. The persons implicated are all well known here where they resided for years:—

Unfortunately the oil regions have had the reputation of sheltering every class of criminals from a sneak thief up, but it may be a surprise to many to learn that there are smugglers in our midst. At intervals during a month past, the presence of Dr. A. P. Heichhold, special agent of the United States Treasury Department, who is a resident of Brockville, Pa., has been noticed in our city, and it was a query to those who know the gentleman as to what was precise object of his visits. There are no customs houses in the territory of Oildom yet there might be an evasion of the customs and it was surmised that he might be looking into the history of some seal skin sacques, a number of which are strongly suspected to have been brought from Canada, without the duties being paid and which grace fair forms. The doctor being sounded on the subject, replied that while he knew the parties who had brought them over, he had not time at present to pay his respects to that class of offenders, but would leave them for future reference. Some thought the agent was after crooked whiskey men, but this was also denied.

Yesterday a case which has been patiently worked up for some time culminated in an arrest and the consequent exposure of a systematic scheme to defraud the Custom House. A Canadian farmer named William J. Barrie, living near Peterborough in the Queen's Dominion, was the owner of two teams of horses and wagons, which he concluded to bring to the oil regions in the hope of finding plenty of work. Knowing that the laws of the United States would only admit free of duty one team for each immigrant Barrie, in order to save an honest penny, induced his teamster, Robert T. Maicey, to go to the Custom House at Charlotte, N.Y., the port of landing for steamers from Port Hope, and swear that he was the owner of one of the teams and had owned and used them in Canada, whereupon they were admitted free of duty. Then the parties came to the Northern oil field, feeling secure and rather chuckling over the cute trick they had played on the customs officers. Through secret agents in the employ of the government purchases made in foreign countries and brought into the United States are pretty certain to be found out sooner or later and reported to the Treasury Department, where they are referred to the special agents for investigation. In this case information concerning the evasion of the customs was made in a letter to Mr. Galusha, custom house officer at Charlotte, exposing the whole affair, and bearing the signature, "Peter White, Bradford." In due time the letter was turned over to Dr. Heichhold, who came to this city and trusted the details of "working up" the case to Detective B. J. Wilmoth. Knowing that a young man in the employ of the Corbett Sand Reel Co., named Norton Toole had come from the part of Canada from which the two suspected men hailed, the detective learned from him that Maicey lived in the city, and going to the house found Mrs. M. at home. She identified the Peter White letter as being in the hand writing of Toole, who, it seems, was on bad terms with Maicey, and said that she had posted it. At Mr. Wilmoth's solicitation she wrote a letter to her husband then in Richburg, telling him to come home as she was sick. As he did not come the detective found it convenient to make a trip over there, found his man, and reiterated the message of Mrs. M. Upon learning that Maicey had no money, the detective, still disguising his real character, paid his fare to this city, where having him safe in his clutches he advised the man to make a clean brest of it. Upon being confronted with the proofs, Maicey made an affidavit before U. S. Commissioner Berry Thursday night to the effect that he had sworn falsely at the Custom House that the team in question was his own, and that he had fraudulently signed the name of Robert Thomas to the papers.

It was then learned that Barrie had taken away the team from his man, who had thus perjured himself for his employer's sake, the teamster failing to perceive the manifest power he held over Barrie. With his two teams the latter went to Ridgeway in search of work, and from there was traced to the construction gang now working on the railroad extention near the big bridge at Alton. Yesterday morning Mr. Wilmoth drove to a railroad hotel known as the Forest House, some distance below Alton, found his man, and returned to Bradford in triumph yesterday afternoon, bringing his prisoner and team of smuggled horses. Barrie was put in the lockup, and will this morning be taken to Albany, where he will plead guilty and throw himself on the mercy of the United States District Court there in session. He has intimated his willingness to do this rather than be examined before the United States Commissioner, as he, being a stranger, would be unable to procure bail. The team and wagon are confiscated and will be sold. In all probability Maicey will be detained as a witness on the part of the government.

Judging from the intimations of the special agent he is not yet through work in this vicnity, where he intimates there are seal-skins, velvets, laces, silks and jewelry upon which duty has not been paid. Evidently the Doctor is on the war path, for when asked what he would do should he strike prominent persons, or even his personal friends, in possession of dutiable articles, he replied:

"I can let up on a poor person who smuggles to save a few dollars, but with me crime increases in proportion to the position occupied in society by the smuggler, and if she were my sister I would not spare her, as the laws against crime know neither grades in society nor kinship."

TRADE NOTES.

The Kingston Daily News says that Mr. Geo. Spotswood, has received a letter from a gun manufactoring company in the Eastern States asking him as to the facilities that could be afforded for the erection of a branch establishment in Kingston. He has been requested to look for suitable premises, etc., and forward the information. If the affair matures it is not probable that any Canadian stock will be asked for. The capital required would $100,000.

A NEW coal mining company has organized in Cape Breton, with a capital of $500,000, of which $400,000 is to be immediately expended in developing and working the coal area. The location is near North Sydney, and adjoins the famous Sydney coal mines. Its area comprises ten square miles, and is estimated to contain ninety million tons of workable coal. One of the principal directors is Mr. Alexander Gunn, M. P. for Kingston. The prospectus says: "The prospects of the future coal trade of the Dominion were never more promising than they are at present."

YOUNGS' POINT.

From our own Correspondent.

THE WEATHER.—Last Sunday, the 22nd inst, was ushered in very stormy—snowing nearly all day—with a north-west wind. Monday and Tuesday were the coldest days of the season, the thermometer having sunk to 25 degrees below zero, during which a pretty considerable wind from the north-east prevailed. Roads and thoroughfares are now in a very good state to travel on, and so long as this cold snap lasts, business of every kind ought to improve considerably. The lumbermen are getting on splendidly in the woods, which is encouraging. Farmers will now be able to draw their cord-wood to market with more satisfaction than on wheels, and the consumer won't have to pay such a high price as it has been ranging at, of late.

THE ICE.—Since last Saturday the ice on the lakes has increased three inches in thicknes. Clear ice is now 16 inches thick and good at that.

MAKE THE ROLL RIGHT.—Your correspondent and others around this section are much obliged for the above hint and thank you for copying the Globe's editorial note re the same, as we were not aware about sending names, etc., to the Clerk of Municipality, before the 30th of January in each year, for non-resident owners of unoccupied lands. The law is altered so often that it would sometimes puzzle the very——John Banahar, to read it up. In the old country things are managed very differently; both Conservatives and Radicals have a better way of managing things than we have in this country, and look better after their party's interest in voters' lists, etc. After the good, sound advise given to the pairty by the leader of the Opposition of the House of Commons, Conservatives should not be caught napping, and leave everything to the eleventh hour.

A GOOD PREVENTATIVE for Fevers, Ague and Bilious Disorders is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters a strictly vegetable preparation. They Tone the system, purify the Blood and increase the appetite, and render those taking them almost proof against disease, Should be used in every case instead of pills. J. D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

FREE OF CHARGE.—All persons suffering from Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, or any other affection of the Throat or Lungs, are requested to call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store and get a trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, free of charge, which will convince them of its wonderful merits and show what a regular sized bottle will do. Call early.—3.

By the use of Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites the nerves becomes reinforced in strength, the stomach is made capable of digesting the food, the food changes to blood, the heart becomes strengthened to pump the blood, the lungs distribute and oxidise the blood, healthy blood displaces unhealthy muscle and tubercolous matter, the patient becomes vigorous, and then by using his constitution as intended by a beneficient Creator, he may live up to the ripe old age, when, like the corn ready for the harvest, he drops for the husk.

BISHOP BEVERIDGE.—A gentleman meeting the celebrated and excellent Bishop, Beveridge, asked him how he was. Beveridge replied: "If I answer in Latin, I am sic, sic; if in English, so, so." There are many, who, if they spoke truly would give the same answer as the excellent Bishop. They have contracted lung disease, or it may be are suffering from asthma, and in great danger of that fatal malady consumption. Take warning in time, use N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir, it is really what many have called it, the "king" of remedies, Sold by all druggists throughout the Dominion.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes coat'd over and the poisonous frequent tubercles flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are also drying & nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

THE POULTRY EXHIBITION.

Successful in Every Respect—List of the Prize Winners in the Various Classes.

The annual exhibition of the Midland Centarl Poultry Association, which has been in progress since Tuesday, as was stated before, is the best that has ever yet been held.

As is well known, the Midland District has many fine judges of poultry, and the competition among the various breeders is so keen that they spare no trouble or expense to procure the very best, and in consequence Peterborough and vicinity is now regarded as a poulty centre, and as all the prominent Canadian breeders know that they are always sure of "a fair field and no favour," at any show here, they are not at all backward in making entries, so that a show here is always a success.

On this occasion the class of birds shown under the various heads, is superior in many respects to those shown on former occasions, and the judge Mr. S. Butterfield, of Sandwich, Ontario, a gentleman fully qualified to speak, informs us that there are some birds on exhibition that cannot be surpassed in Canada, and that all shown are superior.

The following are the principal exhibitors from a distance: Messrs. Geo. Hope, Yorkville; formerly of Port Hope, H. G. Charlsworth, Toronto; J. L. Clapp, Belleville; D. C. Trew, Lindsay; W. Cunnings, Little Britain; James Baptie, Ida; and R. Howden, Millbrook.

As will be seen by the annexed prize list, a fair share of prizes have been carried off by local men, who are to be congratulated upon their success.

The following is the prize list of successful exhibitors:—

Forsaking an Ally.

Bolivia has concluded a treaty of peace with Chili, leaving her ally Peru, to extricate herself from the position into which her friendship for Bolivia has drawn her. Although Bolivia originated the quarrel, it is long since she dropped out of sight in the struggle which ensued between Chili and Peru. The first great battle, that of Tacna, in which the allies were thoroughly defeated, decided the struggle so far as the Bolivian troops were concerned, for they took no active part in fighting afterwards. When Peru was conquered, though still defiant, a union of the States of Bolivia and Peru was proclaimed, but it was only a piece of political buncombe on the part of the provisional President of Peru, who wished to revive the drooping courage of the Peruvians, and to induce them to renew the struggle which had ceased. Nothing came of the proclamation, however, and now Bolivia has shown how much regard she has for the union by making terms for herself with Chili. Bolivia has lost all and more than she went to war to hold. The province of Atacama has been ceded to Chili. Atacama is the only sea coast territory which Bolivia possessed, and was consequently important to her on that account, but its principal importance lay in its rich nitrate mines, which were a great source of revenue. It is probable that now that it has become clear to Peru that she need not expect the United States to support her in refusing to treat for peace on terms which include territorial cession to Chili, that the negotiation which were entered upon some time ago will prove successful. Chili demands from Peru the province of Tarapaca as a territorial indemnity. The result of the war will be to make Chili so strong a power that no probable combination against her could succeed. There is some room for hope, therefore, that peace, when concluded, will be of a permanent character.—Montreal Witness.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Railway Notes.

An Ottawa telegram of Wednesday says that the President and General Manager Geo. A. Cox, Vice-President Wm. Gooderham, Traffic Manager A. White, the Engineer in charge of construction, W. Bailey, and Mr. Leys, Solicitor of the consolidated Midland Railway, are here in consultation with the Governor of Vermont and the directors of the Canada Atlantic Railway in regard to the location of the union station for the interchange of traffic at Ottawa when the two roads connect here. It is understood that the right of way and station grounds within the city limits, which have been secured by the Canada Atlantic, will be utilized by both roads on terms agreed upon to-day.

A collision occurred on the Victoria Railway about ten miles north of Lindsay on Wednesday. One of the coupling pins connecting some cars on a special worked out, and allowed them to run into a mixed train. Engineer Douglas, of the special, had one of his legs broken, both him and the fireman saving their lives by jumping. The engine of the mixed, and the van and two or three flat cars of the special were badly wrecked. No blame is attached to any of the officials.

Coming down Rapidly.

The projecting signs are coming down rapidly and now the front street looks better than ever it did. The police have served notices on all offenders requesting them to remove their "swinging, hanging or projecting signs, or sign posts." George street now looks far wider and neater. One tonsorial artist in town has rather got the laugh on the authorities, by means of a cute trick. In front of his premises he had a straight sign post, but as this was in contravention of the By-law he removed it. Now, almost directly opposite his front door, close to the sidewalk, is a large telegraph pole, and on this he has had painted the familiar colored rings, always seen on a barber's sign, and thinks that he has got at least one point ahead.

The Whitewashed Treasurer.

A telegram from Minden under date of Wednesday states that the report of the committee appointed to enquire into the feeling of the different muncipalities of this county with reference to the Victoria Railway was read, and in the opinion of nearly every clerk the railway was thought to be an injury instead of a benefit. A resolution was brought forward to rescind the motion passed at the last meeting of the Council in December with regard to the Treasurer, which was to stay any further legal proceedings. The vote being a tie, the Warden voted in the negative, and the motion was declared lost. An amendment giving the subject a six months' hoist was carried.

The Presbyterian Church.

It is stated that it is the intention of the authorities of the Presbyterian Church of Canada to apply at once for Dominion legislation in order to confirm the Acts of the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec relating to the union. It is understood that the effect of the decision of the Imperial Privy Council is to show that the Acts of the Provinces were beyond the latters' jurisdiction, and that the legislation for the purpose of carrying the union into effect ought to have been by the Dominion and not by the Provinces.

Curling.

Two rinks representing the Peterborough Curling Club left this morning on the Grand Junction for Belleville, where they play a match with the Brockville Club for the Caledonian Medal. We wish our representatives every success, although they have a crack club to contend with.

Bible Society.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Bible Society will take place on Friday night at the Bible Christian Church. The Rev. Mr Jeffrey, of Cobourg, will deliver an address. We hope to see a large turnout of the supporters of this useful institution.

Town Council.

The regular meeting of the Town Council takes place on Monday evening next, at the Council Chamber at 7.30 o'clock. Probably there will be lots of talk whether there is much business done or not.

The Ontario Bank.

In the course of his speech at the adjourned meeting of the shareholders, Toronto, on Tuesday, the President, Sir W.P. Howland said: "Before placing in your hands the resignation of myself and co-directors, I desire to read to the meeting two letters addressed to myself. The first is from Mr. Nicholls, who writes:—

DEAR SIR,—Having heretofore intimated to you my desire to retire from the board in consequence of ill-health and long absence from home, be good enough to do me the favour of omitting my name from the list proposed for the new board as candidates for re-election, and oblige.

In connection with this I desire to state that Mr. Nicholls is kind enough to say he will be quite willing to give his valuable advice to the new board as a local director at Peterborough. It would be an inconvenience to him in his state of health to come up here and attend the meetings of the board, and the desire on his part to reside for a portion of the year in a milder climate than we possess causes him to decline being a candidate for re-election; but to whoever may succeed us, I may say that Mr. Nicholls' thorough knowledge of the business in the locality mentioned is extremely valuable to the bank, the business of which is very large and very important in his neighbourhood. It is very desirable to have the advantage of Mr. Nicholls' long experience and sound judgment, and I hope, sir, that he will consent to act in that capacity."

The Weather.

Another change has taken place and instead of the drifting snow of last night, we have slush:—The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as fol lows.—Lakes—Cloudy mild weather with rain, are as followed to-morrow by northerly to westerly winds, and colder weather with local falls of snow.

The Weather Prophets.

Mr. Vennor says of the present cold spell that it will moderate on the 25th, 26th, and 27th, and return again with snowfalls on the 28th, 29th and 30th.

The Jacobs Oil man missed it rather badly. He predicted sleet and slight rains on the 2nd and 23rd, continuing misty and cloudy until the 27th.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

LAKEFIELD BRIDGE.

The matter of the building of the new iron bridge at Lakefield seems to be sadly mismanaged. It does at least seem very strange that the Company having the contract to build this bridge, which should, according to agreement, have been done in November last, should be allowed to delay the offair until now, the worst time of the year. Now, right in the midst of winter, when the farmers require to improve every hour while tne sleighing lasts, to have traffic shut off, or virtually so, at the most important time of the year by the neglect of this Company is simply absurd. If the Company were unable to do as they agreed in point of time, why then give them more time, but let the work be done at a proper season. The new Warden has a good opportunity of exercising a shrewd vigilance in the interests of the County over this bridge building muddle. About two weeks ago the County bridge carpenter came here and engaged some men, and it was given out that the bridge would be torn down at once. A week ago yesterday a notice was issued by the County Clerk, stating that traffic over the Lakefield Bridge would cease after that date, but still the bridge stands undisturbed yet, but in the mean time people in every direction have been thrown out in their calculations on account of the uncertainty attaching to all the operations in connection with this bridge. This bridge could be just as well put up in April as at any time of the year, but any other time in preference to mid-winter. If the bridge is to come down—if it cannot be put off until a more convenient season, then the Warden should see that it is done quickly and promptly, and not keep it hanging and wasting time at the sacrifice of the public good.

SECRETARY-TREASURER.

Mr. W. J. Wallace, as Secretary-Treasurer of the Lakefield Skating Rink, was announced by his own signature last week, causing considerable amusement from the fact that Mr. W. is an advocate of the separation of the municipal offices of Clerk and Treasurer in Lakefield. But then of course he does not advocate the principle farther than applies to the Lakefield Corporation. The two offices being united in a company is quite different to the two offices being united in Lakefield; but the people of Lakefield do not exactly see it in that light.

LAKEFIELD DAM.

The Local Government have done nothing yet about the navigation of the waters governed by the Lakefield dam. We understand that Mr. Hull purchased a stay of proceedings for a couple of months to enable him to complete his contracts on hand. So the brackets were replaced and the dam remains at its usual height for a little longer. Navigation between here and Young's Point for the next season is surrounded with a good deal of uncertainty.

A BUTCHER FOOLED.

Some time ago a Lakefield butcher met a farmer living not far from Lakefield, and asked him if he was feeding any cattle. The farmer said "yes, a few." The butcher answered all right, and that he would come down and see them. A few days afterwards he went to see the farmer, expecting to purchase some fat cattle, but was sadly disappointed on being told by the farmer that he was feeding his cattle, of course, but not fattening them, as straw was not quite suitable.

A ROOF BLOWN OFF.

On Sunday last the roof was blown off a barn belonging to Mr. Dench, who lives about two miles from Lakefield.

HORSE DROWNED.

The Messrs. Strickland lost a valuable horse a short time ago in the township of Hindon by the ice giving way under a team drawing timber.

TIMBER.

Messrs. R. & G. Strickland have over 4,000 pieces of square timber got onto the ice. This timber is said to be very large, and of the finest quality.

TEMPERATURE.

The thermometer on Monday, Jan. 23, at 7 a.m. was 23° below zero; at 11 a.m. 10° below; at 6 p.m. 18° below; at 10 p.m. 27° below. On Tuesday at 6 a.m. it was 33° below zero.

WILTING A LION.

BY BILL NYE.

Many years ago, when the country was new and infested wtih the grizzly bear and prairie dog, there used to be a couple of mountain lions at the Green river eating house. They were kept in a big iron cage at the east end of the platform, and the average tourist was regaled each day by their ferocious antics.

After a while Cap. Lang, who kept the house, got tired of the mountain lions, and traded them to a travelling circus for an old and highly respected African lion with false teeth. He was thoroughly under subjection, and had got so docile that he didn't draw any more as man-eater for the circus and they had to feed him on cayenne pepper and turpentine to make him scare the women and children on the front seats in the greatest living aggregation on earth and only boss double-hump dromedary and ten-elephant show in the known world.

Still he was obedient, and when the lion tamer would pound on the floor of the cage with his foot, the venerable old fraud would open his mouth till you could throw a cook stove into it, and he would gnash his store teeth and roar till the center pole would tremble and pink lemonade would go up to ten cents a glass.

Well, Cap. Lang established the king of beasts in his new quarters, and by feeding him hotel soup and chopped feed, with a sprinkling of cayenne pepper and ground mustard, continued to make him lively enough to give the overland passengers fifty cents' worth of roar after each meal.

Ira Carrington, who used to brake on a passenger between Lamarie and Green river, was also a western curiosity. He didn't work for the company so much on account of the salary as he did for the fun he had lying to the tenderfoot. If the pay didn't catch him regularly he didn't care much, but if he failed to pick a victim every trip and fill him full of the wild gory west, he went home hurt and despondent.

One day he ran across a passenger in the day coach who was a professional lion tamer from away back. He admitted that he could paralyze an African lion with the cold and cruel glare of his baleful eye. He had met the king of beasts in his tropical home and wilted him hundreds of times with his double-barrel glitter.

Mr. Carrington then said that when the train got to Green River there would be an opportunity for him to turn loose on a ferocious brute at the hotel. The news rapidly spread among the passengers that a lion-tamer from Timbuctoo was on board who would on reaching Green River, give a free performance, in which he would enter the cage and pull the lion's tail out by the root and throw the bob-tail king of beasts over the eating house.

When the train arrived at Green River the lion tamer, with his coat off and blue cotton handkerchief ties around his head, walked up to the cage with his cruel eye fixed on the lion in a reproachful way calculated to till the ferocious monster with remorse.

The entire load of passengers stood near with bated breath, wondering whether the brave man would cow the haughty king of the forest or get himself chewed up into Vienna sausages.

At this moment Mr. Carrington, who knew the characteristics of the feeble old circus lion of the present day, pounded on the platform with his foot in a loud and boisterous manner and the king of beasts responded in a way that did great credit to himself and scared the passengers half to death. He opened his mouth so that you could see the basement of his liver, and lashing the cage with his tail, let off a base solo that pretty near shattered the blue vault of heaven. The hot, firey breath of the monster came thick and steaming against the cheek of the bold lion tamer. The red and fiery eyes of the mad brute gleamed close to the bars of the stage. The lion tamer forgot about casting a withering glitter on the lion. In the hurry and excitement it escaped his mind.

Backing slowly away from the cage in order that the king of the forest might recover from his fright, the lion tamer fell off into a bunch of sage brush. The crowd then greeted him with round after round of applause. Mr. Carrington took him by the suspender and rescued him.

The lion tamer then went into the car. He had no business particularly in the car, but he went in there so he could be away from the prying eyes of the passengers.

This shows how a truly brave man shuns the approbation and applause of the multitude, and also how a basswood lion, stuffed with baled hay and fitted out with plaster of paris teeth and a heavy baritone voice, can outglare any able-bodied lion tamer from Kalamazoo.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 27, 1882.

THE CALEDONIAN MEDAL.

Peterborough Defeats Brockville at Belleville and Wins the Coveted Trophy.

On Thursday morning two rinks representing the Peterborough Curling Club, left on the Grand Junction train for Belleville, to meet and if possible wrest from the Brockville Club, one of the Caledonian Medals annually offered for competition.

They arrived in Belleville on time and found that their opponents had arrived ahead, havcome up through the night. They were met and at once escorted to a hotel by the Belleville men, who were on hand to greet them.

The match, which was 25 "ends," took place during the afternoon at the Lorne Rink. The play on both sides was very good. Mr. John Jellett of Belleville, acted as umpire, and gave the best of satisfaction. As will be seen by the annexed score, our representatives were victorious by 18 shots:—

PETERBOROUGH.		BROCKVILLE.
Rink No. 1.
G. Hilliard,		W. J. Simpson,
A. Hall,		A. G. Riddle,
Dr. Boucher,		Capt. Bucknell
G. Brown, skip	15	T. Wilkinson, skip	15
Rink No. 2.
W. H. Budden,		J. W. Dennis,
R. S. Davidson,		James Moore,
W. Ferguson,		John M. Gill,
A. H. McDougall, Skip	32	R. Crawford, skip	14

A thing worth mentioning is that the Brockville "lead men," in each case, skipped their respective rinks.

HOSPITABLY ENTERTAINED.

As is always the case, our men and their whilom foes were handsomely entertained by the Belleville men, nothing in the city being too good for them, and their wants and comfort were duly looked from the hour of their arrival until their departure. In the evening both of the visiting teams and a number of the Belleville brethren sat down to a recherche supper, where three or four hours were pleasantly and profitably spent.

Our players left at 7 o'clock this morning and arrived here on the noon train.

A match was to have been played between Belleville and Peterborough, but owing to the thaw, the ice was not in good condition, and a match will take place here in a few weeks.

We congratulate Peterborough on the victory and only hope that it is the commencement of a long series of them.

AFTER THE VERDICT.

Miscellaneous Matters Regarding the Great Trial, of Interest to all Our Readers.

THE NEWS IN AMERICA.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 26.—The verdict created a sensation here at Garfield's old home, and no restraint was put upon the general feeling of joy. The news was announced at the different theatres, and prolonged applause was indulged in. The feeling at Mentor was voiced in the remark of an old gentleman from that town who stepped from the cars at the Union Depot here just as the news was received. Baring his head he exclaimed in a loud voice, "Thank God! justice will be done." The result of the verdict was soon received by the Garfield family, and the Cleveland Herald publishes the following:—"The finding of the jury was immediately telegraphed from Washington to the family of the dead President. The widow and the mother of the illustrious victim had anticipated no other result. They could not bring themselves to believe that justice would fail to overtake the vile reptile whose infamous deed had overwhelmed them with grief, but they are women whose hearts are too full of sorrow to have room for revengeful feelings, and the news of the conviction of Guiteau comes to them rather as the vindication of national justice than as the avenging of personal wrongs. They do not see how the result of the trial could have been different. They accept it as a foregone conclusion and as more important to the public, who will have other Presidents to guard and protect, than to themselves, whose great stay and reliance was so causelessly taken from them."

THE EXECUTION.

It is not expected that the execution can take place before May, unless Scoville decides not to contest the case day by day, and the execution can be fought off until the end of June or about the anniversary of President Garfield's assassination.

MISCELLANEOUS.

One of the jurors in the Guiteau trial, a commission merchant, lost $5,000 because he was unable to consult with his employees about business during the trial.

The Government paid $5,300 for jury expenses alone.

Scoville asserts that he shall exhaust every legal remedy before giving up the case, but appears to have very little hope of averting the doom of the assassin.

ENGLISH OPINION.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—The papers this morning express satisfaction at the conviction of Guiteau, but criticise the conduct of the trial.

The Standred says:—"The announcement of the Guiteau virdict will be received with a sense o relief by the public, which has been wearied by the monstrous protraction of the proceedings and disgusted and scandalized by the outrageous incidents which marked them at every turn. American jurists and politicians may be taught from this case the necessity of re-casting the forms of procedure in criminal matters."

The Daily Telegraph says:—"Guiteau's horrid jests, ribaldry, and irreverence towards the majesty of justice were but clutchings at forlorn hope. No suspicion that Guiteau was insane disturbed the minds of judge and jury, and he is not entitled to the benefit of any such doubts. The conduct of the trial casts a deep reproach upon the judicial procedure of America. The story of Guiteau's horrible wickedness will live forever. His memory will be branded like that of Cain."

The Morning Post says:—"Guiteau's guilt was so undeniable, that his long trial has been followed with severe pain. We hope Scoville will not so far forget what is due to justice and his profession as to repeat the disgraceful lecturing exploit which he once performed on behalf of Guiteau."

The Daily News says:—"Day after day the world has looked on with disgust and amazement at a spectacle for which it will be impossible to find a parallel in the history of criminal cases. There could be no more beneficial or enduring monument to the memory of Garfield than the adoption of a reform, which would do much to stop the growth of the class of which Guitaeu is a conspicuous example."

The Daily News says: "It is doubtful whether Guiteau himself expected any other result. If he did, the fact would be stronger evidence of unsettled intelligence than any brought forward during the enquiry. All the newspapers here express one opinion as to the justice of the verdict, but are certain it will be unanimously approved."

The Times says:—"The administration of justice in America has been brought into grave disrepute. The trial has been a kind of play, enacted for the general amusement. That Guiteau deserves hanging, none can doubt. That a nation has a right to hang him, which has turned the sufferings of his victim into food for sensation, his crime into jest, and the trial into a prolonged farce, is, perhaps, less entirely self-evident."

A MANIFESTO.

Guiteau has issued an address to the American people, saying:—

Twelve men say that I wickedly murdered Garfield They did it on the false notion that I am a disappointed office-seeker. My speech, they say, made no impression on them. I am not surprised at that verdict, considering their class. They do not pretend to be Christian men, and therefore did not appreciate the idea of inspiration. They are men of the world, and of moderate intelligence, and therefore are not capable of appreciating the character of my defence. According to one of them, "We all had grog at each meal and cigars afterwards," which shows their style and habits. Men of this kind cannot represent the great Christian nation of America. Had they been high-toned Christian gentlemen their verdict would have been "not guilty," not because of insanity, the mere outward act of shooting would have been the same, whatever the motive. The jury had not sufficient intelligence to see that point, and entirely ignored the political and patriotic necessity for the act, which Christian and intelligent people see. For this reason I am entitled to a new trial, if for no other, and we have a prodigious amount of exceptions. I want to employ two or three lawyers to take charge of my case. The principal point will be to show the non-jurisdiction of the Court, because the President died in New Jersey. I desire the Court in banc to pass upon the question, and have no doubt that high-toned Christian gentlemen representing the Washington Court in banc will give it their most careful attention, to the end that if the Deity intended to protect me from legal liability by allowing the President to depart gracefully and peacefully in New Jersey. I shall have the benefit of the Deity's intentions.

Guiteau concludes with an appeal to the men, and especially to the ladies of America, for money to pay counsel. If money is forthcoming, he says:—"I can get out of this with the Lord's help." He says he gives himself no anxiety on account of the verdict. "It cannot be enforced until July, and possibly until September." The address is as blasphemous as previous ones.

THE YORKTOWN DELEGATES.

PARIS, Jan. 26.—General Boulanger, of the French Yorktown Mission, has just been interviewed. He spoke in terms of the greatest cordiality of the warm reception given to the mission in the United States, and declared that the Yorktown celebration had served to remove all lingering distrust of France arousad by the Mexican expeditian.

GAMBETTA RESIGNS.

PARIS, Jan. 26.—The Chamber of Deputies to-day debated the Bill for the revision of the Constitution. Barodet offered an amendment in favour of the revision of the Constitution in its entirety. The amendment was rejected by a vote of 298 to 173. Gambetta then ascended the tribune. He declared that the conclusions of the committee on the Revision Bill were as dangerous as was Barodet's amendment. The country, he said, desired a limited revision, but was certainly not prepared to expose its present restful tranquility to the hazards of an unlimited amendment of the Constitution. Congress, being the expression of the previous agreement between the Chembers, would act illegally if it departed from the conditions of that preliminary agreement. Scrutin de liste by the enlarging electoral basis provided the very means of rendering personal power impossible. He denied that any idea of dissolving the Chamber was entertained. He concluded with the following words:—"My past is known. Above all ambitions there is the future of the country." Gambetta was greeted with applause at the conclusion of his remarks. There was a full attendance of deputies. The Chamber of Deputies by 305 to 117 has rejected the Government bill for the revision of the constitution, including the provision for the Scrutin de liste. Gambetta handed to President Grevy his resignation and those of his colleagues. The President has sent for De Ereycinet and Leon Say.

THE SPUYTIN-DUYVIL DISASTER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Conductor Hanford and Brakeman Melius have been held in $5,000 bail each, to await the action of the Grand Jury.

There's not a speck, there's not a stain
That on the teeth we chance to see,
But shadows forth decay and pain,
If not removed right speedily,

Works miracles in one short hour.

Every Journal, popular or scientific, you can take up, has something to say about the value of Phosphates as fertilizers, or as brain and nerve food. Farmers know that they increase largely the growth and products of vegetation, and physicians have long since discovered that they augment nerve power. Their action on plant and animal are precisely the same, as exitants of nutrition in completing the development of the cell that builds up the vegetable and animal tissue. The use of Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya will speedily convince the worn out invalid that it is nature's truly physiological restorative.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, JANUARY 27, 1882.

The Globe in its annual report of the trade of the city of Toronto, estimates the consumption of lumber during 1881 at 80,000,000 feet, (as against 65,000,000 in 1880), made up as follows:—Lumber, 45,000,000 feet; shingles, 15,000,000, and lath, 2,000,000. The same report also notes a considerable development during the past year in our native hardwood trade, and predicts a good demand next season for black ash, maple, elm, and birch timber, all of which are now being largely used in the manufacture of furniture.

THE WARDENSHIP.

WHERE long and faithful service is counted of value, the unanimous election of Mr. Henry Collins, for the last eleven years Reeve of North Monaghan, to the Wardenship will be received with satisfaction, and we have much pleasure in congratulating him upon his elevation to the highest position in the gift of his brother councillors—a step which we are sure they will have no cause to regret.

In this connection, however, we cannot refrain from noticing the uncalled for self congratulation of the Examiner upon the fact that its political friends consented to the election of a Conservative to the Wardenship, when it is a well-known fact that the last Warden was elected in the same way by the Conservatives. We are happy to say that with the exception of one, or at most two, "aspiring Grits," our County Council has been singularly and commendably free from political influences for a number of years past, and we should be exceedingly sorry to see anything occur now, by either word or deed, which would mar a harmony that is so beneficial in our municipal affairs.

SUDDEN DEATH AT ST. THOMAS.

A Young Man Strangled to Death while Under the Influence of Liquor.

The St. Thomas Journal has the following particulars regarding the death of young Warren:—On Saturday morning young Ambrose Warren came to this city with his father, where he met two companions named McAlpine and Lay. These three young men, it is stated, visited a number of taverns and saloons and partook freely of whiskey. About noon the father of Ambrose asked him if he was going home, but he replied in the negative, stating that he was going to ride home with his friends in McAlpine's team. Mr. Warren thought it was all right, and allowed him to remain. After drinking heavily up till about half past four o'clock, the three started for home, taking the road that leads to Five Stakes. On the road to that place they became very sick, more particularly young Warren, and in case he should fall out of the waggon his comrades put a chain around his body and tied him to the buckboard. Arriving at Five Stakes they halted, and McAlpine and Lay, though very much under the influence of liquor, managed to get out of the waggon, and endeavored to wake Ambrose, who they supposed was asleep. Alas! such was not the case; he had expired on the road, and his body was stiff and cold. The feelings of McAlpine and Lay can be better imagined than described. Word was immediately sent to Mr. Warren, and the body of the poor unfortunate—a favorite of his father and all who knew him, was conveyed home. Dr. Gustin was summoned, and after hearing the particulars, attributed the deceased's death to strangulation, caused by vomiting. The Crown Attorney was notified of the facts, but he did not think it necessary to hold an inquest.

Kingston Locomotive Works.

Mr. S. G. Gorman, Superintendent of the Locomotive Works, has just returned from a visit to Toronto. The Credit Valley R.R. has received all the engines ordered for it, and the Company are highly pleased with them. They are perhaps the most serviceable in Western Canada. Mr. Gorman made a trip to St. Thomas on one of them. The Welland Railway Company have given an order for an engine, which will be built at once. Ten for the Canada Pacific R.R. are now under way and will be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible. At present the company are removing the machinery from the old to the new shops. It will be some days before the change is made. A fine Corliss engine, about 75 horse power, gives the driving power to the works. Some of the machinery in the old shop will also be driven by the new engine, an endless chain being used to connect the shafting in one building with that in another. The Company are employing all skilled labor available, but the number of laborers and boys applying seems to be unlimited. A gentleman who knows says that, in a line, "they would reach from Kingtson to Cape Vincent." The works can alone employ skilled mechanics.—Whig.

Killed on the Track.

STRATFORD, Jan. 25.—A man named Neil, while walking across the Grand Trunk Railway crossing about 6 o'clock p.m. to-day, was struck by a passing engine and killed. He was terribly mangled. He was quite deaf, and it is presumed did not hear the engine. He was a poor man and quite decrepid. He leaves a wife and family in poor circumstances.

DISTRICT INTELLIGENCE

PORT HOPE.

THAT FATAL ACCIDENT.—The Woodville Advocate, referring to the man named McKay, who was killed on the railroad track near Bethany last week, says:—"The deceased was well known here, having at one time been the lessee of the Northern hotel in this village. Later he engaged in a furniture and undertaking business in Cannington, which, we understand, did not result very successfully. He was interred on Friday with Masonic and Oddfellow honors, being a member of both orders. The funeral was one of the largest ever seen in Cannington, a number of friends being present. Deceased leaves a wife and a large family to mourn his sad end."

THE IRREPRESSABLE.—A Montreal commercial man, by the name of St. Jacobs, was registered at the Queen's the other day. Some wag made it read "St. Jacobs Oil, Montreal."

MASONIC CONVERSAZIONE.—The conversazione given by the brethren of the mystic tie last Wednesday evening, was indeed the event of the season. The Masons are to be congratulated in making it such a success. The hall was most beautifully decorated with bunting, banners, masonic emblems, streamers, mottoes, oil paintings and engravings, so as to make it nearly beyond recognition, and at eight o'clock it was found to be comfortably, but not what could be called excessively, filled with a most select audience, among whom the greatest sociability prevailed.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the entertainment was opened by the members of the committee, composed of Bros. Evans, Doebler, Deering, Janes, Wallace, Pringle, Budge, Goggin, Cheer, Gothwaite, Long, Robertson and Peplow, appearing on the platform, when R. W. Bro. Peplow read an address of welcome to the ladies and gentlemen and brethren present. It was expected that D. G. M. Spry would have delivered the address of welcome, but he was prevented on account of illness. Mr. Peplow's address was a most excellent one, presenting the principles of Masonry in their true light, which could not fail to make a favourable impression on those present not members of the Order. It is impossible, with the space at our command, to give even a synopsis of it. After the delivery of the address the programme proper commenced by Seager's orchestra giving a selection, when a large number of the ladies and gentlemen commenced to promenade, the seats having been arranged for that purpose. The singing of Mrs. Caldwell was grand. She is always a favourite in Port Hope, but last night she eclipsed all her former efforts. Messrs. Shepherd and Hall both acquitted themselves well. The music by Sager's Quadrille Band, from Toronto, was of the finest description, and the best of all, everybody was satisfied.—Guide.

LINDSAY.

FATAL POISONING.—The Post says that a good deal of excitement was caused in Bobcaygeon and Kinmount on Thursday and Friday by the suicide of Charlotte Ritchie, second daughter of Mr. Alex. Ritchie, who lives three miles south of Kinmount on the Bobcaygeon road. Miss Ritchie was a comely young woman of about 20 and had been in Bobcaygeon during the day, where she obtained some arsenic from a druggist, stating that her mother wanted it to poison rats. She walked home and there had supper with the other members of the family. It is supposed that she took the arsenic in her tea, as she was shortly after seized with all the symptoms of poisoning. Dr. Bonnel was sent for, but before he arrived the poor girl was dead. She called out in her parozysm, "not to blame Willie." Her relatives are plunged in the deepest grief by the terrible affair, and have the sympathy of the neighborhood. An inquest was held on Friday, and a verdict returned in accordance with the circumstances. There was apparently no cause for the rash deed.

HORSY.—Quintal, Frenchman as he calls himself, the well-known Montreal horse buyer, shipped for Montreal by the Midland railway last Saturday, fifty-three horses. This is the largest shipment of horses made from this town and leaves a lot of money with the farmers. Twenty-six of this number were bought in the neighborhood of Cameron and Coboconk, and the remainder in Lindsay. Quintal had altogether sixty-five horses ready for shipment, but could not get car-room. The other twelve were left at Veitch's hotel. Some very high prices were paid, especially for a large young team that cost over $300, and $150 for a large bay horse. Mr. Samuel Walker also bought for Mr. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, several fine horses for the shanties.

ACCIDENTS.—There has been an unusually large number of accidents so far in in the woods back north this winter. Every day almost two or three disabled shantymen pass through here. One poor fellow came down on Tuesday who was suffering from a fearful cut in his thigh. He and another man were chopping together when the axe in his companion's hand slipped and gave him a very painful wound.

CURLING.—On Thursday Lindsay defeated Orillia at curling by six shots, and on the following morning a fresh rink of Lindsayites were defeated by one shot. In the evening an average of 7⅞ was made in a point game for the Ontario Tankard.

NORWOOD.

THRESHING.—The Register says that we did not think we would ever be called upon to chronicle a be tter day's threshing than that done at Mr. Shea's recently, but the following beats it "all hollow," and speaks well for both the mill and the proprietors:—Messrs. Paget and Jenkins threshed on the 16th inst., for Mr. M. Knox, of Dummer, 10 acres of Arnecta wheat—a very difficult kind of grain to thresh—and 900 bushels of oats, finishing at 4.30 in the evening. The horses were as "dry" at the finish as they were at the start.

MR. WILLIAM KAVANAGH, of Dummer, while driving home from this village the other night, was, owing to some irregularity in the road, thrown head-first out of his cutter, alighting on a rock on the roadside and dislocating his shoulder.

MR. JAMES SWEET, of Dummer, while engaged in falling trees in a shanty on the other side of Round Lake, had a leg broken by a falling tree one day last week. He was conveyed to his home in the neighbourhood of Buck's saw mill, a distance of sixteen miles, before he received any medical attention.

MR. M. BOLAND, of Dummer while drawing a load of hay to the village on Monday last, had his leg broken and was otherwise badly injured. In going over a rough piece of road the load upset, Mr. B. falling in such a manner as to sustain the above injuries. He is recovering rapidly.

SUPPLIED.—Miss Brooks who has taught very successfully for a number of years in the Township of Percy, has been engaged to take charge of the Primary Department of our Public School. The Board are to be congratulated on having obtained the services of so efficient a teacher.

FORTY BELOW.—The thermometer stood 40 below zero on Monday night last. Old residents who make a practice of noting the temperature, say that this is the coldest "snap" we have had for seven or eight years.

HASTINGS.

EAST NORTHUMBERLAND AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the above named society was held at Hicks' Hotel, Colborne, on Wednesday the 18th. The following gentlemen were elected officers and directors:—Thos. Webb, Esq., President; Donald Douglass, Esq., Warkworth, 1st Vice President; Munroe Morden, Esq., Brighton, 2nd Vice President; and Messrs. Caleb A. Mallary, R. P. Hurlbutt, Percy; David Johnston, Seymour; J. P. Abbott and W. Lovitt, Murray; Jno. Armstrong and Jno. W. Jones, Brighton; E. H. Purdy and S. Hinman, Cramahe, Directors; T. N. Scripture, and M. P. Ketchum, Auditors. At a subsequent meeting of the new board, R. P. Hurlbutt was appointed Secretary, and Wm. Wade, Treasurer. The annual exhibition will he held in the village of Brighton.

COLD SNAP.—A genuine, old-fashioned cold snap set in on Saturday night, and pedestrians might be seen on the street on Sunday morning with one hand briskly rubbing an ear, while the other covered the nose, to protect it from the intense cold.

NEW INDUSTRY.—The firm of Walsh & Quigley, of Canifton, intend building a large tannery here in the spring, three lots at the east end of front street having been purchased for the site, and the main building to be erected will be 50 x 100 giving, when in operation, employment to twenty hands.

CHANGED HANDS.—Messrs. Fowlds Bros. have purchased the stave factory and planing mill, in this village, from the creditors of the late firm of Niles Bros.—Star.

CURLING.

CURLERS' SONG—BY DR. SIDEY, EDINBURGH.

Air—"When the kye comes hame."

Come all ye brither curlers dear,
The toils o' day are o'er;
Here we are met wi' blithesome hearts,
As oft we've done afore.
And when we're played wi' right guid will
Our spell sae true and keen,
We meet around this friendly board,
Sae cantie a' at e'en.

Chorus—Sae cantie a' at e'en,
Sae cantie a' at e'en,
We meet around this friendly board,
Sae cantie a' at e'en.

The rich man sits in sumptuous hall,
And sips the fragrant wine;
His sated heart fails to rejoice
Ow're luxuries sae fine.
But we hae joys to him unkent,
When wi' a trusty frien',
We meet around our social board,
Sae Cantie a' at e'en.

Chorus—Sae Cantie a' at e'en.

Let others work baith day and nicht,
Let scholars con their lore,
Let merchants plan wi' busy brain
How to increase their store.
But We forget our toil and cares,
As if they ne'er had been;
We meet around this friendly board,
Sae cantie a' at e'en.

Chorus—Sae cantie a' at e'en.

'Tis then the lichtsome sang is sung,
Then brewed the steaming bowl;
'Tis then the merry jest goes round,
The flow o' wit and soul.
The gods themselves wi' longing eyes,
Look down on us, I ween,
And envy this pure earthly bliss,
Sae cantie a' at e'en.

Chorus—Sae cantie a' at e'en.

Then a' ye brither curlers dear,
Rejoice wi' might and main,
And aye let's pledge our parting toast,
To our next meet again,
And when we've played with richt guid will
Our spell sae true and keen,
We'll meet around this social board,
Sae cantie a' at e'en.

Chorus—Sae cantie a' at e'en.

IS DEATH DREADFUL?

A FUNERAL ADDRESS BY ROBERT G. INGERSOLL.

In a remote corner of the Congressional Cemetery yesterday afternoon, a small group of people with uncovered heads ranged around a newly opened grave. They included Detective and Mrs. George O. Miller, and family and friends, who had gathered to witness the burial of the former's bright little son Harry. As the casket rested upon the trestles, there was a paninful pause, broken only by the mother's sobs, until the undertaker advanced toward a stout, florid-complexioned geutleman in the party and whispered to him. This gentleman was Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, a friend of the Millers, who attended the funeral at their request. He shook his head when the undertaker first addressed him, and then said suddenly:—"Does Mrs. Miller desire it?" The undertaker gave an affirmative nod, Mrs. Miller looked appealingly toward the noted orator and then hastily Col. Ingersoll advanced to the side of the grave, made a motion denoting a desire for silence, and in a voice of excellent cadence delivered one of his characteristic eulogies for the dead. The scene was intensely dramatic. A fine drizzling rain was falling, and every head was bent and every ear was turned to catch the impassioned words that fell from the lips of the speaker. Col. Ingersoll was unprotected by either hat or umbrella, and his invocation thrilled his hearers with awe, each eye that had previously been bedimmed with tears brightening, and sobs becoming hushed. Col. Ingersoll said:

MY FRIENDS:—I know how vain a thing it is to gild a grief with words, and yet I wish to take from every grave its fear. Here in this world, where life and death are equal kings, all should be brave enough to meet what all the dead have met. The future has been filled with fear, stained and polluted by the heartless past. From the wondrous tree of life the buds and blossoms fall with ripened fruit, and in the common bed of earth the patriarchs and babes sleep side by side.

Why should we fear that which will come to all that is? We cannot tell, we do not know, which is the greater blessing—life or death. We cannot say that death is not a good. We do not not know whether the grave is the end of this life or the door of another, or whether the night here is not somewhere else a dawn. Neither can we tell which is the most fortunate—the child dying in its mother's arms before its lips have learned to form a word, or he who journeys all the length of life's uneven road, painfully taking the last slow steps with staff and crutch.

Every cradle asks us "whence?" and every coffin "whither?" The poor barbarian weeping above his dead, can answer these questions as intelligently and satisfactorily as the robed priest of the most authentic creed. The tearful ignorance of the one is just as consoling as the learned and unmeaning words of the other. No man, standing where the horizon of a life has touched a grave, has any right to prophesy a future filled with pain and tears. It may be that death gives all there is of worth to live. If those we press and strain to our hearts could never die, perhaps that love would wither from the earth. May be this common fate treads from out the paths between our hearts the weeds of selfishness and hate, and I had rather live and love where death is king, than have eternal life where life is not. Another life is naught, unless we know and love again the ones who love us here.

They who stand with breaking hearts around this little grave need have no fear. The larger and the nobler faith in all that is and is to be tells us that death, even at its worst, is only perfect rest. We know that through the common wants of life—the needs and duties of each hour—their grief will lessen day by day, until at last this grave will be to them a place of rest and peace—almost of joy. There is for them this consolation: The dead do not suffer. If they live again, their lives will surely be as good as ours. We have no fear. We are all children of the same mother, and the same fate awaits us all. We, too, have our religion, and it is this:—Help for the living—Hope for the dead.

At the conclusion of Col. Ingersoll's remarks, the little coffin, covered with beautiful and fragrant flowers, was lowered into its resting place. —Washington Post.

Fatal Accident.

BOWMANVILLE, Jan. 24.—Albert Thickson, a fine young lad aged fifteen, son of Wm. Thickson, an employee of the Upper Canada Furniture Company, met with a terrible accident at the Grand Trunk Railway Station to-day. A younger lad was driving a team of horses across the yard track and Thickson was sitting on the bind end of the waggon. They did not notice an engine shunting till it was just on to them, when the driver gave the horses a lash to clear the track, throwing Thickson off. He fell under the cars. One leg is smashed close up to the thigh. Doctors Beith and Fielding, who are in attendance, have no hope of his recovery.

LATER.—The boy Thickson, referred to above, has since died from the injuries which he received.

FROM ALL OVER.

A MAN who stole some meat from the door of a Montreal butcher shop, in defence said his wife and children were starving and he had no means of getting them food.

TIMELY WARNING.—Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures in fluenza, asthma, croup, whooping coughs, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

A PROVIDENCE man went no further towards murdering an enemy than to get a false advertisement of her death into the papers, with the age set down at 38 years, and "Miss" inserted to remind the reader that she was still unmarried.

BARON VON MAGNUS, the Prussian diplomatist who got into trouble for his silly boasts at the Copenhagen banquet to Sarah Barnhardt, is in an asylum at Gœrlitz. He is gaining in health, but the cloud upon his intellect is growing darker and darker.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN and when you perceive any fowl or animals in your barn yard, or in your stable suffering from disease or ill health mix their feed with Harvell's Condition Powders, and the result will satisfy you. These great specifics are sold everywhere. Remember this!

THE Italian priest, Dom de Mattia, who recently swindled the Government lottery out of $400,000 by arranging for a quaterno to come out, has escaped in safety with his half of the plunder, though his less fortunate fellows are in prison for eight years.

THE question of convict labour is before the Connecticut Legislature, and a bill to limit the employment of criminals in any institution at any one kind of work to fifty finds favour. The idea is to make convicts self-supporting without competing injuriously with honest workmen.

NURSERY MEDICINES.—We do not believe in dosing children with drugs and medicines from the time they arrive in the world till they are grown, as some do. We have found a little castor oil and a bottle of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer safe and sure remedies for all their little ills, and would not do without them.

THE National Rifle Association of the United States has received a despatch from Sir Henry Halford, of the British National Rifle Association, which seems to ensure the occurrence of an international match. The question of a return match is left open.

DR. CARSON'S Pulmonary Cough Drops are an excellent Expectorant loosening the phlegm far more readily than any other preparation. For Coughs, Colds Bronchitis, Tickling in the Throat and Soreness and Tightness of the Chest, they have no equal. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, agent, Peterborough.

THE money order branch and the savings bank branch of the Post-Office Department have been amalgamated. Mr. Cunningham Stuart becomes chief of the consolidated branch, Mr. C. Evertt, of New Brunswick, assistant superintendant, and Mr. David Matheson assistant superintendant of the savings bank.

ON Wednesday the mayor and aldermen of the city of Ottawa visited Rideau hall and presented the Governor-General with the civic address. His Excellency made a brief verbal reply, touching in a happy manner upon the different points in the address. Lady Belfour was present, and was introduced to the members of the deputation.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

HAUNTED ME.—A Workingman says: Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged until one year ago, by the advice of my postor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost."—Christian Advocate.

THE balloting for the new directors of the Ontario Bank was concluded late on Wednesday night, and resulted in a victory for Sir W. P. Howland and his party. The gentlemen receiving the highest number of votes were Hon. C. F. Frazer, Sir W. P. Howland, and Col. Gzowski; and those receiving the lowest, Mr. Glass and Hon. Mr. Vidal. About sixty-three thousand votes wore polled.

MR. M. M. MORRISON, connected with the Kansas City (Mo.) Times, and a prominent real estate proprietor as well, unequivocally and emphatically alleges that the St. Jacobs Oil once did a kind turn which he is not likely to forget. He was travelling, and, taking cold in a sleeping car, realized that he had rheumatism in both hips. The pain was intense, and the business urgent. So he thought of the St. Jacobs Oil as a remedy which was reputed to effect a rapid cure. It proved in his case, as it has in thousands of others, a blessing. Four applications gave him complete relief. Before using the Oil, Mr. Morrison says, he was so stiff, and suffering so intensely, that he could hardly move. The transition from this unhappy condition to one of perfect east was almost marvelous. The great remedy has since been a family friend. He always keeps it in his house, and has seen its wonderful power demonstrated upon several occasions in the cures of neuralgia and rheumatism. He has never seen the remedy fail yet, and is a confirmed believer in its virtue.

A REMARKABLE CURE.—From Lewis Phelps of West Townsend, Vt.—"Several years since I took a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, where it remained without relaxation. I was then in Massachusetts; and growing worse and becoming unbale to attend to my business, I returned home, and commenced searching in earnest for some medicine which would restore my lost heath. I consulted physicians, I tried many remedies, but obtained no help, but daily grew worse. I had a terrible cough, and raised a good deal of blood. I had profuse night sweats and severe pain in my side. I continued in this state for months, and became so weak that it was with great difficulty I could walk, when I was advised to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and to my great joy I soon found that this remedy had arrested the disease. I continued to use the Balsam to the extent of five bottles, and have since then experienced no difficulty of the lungs. I believe the Balsam saved my life, and I shall ever hold it in high estimation." 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Railway Notes.

The Lindsay Post says that some important changes in the staff of the Midland and amalgamating railways will take place as the result of the consolidation. Mr. A. White continues general traffic agent, but as his duties will be greatly increased he may have a deputy or general passenger agent....Mr. W. B. Ferguson continues superintendent—the right man in the right place....Mr. J. J. Ross, the popular secretary of the Whitby line, becomes superintendent of the Grand Junction or Belleville division. His removal from Whitby will be greatly regretted....Mr. A. Burton, for many years agent at Lindsay, becomes superintendent of the Whitby and Victoria division, from Whitby to Haliburton—Mr. Burton has been over twelve years in the service of the company and deserves the promotion, as he has the ability to fill it thoroughly. His many friends will congratulate him on the upward move....The Nipissing section will remain under the superintency of Mr. W. B. Duncan....Mr. Samuel Wright will be the station agent in Lindsay....Some other changes will be made in a short time,...It is expected that the new time table will go into force about the fifteenth of February....A new station on a large and stylish scale will be built in Lindsay, somewhere in the south ward, south or south-east of the union station, and the main line run across the river to meet the Whitby line.

Two new and large steam shovels have been placed in the Midland elevator at Port Hope to facilitate work. They run splendidly and greatly help shipment.

An Ottawa despatch of Thursday says:—Mr. Cox to-day, speaking of the amalgamated Railway Company, said; "In addition to the sources of trade spoken of in connection with the amalgamated scheme, the Company are virtually the promoters of the Ontario and Sault Ste. Marie Railway and they intend to build a line from some point on the northern end of the Midland system to the Sault Ste. Marie and thence to connect with the Northern Pacific Railway for Manitoba and the vast grain fields of the North-West. Arrangements are already being made with the Northern Pacific Railway to extend their line so as to meet the Midland system at Sault Ste. Marie, and a charter for a company to construct a bridge over the river at that point has been applied for. The Sault Ste. Marie Railway will be about 425 miles in length and will run through the best lumber district now retained by Canada and a district which is abundantly supplied with mines of iron and copper of the first quality. The whole of this tariffic will seek an outlet in the East and will therefore necessarily come to Ottawa to be distributed via the Canada Atlantic Railway, which will convey it to the seaboard and various eastern points. From the above it will be seen that we shall have at this city the Eastern terminus of a railway of about 1,000 miles in extent, passing through the heart of Ontario and draining the very finest agricultural, mining, and lumbering regions."

At Ottawa on Thursday the Canada Atlantic and Toronto and Ottawa Railway directors had a conference with a view to making running arrangements between the two roads, and for the creation of a union station on Elgin-street. Accompanied by the local directors of the Canada Atlantic Company, they visited the proposed grounds for a new station and the connexion at the Chaudiere Junction. The question as to carrying out the union scheme will depend in a measure on the treatment received at the hands of the corporation. The probabilities are that matters will be definitely arranged between the interested companies, and it is understood that the new company will probably ask for some modification of the by-law voted in favour of the Toronto and Ottawa Railway in 1880.

The Bowling Alley.

The Lacrosse Club Bowling Alley will be open every evening from this date, they having engaged the services of a caretaker. They intimate their willingness to have a friendly match with the Bobcaygeonites, if arrangements can be satisfactorily arranged.

A Ventriloquist.

We learn from the Detriot News that Mr. Ormiston Dixon, is adding to his fame as a Vantriloquist by his performance at the Park Theatre in that city.

BIG BLOW.

A Blizzard Lifts the Roof off the Court House—Other Minor Damage.

Any person not posted in weather lore, after the miserable sloppy weather of yesterday, which lasted until after 11 o'clock p.m., would never have expected such a tremendous hurricane or blizzard that passed over the town at an early hour this morning.

Young probs. at Toronto and Vennor each predicted a cold snap, but such a snapper as we had was indeed a regular surprise party to all concerned.

The wind commenced to blow at a "moderate gale pace" about twelve o'clock, reaching its greatest height about 2.30, and subsided almost altogether a couple of hours later.

THE COURT HOUSE.

About 2.15 o'clock, residents in the vicinity of the Court House heard a tremendous crash, and upon investigation it was found that fully one half of the northern and southern sides of the new and handsome Court House tin roof had been lifted by the blizzard and deposited in the yards and surrounding premises. The roof presents a woebegone appearance, and is just about as complete a wreck as one can imagine. The sheeting, although doubly secured to the timbers, was also lifted with the tin and sent in divers directions. The purloins were strongly and firmly tied to the ceiling below, but such was the force of the wind that the ties snapped like tinder and thus loosened the roof, and the wind catching under it, completed the work of destruction.

The only way that the accident can be accounted for, is the fact that the destroying agency caught the heavy projecting cornice in the front of the building and completely turned it over, and carried the roof with it.

Acting under instructions from the engineer, Mr. A. Rutherford commenced work this morning to repair the damage, and expects to have the sheeting finished to-night, and the work fully completed in a few days. He estimates the damage at from $800 to $1,000, the new tin required, furnishing the principal item. The timbers and lumber are just as good as ever they were and will all be used again.

Messrs. Rutherford and Toole both state that the job was an excellent one, and that in order to do the damage it did, the force of the wind must have been something extraordinary.

No less than five large brick chimneys on the building were also scattered, the bricks falling over a wide extent of territory. The ceiling, most wonderful to state, was not injured in the least, and if rain or snow keeps off until the roof is covered in, a large bill of expense for a new ceiling will be saved.

AROUND TOWN.

Almost every person you meet is discussing the "big blow," and the Guiteau case is now completely in the shade. Although numerous sheds, fences, shutters, porches and other outbuildings were blown down, the damage on that score will not amount to much. Ashburnham suffered in this respect, just as much as the town. Many fine poplars, maple and beech shade trees fell on mother earth, but their places can easily be supplied. It was a lucky thing that the greater number of the swinging signs were removed, or we are afraid that the loss would have been considerably augmented.

IN THE COUNTRY.

While the storm raged just as furiously in the country as it did in the town, up to the time of writing we have not heard of any particular damage being done.

Export of Horses.

Our townsman, Mr. T. Cavanagh, proprietor of the Stewart House, has been transacting a large business during the past season in purchasing horses for the United States market. He has shipped from Peterborough, Orillia, and Lindsay stations thirteen car loads, or about two hundred horses, at an average price of $100 each. They were a fine class of animals, many of them heavy Clydesdale grades. Last week he had in his stables a splendid team of bays, (Buccleugh) purchased from Mr. Woods, of Hope township, for $400. They had taken four first class prizes at exhibitions; their weight, 3000 lbs. Another bay team from Mr. Eccleson, of Cavan, (Netherbys), weighed 2,700 lbs.; cost $315. A third from Mr. Blezard, M.P.P., weight 2,750 lbs., cost $315. A fourth from Mr. Edgar, of Cavan, weight 2,600 lbs., cost $300. Mr. Cavanagh is looked upon as one of best judges of horses in this district, and is a close, reliable buyer.

Our Carnival.

The Port Hope Times says:—

"A grand skating carnival will take place in Peterborough, the first in two years, on Friday, February 3rd, in which the natives of that town intend excelling all former efforts. Handsome prizes will be offered for the best costumes. Our Port Hope experts in this line should be on hand."

Yes, you can all come and we can guarantee you a first class evening's enjoyment. We never do things by halves here.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

The Bible Society.

We are again requested to call the attention of our readers to the fact, that the annual meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Bible Socity takes place this evening, at the Murray Street Bible Christian Church. The Rev. Mr. Jeffrey of Cobourg and other gentlemen will speak.

Another one In.

Moses Oates says that within the next three weeks the weather will be variable, and several cold spells will occur. He thinks that in Toronto there will not be more than six or seven days sleighing, and throughout the Province not more than two weeks, this winter.

Fire Protection.

It is a subject of general congratulation to our citizens that a fire did not occur at any time during last night. Even many of those who would not before acknowledge our almost defenceless position, now admit that if a fire had taken place in any of the business blocks, while the high wind prevailed, that to-day Peterborough would have no existence. This position we have held for many years and time after time the correctness if it is admitted. In this connection we are pleased to state that the negotiations for the construction of our waterworks are proceeding favourably and from information which we glean, we anticipate that before this time next year, we will have a system of fire protection, that any place in Canada would be proud to possess.

For Winnipeg.

The Woodstock Sentinel says:—

Mr. J. W. Gillbard, for some time manager at J. G. Short & Co's left on Monday for Winnipeg to assume charge of the office of the Ontario Metallic Spinning Company, of Woodstock, in that city. During his stay in town Mr. Gillbart has made a great many friends, and has won the esteem and confidence of his employers. He carries with him nothing but good wishes for his future success. We have no doubt that under his management the already large interests in the North west of our barb-wire company will be rapidly extended.

Mr. Gillbard, who formerly resided in Cobourg is well known here and his many friends will join with us in wishing him success in his futnre home.

Personal.

Dr. Kincaid M. P. P. is in town, his parliamentary duties being finished for this week.

Mr. John Wells, formerly of Peterborugh, now of the firm of Stephenson & Wells, one of the best known in Winnipeg, is here on a visit to his many friends. Like all the others he is prospering.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—North-westerly to south-westerly winds, fine slighlty colder weather.

Assaulting a Stepfather.

STIRLING, Jan. 25.—Thomas Perkins was yesterday committed to gaol by Mr. Bull, J.P., on a charge of assaulting, with intent to kill, Charles Kynle, his stepfather. The prisoner applied an offensive term to his mother's child by her second husband, and the result was a row in which Kynle tried to shoot Perkins with a gun. Perkins tried to stab Kynle with a pocket knife, and was finally driven from the house by Kynle with a revolver.

LAME BACK.—Lumbago, Kidney complaint, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all pain and inflammation are speedily cured with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Croup, sore throat, colds, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, chilblains and all wounds of the flesh are quickly healed by Yellow Oil.

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J. D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED.—In these times of quack medicine everywhere, it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise, and which really does as recommended. Electric Bitters we can vouch for as being a true and reliable remedy, and one that will do as recommended. They invariably cure Stomach and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary difficulties. We know whereof we speak, and can readily say, give them a trial. Sold at 50 cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—3.

PREJUDICE KILLS.—"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Patients.—Telegram.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

A DIFFICULT TASK.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—The task of replacing the Ministry which was defeated yesterday promises to be both a long and difficult one. How difficult may be judged from the fact that, contrary to all traditions of French journalism, not a single paper has yet ventured to invent a new list of Ministers. De Freycinet and Ferry are still thought to have the best chance of being offered the privilege of succeeding Gambetta, but as both statesmen know that their term of power at the present juncture would be abruptly terminated unless the late President of the Council supported them, it is more than probable that they would decline it. Brisson again, whose name has been mentioned, is a trifle too advanced in his opinions to be called upon by Grevy, and moreover has not the stuff of a President of the Council in him. Logically Andrieux, who has been the chief instrument in upsetting Gambetta, should be requested to replace him but Andrieux, though he may make most excellent epigrams, has no tallent whatever for manufacturing Cabinets, and is personally disliked in the Chambers. Altogether the situation is immersed in doubt and obscurity, and all speculation for the present seems ill founded, Gambetta does not appear to be dejected by his defeat. He attended Grevy's reception last night, and was as cheerful as though he had won a portfolio instead of having lost one. As the immediate result of yesterday's vote in the Chamber we may expect a complete rejection of the constitutional revision scheme by the Senate. Leon Say is still an advocate of the measure, while Jules Simon is resolutely opposed to it.

THE STABBING AFFRAY.

DETROIT, Jan. 27.—The examination of James Minock, who stabbed James Carr to death near Redford Centre, on Tuesday, took place before Justice Ewing, Livonia, yesterday. There was a large crowd of farmers present as interested spectators. Justice Ewing decided to hold the defendant over to the Wayne Circuit Court for trial without bail. Minock expressess deep contrition for his act, and says he injured Carr during the struggle with him, although he maintains that the cuts were inflicted by the knife Carr held in his hand while rolling on the floor. Minock was brought back to the county gaol last night.

GUITEAU'S POSITION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Judge Merrick says there need be no doubt of the legality of Guiteau's trial from the fact that it occupied more than one term. The Criminal Court law expressly provides that a trial begun during one term may go on uninterruptedly until finished, without regard to the terms of the Court. One of Scoville's grounds for asking a new trial will be that the jury were permitted to read newspapers. Scoville will, he says, file a newspaper on which the names of seven of the jurors were written. He asserts that the names were written by the different persons. The officers who had charge of the jury, and the members of the jury themselves, claim that the jury carefully complied with every requirement of the law, and saw no newspapers duing the trial.

DAMAGE BY FLOOD.

BRADFORD, Penn. Jan. 27, midnight.—Between 10 and 11 o'clock an ice gorge on the west branch broke loose, and came down the creek with the force of a cataract. A floating mass of ice and heavy logs passed the Mechanic-street bridge without harming that structure, but in its mad rush broke away the gorge at Pine-street. The force of the water was interrupted by a boom at Kennedy's mill, further below. The water rushed madly over the banks, completely submerging Boylston Point, Kennedy, Davis, Bishop, and Fairmah streets. Those who had not retired for the night ran from their houses and alarmed the sleeping neighbors In a very short time the water had reached the door steps of many houses, and the inmates cried lustily for pretection. The fire-alarm whistles were blown, and the firemen rushed ed bravely through the water, which by this time had become in many places knee deep; they carried people from the inundated houses in their arms and on their backs. At this writing there is no evidence of abatement, and the water is flowing into Main-street. The Erie Railway tracks are under water and the rails may possibly be washed away before morning. At present the damage done cannot be estimated.

PENNY WISDOM—POUND FOLLY.—It is foolish to save the little that Sozodont costs, and suffer what will result in bad teeth and large payments to dentists. Place a bottle of it on the toilet, use five drops only of it every time after eating, cleanse the mouth, and show your wisdom.

GROUNDLESS FEARS.

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—The tempest having interrupted telegraphic communication with St. Petersburg yesterday, it was believed here for some time that the Nihilists had isolated St. Petersburg and would attempt a "Grand Coup."

ANOTHER WARNING.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 28.—A fresh number of the Nihilist journal the Will of the People is being circulated and sent to the Court, Ministers, dignitaries and regiments of the empire. The leading article says: "The coronation of the Czar is fixed for the 25th, but it may never take place. Make no preparations for it as many things will occur between this and the 25th of May. Do not throw away your money uselessly. It is simply ridiculous and disgusting."

AMERICAN.

BLAINE—PERU—CHILI.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The Tribune says that the correspondence respecting Peru and Chili has attracted marked attention. The dates of the correspondence alone show that the charges that Blaine presumed to inaugurate a radical foreign policy of his own during the illness of Garfield are without foundation. It is stated that every paper in the Peru-Chili correspondence was sent out by the State department, and shows that Blaine's questionable policy had the personal knowledge, personal inspection, and personal approval of Garfield or Arthur.

ARRESTING MIASMA.

A Washington special to the Times says that the landscape architect of the Capitol grounds recommends that a belt of trees 160 feet wide, be planted south-west of the Capitol in the low lands for the purpose of arresting the movement of poisonous miasms from the low lands to the Capitol. This can be done at a moderate expense.

AN AUTOCRATIC PARTY.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 28.—The amalgamated relief union of working men has ordered 400 men in Cunningham's carriage and casket factory to strike for an average of 12 per cent. of an advance. Cunningham & Co. refuse the demands. The men will quit to-day. The union also demands that the boss painters raise the wages of house painters to $2.50 per day.

SUSPECTED POISONING.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Belle Oliver, a well known wealthy woman was found dead. It is suspected that she was poisoned with opium. The deceased was divorced from her husband.

CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—In additional correspondence relative to the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, transmitted to Congress by the President to-day, is a letter from Minister Lowell, dated December 27th, stating that he would read Blaine's despatches to Lord Granville and left copies with him. Lowell did not think it prudent or proper to enter into a discussion with Granville upon matters therein set forth, but as some newspaper had criticised one despatch as untimely, he thought it not out of place to remind him that the policy of the United States had already been clearly indicated in a message to Congress by Hayes, and more strongly reiterated in the same public manner by Garfield. Granville was, as usual, exceedingly courteous and friendly, but made no remark except that the publication of the despatch before an opportunity was given him of replying to it "seemed to him, to say the least, unsual."

A Meal for Fifteen Cents.

Here is a bill of fare for fifteen cents, as served in one restauraunt in Philadelphia; Roast beef and mutton, boiled mutton, meat pie, potatoes, corn, peas, tomatoes, pies, bread and rice puddings, and several other articles which vary from day to day, though the above are staple products of the establishment to be had at every dinner. The reporter indulged in the following meal:—

	Cents.
One fourth pound roast rib of beef at a cost to the establishment for the raw material of	3
Two boiled potatoes	1
One dish dried peas	2
One dish tomatoes	1
One cup coffee	2½
One pat butter	1
Two slices bread	1
One piece pie	2

This leaves a profit to the proprietors of two cents for each individual's dinner, but it must be taken into consideration that he has yet to defray the important items of rent, help, gas, fuel, etc. Thus he has to serve out 200 seperate dinners before he realizes an aggregate profit of $4 off the cost of material alone, and to which he must look to defray his other incidental expenses.

DYSPEPSIA AND DEBILITY, A SEVERE CASE.—From Wm. Bentley, 24 Rodman Street, Fall River, Mass.—"I was severly afflicted with general debility caused by over-exertion in working when I was not strong enough to do so. I became so nervous and debilitated that I was finally obliged to give up work and devote myself entirely to rest. This, however, did not benefit me, as I had nothing to occupy my mind and I could not be idle. I concluded that my trouble was heart disease, and consulted a physican, who pronounced it an aggravated from of dyspepsia, and was treated accordingly. Nothing that I tried gave me any relief until Peruvian Syrup was recommended. I used three bottles of this, and could see a great improvement, as I was able to resume work. Three bottles more completely restored my health." Sold by all druggists.

THE MIDLAND SYSTEM.

OTTAWA TO BE THE EASTERN TERMINUS OF ONE OF OUR GREATEST RAILWAYS.

The History of a Great Enterprise—Ottawa to be the Depot for a Great Western Traffic—Bright Prospects for the Capital.

The question of a second through route from Ottawa to Quebec appears to be at last practically settled by the recent amalgamation scheme of the Midland Railway. As was stated in yesterday's Free Press the chief officers of that company are in the city, and have finally located their line to, and terminal facilities in, Ottawa, using jointly with the Canada Atlantic Railway Company, the Stewarton property, recently acquired by the latter corporation for their Ottawa terminus. In addition to this they have arranged to erect a commodious Union Station on Elgin street, together with such other buildings, etc., as may be required to accommodate the immense traffic that it is anticipated the Midland Railroad will be able to send via Ottawa to the seaboard and to the Eastern States of the American Union.

HISTORY OF THE SCHEME.

To a great many of our readers the name of the Midland Railway is scarcely known, but as it is in the near future likely to largely increase the business of this city, we give a brief sketch of the history of this road from its inception up the present moment. As early as 1856 the Midland Railway was built between Port Hope and Lindsay to accomodate the trade of what was then the pine supplying district of that region. A few years later a branch was extended to Peterborough, and shortly after this the main line was extended from Lindsay to Beaverton on Lake Simcoe. Here the enterprise hung fire, but the traffic on the road was enormous, as the entire region was covered with excellent pine lumber, large quantities of which were being manufactured and shipped. About the year 1875 the proprietors of the road decided to extend ther line to Midland city, on the Georgian Bay, and operations with that object in view were commenced accordingly.

UNDER A CLOUD.

Owing, however, to the depression in trade the management got into difficulties, and were unable to complete the line beyond Waubashene. The depression in trade continued and the company became gradually involved in financial difficulties, which culminated in the winter of 1878-79, when it looked as if the concern would have to be wound up in bankruptcy. Fortunately, however, there was one man who had faith and confidence in the earning power of the Midland Railway. He had sufficient enterprise to advance the necessary money to relieve the company of its most pressing difficulties, and also to enable it once more to renew its traffic service which had come to a standstill, as at that time the whole of the employees of the road, after repeated strikes, had finally resolved to work no longer unless there was a change in the management made by which they would be guaranteed their wages. The tradesmen also who supplied material for the company had come to a similar decision several months before.

BRIGHTER DAYS.

The man who came to the front at this critical period was Mr. Geo. A. Cox. He advanced large sums out of his own personal means, and inspired renewed confidence in the heart of all connected with the road. From the summer of 1879 up to the present date, under his able management the Midland Railway has gone on steadily improving until its traffic receipts have more than doubled in that short period. Mr. Cox grasped the fact that reckless competition meant ruin, both to the company and to the public, in whose interests the railway was built. Shortly after he had placed the Midland Railway in reasonably good order, which at that time was a task of no small difficulty, he looked around him for the best means of cutting off competition, while at the same time continuing to adhere to the policy he had enunciated, and under which the interests of the shippers and manufacturers along the line of the road were considered to be identical with those of the company he represented. His first important act in this direction was the arrangement of

with the Whitby, Port Perry, and Lindsay Railroad, a line which had been in direct antagonism to his own, the result of which was unsettled rates and very poor service on the part of either company. This arrangement being effected, and being found to the great surprise of many shippers to operate to their benefit, Mr. Cox then took up the larger and more important scheme which will now unite Toronto and Ottawa by a direct route—that is the amalgamation of the following companies into one system under the name of the Midland Railway of Canada:—Midland Railway proper, 142 miles in length; Toronto and Nipissing Railway, 115 miles; Victoria Railway, 56 miles; Whitby, Port Perry and Lindsay Railway, 46 miles; Grand Junction Railway, 91 miles; Toronto and Ottawa Railway, 114 miles.

A BIG SCHEME.

His first step was to secure the Grand Junction Railway, and that move having been effected, he was enabled to make a financial arrangement under which the other companies named were brought into the amalgamated system upon terms which were satisfactory to the original proprietors, and which are likely to be of great benefit to the central district of Ontario. In the past the companies named above were under seperate management, and operated independently, so that in shipping freight, say from Toronto to Haliburton, a merchant had to pay first a local freight rate to the Toronto and Nipissing Railway; then a local freight rate to the Midland Railway, and again another freight rate to the Victoria Railway; whereas they now have only to pay one freight rate between the two points mentioned. This is based upon and every one familiar with freight rates is perfectly well aware that the larger the haul on one system of railways, the smaller the rate is per mile in proportion to the distances. These remarks will apply equally well to Ottawa, when the Midland Railway reaches our system as we should then only have one company to deal with between this city and Toronto. In addition to being placed in direct communication with the important centres of population now secured by the Midland Railway, we may confidently anticipate that Ottawa will be able to obtain a fair share of the business of such points as Peterborough, Lindsay, Uxbridge, Orillia, Waubashene, Milbrook, Port Hope, Whitby, Belleville, etc., which has hitherto had necessarily to be transacted at Toronto owing to the dirrect communication which that city had with these points.

FACILITIES FOR WESTERN TRADE.

The Midland Railway has at its terminus on Georgian Bay, at Midland city, what is admitted one of the best harbors in Canadian waters, and fully equal to that of Halifax. They have erected there one one of the largest elevators in the country, and have ample wharves and shipping accommodations. They have established a line of steamers to ply between Midland, Prince Arthur's Landing and Duluth, and also a second line to ply between Chicago, Milwaukee and Midland. These steamers will form a chain of communication for the enormous traffic which will be poured from the west to the east, their share of which will be simply limited by the quantity they are able to accommodate. As the Midland Railway Company will undoubtedly carry this traffic on their own rail as far as possible it is certain that the whole of this business will be brought to Ottawa for transhipment to the Canada Atlantic Railway under the arrangements which were consummated yesterday.

A NORTH-WEST CONNECTION.

In addition to the sources of trade spoken of above Mr. Cox, Messrs. Gooderham and Jaffray, and the other proprietors of the Midland Railway are virtually the promoters of the Ontario & Sault Ste. Marie Railway and they intend to build a line from some point on the northern end of the Midland system to the Sault Ste. Marie and thence to connect with the Northern Pacific Railway for Manitoba and the vast grain fields of the Northwest. Arrangements are already being made with the Northern Pacific Railway to extend their line so as to meet the Midland system at Sault Ste. Marie, and a charter for a company to construct a bridge over the river at that point has been applied for. The Sault Ste. Marie Railway will be about 425 miles in length and will run through the best lumber district now retained by Canada, and a district which is abundantly supplied with mines of iron and copper of the first quality. The whole of this traffic will seek an outlet in the east, and will, therefore, necessarily come to Ottawa to be distributed via the Canada Atlantic Railway, which will convey it to the seaboard and various eastern points. From the above it will be seen that we shall have at this city the eastern terminus of a railway of about a thousand miles in extent, passing through the heart of Ontario, and draining the very finest agricultural, mining and lumbering regions. We are having prepared a map of the Midland and Sault Ste. Marie lines which we will present to our readers at an early date, when we will also give some more detailed particulars as to the sources and classes of trade which will be transacted on them, and how they will be likely to affect this city.—Free Press Jan. 26.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

KEEPING UP WITH THE TIMES.

Mr. R. Chapin, our village undertaker and cabinet maker, has during the last week received a valuable addition to his stock of furniture, &c., in shape of cane work, parlor sets, &c., &c., from the Oshawa furniture manufactory. Mr. C. is bound to push his business, and to keep pace with the improved times.

NEW STATION.

The Midland railway office in Lakefield was this week moved into the new station. The new station presents a very creditable appearance, and is built in a much better position than where the old station stands.

WOOD.

Mr. Thomas Whatley is delivering wood to the Midland R. R. in Lakefield at the rate of about 50 cords per day. He expects, if the sleighing continues, to deliver 2,000 cords in a month's time.

GOOD TEMPLARS.

The following officers were elected at the regular meeting of Washington Temple of Lakefield, held in Union Hall on Queen Street, on Wednesday evening last, the 25th instant:—

Bro. Wm. Carter	W.C.T.
Sister E. Shields	W.G.T.
Bro. Stewart Patterson	W. Secretary
Bro. Watson Hales	W. F. Sec.
Sister McDonald	W. Treas.
Bro. Wm. Scrimger	W. Marshal.
Sister M. J. Bell	W.I.G.
Bro. Jos. Curtin	W.O.G.

CAMPBELLFORD.

SHIPMENT OF GRAIN.—The Herald says that the following is the amount of grain shipped from the Campbellford railway station from the 1st of October to the 23rd of January, 1882:—

Peas	4,050 bush.
Barley	60,500 "
Rye	23,000 "
Wheat	14,000 "
Oats	3,200 "
Total	104,750

NEW C. M. CHURCH.—The Canada Methodist Church have under consideration the erection next spring, of a handsome new church, to cost about $7,000. Subscriptions for the same have already been received to the amount of several thousand dollars, and the prospects of much more are very encouraging.

THE WOOLLEN MILL.—The cards in the woollen mills were put into motion this week. The machinery composing the same is the finest of modern invention. Quite a number of visitors have been through the buildings to inspect the splendid finish of the work of the interior, and the excellent machinery.

PERSONAL.—We are pleased to see the return of Mr. E. P. Kelly, station agent at the Grand Junction Railway, who has been absent for some weeks, suffering with congestion of the lungs. Mr. Gandrie, relieving agent, of Port Hope, discharged the duties of Mr. Kelly's office, during the latter's illness.

THE MAILS.—Mail matter is still carried over the stage route. Probably its conveyance by train will not take place until the completion of the late railway consolidation.

MILLBROOK.

FIRE SCARES.—The Messenger says that on Wednesday morning about half-past eight, smoke was seen issuing from the small wooden building, adjoining Smith's drug store, occupied by Mr. Wm. Breakey, as a shoe shop. On entering the building the floor of the back premises was discovered to be on fire, and after burning about six feet of floor, was fortunately put out. The fire was caused from hot ashes being thrown in a box, on the top of cold ones, the morning previous....This is not the only fire scare, of late. A few weeks ago, the Messenger office had a close call from the flooring in the upper story catching fire from the pipe, or rather from dust having accumulated in the tin fire-protector catching fire. This occurred about 10 a.m., and was observed, when about two or three inches of the floor was burned away, and before blase arose. Had it not been seen in time, a vacant space would have been made in this part of the village. The reader may take a heavy bet, it was not long before that tin fire protector had to make way for a solid brick one. ....We hope those gentle fire hints may arouse our citizens to procuring some sort of fire protection, for, just as sure as a fire breaks out in any business part of our town, so sure will the village go up in a smoke again without some fire exterminator.

RELIEF FOR THE POOR.—At a meeting of the Committee appointed at the public meeting, to get up a concert for the relief of the village poor, held in the Council Chamber on Wednesday evening last, the following gentlemen were appointed a sub-committee to enquire into the nature of applications and to grant orders on Mr. W. W. Needler, Treasurer, for such relief as they may deem necessary: Messrs. James Kerr, Wm. Carveth, and A. E. Hayter, the Secretary of the Committee.

PRESENTATION.—The numerous friends of the Rev. Newton Hill, of Millbrook, surprised him at the parsonage on Monday evening last, by presenting him with a beautiful racoon overcoat valued at $40, as a token of his services as their pastor. The presentation was made by the Reeve of Millbrook, Mr. Alex. Ferguson, in a very neat speech. The Rev. gentleman thanked them for their valuable and timely present.

COBOURG.

PLATE GLASS BROKEN.—The Sentinel-Star says that on Monday night, between 11 and 12 o'clock, one of the large plate glass windows in Mr. S. Clarke's clothing store was broken, no one knows how. Several silk handkerchiefs were missed out of the window. The break was not discovered until some time after it was made. Although advantage was taken of the break to commit a robbery, it is supposed that the deed was done either by accident, or more probly by some one in a drunken frolic. Attention has so often been called to the very inefficient police protection offered to our people without any apparent attempt at a change either on the part of the police force itself, or the Council, that one almost despairs of anything ever being accomplished by way of remedy.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday while two men, Messrs. Toms and Thurston, were bricking up the inside of a well which they had dug on the premises of Mr. M. Henderson, near Poe's mill, Thurston sustained a severe injury. The bucket, filled with brick, had been let down in the well, and was returning empty, but when within a few feet of the top, owing to not having been properly fastened to the rope, it fell back into the well, a distance of over twenty feet, and striking Thurston on on top of the head, cut it so badly that we are informed he lies in a precarious condition.

Y.M.C.A.—The World says that the annual meeting of the Cobourg Y. M. C. A. took place on Tuesday evening. After an excellent tea, served to the members by lady friends, the business of the meeting was undertaken, and consisted of the presentation of reports in the several departments, the election of officers, etc. The reports of the working of the Association were favorable and highly satisfactory, and the financial standing of the institution was shown to be good, both as to the general and building fund. About a dozen new members were admitted. An interesting feature of the evening's entertainment was the presentation of a beautiful gold watch and chain to Miss Lawes, the Organist and Choir Leader, as an expression of appreciation of her valuable services in that capacity during the past seven years. The acknowledgment was a well-served one. A Committee was appointed to secure the opening of the reading room at once. Addresses were delivered by Mr. C. H. Waldron, of Vic. College Y. M. C. A., and Mr. W. P. Crombie, the General Secretary of the institution for the Dominion.

TURKEYS IN EARNEST.—On Saturday, Mr. S. S. Howell, the Insurance fiend, imported a pair of turkeys of the Bronze breed, which were admitted to "take the cake" from anything in that line ever seen in this neighborhood. One of them,—the one of the gentleman persuasion, gloried in a live (fighting) weight of 56 lbs.,—we think that was what they said, though it may have been 96. The other one was not ordered quite so heavy. Stanley says he imported them for breeding purposes, and that he intends to train them to the insurance business. He got 'em home with one horse.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I have advised many ladies to try your "Favorite Prescription" and never see it fail to do more than yon advertise. Yours truly, MRS. A. M. RANKIN, 141 Bates Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

TRUE TO HER TRUST.—Too much cannot be said for the ever-faithful wife and mother, constantly watching and caring for her dear ones, never neglecting a single duty in their behalf. When they are assailed by disease, and the system should have a thorough cleansing, the stomach and bowels regulated, blood purified, malarial poison exterminated, she must know that Electric Bitters are the only sure remedy. They are the best and purest medicine in the world, and only cost 50 cents. Sold by Taylor & Macdonald.—4

CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

TIME IS PASSING.

The wheels of time are moving on
In their never ceasing mission,
Carrying thousands off earth's stage
To take a new position.

Its great machinery never stops,
New events still are speeding,
No breaks can be put on its car,
The past is still receding.

Poor mortals travel onward still
Till time their problem finish,
And many fall and fade and die,
Then earth's hopes all diminish.

The world looks beautiful and fair,
But nothing is abiding,
The longest life must have an end,
And in dark shades be hiding.

The name of change is wrote on all
That is beneath the sun;
All that exist upon earth's lap
Soon find their journey run.

No stop, no stay, but travel on,
Then yield to the decree;
'Tis solemn, awful, sadly true,
The heavens too must flee.

Man's fall stained all our lovely world
With sin and death and pain,
And ne'er can he retrieve what's lost
Till Eden he regain.

And on through wilds and wastes and moores,
He prosecutes his way,
But when his years are numbered, all
To death must tribute pay.

Then where is he? the die is cast,
He must return no more;
The gates are shut, the line is drawn,
He's gone for evermore.

And time itself must promptly yield,
Its limit now is o'er;
Earth's work is wound up, all complete,
And time shall be no more.

Peterborough, Jan. 28.

THE TWO CANADIAN MURDERS.

Smith in Orangeville Gaol—Bourke also in Confinement and Contented.

SHELBURNE, Jan. 26.—No change was noticeable this morning in the apparently innocent demeanour of the boy John Smith, arrested on a charge of having murdered his uncle, with whom he lived, in the township of Amaranth. The prisoner was taken to Orangeville this morning in charge of constable Henderson. He will be confined there, as stated in a previous despatch, until the resumption of the inquest on Wednesday next. The hopes of the Crown officers that much new evidence of importance will be found in the meantime, do not seem to be very strong. There is a hearsay statement made that a Laurel magistrate was applied to at one time by the deceased to secure legal protection against the boy, saying that he was afraid of him. An effort is being made to verify this statement, but it will probably be found without foundation. At present the circumstantial evidence against the prisoner is so strong that it appears to be impossible to reconcile all the facts with the prisoner's perfect innocence of at least a knowledge of the crime. It is generally conceded that if the boy is guilty he must have had accomplices.

THE FATHER.

of the boy has been in the village all through the progress of the inquest and has attended closely to the evidence. He eagerly speaks of the murder with any person who will listen, and is never tired of defending the boy in any discussions of the case that may rise in his hearing. He has been kept pretty busy, as the case has been almost the sole subject of conversation since the inquest opened. In appearance the father is rather short in stature, apparently close upon seventy years of age, with small eyes which he keeps half shut, and which look out of a face of marked Irish type with the lower half covered with short, weak-looking beard. He is spoken of as being in comparatively good circumstances, yet like many of the farmers in region, he keeps closely at work, as do all the members of his family, to gather still greater store of this world's goods. He declares, however, that he is prepared to let everything go to save the boy, and he really seems to mean what he says. Detective Murry, who has been working up the case, has been called away temporarily by other business, but it is expected he will return before the resumption of the inquest to secure further points.

THE PRISONER IN GAOL.

ORANGEVILLE, Jan. 26.—John Smith, the alleged murderer of his uncle, was brought down from Shelburne to-day and placed in the county gaol here.

HAMILTON, Jan. 26.—Mike Rourke, the murderer now confined in Milton gaol, is reported to be making the best of his unenviable situation. He eats and sleeps wells, and has stated that he did not think it worth while to secure counsel after having pleaded guilty. It is probable that the Crown may assign him counsel, and when indicted he may plead not guilty. The case will likely be heard at the spring assizes. In the meantime the Sheriff and Crown Attorney have directed to allow no person to have access to the murderer but those legally entitled to the privilege, and interviewers have been shut out.

Considerable controversy is going on between the officials of Halton and Wentworth Counties as to which made the arrest. The facts as reported by the Globe the morning following the tragedy are correct. The Halton County constables and the Hamilton police were both searching for the murderer, and Chief Stewart and Detectives Gates and Mackenzie were the first to arrive at Jerry Howell's house, were Rourke was found. The Chief at once instructed Gates and left him in charge of the man, telling him to keep him till he returned, or to hand him over to the Halton County authorities. Chief Stewart and McKenzie then drove away to the Maher's house. In the meantime Rourke confessed to Gates that he had committed the murder. Constable Henderson and Baker, of Halton, with others, were at the same time searching, Henderson arriving at Howell's after Rourke had confessed the murder to Gates. On Henderson's arriving Gates handed him over. The Hamilton police captured and detained the murderer, and then handed him over to the Halton authorities.

FROM ALL OVER.

THE Grand Jury at the York Winter Assizes Court on Thursday morning threw out the bill in the Baxter-French libel case.

ROUZAND, Christine Nilsson's husband, has gone crazy over financial losses on the Paris Bourse.

IF YOU ARE BILIOUS, take Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," the original "Little Liver Pills." Of all druggists.

A YOUNG man named Mattisson, employed in the cotton factory at Cornwall, committed suicide on Thursday, by cutting his throat. Drink was the cause.

YOUNG, MIDDLE AGED, OR OLD MAN, suffering from nervous debility and kindred weaknesses, should send two stamps for large treatise, giving successful treatment. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE Quebec Chronicle gives currency to the statement that Hon. Dr. Robitalle is not averse to being re-appointed Lieut.-Governor of Quebec, when his term expires, and that such a re-appointment will probably be made.

I STRONGLY recommend the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites to all who suffer in any way from disease or weakness of the Lungs, Bronchial Tubes, or general debility. J. H. W. SCOTT, M. D., Gagetown, N. B.

THE "Crank" class is represented in the United States House of Representatives by Mr. Robinson, of New York, whose particular craze is the terrible sufferings of American citizens in British Bastiles. He would like the United States to attack England, lay London in ruins, and free the captives, a la England's punishment of King Theodore of Abysinia.

NEURALGIA.—This scourge, being a purely nervous affection, can only be alleviated through a thorough purification of the blood and secretions. It and all kindred ailments are completely overpowered by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, which never fail to afford relief.

DR. CARSON'S Pulmonary Cough Drops are an excellent Expectorant loosening the phlegm far more readily than any other preparation. For Coughs, Colds Bronchitis, Tickling in the Throat and Soreness and Tightness of the Chest, they have no equal. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, agent, Peterborough.

THE two young men, Holmes and Thibeaudeau, who pleaded guilty to robbing their employer, Thos. Stone, of Chatham, were brought before His Honor Judge Beil, yesterday for sentence. They were given one year each in Central Prison. A very large petition was presented to His Honor in their behalf, asking him to be as lenient as possible.

ON Tuesday evening some one entered the rooms of a guest at Brown's Hotel, Norwich, and stole $25. The theft was discovered shortly after being committed, and the doors were all locked. Two suspicious characters, along with several others who were in the hotel at the time, were held while the Chief of Police was sent for and instituted a search, which was unsuccessful.

A CIRCUMSTANCE with a very happy outcome was lately referred to by the Brooklyn Eagle. It was told by Mr. W. A. Davenport, connected with the House of Messrs. Butler, Pitkin, & Co., 479 Broadway, New York, and concerned the marvelous cure of Mr. Ezra D. Clarkson, near Newark N. J., of a terrible case of rheumatism, which other remedies had failed even to alleviate. He was on his way to an hospital when Mr. Davenport met him and indued him to try St. Jacobs Oil, with the result named.—Cleveland (O.) Practical Farmer.

THAT the value of our natural resources is only beginning to be understood is a fact which has been stated so often as to have become wearisome. It applies especially to our fisheries, the work of which has been amazingly underated. One fish alone, and that a fish which is not a common article of food—the smelt—netted the fishermen of Miramichi last year the handsome sum of $25,000 as much as sixty tons passing over the railway from Chatham in one day. This leads a contempory to remark that there are worse countries than New Bruniwick, even in winter.

HAUNTED ME.—A Workingman says: Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged until one year ago, by the advice of my postor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost."—Christian Advocate.

BISHOP BEVERIDGE.—A gentleman meeting the celebrated and excellent Bishop, Beveridge, asked him how he was. Beveridge replied: "If I answer in Latin, I am sic, sic; if in English, so, so." There are many, who, if they spoke truly would give the same answer as the excellent Bishop. They have contracted lung disease, or it may be are suffering from asthma, and in great danger of that fatal malady consumption. Take warning in time, use N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir, it is really what many have called it, the "king" of remedies. Sold by all druggists throughout the Dominion.

Stooping at Work.

The Lancet says: "The dangers which the seamstress, especially the young undeveloped girl, incurs by prolonged stooping over her work have been exposed by us on more than one occasion. Every practitioner will have been able to trace cases of deviation of the spine, uterine complaints, etc., to the back, and the crossing of the legs for many hours day after day. Our object now is to record the successful attempt made by Dr. Malherbe to avoid these melancholy consequences of an industrious occupation. The new system employed is that of fixing to the edge of an ordinary table a sort of cushion on which the work can be easily fastened, or spread out, and represents the seamstress's knees. A framework of the simplest description admits of the raising or lowering of this cushion, so that the work may be done either sitting or standing; but in either case the vertebral column is maintained perfectly straight, while the facility thus given to a change of position will tend to mitigate the fatigue a young person would otherwise experience. Recognising that example is more forcible than theory when waging war against common routine, Dr. Malherbe at once sought an opportunity for making some practical experiments. He therefore introduced his contrivance at the Communal School of Nantes, and no objection was raised on the part of the pupils. Two among them had a slight tendency to malformation, which has been to some extent rectified since the introduction of this reform in the attidude of sewing. Evidently the remedy to a great evil is simple and practical, and should be made the subject of more extensive experiments.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrup and balsams, but act directly on the Inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere. d52w9

The cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract, satisfactory security will be required by the deposit of money to the amount of five per cent. on the bulk sum of the contract, of which the sum sent in with the tender will be considered a part.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

The Bible Society.

The annual meeting of the Bible Society took place on Friday evening in the Murray street Bible Christian Church. The attendance although fair was not what it should have been.

The chair was occupied by Dr. Fife, President, and Mr. James Stratton acted as Secretary.

Among the others present we notice the Revs. Joliffe, Shaw, Bell, Torrance and Fletcher, and Messrs. Col. Haultain, Dr. Bell, J. F. Jeffers, H. Grundy, W. A. Morrow, W. Eastland, T. W. Robinson, D. W. Dumble, J. Campbell, Jos. Ford, M. Sanderson, and others.

The proceedings opened with prayer, after which an excellent choir sang an appropriate hymn.

Mr. James Stratton read the annual report showing the society to be in a flourishing condition. We will publish the report in full in another issue.

On motion the report was received and adopted.

Rev. J. W. Jeffrey, of Cobourg, delivered an exhaustive and eloquent discourse on the Bible, dealing very severely with the so called Agnostics.

The Rev. gentleman was loudly applauded at the close of his excellent address.

The Lakefield Election.

The Mail says that as a result of the recent municipal elections in Ontario, several applications have already been made to the Master in Chambers for writs of quo warranto to test the validity of the return of reeves and councillors. A writ was issued on Thursday to test the election of a Mr. Hull, as councillor for the village of Lakefield. county Peterboro'. The objection to this gentleman's return is that he holds an office under the Government—as Licence Commissioner—and is consequently ineligible for the office of councillor by express provision of the Legislature. The return to the summons will be made in a few days and the matter argued at Osgoode hall.

QUEEN ex rel. NELSON v. HULL.—Holman as agent for Mr. H. H. Smith obtained a fiat for the issue of a summons in the nature of a quo warranto to test the validity of the election of the defendant as councillor for the village of Lakefield, county of Peterboro' on the ground that he is ineligible for office, being a License Commissioner.

The Bowling Club.

For sometime past the Bowling Alley has not been open, the many other attractions of what may be called the holiday season, taking up the time of the members to such an extent, that it was impossible to get over three or four persons present at the regular weekly practice, therefore it was determined to close the Alleys. On Friday night they were re-opened and the management having secured the services of a caretaker, the building will be open every evening, Sunday excepted, of course. After the holiday, the members turned out in strong force and the game was one of the best that has yet been here. As will be seen by the following some good playing was done. Mr. P. D. Doran, one of the old champions again showing the juveniles how to roll the balls. The following were the principal scores:—

P. D. Doran	211
W. Rudkins	196
J. Shevelin	187

Telephonic.

Mr. F. Proutt, who has had the management of the Bell Telephone agencies in Peterborough and Lindsay, for the last few months has resigned the position to accept a better one. Mr. A. T. Smith, late of Hamilton takes charge. Mr. Smith has been in connection with the Hamilton exchange since its commencement, and is a thoroughly efficient man. He will give careful attention to all calls and complaints of subscribers. Parties who can find any use for a telephone will do well to call at the telephone office and learn rates of rental.

The Court House.

Mr. Rutherford's men worked hard and well yesterday, and in consequence the roof is sheeted all over. The tinsmiths will commence work at once. The roof will be made as strong as it possibly can be.

Personal.

Dr. Boulter, M. P. P. for North Hastings, is at the Caisse House.

Mr. J. W. Leonard, General Passenger Agent of the Credit Valley Railway, is at the Caisse House.

A FIRE ALARM.

Lots of Smoke, But Little Fire—Nominal Damage—A Close Shave.

On Friday evening, shortly before 7 o'clock, smoke was discovered issuing from the building on Hunter Street, occupied as a blacksmith and carriage shop by Mr. Thomas Laplante. Several gentlemen who happened to be in the neighborhood, gained an entrance and found the premises filled with smoke, coming from a very small fire, started probably from one of the forges. A few well directed blows with an axe and the application of two or three pails of water in the right place extinguished the incipient flames.

In the meantime, as it is usually the case, a fire alarm was sounded, and in double quick time the brigade responded and had the apparatus on the ground and ready to work in a remarkably short time. As smoke was still issuing from the building, although not the slightest vestige of fire was to be seen, it was thought best to prepare for an emergency, more particularly as the building is an old one, that may be classed among the few remaining tinder boxes of the town, and has the "Oriental" and Mr. John Sullivan's new hotel on either side of it. Two lines of hose were run out and the steamer, placed near the old rink, belched forth great clouds of smoke, (about the only thing it is good for), as if eager to get to work. Ladders were planted and a thorough examination of the top storey, where all the smoke came from, was made, but fire on this occasion was non est. Shortly after the Brigade arrived a few tongues of fire darted out of a small hole, just behind one of the forges, on the west side, and a rush was made for the place, but before the side of the building could be torn out by the numerous men with axes that were on hand as if by magic, a small boy with a dipper of water applied the liquid just where it was required, and extinguished the coal fire in the forge.

The citizens turned out in large numbers and almost blocked the streets, but as soon as the extent of the conflagration was learned, they wandered off in pairs and crowds until very few except the firemen were left.

The damage done by the fire is merely nominal, but the smoke must have done some harm to the finished and partly finished carriages and cutters stored in two or three rooms.

This is the fourth fire alarm in succession, all within a few weeks, which has called the firemen out when their services were not required in the least, and our opinion, as well as that of the members of the Brigade is, that this thing has gone just about far enough and should end here. In nine cases out of ten the alarms are given by boys, who at the first sight of fire or smoke run to one of the bells and give an alarm without taking the trouble to ascertain if there is any necessity for so doing. If the engineer or any of the firemen catch any of these youths we can safely state that summary justice will be meted out, perhaps before the Police Magistrate has a chance to say anything in the matter. Another noticeable thing in connection with the last three or four alarms is the fact that all have been given early in the evening, in fact just about the same hour.

It is an exceedingly fortunate thing that the fire did not gain any headway or the destruction of valuable property, almost in the centre of the town, might have been great. Fortunately the high wind of the previous night did not prevail or——.

Railway Notes.

When the Oshawa Vindicator says that "since the falling through of the scheme to build the Toronto and Ottawa railway, public sentiment has cooled considerably, and it was thought nothing more would be done on the subject," it shows that it is hardly keeping "posted" on what is going on only a short distance from its own door. As all our readers are aware, the line is now located for a distance of 182 miles east of Peterborough to the place where it will make a junction with the Canada and Atlantic Railway. Contractors are at work between Madoc and Bridgewater and tenders are asked for the remainder of the located line. Keep up with the times, Mr. Vindicator.

The Kinmount correspondent of the Independent says that Mr. A. White, of the Midland Railway, was here last week, and I interviewed him, and had a long conversation on the subject of the furnace. The Midland Railway very naturally takes a deep interest in the matter, and is prepared to second Messrs. Barry and Mills in every way in its power. The County of Peterborough ought to assist the project.

The Campbellford Herald says that several extra trains have passed over the road during the week. The Junction's business is now something of importance.

The Ottawa party have reached home all right. In another column will be found a well written account of the Midland system.

The Elevator.

The elevator near the Grand Junction track in Ashburnham is now rearing its head above the neighboring buildings, and looks quite conspicuous. It will not take much longer to finish the work, and the elevator will be a great convenience to those who desire to store or ship grain. The latest and most approved machinery will be put in place as soon as the carpenters are through with their portion of the work.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

Appointments.

The Committee on Appointments to Office, of the Town Council, met on Friday evening. The principal business discussed was the selection of Assessors, as the appointment of these officials has to be made before the 1st of February, the matter will come before the Council on Monday night, when it will be finally settled.

ANOTHER STEP ONWARD.

A Large Purchase of Steel Rails by the Midland—The T. & O. Division.

We are pleased to state on first class authority that Mr. G. A. Cox, President of the Midland Railway, has completed the purchase of 8,000 tons of steel rails, a quantity sufficient to equip the remaining portions of the Midland and the Toronto and Ottawa division. We can also state farther that Mr. Cox expects to have the T. and O. division running by December of the present year. We are glad to see these evidences of progress, and bespeak for our road a bright future.

POLICE COURT.

ASSAULT.

SATURDAY JAN. 28.—W. S. Cocks appeared to answer a charge of assault, preferred by County Constable Johnston.

A COUNTER CHARGE.

Johnston was also charged with assault by W. S. Cocks.

ANOTHER ONE.

Johnston was charged by W. S. Cocks, with using grossly insulting language toward him.

The three cases were enlarged until Monday morning next.

The Storm.

Accounts from all parts of the country state the storm of Friday morning was one of unusual severity. Telegraph wires were blown down, houses unroofed, buildings burned, and vessels damaged in various places. Reports from our own county state that outbuildings and fences were destroyed in many cases, but fortunately no serious damage was caused. P. C. McGhee at the south end of George street, had his celler flooded, the water making its way over a stone wall. Several buildings in course of erection in different parts of the town suffered more or less, being partly unroofed and the scaffolding blown down.

The Weather.

The weather as predicted still keeps warm and pleasant, but as will be seen by the predictions below, we may expect another blow and cold wave. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Cloudy, mild weather today, with light rains in some localities, followed this afternoon or to-night by high westerly to north-westerly winds and decidedly colder weather, with local falls of snow. To-morrow will be very cold, and at night the temperature will fall considerably below zero.

Dance.

The Omemee Herald says that a party from Peterborough, numbering about twenty couples, visited Mr. John Blackwell on Friday night last. After warming up they repaired to the hall where the light fantastic was tripped for a few hours to the music furnished by Martin's string band. A first class supper was furnished by mine host Blackwell, and all left for home well pleased with the night's amusement.

Our Eastern Member.

The last number of our spicy contemporary Grip, contains a caricature of the local member for East Peterborough, in a charcteristic attitude, and underneath the following lines:—

These speeches stick in my gizzard,
To sit here and listen it is 'ard,
To the smoke-room I'll go,
And 'baccy I'll blow,
For such is my nature, says Blezzard.

Town Council.

The regular meeting of the Town Council takes place an Monday evening, at the council chamber at 730 o'clock. There may be a large amount of business to transact, as there generally is during the first month or two of new councils.

Value of Intercourse With Children.

We can know children only by much loving intercourse with children. A young minister of my acquaintance was, in the early years of his ministry, unable to speak to the children. When asked to speak in the Sunday School, he would address only the parents, the teachers, the brethren generally, getting away to these even when he tried at the outset to address the little ones. People thought this strange, as he was thought to excel in simplicity of style, and why should he not speak well to children? Ten years later he became very fond of speaking to them, and very acceptable. What was the explanation? He had been, as it afterwards came out, the youngest child of the family, much younger than the others, and had grown up without childish associates at home, and with a positive dislike for babies. But by this time his own children had drawn out his warmest affections, and intercourse with them had given him some knowledgs of the nature and ways of little children; this wrought the change. So to know children better you must mix with them not only talking to them, but getting them to talk freely to you, and to one another in your presence. If there is not ample opportunity for this at your home, seek it it in other homes, give all the time you can spare to it, and in twelve months you will yourself be conscious of a difference which your pupils will have felt much sooner. And not only as to little children. Young men and young ladies, just fairly grown, are apt to have a great contempt for half grown boys and girls, who are, in truth, often very intractable, and sorely try the patience, and dishearten the loving hopes of the most faithful parents. But mix freely with these youngsters. Look out for what is pleasant in them, and promising. You will sometimes find in a particuiarly hard case certain traits so pleasing as to delight you with a joy of discovery, like one who has discovered gold beneath a surface that to other people is unattractive. I was once walking with a lady in the early morning, when a very large millipede was seen crossing the walk. The lady screamed and shrank back, but I stooped and began to express admiration of its bright colors, glittering with dew from the grass it had just left, and of the beautiful wavy motion, beginning at the head and propogated throughout its length, like wheat waving in the wind. Then I called the lady to observe, and presently she, too, stopped and was filled with admiring pleasure. Try such an experiment on yourself as regards some especially intractible boy or girl.—S. S. Times.

FRIGHTFUL HOMICIDE.

Two Old Men Locked Together in a Struggle—Cut to Pieces with a Knife.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 25.—Early yesterday morning James Carr, who lived in Redford township, about two and a quarter miles from Beach station, was killed by James Minock. The former was a widower, 70 years old, and the latter is 68 years old, and has a wife with whom he does not live, and one son, John, of Redford. Minock lived on a farm and Carr was stopping with him, having been, it is said, turned out of his son's house in Grand Rapids. Between seven and eight o'clock yesterday morning Minock left the house for the purpose of fodderring and watering his cattle, and was absent, perhaps, half an hour. It was his habit to keep his money under his pillow or between his bedticks, and when he got back to the house he saw Carr coming out of his (Minock's) bedroom. He ran into the room and searched for his money, and discovered that it had been stolen. He suspected that Carr was the thief, and unceremoniously accused him. With one hand gripping his coat collar, and the other brandishing a large butcher-knife, Minock demanded the return of his money. A scuffle ensued during which it is said Carr also drew a knive, but in a very few minutes the latter was and dead on the floor, killed by his benfactor whom he had robbed, after enjoying the shelter of his roof. He had thirteen cuts on his face and body, and Minock also cut his clothing all off in the search for his money, which he finally found on Carr's person. After ascertaining that Carr was dead, Minock went up to his son's house and gave information of the occurence, freely confessing his act and declaring that he had a right to kill and was justified in killing the man who had robbed him. The neighbours gathered at young Minock's house and constable Hutchinson took the homicide into custody. Justice Wm. Ewins held an inquest, and the jury rendered a verdict that James Carr came to his death from wounds inflicted by a knife in the hands of James Minock. The latter was brought to the city last night and lodged in gaol. The amount of money stolen by Carr was $41.

Sad End of one of the Six Hundred.

In the pocket of a drunkard who died a few days ago in the city prison of San Francisco was found a curious document, purported to be in brief the autobiography of a man who began active life with more than the usual share of ambition and glory. In the worn and almost illegible page was found the following description of of the famous charge at Balaklava, the writer, at the age of 16, having apparently been one of the immortal Six Hundred: The bugles rang out their shrill calls to charge, and we went right to to centre of our foes. The shock was a fearful one. As we struck against the enemy a Muscovite cavalryman, with a look as black as hate on his face and his eyes blazing aimed his lance at my heart. I parried his blow and struck his weapon down, and then despatched him. But it must have been from him I received a wound, for at night I found my left boot full of blood, and a lance wound right under the knee-cap. In striking down his lance, the point of it entered my leg, but in the excitement of the moment it passed unnoticed. I could never tell how we broke through the Russian lines, but we did. When we appeared on the other side I came to my senses. Then we met another line of the enemy, but our spirits were up and we passed through them like a sheet of lightning. It was terrific work and our troops suffered heavily. That wound under the kneepan was all I received during the bloody work of the Crimean campaign. It fires me up a little, even now, when I think of those times, just like an old warhorse at the sound of a trumpet; but I don't think I would care to see or pass through them again. I went into that charge a private and came out a corporal, besides receiving two distinguising marks for bravery and good conduct.—Ex.

Heavy Damages.

The jury in the case of Thomas H. Stringham, who sued Mrs. A. T. Stewart of New York, to recover $50,000 damages for injuries received by the fall of a grain elevator at Garden city, gave the plaintiff a verdict on Wednesday for $16,000 and costs, and the court made an allowance of $500.

A GENERAL STAMPEDE.—Never was there such a rush made for Drug Stores as is now at Taylor & Macdonald's for a trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons afflicted with Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs, can get a trial bottle of this great remedy free, by calling at the above drug store.—4

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

PREJUDICE KILLS.—"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Patients.—Telegram.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Another large failure occurred on the Stock Exchange yesterday. It is expected two or three large houses will fail during the present week unless assistance is rendered. There has also been a failure in the foundry business, and one in the building business, with liabilities of £6,000 and £15,000 respectively. There is quite a panic, and business is at the lowest ebb. A banker of Frankfort has suicided on account of his losses. A banking house of Cologne has failed. Warburg, of Hamburg, has failed, with liabilities of one hundred thousand pounds.

Hall the first chief justice of Colorado, says that President Fillmore told him that he regarded his signing the bill creating Utah a territory and his appointment of Brigham Young as Governor, as a great mistake. Fillmore said his greatest fears of signing had been verified by time and the evil as far as he could discern was utterly without remedy, except by repealing the Organization Act and blotting the territory from the map.

INTIMIDATION.

RICHMOND, Va Jan. 30.—A clergyman of Edgefield county, South Carolina, writes that since the negro exodus ceased incendiarism is prevalent. U. S.—CHILI—PERU.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The Times says Judge Taft's friends state that Taft will positively be elected for the Berlin mission. Prescott is now acting in accordance with instructions he received before his departure from this country. At the outset it was the intention of the administration to inquire into the arrest of Calderon and he should so address Chili that only a friendly answer could by any possibility be made. The President does not question Blaine's sincerity or desire to accurately reduce to writing the instructions agreed upon. It is said that the President saw some of the written instructions, but it may also be supposed that all that was written did not come under his eyes. It cannot be expected that the President will read every word of the communications forwarded under his instructions by the state department. He seems sufficiently to be of the belief that the administration did not intend that Prescott should not visit Brazil and the Argentine Confederation on a diplomatic mission. The correspondence sent to Congress contains a note stating that four communications from Shepperd to Blaine in relation to the Peruvian company cannot be found in the State Department correspondence. It is certain that in many letters which had been written the names of prominent persons were scratched out before the correspondent was sent to the Senate.

Prejudice Kills.—"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Patients.—Telegram.

Dyspepsia and Debility, a Severe Case.—From Wm. Bentley, 24 Rodman Street, Fall River, Mass.—"I was severly afflicted with general debility caused by over-exertion in working when I was not strong enough to do so. I became so nervous and debilitated that I was finally obliged to give up work and devote myself entirely to rest. This, however, did not benefit me, as I had nothing to occupy my mind and I could not be idle. I concluded that my trouble was heart disease, and consulted a physican, who pronounced it an aggravated from of dyspepsia, and was treated accordingly. Nothing that I tried gave me any relief until Peruvian Syrup was recommended. I used three bottles of this, and could see a great improvement, as I was able to resume work. Three bottles more completely restored my health." Sold by all druggists.

THE FINANCIAL CRISIS.

PARIS, Jan. 28.—According to to-night's Soir an important meeting of Paris bankers was held to-day to consider by what means the threatened financial disaster on the Bourse could be best avoided. Among those present were Baron Soubeyran, Baron Rothschild, M.M. Joubert and Mallet, and representatives from seven or eight others of the richest banks in Paris. The banks represented at the meeting agreed, says the Soir, to advance if necessary a sum not exceeding eighty-five million francs, the repayment of the said sum to be guaranteed by the official Paris brokers collectively.

THE JEANNETTE SEARCH.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 28.—A telegram from Irkutsk dated Saturday states that Lieut. Danenhower's party was expected there on Sunday and would be forwarded to St. Petersburg. Engineer Melville, who has left for the mouth of the Lena to resume the search for Lieut. DeLong, is furnished with stores to last until July. Two Russian officials accompany him to assist in the organization of search parties.

THE SPANISH PILGRIMAGE.

MADRID, Jan. 28.—Considerable stir has been caused at Madrid by the Papal Nuncio recommending the bishops to promote the pilgrimage to Rome. The newspapers urge the Government to assume an energetic attitude in view of the Nuncio's patronizing what might prove a Carlist demonstration. The Madrid Government has informed the Italian Government that it will refuse to protect Spanish pilgrims participating in any political demonstration at Rome.

THE FRENCH CABINET.

PARIS, Jan. 28.—M. de Freycinet has undertaken the formation of a Cabinet. M. Jules Ferry will probably be Minister of Public Instruction, M. Leon Say will be Minister of Finance, M. Varroy Minister of Public Works, M. Billot Minister of War, and Admiral Jurequibery Minister of Marine.

THE BALKAN INSURRECTION.

VIENNA, Jan. 28.—In the delegations the Imperial minister of Foreign Affairs inroduced a credit of 8,000,000 florins for the suppression of the insurrection. The commander at Serajevo reports numerous skirmishes. The insurrection extends over a large district, both of the Herzegovinia and Bosnia. Ten gendarmes were recently surprised at night by insurgents in the Herzegovinia and massacred under the most frightful circumstances.

ARRESTS IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Jan. 28.—Forty arrests were made on Saturday in the southern portion of Ireland, chiefly in the cities of Cork and Limerick. More troops have been ordered to Ireland, and will leave for that point at once.

SEARCH FOR DE LONG.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 28.—The latest news from Irkutsk states that Engineer Melville proceeded to the mouth of the River Lena to resume his search for Lieut. DeLong with the greatest energy, aided by the natives. Provisions are plentiful, so the search can be prolonged. The captain of the steamer Lena accompanies Mr. Melville.

AMERICAN.

THE BIG BLOW.

BRADFORD, Jan. 28.—The heavy wind laid low 300 derricks in various parts of the McKean field. The loss to oil property will be $45,000. The trestles were washed out and a passenger train was wrecked at Duke Centre, but no lives were lost.

SERGEANT MASON'S TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—It is thought Sergeant Mason, who shot at Guitteau, will be tried by the court-martial which meets here on Monday.

SCOVILLE AND COX.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Mr. Scoville in court this morning inquired regarding the bill of exceptions, whether he would be compelled to except specifically, or whether a general exception would suffice. Judge Cox stated that under the practice of the court he would have to except specifically. Mr. Scoville stated that he had intended to file a motion for a new trial, but would like to have until Monday. The District Attorney objected, and Mr. Scoville stated that he would file the motion this evening in the clerk's office. The District Attorney asked the court to assign Tuesday for hearing the argument upon the motion. Mr. Scoville stated that he would scarcely be able to enter upon the argument at that time, and the court declined to fix a day.

STILL HOPEFUL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Guiteau passed the day quietly in the gaol. The guards report that he has regained his spirits, and that he eats with his accustomed appetite. His sleep is still restless, but on the whole he is not nervous as on the day after the verdict. He is hopeful of a new trial on the reasons resigned by Mr. Scoville in his motion.

A DENIAL FROM JURYMEN.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The four jurymen whose signatures it is alleged appear on the margin of the Critic appended to the affidavits filed by Guiteau's counsel on Saturday deny most positively that a copy of that or any other paper was ever in their apartments at the National hotel, and declare that they never had a pen in their hands during the whole course of the trial, except to write their autographs for outside parties. This was always done in the room occupied by the bailiffs, and in the immediate presence of these officers. The general impression with those who have examined the matter is that it is a clever forgery.

FOR THEFT.

BUFFALO, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Sophie Lyons, wife of the famous "crook" Red Lyons, was arrested in this city yesterday evening in connection with Bob McKinney, who has the reputation of being a daring confidence man, for the alleged theft of gold watches from Cleveland parties on the day of President Garfield's funeral in September last. Mrs. Lyons expects to be acquitted without difficulty. She is a remarkably clever woman, and has carried on a systematic course of conduct that has gained her the reputation of a pickpocket and blackmailer. She is innocent or shrewd enough, however, to always escape conviction.

Had Suffered Many Physicians and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

WOODS AND FORESTS.

An attentive reader of the debates in the Ontario Legislature, now in session, cannot have failed to notice the fact that unusual attention has been given to the subject of our forests and the lumbering industry. Of course the disallowance of the Rivers and Streams Bill has raised much discussion, and several members have devoted much of their attention to it. But this is not all. Member after member has spoken, at more or less length, as to the necessity for protection from fire, the preservation of timber, and the perpetuation of our forests. But though this is very satisfactory, as showing the increasing interest that is felt in this important subject, it is unfortunate that no practical step has been taken in the matter.

The establishment of a separate Department of Woods and Forests would be of great public benefit. We hope that the Government will take this matter into immediate consideration; for there is now no more important subject to which they could turn their attention. If the administration does not act in this matter, some private member, and there are several who are fully competent, would render a public service, and secure for himself the gratitude of the whole community, by taking up the subject and pressing it upon the attention of the House and the country.

With the formation of such a department we feel confident that a better system in regard to our forests would be inaugurated, and therefore we abstain for the present from pointing out the details of the legislation that is desirable.

Who will move in this matter and earn the thanks of the whole country?

TIMBER STATISTICS.

The United States Government have already issued several valuable documents giving the statistics of their forest areas, as compiled from the recent census returns. There is thus made public, on the best authority, the extent of the forest wealth of the country.

We trust that our own Government will follow this good example. It is of the utmost importance that we should know the extent of our standing timber, and the probable duration of the supply.

It is true that rather unfortunately the crown lands and forests were vested at Confederation in the several Provinces, who enjoy the revenue to be derived from them. But in reality this is no Provincial question. The whole Dominion is deeply interested in the prosperity of the lumbering industry, and has even a greater, if deferred, interest in the preservation of our forests, in view of the probability, that if the present system continues, we may in time become a timber importing, instead of exporting, country. These considerations make trustworthy statistics very desirable.

THE BOUNDARY QUESTION.

The question was: what is the western boundary of Ontario? For many years it has been left undecided, and there were not wanting people in Ontario who claimed that their province was bounded by the Rocky Mountains. But the Dominion Goverment stepped in and carved the Province of Manitoba out of the Great North-West. This done, there was a tract of land lying between Manitoba and Ontario to which both Ontario and the Dominion Government laid claim. Finally arbitration was agreed upon, the Ontario Government binding itself by an Act of the Legislative Assembly to abide by the decision of the Arbitrators; but the Dominion Government made no such law for itself, although Mr. Mackenzie was in power. The Arbitrators were Sir William MacDougall for the Dominion Government, Governor Wilmot for the Province of Ontario, and Sir Francis Hincks, as third, by choice of both. After much and careful balance of claims, and pros and cons, the arbitration was given in favour of Ontario. But the Dominion Government refused to act upon it. In that shape the case stands at present; the Ontario Legislature claiming that this land belongs to Ontario by a right ratified by a just arbitration; the Dominion Government asserting that the arbitration was not just and was not binding. Meantime the personnel of the Government has changed and the Conservative party are at the head of Dominion affairs, on which account Mr. Mowat and his friends proclaim that Sir John Macdonald is anxious to to injure the Province of Ontario, by withholding from it what is justly due to it. Mr. Hay, a somewhat unable man, and a little known as the hero of Bull Bitters and Apollinaris Water in a resent political burlesque, in which the late Lieutenant-Governor figured as the leading comedian of the travelling company, proposes a belligerent attitude, if not a civil war; but it is generally supposed among those who have had occasion to test the limits of Mr. Mowat's pugnacity, that he will restrain the wrath of his fugleman from North Perth and rely on less sanguinary measures. Of course, all this is is done with a view to make a little political capital for his friends, Mr. Blake and Mr. Mackenzie, to expend in securing votes at the next general election for the Dominion, but unfortunately for the Liberals Mr. Macmaster, in his able speech on the Address, picked the bubble by painting out that Mr. Mackenzie really raised the difficulty and set the example by refusing to act upon the arbitrator's award.—Canadian Spectator.

SHELBURNE MURDER CASE.

Finding of a Cartridge Box Near the Ruins —An Important Link.

SHELBURNE, Jan. 27.—The excitement in the village and surrounding country over the above fiendish murder still continues as intense as ever. As we advised our readers yesterday, the inquest was adjourned for one week to allow Detective Murray and others to ferret out evidence, and the boy is lodged in the meantime in Orangeville gao It would seen that to-day an important link of circumstantial testimony has been obtained in the finding near the ruins of the box belonging to the pistol which young Johnny Smith is alleged to have purchased in Mr. Hannah's store two days before the murder. The box is of ordinary pasteboard, and bears in large letters the brand "Robin Hood," the name of the pistol which the boy is said to have purchased. It will be remembered that Mr. Hannah and another witness named Foster swore that the prisoner came into the store on Thursday, the 20th, the murder being on the Saturday following, and purchased a cheap revolver and a box of cartridges, and that he was accompanied by another boy. Young Smith, however, denies this and swears positively that he was never in the store in his life. However this may be it is unfortunate for him the box has been found where it was. The bullet found by Dr. Rolstin in the interior of the murdered man's throat corresponds exactly with those belonging to the cartridges sold by Mr. Hannah to the prisoner for his Robin Hood revolver. It is urged by many, who are slow to believe in the the prisoner's guilt, that it was quite too revolting to conceive of one so young being guilty of such a horrid crime; also that the old man, besides being shot, was brutally battered with a heavy bludgeon, so as to pound one side of his head and face to a jelly and fracture all the bones. The incredulous ones say how could such a green and innocent-looking lad nerve himself up to the point of doing such revolting work. In further support of their theory they say the signs of a dreadful struggle were apparent on the snow some distance from the door, blood having flowed from the murdered man most profusely, and there were evidences of free bleeding along the line by which he was apparently dragged to the doorstep, where he was found partially roasted. Yet not a trace of blood could be found on the body or clothes of the boy.

THE OBJECT.

It can hardly be doubted that securing the old man's wealth was the motive actuating the assassins. The money which he had in his possession has been variously estimated at from $3,000 to $8,000, and it was said to have been kept in a tin box, and although the tin box could not burn no trace of it can be found, so it is but fair to presume that the murderer has secured it. Then again it has been sworn by the boy and others that he had a considerable quantity of silver in another box, and yet notwithstanding several copper coins have been found in the ruins, no trace of silver is to be had. Some again who claim to know considerable about the old miser's habits and business boldly assert that the bulk of his money was in gold, but although the ruins have been carefully searched, yet no gold rewards the energetic explorers.

A SEARCH FOR THE REVOLVER.

It is understood that a large party of men will carefully go over the whole line of the boy's flight from the home of his deceased uncle to that of Robert Watts, where the first halt was made. This search will be made in the hope of finding the revolver in case the culprit here threw it away. To-morrow also every particle of ashes and debris at the ruins will be carefully run through seives. Every detail of investigation will be complete.

THE UNKINDEST YET.

Oscar the Aesthete Compared to Cool Burgess as Nicodemus Johnson.

The New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer says:—"We are having fun this week with Oscar Wilde. And the big guy is having fun with us. May be his fun is funnier than ours, too, for he took twenty-five hundred of our dollars at Chickering hall. One thing is settled—Oscar will not become fashionable here He has been invited out several times, to be sure, but only by persons who are noted for grotesqueries. For instance, he has dined with Mrs. John Bigelow. She is the estimable and accomplished wife of an ex-Minister to France; still, all the same, she is the oddest creature in all our circles of culture and wealth. She is ever doing something queer. It was through her that the German official guests retired in anger from the recent ball to the Yorktown visitors. She dresses richly but outrageously. A dress of blue, with an overdress of green, is a mild form of her eccentricity in colours. If fashion orders a fullness of drapery behind, she is pretty sure to disobey by putting the fullness in front. She never wears corsets: she is in all things original and independent; she was sure to be the most conspicuous leader in society to welcome Oscar, the æsthete. As for the general public, we have seen him, and he has made us mildly sick. If he comes your way, it will be worth your while to take one look at him, just to see what an overgrown, loose-jointed, spindle shanked, vacant-faced, unwholesome fellow may get admiration in London. Until then you will have to > Conceive him if you can,

> A six-foot-two young man,
> A coldery, mouldery,
> Hair on his shoulders,
> All knuckles and joints young man.

Or, if you wish something to tie your imagination to, recall Cool Burgess in his song and dance, 'Nicodemus Johnson.' The thin legs and black stockings; the broad flat feet, the wide collar, the swallow-tail coat, the wild hair, the idiotic expression, the awkward attitudes—all these, though differing in details, make up a similarity of general defect."

TRUE TO HER TRUST.—Too much cannot be said for the ever-faithful wife and mother, constantly watching and caring for her dear ones, never neglecting a single duty in their behalf. When they are assailed by disease, and the system should have a thorough cleansing, the stomach and bowels regulated, blood purified, malarial poison exterminated, she must know that Electric Bitters are the only sure remedy. They are the best and purest medicine in the world, and only cost 50 cents. Sold by Taylor & Macdonald.—4

Humbugs in the Hospitals.

"There are a good many of the class called "hospital dead beats," said the Superindent of a city hospital yesterday. "They make it a business, especially in winter, to go from one hospital to another with pretended ailments, content to lie in bed and be waited upon as long as we are willing to keep them. The women generally claim to be afflicted with hysteria. They will sometimes lie rigid as a corpse and pretend to be unable to move. I have known such a case to be cured by one bucket of ice cold water suddenly dashed upon the patient. The "hospital beats' are generally familiar with Bellevue, where, from long experience, they have learned to dispose of such cases summarily, so that the old "rounders' get tired of attempting their impositions.

One of the most successful frauds I ever saw practiced was by a girl of nineteen. She came here well recommended, and claimed to be afflicted with rheumatism. She gave her name as Mary Reed. She was so pretty, modest, and amiable that she soon became a favorite in the hospital. She was tractable and easily managed. As she recovered her strength she showed a desire to help other patients.

One day a rather coarse man called to see her, and said she was his wife, and he wished to take her home when she got well. We were all surprised to discover that she was married. Her story was that she had been at service with a wealthy family up the Hudson; that this man was the coachman, and she had married him; that soon after they were married her husband got out of employment, and in order to help him along she had gone out to service.

The girl's manner was so plausible, and she told her story with such a captivating simplicity, heightened by a pretty foreign accent, that we all believed her. As she got stronger she went out several times, saying she was looking for work.

"One of our patients was afflicted with erysipelas and we had to isolate her in the cottage. Mary kindly volunteered to nurse the patient, and did so with a tenderness and assiduity that won our admiration. The patient got well, but communicated her disease to Mary, who became very ill. At one time her life was dispaired of.

"The visits of the coarse man ceased. Then another man came and claimed her as his wife. He was a Spaniard, and evidently a sailor. Our suspicions were aroused. His story was that he had met the girl at Gibraltar, where she was known as the daughter of a Spanish Jew; that she had come to this country with him, and that he supported her here, but that while he was absent on one of his voyages she had left him. He was willing, however, to forgive her and marry her, and they finally made up their disagreement and went off together. The Spaniard said that her sister was one of the favorite wives of the Emperor of Morrocco, who had taken a great fancy to her and bought her from her parents."—N. Y. Sun.

A Novel Ending to a Bankruptcy Case.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—A dividend of one hundred cents on the dollar on all the filed claims, with a surplus of about $20,000 after making due allowance for reserved claims and reasonable costs in the case, is a new item in the record of the insolvent courts. Four years ago the fine timber limits owned by Mr. John Lorne Macdougall and Mr. Duncan Campbell McDougall were taken possession of by their creditors, and the firm forced into insolvency. At this time a Mr. Fraser held a mortgage on the properties to the amount of over $40,000, and valued his security at $20,000, and the best experts say that had the estate been turned into a cash realization he could not have got more than $25,000 for the estate. Two banks held large claims against the concern, and so convinced were their representatives that the affair was "gone up," that they advised the assignee to hand the affair over to Fraser and relieve them of the liability. Mr. Bell, of Carleton Place, who was the party in charge, refused to do so. He had every confidence in the recuperative power of the country, and now has the satisfaction of knowing that he has enabled the estate to pay all its claims, and leave a handsome amount on hand for the benefit of its first owners.

AN INTERVIEW WITH A DOCTOR.

The other day in one of the trips which Jennie and I occasionally manage to take, we fell in with Dr. ——. I will not give his name. He is a physician of national, I may even say of international reputation; but as my object in this letter is to report the conversation which I had with him, and as my experience is that men who endeavour to quote me generally get my opinions somewhat awry, I will give no name, and so do no personal injustice. We had been talking on various topics medical and hygienic before the conversation reached its personal tone.

Laicus.—Doctor, are there any plain, simple general rules of health, which a busy man like myself can easily comprehend and apply, and which would make him a more efficient worker? I am not asking for medical advice as an invalid, but for health rules to add to the vigor of a fairly healthy man.

Doctor.—Yes; in the first place, do no work before breakfast.

Jennie.—Good.

Laicus.—I have been accustomed to do some of my best work before breakfast—that is, before the family breakfast—rising at five o'clock and working two or three hours on a cup of coffee and a cracker or a roll.

Doctor.—The French work in that way somewhat, but all such work is a spurt and costs an immense amount of vitality. The result of ante breakfast work is two fold: first, the body is in no good condition for good work the rest of the day, and the draughts on the future life are large and the wearing out of vitality excessive. Rise betimes. For most men a rapid sponge bath every morning is a good thing of course. Dress leisurely, either throwing the window open and breathing the outer air, or after completing the toilet taking five minutes walk on the piazza or the sidewalk outside, and then sit down to breakfast, which will naturally be a relatively light meal.

Jennie.—Should the bath be with cold water?

Doctor.—That depends: the water should be comfortable, not so cold as to give a chill for the purpose of getting up a reaction. Each individual must determine the question of temperature for himself.

Laicus.—And you do not recommend physical exercise before breakfast?

Doctor.—No; not for most men. Some are so circumstanced that they must do household or out-of-door work before the first meal, and the body accustoms itself to the necessity; but the other is the better way. Between breakfast and dinner are the best working hours of the twenty-four.

Laicus.—What shall the dinner hour be, noon or early evening?

Doctor.—It makes no difference. In the country the natural dinner hour is one or two o'clock. The worker should rest a little before dinner, and for an hour at least after dinner. He may take a nap in the afternoon if he is so inclined, and then from four or five till tea-time may do light work. His tea will be a light meal, and he should give the evenings to recreation and rest. If he lives in the city, five or six o'clock will be the more natural hour for dinner. There are no better preserved workers in the world than the Englishmen. They rise late, breakfast at nine o'clock or later, lunch at one or two, take a cup of tea at four, and then their day's work is over. Following tea comes a ride or walk or some other form of out door exercise; dinner, a leisurely, social and enjoyable meal, is taken at six. The evening is given up to having a good time. They go to bed at eleven or twelve. I speak now of the workers. The nearer you get to the Queen and the more fashionable the society, the later is the dinner hour, and the later in consequence the next morning's breakfast. Then every year, from four to six weeks, the workers of London leave the city for their vacation in the country, especially in Scotland and Ireland.

Laicus.—What do they do there?

Doctor.—I asked one of them once, and he replied. "We are groomed." They do nothing but get in good condition for the next season's work. We work too continuously in America and with too little breaks in our working hours."

Laicus.—What of night work?

Doctor.—I have done some night work of course. It is sometimes a necessity; but no man who wants keep himself in the best working condition should work before breakfast [whereat Laicus shook his head and Jenny said "Good" in a whisper] or after tea [whereat Jennie shook her head, and Laicus said "Good" in a whisper].—Laicus, in Christian Union.

ENGLAND.

THERE were 5,406 books published in Great Britain last year, some 300 less than in 1880.

THE number of Roman Catholic churches in England has doubled within the past twenty-five years.

MR. ADAM MCCALL, the leader of the Livingstone Pioneer Mission on the Congo River, Africa, was buried at Leicester on the 18th Jan.

LIEUTENANT-GENERAL James W. Bosville Macdonald, for many years private secretary to the Duke of Cambridge, died on the 5th inst. at St. Leonards. He was born in 1810.

THE sheep-stock of Great Britain in the last two years has diminished by more than 12 per cent., there being a decline of 2,000,000 sheep and 1,000,000 lambs since 1879.

Mr. GEORGE MULLER, of the Bristol Orphan Home, is in Egypt. He preached in Port Said in English and German; also in Cairo and Alexandria. From Port Said he was to go to Jaffa.

THE total exports from Melbourne, Adelaide, Sydney, and Queensland, to Great Britain for December were:—Wool, 137,000 bales; tallow, 4100 casks; copper, 1800 tons; copper ore, 2100 tons; wheat, 25,000 qrs.; flour, 3800 tons; tin, 36,000 ingots.

TELEGRAMS from Marseilles state tnat the baloon which carried Mr. Walter Powell to sea from England on the 10th of December last has been found, together with the body of Mr. Powell, in the Sierra Pedroso.

THE Lord Mayor, in the name of the City of London society of Artists, on the 4th inst. presented Sir F. Truscott with a marble bust of himself, in recognition of the support he had given the Society during his term of office as chief magistrate of the city.

SPEAKING at an alliance meeting the other day, Mr. Whitworth, M.P., remarked that he had been a total abstainer all his life, and could trace 500 who had become total abstainers by his example. He never allowed a drop of strong drink in his house.

WHEN the Scotch express arrived at Darlington on the 5th inst. two boys, brothers, aged 10 and 14 respectively, and named Hamilton, were found hanging on by the brake under one of the carriages. They stated that they had got on the train at Edinburgh, and intended to have gone on to London. The distance from Edinburgh to Darlington is 260 miles.

KISS ME.—"TRABERRY," the new and exqusite little gem for the teeth and breath, has a beautifully plated metal screw top. Try a 5 cent sample.

FROM ALL OVER.

A CLEVELAND druggist, annoyed by a temperance delegation who tried to persuade him to discontinue the sale of liquors for any purpose whatever, smoked them out with red pepper.

A NEW use is suggested for ether. A patient recently at South Cork Infirmary, while under the influence of ether, acknowledged that he had been connected with several moonlight outrages in the districts from whence he came.

I STRONGLY recommend the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites to all who suffer in any way from disease or weakness of the Lungs, Bronchial Tubes, or general debility. J. H. W. SCOTT, M. D., Gagetown, N. B.

BREATHING through his arm pit is a remarkable peculiarity of James Dwyer, in the hospital at Salt Lake City. This strange avenue to the lungs was made by one of the bullets with which a desperado at Bonanza City peppered him three years ago.

THE attack on Mr. Moorewood by his brothers in England on Christmas Day arose out of trouble caused by their father's will. He left to the younger brothers $100,000 each, and $50,000 to each daughter, but the estate has at present been unable to meet all these claims.

TIMELY WARNING.—Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures in fluenza, asthma, croup, whooping coughs, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

A JOLLY-LOOKING beggar woman recently entered a shop in Dublin, and asked the owner for charity. He shook his head and said, "I am not able to give you anything," The woman, in a cheerful tone, promptly replied, "Thank you, sir, and may you long be in the same position."

THERE is a rumour in Kingston that Captains Lewis and Frazer have made arrangements for the purchase of a floating dry dock at Buffalo, which is to be taken to Kingston. The dock has been in use for four years, and will accommodate a vessel of 175 feet keel.

NEURALGIA.—This scourge, being a purely nervous affection, can only be alleviated through a thorough purification of the blood and secretions. It and all kindred ailments are completely overpowered by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, which never fail to afford relief.

SEVERAL farmers in the vicinity of Napanee have effected a sale of 40,000 bushels of barley to a Chicago dealer at 90 cents per bushel, delivered at the cars at Napanee station. Should the barley prove satisfactory a sale of 100,000 bushels more is likely to follow.

So great was the success attending the British Columbia salmon fishery of 1881 that several new companies are preparing to go into the business of canning. The Standrad suggests that now is the proper time to prepare and enforce regulations to prevent conflicts between companies.

DR. CARSON'S Pulmonary Cough Drops are an excellent Expectorant loosening the phlegm far more readily than any other preparation. For Coughs, Colds Bronchitis, Tickling in the Throat and Soreness and Tightness of the Chest, they have no equal. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, agent, Peterborough.

FOOD and Health laments the day that potatoes were ever introduced into Ireland. They have, it says, made her "lazy, influenced the brain progress of its common people, by making the latter exciteable and unstable from want of nourishment, and lowered the whole status of the nation.

SAYS the Winnipeg Times:—Rev. George Flett, of the Okanses mission, who arrived here a day or two ago with Mrs. Flett and Miss E. Ross, drove the whole way, a distance of over 200 miles, in a bob-sleigh, having accomplished the journey in nine travelling days. This is considered pretty good travelling, in what some eastern people would term a hyperborean climate. The weather was splendid.

A GREAT deal of excitement prevails in the front part of Leeds county, caused by the preaching of two young ladies—Miss McGregor and Miss Thomas. The former is from London, Ont., and is about 17, while the latter is from Syracuse' N. Y., and is about 23 years of age. It is said they belong to wealthy families, and have been sent out by the Free Methodist Church.

HAUNTED ME.—A Workingman says: Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged until one year ago, by the advice of my postor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost."—Christian Advocate.

A FEW mornings since a dog was found lying beside a hole in the ice at Waubashene, and the depth of the impression melted in the ice by the warmth of the faithful animal's body, showed that he had been watching at the treacherous spot for some hours. It is supposed that his master must have fallen through the ice and been drowned. No one from the neighborhood has been reported missing.

Mr. Robert Geary, of London Township, is one of those who is not afraid to say that farmers can do as well here as in the North-West. Last week he sold 1,100 bushels off Delhi and Michigan Amber wheat, to Messrs. J. & N Johns of "Turville's Mills," a portion of the 1,400 bushels he has threshed out of forty-one acres. This is a yield of which no farmer should be ashamed, and it is doubtful if Manitoba can beat it.

THE WAY A SWEDE SEES IT.—Prevading all classes of the Swedish people and controlling them in their plans and ideas is that strong vein of practical common sense which insures a conservatism of conduct and action that proves of singular benefit to them in their daily dealings with men. If one knows of a good thing they are all sure to know of it sooner or later. These were our impressions while perusing a few lines from Mr. B. C. Sandberg, of Ogden, Weber county, Utah, wherein he says: I have used St. Jacobs' Oil and I wish to tell my countrymen that it is the very best remedy I have ever tried for rheumatism—It is with pleasure that we also present the name of a well-known citizen who can speak intelligently concerning the Great German Remedy: Everybody living on the South side knows Mr. J. D. L. Harvey, a gentleman who has been a resident of Chicago for twenty years. His establishment, "The Palace Market," Nos. 104, 106 and 108 Twenty-second street, is probably the finest of its kind in the city, and numbers among its customers most of the aristocratic families of that section of Chicago. Mr. Harvey expressed himself upon the "oil subject" as follows: "I have spent over $2,000 to cure my wife of rheumatism. Two bottles of St. Jacobs Oil accomplished what all the medical treatment failed to bring about. I regard it as a greater discovery than electricity. It is a boon to the human race, and I am very glad to have this opportunity of testifying to its remarkable efficacy. I cannot speak too highly of it, and I would be recreant to my duty to those afflicted did I not lift my voice in its praise."

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

More About It.

Since we published the account of the arrest of W. J. Barrie on the charge of smuggling, at Richburg, N.Y., we have been beseiged with questions relating to the affair, but were unable to give any further particulars than those contained in the article quoted. Since then we learn that Barrie has been released on bail, also that Sheriff Hall has received a letter from the authorities at Richburg, informing him that they have taken from Barrie a set of harness and a buffalo robe, belonging to him, and which were stolen, it will be remembered, at the time of the series of robberies last spring. They have also another robe, which is thought to belong to the Rev. Mr. Roberts, formerly pastor of the Murray Street Bible Christian Church. We are also informed by a police officer that at the time the stolen robes were tracked to Barrie's door, that that individual, when he saw the officers approaching, shoved several robes, blankets, &c. into the furnace in his ashery, and thus hid all trace of them. We will give further particulars as received.

One (Inch) Ahead.

The following paragraph appeared in the Port Hope News of a recent date:—

"There is a family residing in East Durham the united height of three of the members being 19 feet, 5 inches. "How is that for high?" We will back them against competitors in any township in the Province."

Knowing that Port Hope, or East Durham either, could not produce anything to beat us, we inquired of the first tall man we met, and ascertained that he had two brothers the same height as himself, 6 feet 6 inches, or a total of 19 feet 6 inches for the three; thus beating the News' family by one inch. The family reside in West Peterborough, and are well known. Score another one for Peterborough. We are willing to go one better, as the family we refer to has three more sons, residing within thirty miles of Peterborough, whose united height is 19 feet 5 inches, or a total for the six sons of 38 feet 11 inches. Can the News beat that?

The Carnival.

The prizes to be awarded to the best lady and gentleman skater, for the best costume, and for the races, etc., are now on view in the window of Mr. W. A. Sanderson, George Street. They are all handsome and valuable, and are well worth inspection. Arrangements are now completed for the carnival, and from what we know and hear we think that we are safe in predicting the most successful affair of the kind ever held in the town of Peterborough. The Fire Brigade Band will be present during the whole evening, and will discourse some new music, never yet played by them in public. Remember the carnival takes place on Friday evening next, so keep yourselves disengaged for that occasion.

Dramatic Recitals.

The Oddfellows have secured the services of Esther Owen-Flint, the popular young Canadian elocutionist, who will give an entertainment in Bradburn's Hall on Tuesday, February 7th, consisting of dramatic and dialect recitals, and character impersonations, with the assistance of the best local musical talent. The London Advertiser says of her:—

This talented reader and reciter has abilities which are undoubted, and her pieces were rendered with excellent effect. The most effective was that entitled "How Ruby Played," being a supposed narration by himself of the visions and thoughts marshalled in the mind of one, who had never before heard fine music, by Rubenstein's performance on the piano.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

Town Council.

A meeting of the new town Council takes place this evening at the Council Chamber at 7.30 o'clock. From outside talk we should judge that the meeting will be quite a lengthy one. The appointment of assessors will probably cause considerable discussion. The ratepayers should attend in large numbers to infuse more life into the speakers.

Car Works.

The car works project has not by any means died out, and the promoters are just as sanguine as ever they were. Several sites for the buildings have been picked out, but their location has not yet been definitely fixed.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

THURSDAY.

The Council met, pursuant to adjournment, H. Collins, Esq., Warden, in the chair, and all the members being present.

The minutes of yesterday were read and confirmed.

The WARDEN stated that Mr. W. Mills, of Ashburnham, had asked him to call the attention of the Council to the propriety of appointing a Committee to look after the interests of the county and town in the legislation now being asked from the Provincial Legislature, and that the Council should press upon the attention of the Dominion Government the propriety of proceeding at once with the construction of the Trent Valley Canal. He also read a telegram from the clerk of the county of Hastings, with reference to the Deer River bridge, on the boundary between the two counties.

The Clerk was instructed to forward in reply to the same a copy of the decision arrived at by the Road and Bridge Committee with regard to this bridge.

THE OLD BURYING GROUND.

Messrs. J. WALTON, T. E. BELL and A. SCOTT, were, on motion, heard before the Council with reference to obtaining the further use of the old Burying Ground for exhibition purposes or the obtaining of a new ground for the same purpose.

The deputation were informed that the County Council had now no control over the ground in question, and that although at the instance of the Town they had given their consent to the sale of this ground for the purpose of purchasing another more suitable for a park and exhibition purposes, yet no action to that end had been taken.

Mr. STRICKLAND said if the West Riding Agricultural Society found any difficulty in obtaining a suitable place for holding their exhibitions in Peterborough, they had better come to Lakefield, where they could give them a good building and six acres for the purpose.

INSTRUCTIONS TO ASSESSORS AND CLERKS.

On motion of Mr. BURNHAM, seconded by Mr. SANDERSON,—The County Judge was requested to prepare a circular to the officers of the different municipalities of the county as to their respective duties under the Assessment and Voters' List Acts in making and preparing the Assessment Rolls and Voters' Lists, and that the County Clerk do have such circulars printed and distributed.

APPOINTMENTS TO OFFICE.

Mr. SANDERSON, (Chairman), presented a report of the Committee on Appointments to Office, recommending the following appointments:—

1. That W. E. Roxburgh, Esq., be appointed Trustee of the Norwood High School.
2. That Messrs. John Moloney and John Carnegie be appointed members of the Board of Audit of Criminal and County Accounts.
3. That John E. Belcher, Esq., be appointed County Engineer.
4. That R. Kincaid, Esq., M. D., be appointed Jail Surgeon.
5. That Mr. James McWilliams be appointed care-taker of the Court House and Grounds.

Mr. PEARCE moved the adoption of the report.

Mr. KIDD moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. LANG,—That the Report be not now adopted, but that it be referred back to the Committee with instructions to insert the name of Dr. Fife in place of Dr. Kincaid.

Mr. BURNHAM said he thought it was the duty of any gentleman making a motion to dismiss one officer and put another gentleman in his place, that he should give his reasons for so doing. He did not believe in dismissing any officer without cause, and Mr. Kidd had failed to state a single reason for doing so. Dr. Fife, however, had canvassed the members of the Council, and in doing so had put it on the ground that they had no right to re-appoint Dr. Kincaid, because he would be away from home a part of the time, and urged them to make another appointment in the intersts of the ratepayers, while as a matter of fact his object was to supplant him.

Mr. KIDD said he had nothing against Dr. Kincaid, but did not know that he had a monopoly of this office. He had heard complaints that the doctor was getting above his business.

Mr. STRICKLAND contended that no man should be dismissed without causes. If Dr. Kincaid did not perform his duties, let distinct charges be brought and let him be heard in his own defence.

Mr. PEARCE took the same ground and stated that Dr. Fife had written him some time ago on this subject.

Mr. MOLONEY had no fault to find with Dr. Kincaid, but thought that others were as well qualified as he was to discharge the duties, and he would move in amendment to the amendment, seconded by ROBE,—That Dr. O'Shea be appointed in place of Dr. Kincaid.

On Mr. MOLONEY'S amendment being submitted, it was lost on the following division:

YEAS—Moloney, McCliggot, Walsh, Crough, and Rork—5.

NAYS—Strickland, Burnham, Oliver, Kidd, Pearce, Mansfield, Burgess, Lang, Stewart, Sanderson and Fitzgerald—11.

Mr. KIDD'S amendment was then put and lost on the following division:—

YEAS—Burgess, Fitzgerald, Kidd, Lang, Mansfield, Sanderson, Stewart and Rork—8.

NAYS—Moloney, McCliggot, Walsh, Strickland, Crough, Burnham, Oliver, Pearce and Golborne—9.

On the motion for the adoption of the report being put it was also lost on the following division:—

YEAS—Strickland, Burnham, Oliver, Pearce, Golborne and Collins—6.

NAYS—Moloney, McCliggot, Walsh, Mansfield, Crough, Kidd, Rork, Burgess, Lang, Stewart, Sanderson and Fitzgerald—12.

Mr. STEWART presented a report of the Committee on Petitions recommending:—

1. That no action be taken in the matter of the petition from the county of Kent with reference to the tax on dogs.
2. With reference to the communication from the county of Elgin with regard to the Provincial Exhibition and Association, your committee would recommend that a memorial be passed and forwarded to the Provincial Legislature in favour of the matinenance of a Board of Agriculture for this Province in an improved form.
3. That before any action be taken with reference to the communication from the county Treasurer of Huron, with regard to the second selection of jurors, the judge of this county be heard before the council with regard to the same.
4. They would recommend that this council endorse the motion passed by the county council of Elgin with reference to the deductions made by the Government in the accounts of the administration of Justice.

PRINTING.

Mr. STRICKLAND presented a report of the committee on printing recommending that the county printing be awarded in the same way as last year, and at the same prices. The report was adopted.

THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

Messrs. STEVENSON, POUSSETTE and RUTHERFORD were on motion allowed to address the council on behalf of the county making agrant to the Collegiate Institute, and the propriety of doing so was referred to the Finance Committee.

GAS.

Col. HAULTAIN and Messrs. POUSSETTE and RUTHERFORD addressed the council and asked them to bear one half of the expense of placing a lamp on the hill near the south Court House gate.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

THE PROTESTANT HOME.

Col. HAULTAIN addressed the council with reference to the certain paupers now in the Protestant Home, which, in his opinion, should be cared for by the county.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

The Council then adjourned until the following morning at 10 o'clock.

Railway Notes.

Mr. Alex. Begg, who has for many years been connected with the Immigration Department of Manitoba, has, it is understood, been appointed to a lucrative position in the Land Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. The later have sold some 250,000 acres of land to actual settlers in the North-West Territories during the past two months.

An Ottawa Correspondent says that it is understood that it is the intention of the company formerly known as the Toronto and Ottawa to push on the work of construction with all possible speed, as a doubt has been raised as to the validity of the bonus voted to the company by the city of Ottawa. It is more than likely that a legal arrangement will be come to between the Ottawa corporation and the company. It may be added that it is probable that arrangements will be made here whereby the new line will run in direct connection with the Canada Atlantic, and that the stations of both lines in Ottawa will be conveniently situated. From the way the work is being carried on, this new line between Toronto, Ottawa, and Montreal, will probably be in operation before another winter.

The committee of the County Council of Hasting which was appointed to interview John Bell, county solicitor, in order to learn the terms of the amalgamation of the Grand Junction railway with the Midland and other railways, waited upon that gentleman on Friday at his office. Mr. Bell read and explained the deed of the amalgamation to the committee who were so well satisfied with it that they reported to the Council this morning to the effect that they believed the rights which the county and minor municipalities held in the Grand Junction were fully respected and guaranteed by the deed, and the interests of the county in the railway would be enhanced by the amalgamation.

A report appeared in the Toronto papers that three Grand Junction flat cars were smashed at the Grand Trunk Junction on Saturday. We are authorized by the Superintendant of the road to state that the report is not correct, inasmuch as the accident referred to took place at the North Hastings Junction, and by it one old flat car was broken and the drawhead of another damaged.

Going Ahead.

The Montreal Star says that the Canada Mutual Telegraph Company completed its lines to New York Friday night, which are now in working order to that city. The lines from Buffalo to Toronto are also completed, and the section from Montreal to Ottawa, it is expected, will be in operation for the opening of the Dominion Parliament, on the 9th prox. The Canada Mutual through the National Union of New York, will have communication with points as far east as Bangor, Me., and as far West as St. Paul, Minnesota, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee, and all intermediate points.

Dog Fight.

A brutal dog fight between a large Collie and a small black dog on George street on Saturday evening drew a large crowd, who stood around and evidently delighted to see the large animal worry the smaller. Two of the crowd, more humane than the others, separated the dogs after they had fought for fifteen or twenty minutes. A couple of inhuman brutes, that tried to prevent by force, the separation of the dogs, should be brought before the Police Magistrate and made examples of, and if this was done, perhaps it would prevent a repetition of such cruel sport (?).

Hiring Teams.

Saturday was a busy day among the different lumbermen, the majority of whom had men engaged in hiring teams to work in the shanties. Many farmers who have not much to do during the winter months gladly accepted the good offers made, and will proceed to the woods in a day or two. Owing to the fact that there is a scarcity of snow and no prospects of more falling, the lumbermen are determined to "make hay while the sun shines," and are therefore drawing all the logs and timber that they possibly can with the present scanty supply of the "beautiful."

Sleighing.

Owing to the recent heavy thaw our sleighing has almost disappeared, and wagons are seen just about as often as sleighs on the streets. The snow of Saturday night and Sunday was of such a light character that it was soon scattered by the wind, and did not help to cover the roads to any extent. In the back country the lumbermen are having rather difficult work, but most of them report that a good quantity of logs have been drawn to the lakes and rivers, ready to float down in the spring.

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station:—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

ARRIVE at 8.35 and 11.50 a.m., and 6.15 and 9.55 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

ARRIVE at 11 a.m. and 6.10 p.m.

The Weather.

The weather continues cold with slight winds. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Fresh to strong southwesterly to southerly winds, fine weather with stationary or higher temperature.

Medical.

Our readers will observe by a card on the first page that Dr. Sproule, late surgeon in Her Majesty's Navy has located in Peterborough. His residence is at the corner of Brock and Chambers streets, where he will be found at all hours of the night or day.

Entertainment.

An entertainment will be held in St. Luke's school-room, Ashburnham, this evening Jan. 30th, at 7.30 p.m., consisting of vocal and instrumental music, readings and recitations. Admission 5 cents.

"INDIGESTION."—You have tried everything for it and found no help. We are no doctors, but can offer a precription that has cured very many, and it might cure you as well; it will cost but a quarter dollar, and can be had at any Druggists—Ask for Perry Davis' Pain-Killer.

PENNY WISDOM—POUND FOLLY.—It is foolish to save the little that Sozodont costs, and suffer what will result in bad teeth and large payments to dentists. Place a bottle of it on the toilet, use five drops only of it every time after eating, cleanse the mouth, and show your wisdom.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

LAME BACK.—Lumbago, Kidney complaint, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all pain and inflammation are speedily cured with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Croup, sore throat, colds, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, chilblains and all wounds of the flesh are quickly healed by Yellow Oil.

A GENERAL STAMPEDE.—Never was there such a rush made for Drug Stores as is now at Taylor & Macdonald's for a trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons afflicted with Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs, can get a trial bottle of this great remedy free, by calling at the above drug store.—4

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

FENELON FALLS.

SUDDEN DEATH.—The Gazette says that about four months ago Mr. Pauwels, landlord of the McArthur House in this village, engaged a young man named Andrew Breen, from Port Hope, as bar-tender. Last Saturday morning he was whistling and singing while at work cleaning out the bar-room, but about half-past ten o'clock he told Mr. Robert Rutherford that he felt a great fluttering of his heart, and asked him to take a $5 bill, which he handed to him, and get change for it from Mr. Pauwels, who was outside buying a load of wood, and bring the money to a certain room on the ground floor. During Mr. Rutherford's absence, the young man walked up stairs, and soon afterwards told one of the girls that he wanted a doctor. A messenger was accordingly sent for Dr. Lowe, who arrived in a few minutes and found Breen suffering from a severe attack of heart disease, to which he said he had been subject for the past five years. The doctor instantly ran to his office, which is next door to the hotel, for a stimulant, part of which he administered to the patient, who soon began to get better, as the color returned to his face and his heart and pulse beat regularly, and he said that he would soon be all right, as he felt just as he always did when recovering from one of his attacks. About noon Mr. Pauwels told one of the girls to go upstairs and see whether Andrew wanted anything; and upon doing so she found him lying upon his back on the bed with his feet upon the floor, and perfectly dead. Dr. Bryson, coroner, decided that there was no necessity for either an inquest or a post mortem examination. Deceased, who had just entered his twenty-second year, was a very quiet, steady young man, and is spoken very highly of by Mr. Pauwels. On Monday morning the body was taken to Port Hope by deceased's only brother, to whom a telegram was sent as soon as the death was known.

ACCIDENT.—A serious accident happened last Saturday forenoon to Mr. Richard Webster, a farmer who lives in the township of Fenelon, about a mile north of the village of Cameron. From some reason that we have not heard clearly explained, the butt of a tree which he had cut down struck his right foot with such violence that the boot was fairly torn to pieces and both bones of the leg broken about an inch above the ankle joint. Dr. Lowe, of Fenelon Falls, was at once sent for, and under his care Mr. Webster is progressing favourably, though the fracture is so low down that it is a difficult one to keep properly secured in splints.

THE IRON BRIDGE.—The new bridge is completed and paid for, less $25 which Mr. Hasley voluntarily left in the hands of the county treasurer as a guarantee that the company will send a man as soon as spring opens to give the bridge its last coat of paint, which it was not thought advisable to put on during such unfavourable weather. The county council, which met on Tuesday last, had a long discussion with reference to raising the bridge to the level of the old one, and finally decided to have it done, and Mr. Hasley was authorized to request his company to furnish an estimate of the cost, which cannot possibly be very serious.

"INDIGESTION,"—You have tried everything for it and found no help. We are no doctors, but can offer a precription that has cured very many, and it might cure you as well; it will cost but a quarter dollar, and can be had at any Druggists—Ask for Perry Davis' Pain-Killer.

HIGHER EDUCATION.

MADRID, Jan. 30.—After months of deliberation the Supreme Council of Education has decided to recommend to the Government legislative and administrative reforms to promote the spread and improvement of the education of women. A remarkadle report by the council shows that several Spanish girls and women are attending the lectures and classes of the Free Institute, founded for them six years ago in Madrid, hundreds taking their degrees as teachers or professors for their own sex. Many have vainly asked for admission to the telegraph offices and the post-offices, and the commercial pursuits, to all of which the Council recommends that women be admitted and that means be provided to aid in their education.

THE FRENCH MINISTRY.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—The following is the new Ministry:—M. de Freycinet, President of the Council and Minister of Foreign Affairs: M. Jules Ferry, Public Instruction; M. Goblet, Interior and Worship; M. Humbert, Justice; M. Leon Say, Finance; M. Varroy, public Works; Gen. Billot, War; Admiral Jaureguibery, Marine; M. Tirard, Commerce; M. Cochery, Posts and Telegraphs. It has been decided that the Department of Agriculture shall be separated from the Department of Commerce, and M. de Mahy has accepted the Ministry of Agriculture. Almost all the newspapers here speak in very favorable terms of the new Ministry.

MILITARY MATTERS.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—A Dublin letter says the real cause of the military reinforcements and police activity in Ireland is the extraordinary number of secret societies in Limerick and Clare. The existence of these gives no credibility to the reports concerning a projected rising. The are purely agrarian and socialistic associations supported by Irish-American funds. Informers appear to be plentiful.

IMMIGRATION SCHEME.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Rev. Dr. Alder, delegate of the Chief Rabbi, in public address in London appealed to his hearers to help to raise a million pounds to enable the Jews in Russia to emigrate to the United States and Canada.

TREATIES OF COMMERCE.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—M. Gambetta took his seat in the Chamber of Deputies to-day among the members of the Left. M. Rouvier, late Minister of Commerce, introduced a bill for a three months' prolongation of the existing treaties of commerce. M. Labaudy, on behalf of the committee appointed to consider the question, demanded that the report be postponed twenty-four hours, in order that the new Ministers might be present M. Gambetta insisted upon an immediate solution of the question in view of the engagements with foreign governments. The committee assented and the bill passed.

LOUGH MASK MURDERS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 30.—Fifteen arrests have been made in connection with the murder of the process-server Huddy and his nephew.

FATAL RESERVOIR ACCIDENT.

CALAIS, Jan. 30.—The reservoir burst here to-day, and the torrent destroyed a schoolhouse and two other buildings which were occupied. A few of the inmates escaped. The number lost is unknown, but thus far twenty-seven bodies have been recovered from the ruins.

THE SPANISH PILGRIMAGE.

MADRID, Jan. 30.—Most of the pilgrims who are going to Rome are Carlist soldiers and well-known friends of Don Carlos, who has urged the movement in letters to his partisans.

THE FINANCIAL CRISIS.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—A profound sensation was caused to-day in Paris by the news that the Union Generale had been obliged to supend its payments. The event was not altogether unexpected by those who were in the councils of M. Bontoux, though most people, exaggerating the assistance afforded to the tottering institution by certain of the great bankers, had lent credence to the report that it would be propped up at all and any cost. An immense crowd collected outside of the offices of the Union Generale in the Rue d'Antin this afternoon, clamoring loudly for the restitution of their deposits. A meeting of shareholders will be called in a few days to consider the affairs of the bank.

AMERICAN.

A HEAVY LOSS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The old World building on the corner of Beekman street was burned today. The fire spread to the adjoining buildings. The loss is heavy. Several lives were lost.

THE ASSASSIN'S BODY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Mr. Scoville to-day received an offer of $5,000 from St. Louis for Guiteau's body. A Philadelphia firm who have a process of arresting decay in meats propose to take Guiteau's body as soon as he is hung, subject it to their process in a chest with a glass side exposing it to view, and then exhibit it in this country and Europe, giving the relatives of the refrigerated corpse half the proceeds. Guiteau continues to receive worthless cheques for fabulous sums. Mr. Scoville says he will hereafter dump his mail into the river to help fill in the Potomac flats.

IT IS IT FORGERY?

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—John W. Guiteau states that a comparison of the writing on the copy of the Critic with the signatures of the jurors written in his own and Mrs. Scoville's albums would warrant anyone making an affidavit. He verily believes that the writing on the paper was by the four jurors in question. Especially is this evident of the name of Brandenburg, written in German. John W. has no doubt of the integrity of the jurors, and presumes the names were written at the same time when they were signing autograph albums in the bailiff's room, and that the matter escaped their recollection.

A NEW PROPHET.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 30.—A new weather prophet named A. J. DeVoe writes from Hackensack, N. J., that February will be a month long to be remembered on account of its frequent and heavy snowstorms and sudden falls in temperature. In Canada the weather will be very severe; the temperature will be lower than it has been for many years, and railroad traffic will be nearly suspended. All heavy gales will be preceded forty-eight hours by northern lights, and if the bright rays drift from east to west the gale will be north east, but if they drift from west to east the gale will be from the north-west.

WALL-STREET UNEASY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The financial crisis in Paris, caused a slight uneasiness in Wall-Street yesterday. It is said the banks are preparing to ship on Wednesday $1,300,000 in gold. Further shipments on the same day are considered probable.

PERUVIAN QUESTION.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The World's Washington despatch says that Minister Hulburt, in writing for leave of absence requests that all the correspondence tuching upon the Peruvian questions be made public. Hulburt further says: "The Chilian papers are full of that confounded Shepperd, and his pretences. He is a nuisance. I shall be glad of an opportunity to ventilate this whole business before a Congressional committee."

GAMBLING IN WHEAT.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Yesterday a firm here representing a large class of New York dealers, disposed of more then 60,000,000 bushels of wheat at $1.63, which was purchased last year at $1. 35 and higher. Other brokers are under similar instructions.

BLAINE'S INSTRUCTIONS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—It is learned from the best authority that when it was decided to send Trescott to South America, Blaine and Trescott called on the President. The latter directed Trescott to inqure about the removal of Calderon in such a manner that Chili could not take affront, when Blaine brought the written instructions to the President for examination. Arthur discovered that the tone of the instructions was dictatorial. The President suggested a modification. Blaine took the instructions away and returned with a new draft, with which the President found the same fault that he did with the first. It is understood that after having, with great exactness, explained his views to Blaine, and being satisfied that Blaine understood them, the President felt confident that the instructions would be modified in the way he desired. He did not therefore think it necessary to give them a third examination. When Congress called for the correspondence. it was discovered for the first time that the instructions in a most important point were not what the President supposed they were.

Boycotting An Editor.

MONTREAL, Jan. 28.— An editorial article having appeared in Le Monde, the organ of the Roman Catholic Church here, denouncing the tone of Cardinal Simeoni's letter, the bishop called on the editor, Mr. Houde, M. P., to disallow it or he would denounce the paper. The editor writes to the bishop stating that he could not repudiate the article, but he has transferred the control of the paper to others who can conscientiously advocate the views of the bishop. In taking this determination Mr. Houde says he is placing no obstacle in the way of what the bishops work upon as a duty to be performed, whilst at the same time the writer is adopting the only means of remaining at peace with his conscience.

DYSPEPSIA ANE DEBILITY, A SEVERE CASE.—From Wm. Bentley, 24 Rodman Street, Fall River, Mass.—"I was severly afflicted with general debility caused by over-exertion in working when I was not strong enough to do so. I became so nervous and debilitated that I was finally obliged to give up work and devote myself entirely to rest. This, however, did not benefit me, as I had nothing to occupy my mind and I could not be idle. I concluded that my trouble was heart disease, and consulted a physican, who pronounced it an aggravated from of dyspepsia, and was treated accordingly. Nothing that I tried gave me any relief until Peruvian Syrup was recommended. I used three bottles of this, and could see a great improvement, as I was able to resume work. Three bottles more completely restored my health." Sold by all druggists.

ROGUERY EXPOSED.

WE find the following dialogue in the Port Hope Daily Guide of Saturday last:—

"AN ACTUAL OCCURRENCE.—'How much for that horse rug?' asked a farmer of a clerk in one of our largest establishments. 'One dollar forty,' replied the clerk. 'Why,' returned the farmer, 'I could buy one better than that some time ago for ninety cents.' 'So you could,' said the clerk, 'but that was before the N. P. times. It paid us better to sell that rug then for ninety cents than it does this one for a dollar forty.' 'And this is what our great Dominion Government is doing for me—taxing me fifty cents on one horse rug?' was the indignant farmer's comment."

We are sorry to learn from the Guide that there are such dishonest merchants in Port Hope. It is bad enough to swindle the farmer by such an iniquitous overcharge, but it is even worse falsely to lay the blame of such a petty piece of roguery upon the shoulders of the Dominion Government. If the farmers in the neighborhood of Port Hope find that they are cheated in the manner alleged by the merchants of that town, the best advice we can give them is to make their purchases in Peterborough, where they will find honest storekeepers, who will give them a good article at a fair price, without cheating them, and at the same time insulting them by such an absurd excuse for their dishonesty.

We have taken the trouble to make a few enquiries of respectable dealers here, and we find that so far from the price of horse rugs having increased, they are cheaper than they were. Extensive lumbermen, who buy largely, also inform us that they find the price of horse rugs to have been reduced. Let the farmer go to the honest storekeeper, such as we are happy to say we have in Peterborough, and he will find that he has to give less instead of more for his horse rug.

But this is not all that we have learned in the course of our enquiries. It seems that most of the horse rugs now sold, instead of being imported from abroad, as formerly, are manufactured in our own country, and of our own wool. Thus the farmer not only has the benefit of getting a cheaper and a better horse rug, but he also has the advantage of finding an additional home market for his wool, and of feeding our own artizans, who would otherwise be living abroad on food supplied by the farmers of other countries.

LATEST GOVERNMENT CIRCULAR.

An Investigation into the Condition of the Police—Another Job.

The following circular has been issued from the Local Government in Toronto:—

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
Toronto, Jan. 14th, 1882.

MY DEAR SIR,—The Attorney-General desires to ascertain the opinion of those throughout the province who are best able to judge as to the effeiency, or otherwise, of the present system of detecting crime, and bringing the offenders to justice.

He will be glad to know whether you consider the constabulary force in your county is reasonably sufficient for the purpose, or whether you think that, in the interests of due administration of justice, this force as now constituted requires to be supplemented by the appointment of detectives or constables paid by salaries instead of fees.

Have you any reason for believing that criminals now escape detection or conviction who, under such an arrangement, would probably be brought to justice?

If so, do you think the evil exists to any considerable extent in your locality?

Be good enough to state the reasons for the opinions you may express, and to add any suggestions which your experience or observation may enable you to make on the subject.

Yours truly,
(Signed) J. G. SCOTT,
Deputy of the Attorney-General.

THE SHERIFF OF ELGIN.

A Resolution Passed by the County Council Calling for an Investigation.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 28.—There was a large attendance of deeply interested auditors at the county council session this morniug, where the charges preferred against Sheriff Munro again came under discussion. Mr. C. Macdougall addressed the council at length on behalf of the sheriff, denying in the most emphatic terms that his client had been guilty of wrongdoing, and claiming that so long a time had elapsed since the Day and Irons case that he did not recollect the details. He stated that the sheriff had not knowingly made overcharges, and made a proposition that the sheriff would agree to leave the question of overcharges to the county board of audit, who could take evidence, and in the event of their finding he held any monies belonging to the courts or province he would pay these back with intesest. A prolonged and animated discussion ensued upon the matter, and the following motion was finally carried by a vote of 16 to 5:—"That the report of the special committee appointed to formulate the charges against Sheriff Munro be adopted, and that this council ask the government to appoint a commission to investigate the charges preferred in said report."

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

Apparently Dr. Kincaid's presence was sufficient to annihilate all opposition.

A by-law confirming the same was also immediately passed.

AN ASPHODEL ROAD.

THE DETROIT RIVER MYSTERY.

Secrets of a Horrible Crime Long Hidden About to be Divulged.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 23.—Another chapter in the Martha Whitla murder case was presented last night by the police in the arresting of Dr. Wm. G. Cox, who keeps a drug store at 97 Grand avenue, and Mrs. Harriet Schneider, on a charge of committing the murder. The prisoners were taken into custody, and were brought to police headquarters about 8 p.m., where Superintendent Rogers awaited their arrival. Superintendent Rogers told the prisoners that they were arrested under his direction and on his responsibility alone, for having murdered Martha Whitla. The prisoners were very much excited over the proceedings, and each had several requests to make before being locked up for the night. Dr. Cox was desirous of going to his store for the purpose of arranging matters. The officers who made the arrests left the City Hall with them to lock them up for the night. The Superintendent said he had nothing to conceal about the arrests. He said:—"I want it understood that I caused the arrests to be made on my own responsibility, and at my direction. I have charged them with the murder of Martha Whitla, and propose to prosecute them to the fullest extent of the law. Superintendent Rogers said that he had in his possession in his own mind that he was justified in making the arrest. He had followed the case for years, and had valuable assistance given in his search for the murderers. He was reticent as to what he had to offer to substantiate the charge, but said that the matter would develop itself when the case comes up for examination in the Police Court. He said "I have the very sack in which the body was enclosed before throwing it in the river. I further have the girl's furs, over which there has been some talk, and her watch. In my research I discovered that the very man who threw Anna Clemens body into the river also threw this one in. The charge specifically against Dr. Cox is that he committed an abortion on the girl, from the effects of which she died, and that at Mrs. Schneider's house the murder occurred in a similar manner to that of Anna Clemens. George H. Penniman, one of the attorneys for Hugh S. Peoples, came to police headquarters and expressed himself greatly elated over the arrests. He claims that they thoroughly vindicate his client of any complicity in the matter.

EVIDENCE WHICH WAS CONCLUSIVE

THE RECORD OF DR. COX

is too well known to the public to need much mention. He was arrested for the murder of Annie Clemens, and, after a long examination in the Police Court, was held for trial in the Recorder's Court. Mrs. Schneider was also arrested for complicity in the crime, and on the stand told how Cox committed the crime, but after the woman's death tied her up, put her into the River Touge from the red bridge in Ecorse. The expressman was also arrested for the crime, but nothing was done with him, and Mrs. Schneider's case was also dropped. Dr. Cox was acquitted upon trial in the Recorder's Court.

THE PEOPLES CASE.

Application having been made in the Wayne Circuit Court to admit to bail Hugh Peoples who was arrested some two weeks since charged with the murder of Martha Whitla. After hearing arguments the Judge decided that Peoples should be admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000. The matter of bondsmen having been arranged, Peoples was released from custody. Some time ago Hugh Peoples sued the Detroit Evening News for libel, claiming $50,000 damages. He claimed that the News pointed to him in an article it had published concerning the guilty parties in the Martha Whitla tragedy. After a protracted trial a verdict was rendered for the defendants, and immediately thereafter Peoples was arrested and charged with the crime.

A Polyglot Family.

There is living at Middletown a family in which nine distinct languages are spoken, namely, English, German, French, Spanish, Italian, Portugese, Greek, Arabic and Turkish, besides any number of dialects connected mostly with Italian and Spanish. The head of the family who is a native of Zurich, Switzerland, is a musician of wide accomplishments and reputation, who, from love of travel, has seen most parts of the world, having resided for considerable periods in widely separated countries. After extended travel he settled in Tunis, North Africa, where he held the position of musical director of the Bey, having charge of his orchestra. He married there a lady who was a native of Arabia, but born of Italian and English parents. Children were born to them there. Leaving the country on account of an epidemic, they settled next at Constantinople, and resided some years at the Turkish capital. There he was the Sultan's chief musician, not only having the charge of the bands of all his regiments at the capital, but also of the music of the Sultan's harem. Other children were born to them at Constantinople. He left the Turkish capital to come to America, dwelling a year in Germany, and travelling in Italy before coming here. For many years they resided in New York and Brooklyn. On coming to this country he continued his profession, leading orchestras and teaching music. The gentleman referred to is Mr. Frank Mezger, who, with his wife is living with their youngest son, Frank Mezger, jr., on the Pitts farm, just out of the village. Of 14 children, several of whom were born in this country, only six are living, and all but one residents of Middletown. The oldest of these, who is the wife of Mr. Frank DeMorville, a compositor in the Press office, is by birth an Arabian, and speake all the languages known to her family except Portuguese and Arabian. Like her father she is a musician, and is giving lessons in town in both vocal and instrumental music. The next younger member of the family, who is a residint of Brooklyn, was also born in Constantinople. The oldest son, whose marriage was lately published in the Press, is also by birth a Turk, and the other three—a sister and two brothers—are American born.—Middletown Press.

CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

The Nun of Kenmare is now on a visit at Harold's Cross Convent, county Dublin.

BELFAST would appear to be making rapid strides towards becoming the chief place in Ireland. In returning thanks for his re-election to the office of Mayor, Sir Edward Cowan stated at the Town Council, on January 2nd, that during the past year, no fewer than 59 new streets were formed. The valuation of Belfast, which in 1881 was only £275,000, had risen for 1882 to £662,000.

AN extraordinary hunt is reported to have taken place at Mocollop, county Waterford. About two hundred men with horses and greyhounds entered the property of the late Captain Barry and killed a large number of hares and rabbits for the purpose of sending them to the different prisons in the South for the use of the political prisoners. A short time ago a similar hunt took place on the same property.

THE inhabitants of that part of Sunday's Well in the vicinity of the Cork City Gaol were aroused on New Year's Day by the strains of two brass bands playing national airs at the rear of the gaol, in compliment to Miss Hannah Reynolds, the imprisoned member of the Ladies' Land League, confined in the gaol. The bands remained there until nine o'clock, alternately playing national airs. A magnificent cloak has been presented by a few of the ladies of the Cork Ladies' Land League, to Miss Reynolds.

AN extraordinary seizure of arms was made on January 3rd, by the Kilrush constabulary. The day before a large box, addressed Michael Glynn, Esq., who is a magistrate of the county Clare, arrived by the river steamer from Limerick and was allowed to lie at the Kilrush landing stage. No one applied for the box, and it having been opened by the police was found to contain 20 Martini Henry rifles, 20 sword bayonets, and between 300 and 400 rounds of ball cartridge. There was nothing on the box to show where the weapons came from. Mr Glynn knew nothing whatever of the consignment made in his name.

Cure For Small-Pox and Scarlet Fever

The following communication to Hall's Journal of Health, while it has not the editorial endorsement of that journal, may be nevertheless worthy the attention of such victims of the now prevailing malady who cannot obtain the services of a physician:—

I herewith append a recipe, a Paris physician says, which has been used, to my knowledge, in hundreds of cases. It will prevent or cure the small-pox, though the pittings are filling. When Jenner discovered cow-pox in England the world of science hurled an avalanche of fame upon his head; but when the most scientific school of medicine in the world—that of Paris—published this recipe as a panacea for small-pox, it passed unheeded. It is as unfailing as fate and conquers in every instance. It is harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure scarlet fever. Here it is, as I have used it to cure the small pox. When learned physicians said the patient must die it cured:—

Sulphate of zinc, one grain; foxglove (digitalis), one grain; half a teaspoonful of sugar. Mix with a little water. Take a teaspoonful every hour.

Either disease will disappear in twelve hours. For a child smaller doses according to age. If counties would compel physicians to use this there would be no need of pest houses. If you value advice and experience, use this for that terrible disease.

KISS ME.—"TRABERRY," the new and exquisite little gem for the teeth and breath, has a beautifully plated metal screw top. Try a 5 cent sample.

FROM ALL OVER.

THE local nominations in Yamaska—an election having been rendered necessary by Mr. Wurtele's acceptance of office—will take place on February 6th.

TEMEUX, Yucatan, is being visited by a frightful epidemic of yellow fever. Seventeen hundred persons have fallen victims to the disease, which has already carried off over two hundred.

I STRONGLY recommend the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites to all who suffer in any way from disease or weakness of the Lungs, Bronchial Tubes, or general debility. J. H. W. SCOTT, M. D., Gagetown, N. B.

FIRST he was likened to a Nicodemus somebody as portrayed by a burnt cork artist, and now they call him "Horse-car" Wilde. It is worse than irreverence, it is rank blasphemy.

THE price paid for intoxicating liquors daily in New York is estimated at $270,000, or the enormous sum of $98,550,000 a year. There is said to be an alarming increase of drunkenness among the women of the great city.

NEURALGIA.—This scourge, being a purely nervous affection, can only be alleviated through a thorough purification of the blood and secretions. It and all kindred ailments are completely overpowered by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, which never fail to afford relief.

THE mother of the Marquis of Bath, whom the Prince and Princess of Wales visited last month, was a Baring, and her son is credited with the remark that it would take two generations to wash the stain of commercial blood off his scutcheon.

WHEN the Marquis of Lorne left Liverpool for Canada the working opticans of that city presented him with a pair of eye-preservers, to protect him against the "glare of the snow in Canada."

THE census shown in the entire United States 881,857 more males than females. The largest female surplus is in New York, 72,227, and in Massachusetts, 66,205. The New England States contain 93,083 more females than males.

A PETITION was filed at Osgoode hall on Saturday against the return of Mr. George Guillet, of Cobourg, as M.P. for West Northumberland. The petition is filed by three electors of the riding, and alleged that the respondent was guilty, by himself and agents, of acts of bribery.

DR. CARSON'S Pulmonary Cough Drops are an excellent Expectorant loosening the phlegm far more readily than any other preparation. For Coughs, Colds Bronchitis, Tickling in the Throat and Soreness and Tightness of the Chest, they have no equal. In large bottles at 50 cents. J. D. Tully, agent, Peterborough.

THE British institution of Civil Engineers now consists of 21 honorary members, 1,282 members, 1,461 associate members, 547 associates, and 692 students, together, 4,006. When it entered upon the present premises, after their re-building and enlargement in November, 1868, it numbered 1,681 of all classes.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, April 1st, 1881. We take pleasure in stating that the Great German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil, is being used by many ring artists now engaged with P. T. Barnum's Greatest Show on Earth, united with the Great London Circus, Sanger's Great British Menagerie and the International Allied Shows. From its happy effect upon those who have occasion to employ it, we have no hesitation in pronouncing St. Jacobs Oil the best liniment which has ever been brought to our notice. It is wonderfully efficacious in subduing pain. BARNUM, BAILEY & HUTCHINSON.

IT is feared that a famine is emminent in Tunis. A very large portion of the agricultural land has been, in consequence of the recent troubles, left unsown; and it is estimated by those capable of judging that when the scarcity of food begins to be felt in the interior of the country, another, and probably a fiercer insurrection of the population is likely to break out.

LADY WILDE, the mother of the great æsthete, who wrote some of the fiercest of the rebel songs of 1848, is, as is her son, opposed to the Land League. She shares the views of Mr. P. J. Smyth M.P. for Tipperary, and many of the boldest and self-sacrificing patriots of '48, that the Land League appealed to the lowest and meanest instincts, is communistic in its character, and unworthy of the spirit of the nation.

HAUNTED ME.—A Workingman says: Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost."—Christian Advocate.

BISHOP BEVERIDGE.—A gentleman meeting the celebrated and excellent Bishop, Beveridge, asked him how he was. Beveridge replied, "If I answer in Latin, I am sic, sic; if in English, so, so." There are many, who, if they spoke truly would give the same answer as the excellent Bishop. They have contracted lung disease, or it may be are suffering from asthma, and in great danger of that fatal malady consumption. Take warning in time, use N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir, it is really what many have called it, the "king" of remedies. Sold by all druggists throughout the Dominion.

From "The N. Y. Times."

Editor of the Times.—The statements recently published in your valuable paper has created much excitement in this city among the class who own and use horses, and after reading your request that all should write you who had been benefitted by the letter published from Dr. Bates in regard to the remarkable success he always had with Kendall's Spavin Cure, I decided to write you my experience with it. My first knowledge of this remedy came through a visit to the office of the Massachusetts Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals. This society was the first to use Kendall's Spavin Cure in Boston, and I was informed by Charles A. Currier, a gentleman in whom I had the utmost confidence, that they had never used anything that worked so well for spavins or any lameness in horses, and he stated that he gave it to poor men who had lame horses and would agree to use it, and in this way he was enabled to get along without prosecuting them as it was sure to cure when persevered with. Some time after this I received a very severe injury to the knee joint and the high recommendation which Mr. Currier gave Kendall's Spavin Cure, gave me so much confidence in it that I used it for my knee with the very best of results, and since that time my faith has been so strong in the merits of this remedy that we will not be without it in the house. I have tried it since then for foot-rot, sore teats or warts on my cows teats, also for a general liniment for my horses or in my family, and sincerely believe, with all those who have written you before, that there never was as good a liniment for both man and beast ever discovered before. Hoping you will continue to give us more light on this subject, I am,

Very truly yours,

ROBERT C. AYER.

Thousands of trials on Human Flesh has proved beyond a doubt that "Kendall's Spavin Cure" has sufficient strength to penetrate and virtue to cure the worst cases of rheumatism, corns bunyons, frostbites or any bruise, cut or lameness which are not affected in the least by ordinary liniments. It does not blister, but on the contrary, removes all soreness.

DUNHAM, P. Q., March 10th, 1879.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—About a year ago I fell in the road on to some ice and was badly hurt in the hip joint, which caused me much suffering. I tried various remedies, but none gave relief until I tried Kendall's Spavin Cure. I applied it full strength twice a day for two weeks during last October, and it effected a perfect cure. I have since then been well and free from lameness. It is very valuable for man as well as for beast.

Yours truly,

Personal.

Our readers to many of whom he is personally known will be pleased to learn that Col Van Straubenzie, D. A. G. is improving, though still confined to his residence in Montreal. He has suffered severely from a gathering in the vicinity of a wound received at the Moultan in 1846. The worst has been passed, and under skilful medical treatment it is expected that he will be about in a few days.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Moderate to fresh winds, fair to cloudy weather, with areas of snow towards evening or to-night; not much change in temperature.

Off to the North-West.

On Monday Messrs. Geo. A. Mitchell, Chas. Walsh, and R. J. Stevenson, the first named two have been residents of Winnipeg for the last two years, left for the Prairie City. Messrs. Mitchell and Walsh have been here on a visit since Christmas, and were unable to leave before they did on account of "the continual round of pleasure" with which they met in their old home. Both of the young men, we are pleased to state, are now regarded as being two of the standbys of Winnipeg, and our only wish is that they may long continue the same. Mr. Stevenson goes to seek wealth, and we have no doubt, like all our boys, he will find it. Messrs. Henry Denne and W. H. Chamberlain also took their departure on the same train for the same place, with a view of investing in a town lot or two.

Almost.

On Monday morning an accident occured near the corner of Aylmer and Charlotte streets that might have been attended with serious results. A young man was driving a waggon with a load of wood along Aylmer street, and when about to cross Charlott street, one of the front stakes gave way, letting a portion of the wood down on the horses. The animals at once started, and the falling wood aggravated them, so as to greatly increase their speed. The driver fell down between the horses and catching the lines turned them into a fence near by and thus brought them to a stand still. The only damage done was the breaking of a shade tree and of a portion of the harness.

On Hand.

Mr. W. H. Chamberlain having departed for the land of "booms" to deposit a few of his surplus ducats in lots, Mr. James Martin, the popular man "behind the bar" has charge of the business, and will duly look after it until the proprietor returns. The patrons of the house, to whom the genial James is well known, can rest satisfied that their wants will be duly looked after, and everything done to promote good feeling.

Finished.

Mr. Tobias Fitzgerald, has finished his large contract for snupplying shanty sleighs, to the Messrs. Rathbun of Millpoint, and has shipped the last set to their destination. Mr. Fitzgerald has received flattering testimonials from this firm for the promptitude and workmanlike manner in which he has done the work.

Only a few Left.

The ten days of grace given by P. C. McGhee having expired, the merchants have made good time during the last day or two in removing their signs, awnings, etc. There are now only four projecting signs, and one verandah on George Street, and the quicker they are removed the better it will be for all concerned.

Remenyi.

All lovers of music will be pleased to learn that the great violinist, Remenyi, who has on more than one occasion delighted Peterborough audiences, is to visit Port Hope on Saturday next, the fourth of February. Those who can spare the time should go down to hear him.

Board of Education.

The next meeting of the Board of Education does not take place until Tuesday next, the 7th of February, when the new Board will organize.

Patent Rights.

A patent right man has, we understand, taken in an unwary farmer in this vicinity. Further developments are expected in a day or two.

PENNY WISDOM—POUND FOLLY.—It is foolish to save the little that Sozodont costs, and suffer what will result in bad teeth and large payments to dentists. Place a bottle of it on the toilet, use five drops only of it every time after eating, cleanse the mouth, and show your wisdom.

A GENERAL STAMPEDE.—Never was there such a rush made for Drug Stores as is now at Taylor & Macdonald's for a trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons afflicted with Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs, can get a trial bottle of this great remedy free, by calling at the above drug store.—4

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

THE CADET CORPS.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I learn that the arms furnished some time ago by the Government for the School Company are boxed up for the purpose of being returned to Kingston. Before this is done I would like to respectfully call the attention of the Trustees to the matter, and ask them to consider whether it would not be advisable to make an effort to keep the Company in existence. For, although some very useful work may be done by drilling without rifles, yet the sending back of the arms will be the means of effectually putting an end to all idea of drilling in the school. I am aware that one cause of the falling off has been the fact that most of the older boys have left, but that is easily remedied by drilling the younger boys for the present, and they will soon grow older and bigger. I am also aware that the present Principal is indifferent if not averse to keeping up the company. But, although he may find that he has enough to do to attend to the mental progress of his pupils, surely the Trustees, some at least of whom have their children at school, are not indifferent to the physical training of their boys. The importance of the training which will teach boys to hold themselves erect, and to walk well is recognized at other schools, and is recognized by the Government, which offers to furnish an instructor free of charge. I urge therefore, even if there are not enough of the larger boys at present attending the school to use the arms, that they be kept here, and that the younger as well as the older boys be instructed in the simpler parts of the drill, if it be for only half an hour each day, and I will answer for it that before a year is out we shall have a company of cadets that will be a credit to the school.

Yours &c.,
E. B. EDWARDS.

TRADE NOTES.

THE Moniteur du Commerce says that there is about to be built on the shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, a factory of cod liver oil, and that there is no reason why this industry should not succeed as well in Canada as in other countries.

THE Napanee glass works has had the experience incident to most new enterprises, some difficulty has been found in getting the requisite heat. This seems to have been owing to the fact that the heating qualities of the coal used were not understood. Now, however, all these troubles are over. The works have been for the past two weeks making window glass in large quantities, and it is said of a superior quality. We shall be glad to see the merchants give the enterprise that encouragement it deserves.

THE directors of the Canada Cotton Company, whose mills are at Cornwall, met in Montreal on the 6th inst., and resolved to increase the capital stock by $125,000 to be distributed among present shreholders at twenty per cent, premium. The fresh capital is to be employed in making additions to the mill and machinery.—Monetary Times.

I STRONGLY recommend the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites to all who suffer in any way from disease or weakness of the Lungs, Bronchial Tubes, or general debility. J. H. W. Scott, M. D., Gagetown, N. B.

A MINISTERIAL CRISIS.

ARTIC SEARCH.

Paris, Jan. 31.—Lieut. Danenhower telegraphs the following direct:—"Irkutsk, Jan. 31.—Lieut, DeLong's party has been traced to a definitive locality on the west bend of the Lena. Engineer Melville and the Russians are searching ardently. I am acting under positive orders, and will bear investigation. Lieut, Chipp's little boat has not been seen since September. The gale doubtless swamped her. If she is not found before the spring I will charter the steamer Lena, and search the coasts between the rivers Olonoka and Kolima. Jack Coles has been an invalid since October. The Jeannette entered the ice near Herald Island on September 6th, 1879. Her fore foot was twisted from the first of January. We pumped for eighteen months. The vessel drifted to the north-west during twenty-one months. She was crushed, and sank on June 12th in latitude 75 deg, 15 min. north, and longitude 156 deg. 20 min. east. She discovered Jeannette, Henrietta, and Bennett islands. We made our retreat over the ice to the New Siberia islands, thence in boats to the Delta. Engineer Melville was given charge of my boat by Lieut. De Long, as I was blind. Hearty and intelligent help was rendered by the Russians. Everything possible is being done.

THE DETROIT MYSTERY.

DETROIT, Jan. 31.—Referring to the arrest of Dr. Cox and Mrs. Schneider for the murder of Martha Whitla, and the refusal of Justice Minor to issue a warrant, on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant him in doing so, the Superintendent of Police is reported as saying:—"I consider that this department has done its whole duty in the matter. We have investigated every clue, and after months of diligent search secured what I regarded as sufficient evidence to convict the perpetrators of the deed. The prosecuting officers do not see fit to go on with the work, and when a policeman has arrested the guilty party, and produced his witnesses in court, he can go no further, and his responsibility ends. The police cannot issue warrants, nor try cases." The Post and Tribune and Evening News, of this city, are violent in their denunciation of Superintendent of Police Rogers.

THE BALKAN INSURRECTION.

VIENNA, Jan. 31.—A despatch from Zara, Dalmatia says on Monday an Austrian detachment conveying stores and powder between Nevesinje Fotscha was routed, and the convoy captured. A desperate encounter has occurred near Bile, with the loss of twenty men on each side. Thirty-five men from a Dalmatian regiment have deserted to the rebels. The calling out of the Dalmatian Landwehr has been postponed, because of their known disaffection. Austria is making stupendous efforts. A contract was signed with the Austrian Lloyd's to transport 30,000 men to South Dalmatian ports, and nine large steamers are continually employed There was recently a false alarm at Castelneuvo, Dalmatia, and the Austrian commander, Jovanovics, fearing a general rising, threatened to bombard the city from the port.

THE GREAT FIRE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—In addition to the buildings already burned the Scientific American is also a complete loss; insurance about $20,000 on property in use, which don't include the losses which are irretrievable in accumulated records of patterns, models, drawings, etc. Messrs. Munn & Co., the owners, estimate the contingent loss to the firm and to customers at upwards of a $1,000,000. During the afternoon they effected arrangements for offices at Broadway and Warren street, across the City Hall park, from a site occupied twenty years. "Turf, Field, and Farm," owned and published by Messrs. Bruce, had offices in the World building. It is a complete loss, estimated at $50,000, including the best sporting library in the country, consisting of about 500 volumes, books, which cannot be replaced, and the fourth volume of the American stud-book in manuscript form but ready for publication. It will take one year to re-arrange the material for this volume. Mr. Bruce also lost plate, pictures, &c., stored in his office. S. M. Pettingill & Co., advertising agents, estimate their loss at $20,000. The other occupants of the building are:—Marks, tailor; Gruhn, tailor; Jacob Stover, patent solicitor; Tibball's & Sons, New York Observer, Scotchman's Journal, and Scottish American; A. C. Rodriguez, cigars; Press newspaper, loss $1,500; Poland Spring Water agency; A. S. Clarke, books; J. C. MISSING.

LONDON, Jan. 40.—The friends of Mr. Michael Bolan, drover, McGillivray, are very anxious concerning his whereabouts. When last seen he was on his way back from Montreal, where he had been making a sale of a shipment of cattle. It is thought he must have been followed from the bank where he got his cattle cheque cashed. It is now four weeks since he was seen, and no tidings or clue can be obtained as to his whereabouts. Mr. Bolan is a fine, stout, fresh-looking, red-faced Irishman, "close shaved," was about 5 feet 6 inches in height, wore a coloured tweed suit, soft felt hat, and was noted everywhere he went for his genial appearance and general good humor. It is feared by many he has been waylaid and made away with for his money, which he carried in a free-and-easy way about his person.

MINISTERIAL POLICY.

PARIS, Feb. 1.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day, M. de Freycinet read the programme of the new Cabinet. It says:—"The policy of the Government will be one above all calculated to establish peace in the minds of the people at home and abroad. It will be firm and conciliatory. Liberty and progress are necessary for France. The Government will apply in a liberal sense the laws relative to the press and the right of public meeting. A bill will be submited sanctioning the right of association while maintaining the right of the State. The revision of the constitution ought to be postponed until the expiration of the term of the present Legislature. The judicial, military, and educational reforms initiated by the late Cabinet will be persevered with. The efforts of the Cabinet will be directed to giving an impetus to labour. Nations do not live by politics, but by business. The Government does not intend to propose a compulsory conversion of the debt or the purchase of the railways by the State. No efforts will be spared to arrive at a definite solution of tariff questions, and for the moral and intellectual improvements of the people." M. DeFreycinet appealed to the Chambers to give the Government their confidence. The speech was received with cheers. M. Say announced that the budget presented by his predecessor would be withdrawn. M. Andrieux gave notice that he would on Thursday submit a proposal looking to an amelioration of the condition of the Paris and Lyons Bourses. A grant of 6,000,000 francs for the milltary expenses in Tunis during February and March, 1882, was voted. The Extreme Left intend to interpellate the Government with regard to the shelving of the Revision Bill. In the Senate the Government's declaration of its policy was applauded.

LAKEFIELD DAM AND NAVIGATION.

ONLY a few years ago, when the lock at Young's Point was building, and navigation was about to be opened from Lakefield to the head of Stoney Lake, we were gravely informed by a few wise-acres that the only craft which would ever pass through these locks would be the hunter's canoe and the pleasure seeker's skiff, but now, when there is a prospect of these same locks being rendered useless, except perhaps for the kind of craft we have just named, a cry goes forth from one end of the line to the other, which is at once the best possible proof of the value of these locks to the settlers in that section of the country, and the wisdom of those at whose instance they were built.

As we understand the matter, the present position is somewhat as follows:—Some fifteen months ago a decree of the Court of Chancery was obtained by some owners of flooded lands, requiring the dam at Lakefield to be taken down to a point which will destroy navigation and expose lands which have been continuously covered with water for years, to the sun during the hot season. During the past summer, by private arrangement, the water was maintained at its former height, but the owners of the dam, the Messrs. Strickland, having completed the arrangements rendered necessary by the order of the Court, are now preparing to carry it out, and the consequence is that a trade which has been rapidly growing, and which has proved of very great benefit to the settlers in the adjacent townships, is already at a standstill, and the people are apprehensive of their suffering in health, as well as in pocket, by the malaria beds about to be created.

Of course under such circumstances every one is naturally anxious to see both evils averted by the maintenance of the dam. About a year ago the County Council and the Lakefield Council sent a deputation to Toronto to interview the Hon. Mr. Fraser, the Ontario Commissioner of Public Works, on the subject, and, if possible, to induce him to take action in the matter. On that occasion he promised to have an official inspection and report made, and, if possible, to visit the locality himself during the past summer, but so far as the public is aware, nothing whatever has been done, and the whole matter stands just where it did a year ago. It is true that some of his political friends are trying to excuse his want of action by raising the question of jurisdiction, but we apprehend that a better excuse will have to be found. The fact that the Dominion Government owned and controlled the dam on the Scugog at Lindsay, for instance, did not stand in the way of the Provincial Government making a lock at that point and spending large sums in the improvement of the navigation of that river again and again. The question of jurisdiction did not trouble them then, and if not then why should the expenditure of a few dollars in removing some boulders above Lakefield trouble them in the latter case. The putting forward of such an excuse is the best proof that there is really none to offer, and that if the consequences which have been foreseen for a year are permitted to be realized, the Mowat Government will be held strictly responsible. And why should they not? In the first place the locks at Young's Point were built and have been maintained by Ontario, and it will be most unjust if they now permit the interests which they have created to be destroyed without their putting forth a hand to save them. Then, it is also their duty to see that the health of any portion of the community is not unnecessarily injured, and valuable lives endangered, and no petty quibbling over questions of jurisdiction will relieve them from the responsibility upon which Mr. Fraser and his colleagues seem to be heedlessly drifting. Both on account of the interests which the Local Legislature has created, and on account of the health aspect of the question, it is clearly the duty of the Mowat Government to take prompt action, without any waiting to see what the Dominion Government may do. As Mr. Burnham very properly pointed out to the deputation who waited upon the County Council last week, the Dominion Government can only be asked to touch this dam in the interests of the whole Dominion, which means as a part of the Trent Valley Canal. If they go on with that work, and if it be found that the maintenance of the Lakefield dam at its old level is necessary to that project, then, and only then, will it be their duty to deal with it. But it is also to be borne in mind that, if the canal is proceeded with, (as we hope it will be), the locks both above and below Lakefield have yet to be built, and that they can be placed to suit the lower as well as the higher level, and further that the only difference which the higher or lower level of the Lakefield dam can make to that project will be the amount of dredging to be done between the village and where the canal cuts across to Mud Lake, and which, at most, is not likely to amount to very much.

With the Provincial Government, however, the matter is entirely different. Either the dam must be raised or the sills of the locks lowered, or this line of navigation closed. As Mr. Blezard says, the County must take strong measures, (we hope he doesn't mean force), to maintain it, and as Mr. Kidd is not prepared to allow Dummer to be treated with contempt, we apprehend Mr. Fraser will reconsider the matter and not allow the locks to be closed. Neither in view of the fact that it will cost less to maintain the dam than to lower the lock, and that the maintaining of the dam will be beneficial to the health of the community, while its lowering will be injurious, and further that its maintenance will prove most beneficial to Mr. Commissioner Hull, do we suppose that he will prefer the second course w have suggested, but like a wise man assume the dam and maintain it, and pay such damages as may be found to be justly due those who may individually suffer by the adoption of such a course—and that too without passing any ex post facto law declaring that the individuals in question, who may be of Conservative proclivities, "hold and always have held," their property under some other tenure than the ignorant courts of the country say they do.

A REFORMER ON THE N. P.

Mr. Neelon Prefers Country to Party—A Surprise for Mr. Mowat and his Colleagues.

In the Ontario Legislature, on Wednesday January 24th, Mr. Neelon, M.P.P. for Lincoln, said the National Policy had not been properly appreciated by the House. On the trade question he would speak without regard to his political feelings, and every man in this country was undoubtedly benefitted by the National Policy. (Opposition cheers.) Every honourable member who had watched the operation of the National Policy inaugurated by Sir John Macdonald must have observed the great benefits which had been derived from it—(applause) —and this had been the case in every town and village where a manufacturing establishment was to be found, owing to the constant employment which had been given since its promulgation. (Hear, hear.) What was the position of Canadian manufacturing establishments during the years of 1876, '77, '78 and '79? Every man who who was conversant with this interest knew that it was then, comparatively speaking, at a standstill—(hear, hear)—and the mechanics who had been employed in these manufacturing establishments were compelled to abandon them eventually. In the first place, they were obliged to work at half-time at reduced wages, and eventually the best of them were obliged to leave the country in order to seek employment on the other side of the line. (Hear, hear.) During those years frequent applications were made to the late Dominion Government to secure a change in the then trade policy. Delegation after delegation, and deputation after deputation, waited on the Government of the day, and strong efforts were made to get the tariff increased. True, an increase of 2½ per cent. was granted, but this amounted to nothing. (Hear, hear.) Everyone well recollected that gold was at the time worth from $1.10 to $1.14, and anyone who desired to purchase goods on the other side could take over his gold, sell it, purchase his goods and bring them over here, the premium he received on his gold very nearly paying the duty and freight on these goods. (Hear, Hear.) Indeed, in many instances this was the case. (Hear, Hear.) When the present Government attained to power at Ottawa the duties were increased, and it was then found that our manufacturing establishments became prosperous, and had been working from that day up to the present time at full blast. (Applause.) And those who had been obliged to go to the other side owing to the absence of sufficient protection were well pleased to be able to get work again at home, and consequently returned. Wages had been advanced, and constant employment had been afforded. Our manufacturing establishments were in active operation to their full capacity, and many had been enlarged owing to the great pressure of business. (Cheers.) He knew of one establishment at his own door where before the fall of 1878 only some sixty hands were employed, where now 125 were working—(Applause)—while the productions of this establishment which during the Mackenzie regime amounted in value to $50,000 or $60,000 merely per anum, were at the present time worth $125,000 a year. (Cheers.) Another establishment, which, in 1879, turned out goods to the value of only $30,000, although three travelling agents were constantly engaged in the endeavour to dispose of the articles in question, manufactured during the past year to the value of $100,000. (Applause.) And, moreover, all had been readily sold. (Applause) He was aware he was surrounded by Free Traders. (Cries of, "No, no!") Nevertheless he could not refrain from expressing the true sentiments of his mind. (Opposition applause.) He would add that the goods in question had not been increased in price. (Opposition cheers.) It was said that consumers were paying more for what they purchased, owing to the operation of the National Policy. Better wages were being paid than was the case three or four years ago, and consequently raw material was a little higher in price; so perhaps some descriptions of goods were a little higher in price than was the case before; but if this was the case it was not due to the increase in the tariff. It was to the increase in the value of raw material and of labour, wages being advanced. (Hear, Hear.) Some honourable gentlemen from the rural districts would say that consumers and agriculturists were paying for goods a great deal more than they should; but this question should be regarded from a practical point of view. They would then see that this was the state of things; the existence and prosperity of the villages, towns, and cities greatly increased the value of real estate—(Hear, Hear)—and wherever manufacturing establishments were found, there the farmer had ready sale for all the products of his farm, at higher prices than he could obtain for export. In fact the agriculturist secured at his very door, owing to the protective policy, from 15 to 30 per cent more for these products than if he were obliged to sell them for export. (Hear, Hear.) Without a protective policy our artizans would be compelled to seek employment over the line, and our farmers must consequently seek their market for these products of the farm over the border. (Hear, hear.) A ready and profitable market was now furnished for these articles at the farmer's own door, and if he did pay a little more for the goods he purchased, he could and should be quite willing to afford it. (Hear, hear.) He thought that the National Policy, instead of being a detriment, was of decided advantage to the farmer. (Cheers.) Honourable gentlemen had urged that the country was very prosperous when we imported a large amount of goods, but if we exported per annum of wheat, cattle, and timber to the value of two millions and imported goods to the value of two and one-quarter millions, and this state of things continued from year to year, it was plain that the country would become poorer and poorer. Hear, hear.) There was no way of eluding this difficulty. In such a condition of affairs the public debt would be steadily added to, and the interest on this debt must be paid by the people of this country. (Hear, hear.) For instance, some years ago in the States the quotations of gold had reached 180—(an hon. member 240)—and the effect was this; while the war continued the exports of that country became smaller and smaller, and doubts were expressed whether that country would ever be able to pay off its debt. But when the war ended exports began to increase, and at length always exceeded the imports and means of paying their enormous debt were afforded. Gold fell to par, and this was due to the extraordinary increase in the exports of United States restoring the balance in the manner mentioned. And it was plain that the true secret of success was in so managing our affairs that our exports should exceed our imports. (Hear, hear.) He was disposed to do justice to everyone, and he must say that Sir Leonard Tilley, Minister of Dominion Finance, deserved a great deal of credit in view of what he had done since the National Policy came into force. Sir Leonard had gone through the country visiting every manufacturing establishment. It was to be remembered that he (Sir Leonard) did not do this merely in the interests of the manufacturers; he enquired as to the quantity and quality of goods made, the manner in which the raw material used was obtained, and prices compared with those charged in the United States. The honorable gentleman also urged the manufacturers to make the goods that might be in question cheaper, as the Government desired that consumers should be furnished with these goods as cheaply as possible, and he believed that the Finance Minister (Sir Leonard) deserved very great credit for the pains he had taken to ascertain these facts by proceeding in this manner throughout the whole country. (Cheers.) What was the case a few years ago? People crossed the line and purchased vessels which, with engines, pumps and all machinery complete, were allowed to enter this country without being subject to any duty. Seven or ten tugs, perhaps, on the line of the Welland Canal, were brought over in this way, but since the National Polidy was introduced this no longer could be done, No longer did a premium exist in favour of the American manufacturers. Now, happily, a duty was imposed on such importations.

MR. WHITE—How much?

MR. NEELON—The duty is 10 per cent.

MR MILLER—It was 17½ per cent. before.

Mr. NEELON—Let me tell the honorable member from Muskoka that the late Dominion Government allowed these vessels and their outfits to be imported free of duty. They now paid 10 per cent., and though it was not enough, still it was a move in the right direction. He wished to see all these vessels built at home. (Opposition cheers.) In illustration, what did they find? A few years ago St. Catharines was a small place, and nothing had made St. Catharines what it now was save the building of vessels. (Hear, hear.) It had no surrounding country, was situated on a small peninsula, and its growth was due to the advent of ship-carpenters first, and then of house-carpenters and other workmen. Doctors and lawyers followed, but this was a natural consequence, with mechanics and grocers, and others. This had made St. Catharines what it was, and to the National Policy this was due. He had witnessed the great evil consequent upon the importation of vessels free of duty into that part of the country. Indeed, he had so brought over one himself, but, nevertheless, this was wrong, and he felt strongly convinced that if we wished to make this country what it ought to be, what it should be, and what it would be, we should patronize home manufactures. (Cheers.) Of course some could urge that if we could get an article a little cheaper in the States than here, we should go there and buy it. The farmer might say, if I can get my agricultural implements on the other side a little cheaper than here, let me fetch them over, but he forgot that when he did so he was sending his money into another country, while when he purchased an article made here, both the article monufactured and the money paid for it remained in this, our own country—(cheers)—and this was what he desired to see. Both the manufactured article and the money should remain in our midst. (Applause.) No doubt the manufacturer made a profit, and the artizan made his daily wages, but these workingmen supported their families and they spent their earnings amongst us, and they built, perhaps, comfortable houses. Towns grew up, population increased, real estate and farm property in the neighborhood increased in value. (Hear, hear.) They brought up and fed their children, who would become good citizens, forming—what was more—good loyal citizens, resident in this our common country. (Cheers.) All this depended upon the continuance of the National Policy—(Hear, hear),—and he was satisfied that it was simply the duty of every farmer in Canada to patrouize home manufactures. (Opposition cheers.) Of course he knew that if one tried to persuade a man against his will, he would be of the same opinion still. It was a pretty hard task to convince some agriculturists that the National Policy was really for their benefit. But he candidly believed that every man in this country ought to be a protectionist. (Opposition cheers.) He had not imagined that this question would be brought up in this House. He did not think that it should be discussed in this Legislature, as it had nothing whatever to do with provincial issues. nevertheless, under the circumstances, he deemed it to be his bounden duty to let his constituents clearly know where he stood on this important question—(cheers)—and on this platform he intended to stand. He would not abandon it. He had not been convinced during the last twenty years that he was wrong on this subject. He had distinctly told his constituents that the trade question did not come within the province of this House. But of course if he were in the House of Commons he would on this great issue support the Government of Sir John Macdonald.

Mr. LAUDER—And his is a Free Trade Government.

A MINISTERIALIST—You cannot make the people believe that. (A laugh.)

Mr. NEELON, continuing said he would like to ask any honourable member sitting on either side of the House this plain question:—If the National Policy had been in operation for a great many years in the United States and found extremely beneficial—which was the case—working in the true intetests of the country, why should it not be equally beneficial to the people of this country? (Applause.) He thought that was evidence enough of the correctness of the policy which the Dominion Government had so happily and successfully inaugurated. (Cheers.) As to the boundary question, he thought that they should be a unit when the interests of Ontario were concerned in demanding their rights, and he further approved of the course of the Government on the Rivers' and Streams' Bill.

CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

SATURDAY.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment. The Warden in the chair, and all the members being present.

The minutes of yesterday were read and confirmed.

THOSE PIERS.

Mr. GOLBORNE presented a supplementary report of the Finance Committee, stating that the Committee had again very fully investigated Mr. Pope's claim for loss sustained by the removal of the Mud lake Bridge, and had come to the unanimous finding that the application could not be entertained.

The report was adopted.

LAKEFIELD DAM AND NAVIGATION.

Mr. KIDD moved, seconded by Mr. STEWART, that the deputation appointed by the Council last January to wait upon the Dominion Government in reference to the Lakefield dam and navigation do now report.—Carried.

Mr. STRICKLAND, as one of the deputation, said he had not much to report. Owing to their being advised that the Dominion Government was not likely to do anything in the matter unless in connection with the Trent Valley Canal, and as such an application at that time might prove injurious to the latter project, the deputation had not put the county to the expense of a trip to to Ottawa.

Mr. BURNHAM explained that while willing to do all he could to have the Lakefield dam maintained, he did not see on what ground they could ask the Dominion Government to do anything in the matter unless it became a part of the Trent Valley Canal. Apart from that the only ground upon which public money could be asked for its maintenance would be that it was necessary to the locks at Young's Point, built and belonging to the Provincial Government, and on the ground that its lowering would be injurious to the public health—a thing also pertaining to the Local Government. At that time they were urging the Dominon Government to make a survey of the Trent Valley route, and if that survey, which had been made, proved so satisfactory as to justify the Dominion Government in undertaking the work in the interests of the Dominion, and the Lakefield dam proved to be necessary to that scheme, it would be the duty of the Dominion Government to maintain it. Otherwise he believed it was the duty of the Ontario Government to maintain it, in order to protect the large expenditure they had already incurred on these waters.

Mr. BLEZARD, M. P. P., being present said he didn't know that he could give them any information whatever on the subject. He didn't know who controlled these waters. The Commissioner of Public Works had promised to have a survey and estimate of the probable cost made and also to pay a visit to the locality himself in order that he might be the better informed as to what was needed, but ill-health had prevented him doing so. He thought this county should take decided action in the matter as the subject was a very important one to it, and the prosperity of many persons in the county depended on its maintenance.

Mr. KIDD spoke of the large trade which had been developed by the building of the lock at Young's Point, and the injury which was being done by the present uncertainty as to the future. He was present when Mr. Fraser made the promises referred to by Mr. Blezard, but so far as he knew even the surveyor had not been sent. He would also state that he had been informed by persons in whom he had confidence, that letters written to the Commissioner by those interested, and even by Mr. Blezard himself, had not been answered.

Mr. BLEZARD said his letters had always been properly answered.

Mr. HULL thought the navigation between Lakefield and Young's Point was in dispute, as the Dominion Government had done some work to keep navigation open between these points this summer. He did not think the damages to be paid for keeping up the dam would exceed $200.

Dr. CALDWELL said every one knew what would follow from lowering the dams. If it were lowered he believed the health of the people in that section would be seriously affected. He thought that the Dominion Government were the parties to apply to, owing to their having removed some boulders in the way of navigation this season.

Mr. BURNHAM did not see that he would be justified in asking the Dominion to keep up this dam, for the benefit of a work built by the Ontario Government. There need be no trouble about jurisdiction. There was none at Lindsay, even when the work was built in the first instance by the old Province and therefore belonged to the Dominion. The Provincial Government and Legislature had exactly the same power to-day as they had when they built Young's locks.

Mr. SANDERSON.—The Dominion Government have since taken possession of these waters.

Mr. BURNHAM.—Not at all. The Dominion Government only refused to carry out Mr. Mackenzie's order in council and transfer the Trent Works to the Provincial authorities, because it did not, in accordance with the act authorizing the transfer, require them to maintain them. As a matter of fact the Provincial Government propose to remove one of the dams and produce the very result of which Dr. Caldwell complained, and it was to prevent this that Mr. Mackenzie's order in Council was revoked. Then with regard to the work that had been done this summer, he did not think that either they or the Ontario authorities should feel aggrieved at the boulders in question having been removed, although he had doubts as to the engineer having any instructions to do what he did. He thought the village should ascertain what the damages to private owners would be in the first place, so that the Provincial Government would know what they were asked to do, and that it was the duty of that Government to see that the $50,000 that they have already expended on these waters were not wasted.

Moved by Mr. STRICKLAND seconded by Mr. KIDD, that this council ask the members of the East and West Ridings of Peterborough to press upon the Local Government the necessity of taking immediate steps to protect their property at Young's Point from becoming a total loss, as it has been shown to this Council that such will be the case if the Lakefield dam is lowered in accordance with the order of the Court of Chancery, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to our local members.—Carried.

THE AGRICULTURAL AND ARTS ASSOCIATION.

On motion of Mr. STEWART the following memorial was passed.

To His Honor the Lieut.-Governor of Ontario in Council:

The memorial of the Corporation of the county of Peterborough, respectfully sheweth.

That your memorialists regret to learn that an attempt is being made to deprive the Province of Ontario of a Board of Agriculture, by inducing your honorable body to withdraw from the present Agricultural and Arts Association the usual annual grant of $10,000, without making any other provision for the maintenance of the present Board, or the organization and maintenance of a new Board to take the place of the present one.

That in the opinion of your memorialists the agricultural interests of this Province require the existance of a Provincial Board whose members shall be elected in such a manner as will render them representatives of, and amenable to the farmers of Ontario, and that the interests which it is the duty of such a Board to promote and develope are of sufficient importance to all classes of the people as to justify their representatives in voting whatever sums of money may be found necessary for the efficient and vigorous discharge of the duties devolving upon such a Board.

That in theopinion of your memorialists the division of an additional $10,000 per annum amongst the 81 County Agricultural Societies of the Province would be of little benefit to them, while the division of the same amount amongst three or four cities for the purpose of enabling them to hold annual exhibitions, whose chief object would be to draw trade away from other cities and towns, would be unfair to the latter and most unjust to those farmers located at a distance from the three or four centres which were so fortunate as to be thus favoured with aspecial grant.

That in the opinion of your memorialists the time has arrived when the scope of the exhibitions held under the auspices of the Provincial Board of Agriculture might be curtailed so as to make them occupy a field analogous to that occupied by the exhibitions of the Royal Agricultural Society of England, and the Highland Agricultural Society of Scotland, and thereby concentrate energies now scattered over too much ground and enable these exhibitions to be held in districts where they cannot be held so long as these are made to include articles which require expensive buildings for their exhibition.

Your memorialists therefore pray that you will be pleased to give your assent to such amendments to the act constituting the Agricultural and Arts Association of Ontario, as will give effect to the view herein expressed and also such a sum at the disposal of the Association from year to year as will enable it to discharge the important duties devolving upon it with efficiency and vigour. And as in duty bound your memorialists will ever pray.

On motion of Mr. BURNHAM a copy of the foregoing memorial and also of the memorials passed last June with regard to Upper Canada College and Agricultural Education properly amended, were ordered to be prepared and forwarded for presentation to the Legislature.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. LANG, Chairman, presented a report of the committee on roads and bridges recommending:—

1. That the Clerk be instructed to write the Clerk of the County of Northumberland requesting that municipalty to have the approach to Wallace Point bridge repaired, and intimating that this council is prepared to pay one half of the cost of the same.

2. That no action be taken at present with reference to the piers of the Lakefield bridge.

3. That with regard to the bridge over the north branch of Deen River, that the Reeve of Belmont examine the same and report to the Warden whether the said bridge is over 100 feet long, and if so, and it be found that repairs are urgent that the Warden take action in the matter.

4. That no action be taken with reference to to the letter of Messrs. Moore & Sawers in behalf of the Hague heirs, with respect to the Lakefield bridge.

5. That the county engineer inspect the bridge over the river Ouse in Norwood and report to the council in June, whether the said bridge is over 100 feet long.

6. That the action of the late Warden with reference to the Kinmount bridge be approved.

7. That a grant of fifty dollars be made to each of the municipalities of Burleigh, Galway, Harvey, and Belmont, for the repair of the roads and bridges in or adjacent to the said municipalities, and that the Reeves be the Commissioners for the expenditure of the same, and that they be required as such Commissioners to make a return, accompanied by proper vouchers, of the expenditure of the same.

8. That the county engineers be instructed to inspect the Mud Lake bridge and present a report upon its state, at the June session of this council.

The report was adopted.

On motion of Mr. CROUGH, Mr. J. N. Telford was appointed caretaker of the Mud Lake bridge, in place of Mr. M. S. Dean.

On motion of Mr. MOLONEY, the Clerk was instructed to furnish the Clerks of the several municipalities with full particulars as to who were duly authorized auctioneers, pedlars, &c.

On motion of Mr. GOLBORNE a by-law was passed confirming the report of the Finance Committee.

PERSEVERANCE HAS ITS REWARD.

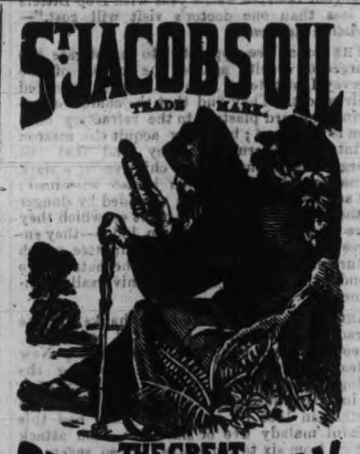
Moved by Mr. PEARCE, seconded by Mr. BURGESS,—That a special grant of $250 be made to the Norwood High School, and that the corporate seal be attached to this resolution to give it the effect of a by-law.

In making the motion Mr. PEARCE said he was sorry to trouble the Council so often about this matter, but it had been made a personal matter in his own contest by his opponent stating that he had the assurance of two members of this Council, that so long as he (Pearce) represented Norwood, it would not get this grant, and therefore that by voting for him they were voting $250 out of their own pockets. He trusted they would not punish those whom he represented for any short comings of his own.

The motion was carried on the following division:—

YEAS—Walsh, Strickland, Burnham, McCliggot, Kidd, Pearce, Rork, Burgess and Golborne—9.

NAYS—Moloney, Mansfield, Crough, Oliver, Lang, Stewart, Sanderson and Fitzgerald—8.



Moved by Mr. BURGESS, seconded by Mr. STRICKLAND,—That the resolution passed at the June session of this council of last year confirming the report of the Joint Committee regarding the Old Burying ground, be rescinded as the town has taken no action in the matter.—Carried.

THE PARK.

The Council then adjourned.

DYSPEPSIA AND DEBILITY, A SEVERE CASE.—From Wm. Bentley, 24 Rodman Street, Fall River, Mass.—"I was severly afflicted with general debility caused by over-exertion in working when I was not strong enough to do so. I became so nervous and debilitated that I was finally obliged to give up work and devote myself entirely to rest. This, however, did not benefit me, as I had nothing to occupy my mind and I could not be idle. I concluded that my trouble was heart disease, and consulted a physican, who pronounced it an aggravated from of dyspepsia, and was treated accordingly. Nothing that I tried gave me any relief until Peruvian Syrup was recommended. I used three bottles of this, and could see a great improvement, as I was able to resume work. Three bottles more completely restored my health." Sold by all druggists.

KELLEY'S ISLAND, Ohio, Mar. 28th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—I have used your Spavin Cure on a bone spavin and am pleased to report that it has taken the enlargement completely off. It took only one bottle to perform the cure. I am confident that if it is properly used it will do all you claim for it.

Yours truly,
C. M. LINCOLN.

Kendall's Spavin Cure

ON HUMAN FLESH.

Thousands of trials on Human Flesh has proved beyond a doubt that "Kendall's Spavin Cure" has sufficient strength to penetrate and virtue to cure the worst cases of rheumatism, corns bunyons, frostbites or any bruise, cut or lameness which are not affected in the least by ordinary liniments. It does not blister, but on the contrary, removes all soreness.

DUNHAM, P. Q., March 10th, 1879.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—About a year ago I fell in the road on to some ice and was badly hurt in the hip joint, which caused me much suffering. I tried various remedies, but none gave relief until I tried Kendall's Spavin Cure. I applied it full strength twice a day for two weeks during last October, and it effected a perfect cure. I have since then been well and free from lameness. It is very valuable for man as well as for beast.

Yours truly,
CHESTER K. GREEN.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1882.

The City Hotel.

As is well known our popular townsman, Mr. James Dolan, is a pushing individual. He is always in something and under his management that something always brings in the dollars. For the last thirteen years he has been in the dry goods business, but becoming tired of selling calico and tape, he has decided to enter into the hotel business and henceforth be known as "mine host" Dolan. In company with Mr. P. Banks, who for the last ten years has been connected with the "Queens," Toronto, he has opened out in the new building on George street, directly opposite the market square. The new firm have one of the finest and most comfortable places in town, and when it is furnished throughout, as it will be in the course of another week, this hotel will afford accommodations second to none in town. The firm are both business men in every sense of the word, and they hope by strict attention to the wants of the travelling public to merit a fair share of the patronage, which they will no doubt receive. Boys call and test the "Nicholas" bitters.

Railway Notes.

Mr. Wheeler, M.P., contractor for the Wick and Manilla section of the Toronto & Ottawa, is pushing the work ahead rapidly. A large number of men are getting out ties and fencing material, and about twenty men are chopping out the five miles of bush on the line. Forty men are at work grading on the heavy cuts near Manilla and at the Wick end. In all over 100 men are engaged. All ties, culvert, cattle-guard, and bridge timber will be got out this winter, and the heavy earthwork will be completed by spring, when additional men and teams will be added, so as to complete the line ready for traffic early in the coming summer.

Dramatic Recitals.

We hear the highest commendations of the powers as an elocutionist of Esther Owen-Flint, who is to give an entertainment in Bradburn's Hall on February 7th, under the auspices of the Oddfellows. The St. Marys Argus says of her:—

"Mrs. Esther Owen-Flint appeared in the Opera House on Tuesday last. The programme was excellent, and the rendition fully sustained the high reputation of the lady. Mrs. Flint is certainly the best elocutionist who ever appeared in this town, and her selections were remarkably well rendered."

The Presbyterian Synod.

A special meeting of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church of Canada in connection with the Church of Scotland has been called for Wednesday, 15th February, to be held at Toronto, for the purpose of deliberation and action in the present circumstances of the Church. The meeting has been considered necessary in view of the recent judgment of the Privy Council in the suit of Rev. Robt. Dobie v. The Temporalities' Board of the Presbyterian Church of Canada.

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station:—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

ARRIVE at 8.35 and 11.50 a.m., and 6.15 and 9.55 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

ARRIVE at 11 a.m. and 6.10 p.m.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

The Cadet Corps.

We beg to call the attention of the Board of Education, and of the parents of boys at our Collegiate Institute to the very sensible letter of Capt. Edwards, on the subject of the Cadet Corps. We agree with him that it would be a pity for the arms to be returned and the corps broken up.

Another "Warm Wave."

Vennor writes predicting a recurrence of the "warm wave," with very mild weather, during the week commencing the 5th of February. Very heavy rains and floods in the week following the 19th are predicted for western and southern sections.

And this is Canada.

We were shown to-day a caterpiller that was caught crawling over a sidewalk. One gentleman remarked that in a very few days it would turn to a butterfly. Some say spring is at hand.

Personals.

Mr. John Wells, of the firm of Wells and Stephenson, Winnipeg, an old Peterborough boy, is here on a visit.

Mr. Joseph Brault, formerly with T. Bradburn, and more recently in a Montreal wholesale house is now travelling for a Toronto dry goods firm. Mr. Brault is a pushing, energetic young man, and will yet make his mark.

Mr. George Fitzgerald, for many years a resident of the township of Smith, left on Tuesday night for the county of Lambton, where he has purchased a farm and intends to reside in future. By his departure this county loses one of the finest men that ever lived in it. He is known from one end of the county to the other and all will join with us in wishing him prosperity.

Mr. J. W. Jenkins left on Tuesday for the Prairie Province.

Midland Railway of Canada.

The traffic returns of the above railway for the week ending 21st Jan., 1882, were as follows:—

MIDLAND RAILWAY.—Passengers and Mails, $4051.99; Freight, $8909.96; Total, $12961.92, as compared with $7460.77 for the corresponding week of 1880, being an increase of $5501.18 and the aggregate traffic to date is $34.680,78 being an increase of $13,121.73 over 1880.

The Weather.

The weather continues exceedingly fine and warm. The weather probabilities for the following twenty-four hours, as reported by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Moderate to fresh southerly to westerly winds, cloudy to fine weather, with light snow in northern parts; stationary or higher temperatnre.

Our Members.

Dr. Kincaid, M. P. P., has been placed on the Railway, Private Bills and Privileges and Elections committees, of the Ontario Legislature, and Mr. Blezard, M. P. P., on the Railways, and Privileges and Elections committees.

FROM ALL OVER.

PRINCE ROLAND BONAPARTE has been sued by a Versailles hotel keeper for $9,000 for the board and lodging of his mother and sister and money lent to them.

A CORRESPONDENT writes that the Singer of the Simple Sunflower is mentioned in the Oxford University Calendar as "Oscar Fingall O'Flahertie Willis Wild."

IF YOU ARE BILIOUS, take Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," the original "Little Liver Pills." Of all druggists.

YOUNG, MIDDLE AGED, OR OLD MAN, suffering from nervous debility and kindred weaknesses, should send two stamps for large treatise, giving successful treatment. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

PRINCE BISMARCK has sent a motto to the German Association for the rescue of shipwrecked mariners, which is selling an autographic album for the benefit of the funds of this Humane Society. The device runs thus:—Patrice in serviendo consumor—"I am consumed in the service of the fatherland.

MR. HERBERT SPENCER, one of the greatest minds which England has produced in a century, is in very straitened circumstances. A few years ago a subscription was taken up for him, and it is now announced that "French Civilization," the last volume of descriptive sociology, is a complete pecuniary failure.

LAME BACK.—Lumbago, Kidney complaint, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all pain and inflammation are speedily cured with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Croup, sore throat, colds, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, chilblains and all wounds of the flesh are quickly healed by Yellow Oil.

PRINCE BISMARCK lately wrote a kind letter to a German in Chicago who was formerly in his service. After giving his correspondent divers bits of family news, the Prince says that both his sons are in good health, "which," he adds, "unhappily, I cannot always say of my wife, and not at all of myself. I hunt no more, and rarely ride, since I am too weak, and if I do not soon get rest my vital force will be worn out."

A GOOD PREVENTATIVE for Fevers, Ague and Bilious Disorders is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters a strictly vegetable preparation. They Tone the system, purify the Blood and increase the appetite, and render those taking them almost proof against disease, Should be used in every case instead of pills. J. D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

FOR THE year just ended the official records of suicides in France return 6,500 cases, an increase of four cases oves 1880. Since 1851, the increase has been at a much larger ratio than this In that year it was one case in every 9,833 inhabitants; last year it was one in every 5,162. No province in Europe has so great a ratio as the German one of Thuringia, but after Thuringia Paris has the misfortune to stand nearest the top of the list.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

THE PRINCESS of Wales met lately with what was nearly a serious accident. While playing with her children a game of "snap-dragon" at Sandringham she unwittingly overturned the vessel of burning spirits. Her dress caught fire, her eyebrows were singed, and one arm was injured. Brave lady that she is, she was the coolest of the group; while the flames of her sleeve were being extinguished she herself, tore away the burning portion of her skirt.

A GENERAL STAMPEDE.—Never was there such a rush made for Drug Stores as is now at Taylor & Macdonald's for a trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons afflicted with Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs, can get a trial bottle of this great remedy free, by calling at the above drug store.—4

TWO measures affecting Canada were brought up in the United States Congress on Monday. The first of these was a bill introduced in the Senate permitting grain brought by Canadian farmers to be ground at mills in the United States under the regulations prescribed by the Treasurer Department; and the second a bill laid before the House of Representives permitting the importation free of duty of iron ore from Canada.

HAUNTED ME.—A Workingman says: Debt, poverty and suffering haunted me for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have been sick a day since; and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost."—Christian Advocate.

THE committee appointed to investigate the charges of cruelty against the matron of the Hervey Institute in Montreal have presented their report. They find that the charge of applying mustard plasters to the refractory children is sustained; but they acquit the matron of intentional cruelty. They find that the charge of confining unruly children in a dark furnace and basement room is also sustained; but as this process was not attended by danger to those thus diciplined—a point on which they were evidently incompetent to judge—they endorse the action of the Ladies' Committee, which in turn endorsed the conduct of the matron. No wonder the report is "almost universally condemned."

INDEED I have to ascribe thanks to the miraculous power of St. Jacobs Oil, writes Mr. Theo. Schulze, 601 St. Claude Street, New Orleans, La., that I am to-day among the living. That dreaded disease, rheumatism, is an inherited ailment in our family. I lost a brother in 1866 by it. I also have had this painful malady five or six times, each attack lasting from six to ten weeks, and so severe as to entirely disable me and prevent me from performing the slightest service. The many remedies which I used, and the doctors whom I consulted, failed to cure or even so much as relieve my pains. In the Fall of last year, about the month of October, I was again attacked by the disease, which confined me to bed and almost crazed me with the severe pains, and no help at hand, or promise or hope of any relief. I had often heard of St. Jacobs Oil, but had about as much confidence in it as in the other remedies, which was very little. Importuned by friends, I concluded to try the Great German Remedy, and would thankfully say that it brought instant relief. In a short time I was able to sit up, my appetite returned, and the pain vanished. In a short time I was cured. Since that time I have held the St. Jacobs Oil in highest esteem, and recommend it whenever I can find the opportunity. Thanks to those who introduced to the world this blessing to suffering mankind. Without it what would be the condition of the world to-day?

REVIEWS.

HARPER'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE.—The February number of Harper is even better than usual The frontespiece is an admirable likeness of Victor Hugo. Mrs. Blake's personal sketches of "French Political Leaders," with portraits have especial interest just now in consequence of the recent political crisis. There are graphic papers on a "Clever Town Built by Quakers," "The American Life-Saving Service" and "The Wilson Industrial School and Mission." The description of "Commercial, Social and Political Mexico," contains much information and "The Romance of the Spanish and French Explorers" should interest all Canadians. In behalf of crime is a telling satire on the too prevalent criminal literature. In "Henry Irvine at Home," and "Personal Recollections of Daniel Webster," we seem to make the acquaintance of those celebrated men. The serial tale "Anne" reaches a very sensational stage, and the first instalment of "Prudence, a story of Æsthetic London," promises to be very amusing. Several short tales and poems, with the "Editor's Drawer" complete the very attractive table of contents.

NEURALGIA.—This scourge, being a purely nervous affection, can only be alleviated through a thorough purification of the blood and secretions. It and all kindred ailments are completely overpowered by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, which never fail to afford relief.

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J. D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

TRUE TO HER TRUST.—Too much cannot be said for the ever-faithful wife and mother, constantly watching and caring for her dear ones, never neglecting a single duty in their behalf. When they are assailed by disease, and the system should have a thorough cleansing, the stomach and bowels regulated, blood purified, malarial poison exterminated, she must know that Electric Bitters are the only sure remedy. They are the best and purest medicine in the world, and only cost 50 cents. Sold by Taylor & Macdonald.—4

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it is seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

THE BITER BIT.

A Smuggler at Buffalo is Himself Defrauded Out of his Own Revenue.

BUFFALO, Jan. 29.—A clever piece of smuggling has just come to light, in which the smuggler was outwitted by those whom he employed to beat Uncle Sam out of revenue. A few weeks ago a well-known Italian rag dealer employed Jack Metcalf, of Fort Erie, to smuggle over six barrels of wool clippings. These clippings are worth about 60c. per pound, and the duty is six cents per pound. The clippings were packed solidly in the barrels, which were very heavy. Arrangements had been made with men on this side to receive the barrels from Metcalf at the foot of York-street, and they were to be drawn by a team to the cellar at the Italian's place. Metcalf performed his part of the job one dark night, and received from the Italian, it is said $14. When the clippings were landed on this side, however, there was no team or men to receive them. Back of the workhouse on the tow-path lives a fisherman named Marvin, commonly called "Schoolmaster," who volunteered, it is said, to store the barrels in his boat-house. The Italian accepted the offer, and the barrels were taken there. The next night, so the story goes, the Italian drove down for his goods, when he saw two men loading them on the waggon. They told him they were detectives, and intended to confiscate his clippings. This frightened the Italian off, but the next day, suspecting that all was not right, he informed the United States marshal of the affair. The officers went quickly to work, and after investigation found that two of the smugglers whom the Italian had employed were the parties who had personated the detectives. They had sold the clippings for $160 and decamped. The officers finally succeeded in arresting one of the parties, who is known as "Big Bob," and a notorious smuggler. His pal is believed to be a Canada. When the authorities looked for the Italian they discovered he had also fled. The "league" of Italians along the river front were considerably agitated over the affair. Not long ago Ed. Thompson, of Canada, happened in at an Italian saloon on Water street near Boiler, when he was severely beaten by them, and charged with being one of the men who robbed their fellow-countryman.

FINANCIAL TROUBLES.

PARIS, Feb. 1.—No serious steps have been taken to assist the sixty or seventy members outside of the market, whose position will be precarious. During January from seventy to eighty millions of francs passed from the Bank of England to the Bank of France. Since Thursday the latter's stock of metal has increased by forty million francs. The passage in the Minister's statement referring to the financial situation shows nothing that ought to alarm, but demands that certain precautions be taken, but for the present they cannot entertain the question of conversion.

FINANCES QUIETER.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—On the Stock Exchange today, and on the different Bourses on the continent the markets closed firmer, with a better feeling prevailing. This is in great measure due to the prompt action of the syndicate of bankers, and the placing of 200,000,000 francs at the disposal of the brokers to enable them to meet the forthcoming liquidation on the 5th instant.

THE SPANISH PILGRIMAGE.

MADRID, Feb. 1.—The Madrid Catholic journal El Siglo Futuro publishes an appeal to the Spanish nation signed by the Bishop of Madrid and the committee of the proposed pilgrimage to Rome. It mentions the riot during the removal of the remains of Pius IX., and declares that the Pope is persecuted and held a prisoner by the sectarians of liberalism, and that the Pope desires the Spanish pilgrimage. A stormy interview has taken place between the Minister of Foreign Affairs and the Papal Nuncio. The former expresses the great dissatisfaction of the Government at the behaviour of several archbishops and bishops, who openly encouraged the Carlist pilgrimage.

DEBTS AND LUNATICS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Mr. Scoville says if the offer of the Philadelphia refrigerating firm to exhibit Guiteau's body is accepted by the relatives of the assassin, he will recommend that as much of the proceeds as necessary be applied to satisfying Guiteau's debts, and the surplus donated to some insane asylum. The firm will be required to give an assurance that no indignities will be offered to the remains, and that they will be protected against body-snatchers. Mr. Scoville has not given up all hope of getting the verdict set aside. He will insist on getting a post mortem examination of Guiteau's brain, and is confident it will disclose disease.

ANOTHER GREAT FIRE.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 1.—A special despatch from Lockport, N. Y., says:—On the south bank of the Erie canal, across from the Holly water works building, and just back of Main street in this city, three large flouring mills were grouped together, owned respectively by Thornton & Chester, of Buffalo, and Arnold & Little, and Richard Becker, of Lockport. The latter was leased and operated by Gibson & Purser. Just before 3 o'clock this morning flames were seen issuing from the upper story of the Spalding mill, and the three flouring mills were entirely consumed together with their contents. The loss must be very heavy. This is the third time that the Spalding mill has been burned. It was a large seven-story building. As soon as the fire department came upon the ground a hose pipe was extended to the burning room, and First Assistant Engineer, George Woods, a young man about twenty-four years old, went up to superintend it, knowing as he did so that he was endangering his life greatly. He had just got to work when the hose pipes burst, and he was left to the mercy of the fire. He beat a hasty retreat, going back into the main porton of the building. The flames followed him closely and before he could find the stairway leading down burst in upon him. He got out eventually, but all efforts to do anything for him were fruitless. He only lived long enough to say he thought he was all right. He was the only son of a widow and her sole support. William Hatler, a carpenter, also suffered severe injuries. From the firm of Thornton & Chester it is learned that their mill, built of stone and eleven stories high, is a total loss, and that the amount will reach $125,000. There is, however an insurance of $70,000.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The public debt on which interest has ceased includes $200,000 of bonds that ceased to bear interest in 1864. It is probable that the greater portion of these have been lost or destroyed. Of the six per cent consols of 1867, the interest on which ceased April 1st, 1879, the outstanding interest, including interest on $120,000 of the five per cent funded loan, the interest on which ceased last May, there is outstanding nearly $300,000. NEW YORK, Feb. 2. The grand jury has finished the investigation into the collision at Spuyten Duyvill. Is is understood that the indictments order bills for manslaughter in the fourth degree against brakeman Melius and conductor Hanford. It is also rumoured that they censure the management of the New York and Hudson River Railway.

A CONFIDENT SISTER.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—The attention of Mrs. Scoville was to-day directed to a despatch from Philadelphia detailing the arrangement to exhibit the body of Guiteau throughout the country. The despatch seemed to indicate that the relatives of the assassin were willing that such a disposition should be made of the remains. After reading the despatch Mrs. Scoville said: "I don't believe anything of the kind has been done. We have not got to the point of considering what shall be done with the remains of my brother. Whenever and however he may die, I shall take the body and have a post-mortem made by experts of my own selection. I alone shall deside as to the disposition to be made of his remains. The idea of exhibiting the body around the country is horrible. I would not have it done if we were starving, and we have not reached that desperate state of poverty yet. An offer of $15,000 was made to me for the body of Charles, and I refused it. There is not enough money in the country to buy it for the purpose of exhibition. So far as he is able to make a legal disposition of his body and effects he has given them to me. I wanted him to make a will, but Mr. Scoville said he could not, as he was insane, and it would have no legal force. If he should be induced to make a will disposing of his body, so that it might be put on exhibition, I would contest its validity in the courts, just as I would the act of any other insane man that affected me. But these people need not put themselves to so much trouble about the matter. Charles Guiteau is not going to be hung."

IMMIGRATION.

THAT there will be a large emigration from the old country to Canada, during the ensuing summer is generally conceded, but were it not for the evidence before us we could not have conceived that the subject was engrossing the attention of the people at home, to the extent which it evidently is doing.

For instance, the Edinburgh Scotsman of January the 13th, 1882, contained the following letter, from the Rev. William Bennett of Peterborough:—

PETERBOROUGH, Ontario, Canada, December 23, 1881.

SIR,—The writer of the following letter is a Presbyterian minister of the province of Ontario. He has heard that there is likely to be a large emigration next season from Scotland to the Dominion of Canada, and that, upon good advice given, many of the emigrants propose settling in one or other of the older provinces, in preference to going to Manitoba and the North-West territory.

The writer's object is to suggest the propriety of entering upon correspondence with responsible parties on this side the Atlantic, so as to secure for these emigrants such locations as will give them privileges—religious, educational, social, and mercantile—equal to what they have enjoyed at home, or akin to those which they would like to enjoy in their new fields.

There are many farms for sale in the older provinces which do not lie near to churches, schools, or good market towns. Left to themselves, the emigrants must sacrifice time and money in hunting up farms in localities where these advantages may be had. Something could and should be done to spare them this sacrifice. It would be easy, for instance, for any one deputed to do so, to obtain lists of farms now in the market, accompanied with statements as to number of acres, character of soil, improvements made, distances from churches, schools, towns, &c. &c. Another party in the locality from which the exodus is to be made could obtain lists of intending emigrants, showing in each case the amount of money to be invested, the religious denomination to which the intending emigrant belongs, the number of children in the family of school age, &c. &c. After corresponding with each other, parties holding these lists could act as agents in the way of directing the new settlers to the districts best suited to their wants.

The suggestion that emigrants with more or less capital should settle in the older provinces I heartily endorse. Having lived on your side of the Atlantic for some twenty-five years, and in one or other of the provinces now constituting the Dominion of Canada for about an equal length of time, I have opportunity of knowing what is best and what is not best for intending emigrants. To enter into detail would unduly extend this communication.

It will give me great pleasure to answer any letters from reliable parties bearing on the points touched on in the aforegoing communication.—I am, &c.

And on the very same day no less than three letters were penned and forwarded to Mr. Bennett by the same mail, which brought him a copy of the paper containing his letter. These letters read as follows:—

EDINBURGH, Jan. 13th, 1882.

DEAR SIR,—I read with much pleasure your letter on the subject of "emigrants to Canada," and altho' not acquainted with the country can realise your statements to be trustworthy.

As I am about going to Canada this spring I should like to get a list of farms in the the Province of Ontario before going the length of Manitoba or the N.-W., but the difficulty with me is as you mention, how am I to receive such a list or any information desirable. If it is within your power to procure a list or lists for me I will endeavour in my own private way to distribute a few of them to parties I know who are emigrating.

HAWICK, SCOTLAND, Jan. 13th, 1882.

To the Rev. Wm. Bennett.

MY DEAR SIR,—In to-day's Scotsman I read your letter with deep interest on the subject of people about to emigrate. I for one am thinking of becoming an emigrant, my mind so far is fixed for Manitoba, but one's knowledge of it is so faint—how far the railways, towns, &c., &c., are off. Perhaps you can give one a hint on the subject which we can rely on.

I have a wife and four children, my father, mother, one brother and two sisters, 11 in all will go. Now you see it is a serious job to go into a new country and no where to lay one's head. I am quite confident if you give your opinion it will be worth a good deal to us. Manitoba, its climate, &c., &c., and if possible the price per acre of land and quality, churches schools, &c.

LEITH, Jan. 13th, 1882.

REV. AND DEAR SIR,—I have read your letter which appeared in to-day's Scotsman with much interest, as I am sure will be shared by thousands in this country who are now turning their eyes westward seeking for a new home.

No greater boon could be conferred upon an intending emigrant, with his ignorance of the country, and his doubts of much he hears and reads regarding its resources, than to be put in the way of obtaining reliable information and advice, by a gentleman of your experience and animated by true christian philanthropy as you evidently are.

I have six sons, two of them have recently gone to Cape Colony and are doing well, other two, one 27 years of age and the other 18, are anxious to go in for farming, and intend going west. They are strong healthy lads, and though a merchant's sons, have not been spoiled nor unfitted to take it rough and round in a new country.

I can give them £1,000 to start with, so that they can afford to go to some older locations where some of the comforts of home can be obtained, and where the blessings of religious instruction are within reach.

I have, no doubt, you will be deluged with letters from the Old Country of similar tenor to mine, and thus your patience and time may be overtaxed, but God who has put it in your heart to guide many in the right path will bless and reward you for all you do in this noble work.

Of course, if such was the immediate effect of the publication of Mr. Bennett's letter, we may reasonably anticipate that it will be followed by many more of the same kind during the next few weeks, and, if followed up with proper and reliable information it may be the means of attracting a goodly number of settlers to this Province, and especially to this portion of it, and this, we understand, Mr. Bennett proposes to do by issuing, for free distribution in the old country, schedules giving the following particulars as to farms which are in the market, viz:—Name of owner, location, number of acres cleaned and uncleaned, character of buildings, distance from churches, schools, markets, &c., price and when possession would be given. If such information is reliably given it would no doubt, be of very great advantage to the intending settler, and of at least equal advantage to those who have properties of this kind which they desire to dispose of.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Mr. Meredith after an able speech, moved that the paragraph as to the boundary be struck out and the following substituted therefor:—

"While we regret the delay which has occurred in the settlement of the northerly and westerly boundaries of the Province; and while we are prepared at all hazards to maintain by all lawful means its territorial and other rights, we deprecate the taking of any course in the inforcement of those rights which is calculated to disturb the peace of the Dominion, and we desire to express our regret that your honor's advisers have not taken the only lawful and constitutional means which, in the absence of the approval of the award by the Parliament of Canada, are open for the determination of the question in reference to said boundaries."

The Government declined to stand by their own address, but put up Mr. Sinclair to move a rigmarole amendment containing about an equal proportion of absurdities and falsehoods. This was carried.

Hon. Mr. Morris moved an amendment to the affect that the Rivers and Streams bill was a violation of public rights; that the disallowance was made in accordance with the provisions of the British North American Act, and by His Excellency acting under the advice of his Ministers, and that the House, while duly jealous of all public rights and privileges, did not regard the disallowance as any invasion of the rights of the Province.

Again the Government refused to support their own address.

Mr. Harcourt moving another bumcombe amendment with the same result.

The remaining paragraphs of the address were then passed.

Mr. Mowat brought down a portion of the correspondence on the boundary award, but carrying out his policy of concealment, flatly refused to produce a despatch on this subject that he had received from Ottawa on Saturday.

In reply to Mr. Madill, Mr. Mowat gave some encouragement to the idea of lowering Lake Simcoe.

There was a debate as to the financial matters in dispute between Ontario and Quebec, which showed that Mr. Treasurer Wood had neglected to look after the interests of the Province.

THE SHELBURNE MURDER.

Additional Links in the Chain of Evidence—Cartridges and a Bludgeon Found.

SHELBURNE, Jan, 31.—The Smith murder is still the chief topic of conversation hereabouts. A vigorous though ineffectual search has been made for the missing revolver. The pistol case however, which is in possession of the authorities, is deemed even more valuable than if the weapon were brought to light. The boy Smith still retains that air of indifference which has been noticeable since his arrest. This afternoon, as the children of Mr. James Braiden were returning from school in the vicinity of an old well on their father's place, they thought they observed something that looked like a small card-board box and on closer observation called their uncle, who found it was a cartridge box, and in it and close by were found some forty cartridges, No. 22 calibre. This was along the line of the boy's flight to Robert Watts' and the discovery is of special significance on the present enquiry. There has also been found in the wood-pile a small round birch stick, about four feet long, and broken a foot from the end, covered with blood and hair. No doubt this was the bludgeon that did the cruel work. Several other sticks of wood in the pile are marked with blood, indicating that the victim must have been clubbed at or near the wood pile.

TELEGRAPH WIRE NUISANCE.

Good Move—Underground Conduits Offered by a Stock Company.

DETROIT, Jan. 31.—James Patrick and Frank R. Walton, Directors of the Underground Electric Company, of Philadelphia, have been in the city for a day or two in consultation with capitalists, with the view of organizing a company in Detroit to lay conduits through the streets for the use of the telephone, telegraph, and electric light wires. The company claim to have their underground system in successful operation in Philadelphia. They propose to lay the conduits and lease the wires, or use of the chambers to the telegraph, telephone, and electric light companies, at so much per annum, and claim that their rates will be much less than what it costs to maintain the wires above ground. Messrs. Patrick and Walton state that the indications are favorable for the organization of a stock company in Detroit, and that the matter has been left in the hands of Colin Fox, formerly Western Union Telegraph Superintendent of this city. They left for Chicago last night.

A PROTEST.—It is said that a protest has been entered against Jeremiah McCarthy, councillor of this township, to set aside his election on grounds of disqualification. IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Down's Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

DR. CARSON'S Pulmonary Cough Drops are an excellent Expectorant loosening the phlegm far more readily than any other preparation. CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

SENDING A VALENTINE.

I might begin, "The rose is red,"
(Though that is not so very new),
Or this the boys all think is good:
"If you love me as I love you."

But—seems to me—a valentine
Is nicer when you do not say
The same old things that every one
Keeps saying, in the same old way.

And I asked Jane, the other night,
What grown-up people write about.
She would not answer me at first,
But laughed till I began to pout.
That stopped her, for she saw I meant
The question (and she will not tease).
"Why—love," she said, "and shining eyes,
A kiss, soft hair—just what they please."
It can't be hard, if that is all,
So I'll begin by saying this:

"To my dear lady beautiful
I send a valentine and kiss,
The valentine, because she has
The loveliest hair and gentlest eyes;
The kiss, because I love her more
Than any one beneath the skies;
Because she is the kindest, best,
The sweetest lady ever known;
And every year I say the same,
The very same, to her alone."

There! Now it's finished. Who will do?
I've thought of one and then another.
Whos there is like it? Why, of course,
I'll send it right away to Mother!

THE GATINEAU HORROR.

The Story Now Supposed to be Foundationless—What it was Based on.

OTTAWA, Jan. 31.—A sensational story was floated about the city yesterday, to the effect that a murder of the most brutal and cruel kind had been perpetrated in the lumber shanty of one of the best known and most highly respected firms in the Ottawa Valley. To trace the rumor to its first source was impossible, but the story as last circulated seemed so improbable that littly credence was placed in it. It was in fact at variance with all that is known of a shantyman's nature, and attributed to the parties supposed to be concerned the very reverse of their general feelings. The murder was said to have been committed in one of the shanties of the Messrs. Gilmour, of Desert. The victim was said to be the assistant of the cook, a young lad who was unmercifully ill-treated by the "boss." The latter would seem to have been a perfect fiend, who not only ill-treated the lad, but at last murdered him, cut him to pieces, and mixed his mangled remains with a barrel of pork, and then made good his escape. No names could be mentioned in connection with the matter, and the whole affair, in whichever direction information was sought for, had to be taken on dit.

PROBABLE CAUSE OF THE RUMOUR.

That a sudden and unexpected death did take place in one of the Gilmour shanties on the Desert is a fact, and the particulars connected with it are not yet known, but nothing that has so far transpired warrants the conclusion that there was any foul play in the matter, or that it could furnish any groundwork for the repulsive tale circulated last night. The deceased was an old man named McLean who was employed in a shanty some twenty-five miles from the Desert Station, and who, during a long life of sixty five years, seems to have been known to all as a hard-working, good-natured man. Yesterday a reporter thinking that the hard stories might have some connection, visited the family of the deceased to ascertain what they knew about the death of the old man. He found Mrs. McLean and her daughter at home in an unpretentious but remarkably tidy-looking cottage on Nicholas street. Mrs. McLean stated that her late husband was sixty-five years of age, and had been in this district the greater portion of his life. For several years he had been butchering for one of the earliest butchers of Ottawa, the late Mr. Chitty, and also been for years in the employ of the Messrs. Hamilton. He and his son, a young fellow of seventeen, had this season gone to work for the Messrs. Gilmour. About a fortnight ago the lad returned home, not being well. He reported that his father was then in excellent health and on the best of terms with all the hands in the shanty. He had never heard of any disagreement between him and any of the men. His father was cook of the shanty, and seemed to get on well with all hands. Of matters in connection with her husband's death Mr. McLean could tell but little. She had no intimation of his having been ill and the first hint she had that anything had gone wrong was conveyed in the following telegram:

DESERT, Jan. 27.—To Mrs. Hugh McMean, Ottawa:—Your husband, Hugh McLean, has died in my shanty this morning. CHAS. STUBBS.

On receipt of this she communicated with the firm, with a view of learning what more particulars she could, and received from Mr. Chitty, at the Gatineau Mills, a telegram as follows, dated 28th:—

Yes; if you wish. I will telegraph you full particulars this evening.

A subsequent telegram on the same date read thus:—

The body will be exhumed and sent down early next week. Will advise you when it will reach Ottawa. GILMOUR & Co.

The facts connected with these telegrams which puzzle the family of McLean are, why (as is evident from them) his remains should have been so rapidly interred, and why at the outset they were not consulted as to where they would wish them to be buried. While she and the rest of the family gave no credence to the sensational stories afloat, she expresses a determination to have a medical examination of the remains when they arrive. It further transpired in the course of conversation that her husband and son were the only two English speaking persons in the shanty, and that the young fellow had told her that one reason of his coming back was that in the bush he had been put by the foreman at the heaviest kind of work, chaining, which was too much for him. He only spoke of this, however, after the news of his father's death reached him. Mrs. McLean said she was sure that had her husband been ill he would have found means to get home, and she was certain that his DEATH MUST HAVE BEEN VERY SUDDEN.

Miss McLean, in speaking of him, stated that until her brother returned they did not know that he was out with that particular shanty, and that they thought he was with an English speaking gang. Had they known what the shanty was composed of they would have advised him to come home in the course of a fortnight after his son.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 31.—The French citizens of Holyoke gave Louis Frechette, the poet laureate of Quebec, a banquet at the Windsor House in that city to-night, the exercises continuing till a late hour. A number of invited guests were present, including the Hon. L. S. Huntington, of the Canadian Parliament, Gov. Long, and President Bishop, of the Massachusetts Senate. After the banquet, the bill of fare, of which was elaborate, a number of toasts were responded to, speeches being made by Mr. Huntington, Gov. Long, and President Bishop.

DYSPEPSIA AND DEBILITY, A SEVERE CASE.—From Wm. Bentley, 24 Rodman Street, Fall River, Mass.—"I was severly afflicted with general debility caused by over-exertion in working when I was not strong enough to do so. I became so nervous and debilitated that I was finally obliged to give up work and devote myself entirely to rest. This, however, did not benefit me, as I had nothing to occupy my mind and I could not be idle. I concluded that my trouble was heart disease, and consulted a physican, who pronounced it an aggravated from of dyspepsia, and was treated accordingly. Nothing that I tried gave me any relief until Peruvian Syrup was recommended. I used three bottles of this, and could see a great improvement, as I was able to resume work. Three bottles more completely restored my health." Sold by all druggists.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

An Involuntary Trip.

On Wednesday afternoon while four or five well known sporting gentlemen were on the Little Lake cogitating about laying out a race track, they had a rather thrilling experience. As described to us by an eye witness, who observed the the affair from the shore, things must have been rather exciting. The ice on the Lake is very glare and it is almost impossible to keep your feet. The gentlemen in question were all seated in a "jumper" containing a load of boughs, and from which the horses had been detached, about the centre of the lake, when a sudden gust of wind drove the "jumper" and its occupants over the glassy surface at an alarming rate of speed. At first all was well and the crowd rather enjoyed the trip until it was observed that they were rapidly approaching the open channel. As if by magic the danger was discovered and first one and then the others of the quartette threw themselves on the ice and for a short time continued to slide along in anything but graceful positions until they stopped, and as soon as possible they sought terra firma, glad to have escaped without a ducking.

Sudden Death.

The Winnipeg Free Press, of the 22nd, says that Mr. Cane, who came some years ago from England to Peterborough, Ont., and thence to this province, died suddenly yesterday morning at the Sherman House. Though he had been more or less ailing for some time, yet no danger was apprehended, but yesterday morning he was found dead. He was still on his chair, and had an apple in his hand. He is said to have been highly educated and respectably connected. His age is believed to have been about thirty-four. Though having no relations here he was not left without due attention and care. Mr. F. H. Scoble is superintending the arrangements for the funeral, which will take place to-morrow.

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station :—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

ARRIVE at 11 a.m. and 6.10 p.m.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

A Handsome Donation.

On Saturday evening last Mrs. James Buller, widow of the late baggage-master at the Midland Station here, was presented by the officials and employees of the Midland and Grand Junction Railway and a few friends, with a purse containing upwards of $200. Such things show the good feeling that exists among all the employees under the present management.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district, for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at ten o'clock a.m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes—South-westerly, verging to north-westerly winds. Fair, mild weather to-day. Light snow.

Shipment of Horses.

Mr. John Navins of Winnipeg, formerly a resident of Peterborough, has purchased at the stock repository of Messrs Stapleton and Walsh, eighteen fine horse for shipment to the Prairie Province. The price paid averaged about $130 each. They will be shipped on Friday.

The Race Track.

A fine track has been marked out with evergreens on the Little Lake and already a number of fliers are practising in anticipation of a meeting here.

Ministerial.

Rev. Prof. Reynar, of Victoria College, Cobourg, will preach in St. Paul's Church on Sabbath, the 5th February, both morning and evening.

Police Court.

The Johnston-Cox assault and abusive language cases were all withdrawn, each party paying his own costs.

THE BIBLE SOCIETY.

The Annual Report—The Treasurer's Statement—Election of Officers.

Owing to a variety of circumstances we have not been able to publish at an earlier date the annual report of the Bible Society submitted at the annual meeting, but believing that it is better late than never, we give it in full to-day with other business of importance.

THE ANNUAL REPORT.

The Secretary read the the annual report as follows :—

Your Committee in presenting their annual report for 1881, have very little news to lay before you. A year ago they resolved to undertake the canvass of the town, and avoid the paying of an agent for that purpose, and they are glad to be able to report very satisfactory results in an increased amount of collections to British and Foreign, and Upper Canada Bible Societies.

Your Committee would also express their great pleasure at the successful issue of the new revision of the New Testament, and the large sales reported. Expectation had been on tiptoe, so to speak, awaiting the end of the labors of the translators, and as soon as copies could be obtained, they were freely procured by almost all whose judgments were not prejudiced or opposed to the Holy Scriptures, and whatever may be personal opinion regarding the new translation, your Committee, with you, rejoice in that the words of the divine master have been sought after, even, although done through a spirit of curiosity, because your Committee believe that the word read will very generally profit all whose minds are open to the reception of truth, or who are desirous of becoming acquainted with the way of eternal life.

While your Committee regret that it is asserted that infidelity is becoming bolder in the assertion of its baneful and soul destroying teaching, and that agnosticism is being embraced by some without investigation of its errors or a comparison of religious negations with the affirmative teachings of the Holy Scriptures, they feel confident, however, that the surest and safest weapon against all these wiles of the temptor and deceiver of the human family is the Bible, and therefore they rejoice with you at the increased extension of the circulation of the scriptures, and would pray that the Holy Spirit may so influence the hearts of all peoples, nations and tongues to read, mark, learn and outwardly live according to the teaching of the meek and lowly Jesus, who spake as never man spake, and whose words when received into sincere and honest hearts bring forth the peaceable fruits of righteousness the end of which is everlasting life.

The Treasurer's statement was read as follows :—

We have received the following telegram which speaks for itself :—

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Feb. 1st 1882.

Medical.

A protest has been filed against the payment of the amount granted by the County Council to the Norwood High School, until it is decided whether Asphodel and Douro townships are entitled to deputy-reeves.

Broken.

Both of the large plate glass panes placed in the windows of Mrs. McEachara's store, on George street, were badly cracked, one while being put in and the other probably by the heat.

ONTARIO AND QUEBEC.

A PARTY OF SURVEYORS TO COMMENCE OPERATIONS FROM PETERBOROUGH.

Their Arrival in Town—Located at the Croft House—Under Charge of Mr. Barber—From Peterborough to Toronto at Once.

The noon train on the Midland was about half an hour late to-day, the cause of this unusual thing being that the train was kept back at Millbrook to wait for one of the official cars of the Credit Valley Railway, having on board Mr. Ross, of that line, and a number of Civil Engineers and surveyors of the Ontario and Quebec Railway.

Surveying parties have now become so numerous in this section of the country that people cannot keep track of them, and as some of the gentlemen who came here to-day have been on the other surveys that have been made through town, it was no easy matter to guess what line they were connected with.

The Engineers and assistants at once proceeded to the Croft House, which has now become the headqnarters for surveying parties, and partook of dinner.

At a later hour a representative of the REVIEW had a conversation with several of them, and learned, as had been guessed, that they were here to prosecute a location survey for the Ontario and Quebec Railway from Peterborough to Port Perry. It was also learned that one half of the men had been left at Port Perry, and would work towards Peterborough, while the company here, nine in number, would work west to meet the others. It is intended, we are informed, to push the work of location forward with all possible despatch, so that construction may be commenced at as early a date as possible. Additional men are to be secured here, and work to be commenced at once.

The surveyors are under the charge of Mr. Barber, who has had large experience in railway business.

Railway Notes.

The Missing Link surveyors are within a few miles of Omemee, and expect to finish on Friday. The new line will be about a mile and three quarters shorter than that located by the Ellis party.

The official car of the Credit Valley Railway was inspected to-day by a large number of people, while it lay at the Midland station.

Mr. J. Atkinson, formerly train despatcher of the Midland Railway, has been appointed assistant Superintendent for the Midland Division, with his office at Port Hope. He is a tried and trustworthy officer, and deserved this recognition at the hands of his superiors.

A Healthy Sign.

We are informed that two merchants at present in business in Belleville, were here on Wednesday afternoon looking for two stores to commence business. As we have mentioned before, we have not an empty store of any size in the town, and of course they had to leave disappointed. After the spring building boom, gentlemen, we will give you accommodation, They are all looking towards the coming railway centre.

Water Works.

The time of receiving tenders for the supply of pipes, etc., for the waterworks has been extended until the 15th of this month.

NEURALGIA.—This scourge, being a purely nervous affection, can only be alleviated through a thorough purification of the blood and secretions. It and all kindred ailments are completely overpowered by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, which never fail to afford relief.

NEVER NEGLECT A COUGH or Cold as they are very apt to lead to serious Lung troubles. Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops have a wonderful effect in relieving and curing Coughs Colds, and all affectsons of the Throat and Lungs. As Dr. Carson is a well known Canadian physician of over 25 years succesful practic, there is a little wonder that his Remedies are so popular with the Canadian people. J D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

TRUE TO HER TRUST.—Too much cannot be said for the ever-faithful wife and mother, constantly watching and caring for her dear ones, never neglecting a single duty in their behalf. When they are assailed by disease, and the system should have a thorough cleansing, the stomach and bowels regulated, blood purified, malarial poison exterminated, she must know that Electric Bitters are the only sure remedy. They are the best and purest medicine in the world, and only cost 50 cents. Sold by Taylor & Macdonald.—4

THE FIRST GUN!

No Season before this compares in Sales with the present one in any of our Departments.

This fact is noticeably so in our Ordered Clothing. More busy hours throughout this Department than ever before, Light; Order, Good Stock, Prompt Service, and Comfort to Customers does it.

We purpose to make the Spring Business in Ordered Clothing one that will sweep the board. We have selected a range of SCOTCH TWEEDS, in particular, that will captivate all, and if the boys don't look nobby, it will not be our fault.

To use an old expression, "You can't throw a stone into our Tweed Show Room without hitting a bargain."

We don't ask you to throw stones at us, but visit our establishment, and you will find that this illustration is no figure of speech, but a sober, serious fact.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

A Good Idea.

The Bowmanville News says a lady suggests that at the next public marriage in town, an admission fee of 10 cents be charged and the money handed over to the bride to begin housekeeping with. If such was done here on different occasions that we can call to recollection, the sum received would be sufficient to defray the expenses of the wedding tour, provided of coure it was too extended, or would start the happy couple in the business of keeping house.

DELONG'S RECORD.

PARIS, Feb. 2.—DeLong's record, which has been found, reads as follows:—

"Saturday, Oct. 1, 1881.—Fourteen of the officers and men of the Jeannette reached this hut on Wednesday, Sept. 28, and having been forced to wait for the river to freeze over, are proceeding to cross to the west side this morning on their journey to reach some settlement on the Lena river. I have two days' provisions, but having been fortunate enough thus far to get game in our pressing needs, we have no fear for the future. Our party are all well except Hans Ericksen, whose toes have been amputated in consequence of frost-bite. Other records will be found in several huts on the east side of the river, along which we have come from the north.

"GEO. W. DELONG."

ANOTHER VICTORY.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—In the Parliamentary election at Preston, Mr. Raikes, Conservative, was elected over Mr. Simpson, the workingmen's candidate. The vacancy was caused by the elevation of Sir John Holkar to the Bench.

MURDER AT CASHEL.

DUBLIN, Feb. 2.—One Phelan, a moneylender, has been found murdered in his house in Cashel.

A CRISIS IN EGYPT.

CAIRO, Feb. 2.—A deputation of notables today waited upon Cherif Pasha, President of the Council, and requested him to sign a draft of an organic law. Cherif referred them to the Khedive. They proceeded to the palace, and the Khedive summoned the English and French consuls to a consultation, in the course of which Cherif arrived and tendered his resignation. It is expected that the new Ministry will be entirely composed of men who favour the aspirations of the notables.

ANOTHER JEWISH MASSACRE.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 2.—It is reported that the persecutions of the Jews in the Pultawa district have been renewed and that a number have been massacred.

THE LOUGH MASK MURDER.

DUBLIN, Feb 2.—Nearly every inhabitant in the townland of Lough Mask has been arrested on suspicion of complicity in the murder of the process-server, Huddy, and his nephew, whose bodies were found in the lake.

MORE FAILURES.

PARIS, Feb. 2.—The Credit Provincial Bank and a few outside brokers are unable to fill their engagements on account of the collapse of the Union Generale. M. M. Bontoux and Feder are charged with abse of trust by speculating with their customers' funds.

FROM THE NORTH.

PARIS, Feb. 2.—The following important despatch was received direct this morning from Lieutenant Danenhower, at Irkutsk:—"Our three boats left Seminowsky Island on the morn of September 12th bound for Barkin, ninety-five miles distant. We got clear of the ice at noon. There was then a heavy gale from the northeast, and the boats dispersed. During the night the captain's boat which was loaded deeply, lost her mast and sails. We made land on the evening of the 17th in shallow water. The boat was abandoned two miles from the beach, and our party waded and reached the deserted village of Sagapp. We cached the logbooks, and proceeded south on September 19th."

AMERICAN.

GUITEAU EXCITED.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Last night Guiteau was much excited, sometimes stamping his feet with rage, saying:—"I want good lawyers to argue this case. When I get to lecturing I will have plenty of money. I don't want Scoville to have anything to do with the case. I won't have anybody meddling with my body. I don't want my relatives to make any money out of it. I intend to will my body to some institution, but I will have use for it myself for a long time." Speaking of Snyder's affidavit regarding the newspaper in the jury-room, Guiteau said:—"I intend to make the most of it. These things are providential, just as Garfield dying in New Jersey was, and it is my duty to take advantage of them." The assassin is beginning to show much nervousness and irritability. He is suffering from a severe cold, which has inflamed his eyes. One of the gaol officials says he would not be surprised if Guiteau did not live to be hung, as his health appears to be failing rapidly. John W. Guiteau, who visited the prisoner last night, said:—"I never saw my brother look so wild before. He is crazy as a loon.

THE PROCEEDINGS IN COURT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Guiteau will appear in court to-morrow while the motion for a new trial is being argued. It is expected Judge Cox will refuse the motion at once, and that the prisoner will be sentenced on Saturday or early next week. It is absolutely certain that neither the Government nor the friends of the prisoner will permit the body to be exhibited after the execution. Mr. Scoville now says he should not give his consent. The prisoner has resumed his old cheerfulness.

"THE FISHERY CLAUSE."

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 2.—A Washington despatch to the Commercial says:—Representative Rice, of Massachusetts, has completed, and will submit to the Foreign Affairs Committee to-morrow, his report on the abrogation of the so-called "Fishery Clause" of the treaty of Washington. He confines himself exclusively to the question of the protection of American fisherman, who, he holds are now at the mercy of the British fishermen in Canadian waters. By the abrogation of this section of the treaty a duty of 25 per cent. would be imposed on the fish imported from Canada. Mr Rice makes another point, viz., that this would encourage Americans to follow the sea, and enable the Government, in case of war, to more easily supply its vessels with American sailors.

PREJUDICE KILLS.—"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had pooh-poohed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Patients.—Telegram.

PENNY WISDOM—POUND FOLLY.—It is foolish to save the little that Sozodont costs, and suffer what will result in bad teeth and large payments to dentists. Place a bottle of it on the toilet, use five drops only of it every time after eating, cleanse the mouth, and show your wisdom.

SOPHOMORES AND FRESHMEN.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—A Syracuse special says that at Cornell University early yesterday morning 400 sophomores broke open the door with an axe and carried off freshmen, Biester and Blood. The latter were threatened with death if they made outcry and were taken in a carriage to Homer, whence they were brought by sophomores Ingells and DeForest, to Syracuse by rail here the party were arrested and taken back to Ithaca. The authorities of the University declare that they will not interfere with the law in the punishment of the kidnappers. The object of the sophomores was to detain the two freshmen from the annual banquet of their class and the act was retaliatory.

BLAINE'S CIRCULAR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The Herald's Washington special says that Springer will introduce a resolution asking the President to inform the House whether the circular note to the American republics is authentic, and if so wherein by the constitution or law he found himself empowered to issue such an invitation. The Republican Senators claim that Congress should have been consulted before the invitation for the conference had been sent. It is argued that if the President had cognisance of the circular note he would undoubtedly have mentioned it in his message.

GAGGING MINERS.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 3.—The Waverly Coal Company are suing the National Labor Tribune and the President of the Miners' Association for libel and conspiracy. It will decide whether the coal miners can assemble and discuss wages and persuade men not to work, and also whether they can fight their employers through the newspapers. The Coal Miners' Association has 150,000 members. The company claims that defendants injured its business to the extent of $70,000. The suits regard the privileges of 400,000 coal miners.

JAPAN'S INDEMNITY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—There is reason to believe that the present Congress will pass a Bill, restoring to Japan the indemnity fund.

SECRETARY-TREASURER.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Your Lakefield correspondent in last week's issue states that considerable amusement was caused by my announcing myself Secretary and Treasurer of the Lakefield Skating Rink. It is rather singular, however, that this amusement should be confined to himself and his few faithful followers. Now, if the few private individuals who compose the company above referred to, thought proper to appoint me as their Secretary and Treasurer, it in no way effects either Mr. S. or the people of Lakefield. And even if it did, more would depend on the honesty and integrity of Mr. Secret, as manager, than with myself as Secretary and Treasurer.

I was not aware before this production appeared that Mr. S. and his few ardent admirers were the people of Lakefield.

Respectfully yours.

W. J. WALLACE.

THOSE DEPUTY REEVES.

Our readers will have noticed that at the recent meeting of the County Council, the right of either Douro or Asphodel to be represented by a deputy reeve was called in question. As the matter is both of importance and interest we shall endeavour to lay before our readers the facts so far as we have been able to make them out.

To begin at the beginning, the Muncipal Act provides that before any deputy-reeve can take his seat in the County Council he shall file with the County Clerk a certificate stating, among other things, "that there appear upon the said roll (of the Municipality) the names of at least five hundred Freeholders and Householders in the said township, possessing the same property qualifications as voters,"—that is assessed for not less than $100.

On turning to the assessment roll of the township of Douro we find that the total number of persons rated in the resident column of the assessment roll is 478, or 22 short of the requisite number. To these, however, have been added those whose names appear simply in the in the owners' column, bringing the total up to 500. Whether such an addition is in accordance with the Municipal Act we shall not attempt to determine, as even, if properly counted, a cursory examination of the same roll goes to show that it does not come up to what the law obviously requires. In the first place, among the 478 names recorded, we find no less than nine who are not assessed for $100, and who do not therefore possess the property qualification of voters; then we find that 55 more of these 478 names consist of farmers' sons, and who do not, therefore come within the requirements of either "freeholder" or "householder."

Turning to Asphodel, we find the total number of names on the roll, in numerical order, 506. Of these three are assessed for less than $100, while 59 of them are made up not only of farmers' sons, but of farmers' sons whose fathers' are only tenants, and who ought not, therefore, to have been on the roll under any circumstances, and as they are not in any of the other townships whose rolls we have examined.

In looking over the copies of these rolls filed with the County Treasurer, we noticed other entries which will no doubt call for explanation when the committee appointed by the County Council comes to investigate the matter, but we have said enough to show that the Council have ample grounds for ordering the enquiry, and the importance of setting at rest the right of these two municipalities to a second voice in the county council, as their votes may at any time turn the scale from one side to the other, as they did in the matter of the special grant to the Norwood High School.

Market Fees and Road Tolls.

The following is the text of the proposed Bill for the abolition of tolls and market fees:—

Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows:—

1. No municipal council shall have power to compel persons selling farm produce of any description, or other articles, within the municipality, to offer their produce for sale at any market established within the municipality, or to otherwise restrict the place or places at which sales may be made, so long as market fees are charged for the use of the established market or markets, nor shall any such council have power to impose market fees on persons who do not make use of the established market or markets, but market fees may be imposed as heretofore, on all persons actually using any such market for the purpose of selling farm produce and other articles thereat.

2. The council of any municipality, having an established market, which does not impose market fees on persons resorting to and using the market may, as heretofore, regulate the place and manner of selling farm produce of any description, and all other articles, and may prohibit the sale before ——— o'clock in the forenoon, of such produce or other articles elsewhere than at the established market.

3. Nothing herein contained shall prevent any municipal council from imposing fees or regulating, as heretofore, the sale within the municipality of farm produce of every description, and other articles, if, and so long as, tolls are levied and collected by or under the authority of any county or township council, on the roads of any county or counties adjacent to such municipality, for a distance of ——— miles therefrom.

The Reform Leader.

The Toronto Telegram says:—"In a speech made in South Oxford the other day, Mr. Crooks threw a brick at the Senate. He says the Reform party is beginning a struggle to get rid of that irresponsible body which should never have had a place, namely, a nominative Senate. This is to be one of the planks in the platform of the Reform party at the next election. And by the way, it looks as if everybody was laying down planks for the Reform party except the Reform leader, whose political carpentering is not of the most extensive kind."

A FIRE OF FURNITURE.

R. Hay & Co.'s Storehouse on the Esplanade Consumed—Coal Docks Burning.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—A fierce and destructive fire occured on the Esplanade last night. It destroyed Robert Hay & Co.'s immense furniture store-house, and half a million feet of lumber, and laid waste P. D. Conger's coal dock and consumed four horses. The losses foot up to $100,000. The insurances only cover one third of this amount.

THE FIRE BROKE OUT

about 10.40 in the stables on Conger's coal dock, foot of Lorne street. A west wind was blowing and the flames soon spread to the coal sheds, and then eastward to the large frame storehouse of Hay & Co., immediately adjoining. The area of the fire was bounded on the west by the Lorne street slip, on the north by the Esplanade, on the east by Love & Brown's stone yard, and on the south by the bay. This place forms a large rectangle with a frontage of 400 feet on the Esplanade and running back to the bay 200 feet.

PROGRESS OF THE FIRE.

The fire began near the north-west corner of the rectangle and travelled east and south lapping up the coal shed, the stables, carts, etc., and then settling in the coal heaps. A switch-house, right alongside the stables, was also consumed. The front of Hay & Co.'s lot is occupied by a three-storey storehouse, which also runs down the east side of their lot, being in the shape of a letter L. The main building has a frontage of 150 feet on the Esplanade and the wing is at least seventy feet deep. The vacant space or yard, which the two sides of this building enclosed, was filled with lumber to the water's edge. The flames from Conger's first attacked the west end of Hay & Co.'s storehouse and owing to the strong wind spread rapidly along the building and among the lumber piles.

THE FIREMEN.

There was some delay in sounding the alarm. P. C. Peckham on duty at the Union station ran to the foot of Bay street where there is a new box which would not unlock to his key. He called a watchman and his key too was useless. In the meantime Russell the private night watchman of Hay & Co. had seen the fire and sounded the private box in the factory on the north side of the Esplanade. All the firemen in the city responded and soon fourteen streams were playing on the flames. But wind and flames were more than masters of the water and it was soon evident that the building and lumber were doomed. The firemen acted bravely.

TO CONFINE THE FLAMES.

to the area described was now the great object of the brigade. The immense factory of Hay & Co. across the track and immediately in front of the flames, was in imminent danger, but a large force was on the watch for sparks. Luckily the sparks were blown east or south. To the east of the stone yard was the large lumber yard of G. B. Smith & Co., and the several streams of water were kept constantly playing on it.

THE BURNING LUMBER.

in Hay & Co's yard was made up mostly of elm, walnut and maple, and owing to its being piled with interstices to allow of seasoning, and the strong wind, it formed a great blaze and an intense heat. An attempt was made to throw some of it on the bay, but only a very small portion was so treated. The contents of the storehouse were not touched with a view to saving them.

THE LOSS.

could not be acurately learned. Hay & Co. will lose at least $60,000. They are insured in fourteen companies for about one-third, the companies being the Commercial Union, Hand in Hand, Queen City, Royal, British American, North British, London Assurance, Western, Imperial, Quebec &c.

Mr. Conger did not arrive at the fire till some time after it started. He said there were four horses in the stable, and between 3,000 and 4,000 tons of coal on the dock. He had an insurance of $9,000 or $10,000 on his property, and this will probably more that meet all loss, as the big heap of hard coal was not ignited. The soft coal burned here and there but in no great quantities

THE ORIGIN.

Nothing definite could be learned as to the cause of the fire. It is generally admitted that it started in Conger's stables, but no one could tell the why or wherefore. The Grand Trunk switchman right at hand knew nothing about it, neither did Hay & Co.'s night-watchman, nor in fact any person who was around when the flames broke out.

THE FIRM OF R. HAY & CO.

is made up of R. Hay, M.P., Charles Rogers, and George Craig, with a capital of $180,000. All these gentlemen were soon on the scene, and were very active in their endeavors to save their property, or rather to keep the fire within bounds. Mr. Hay was rather displeased because the firemen would not play on the lumber which he said was worth the building ten times. Their large force of workmen rushed to the scene from all parts of the city.

AT THREE O'CLOCK THIS MORNING

the fire was still burning. The storehouse was completely destroyed and the piles of lumber and coal were blazing away, though the firemen were hard at work. However, they were now masters of the situation. The carcasses of the horses could be seen amid the debris and the smell of the charred flesh was easily noted by the nostrils. It will be some time before the coal can be got out.

NOTES AND INCIDENTS.

The police were there in large numbers and kept the Esplanade clear. The chief was present.

The G.T.R. express from the east was unable to go into the Union station, and the G.W.R. trains were similarly checked.

The store-room of Hay & Co., was filled with furniture ready for packing.

Capt. Turner covered his little steamer Prowett Beyer with sand, chopped a passage through the ice and towed her to a place of safety.

The fire was one of the fiercest that ever occurred in the city. Chief Ardagh said it was the first blaze that he could not put out with water.

In 1856, or about twenty-five years ago, Jacques & Hay were burned out, the fire at that time being much more destructive than that of last night.

Hendrie & Co., whose stables are directly across the track, had all their horses out in the yard in case of the stable catching.—World.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

LAKEFIELD CONTESTED ELECTION.

Mr. Hull being a candidate for the office of councillor in the village of Lakefield, and being at the time of his nomination a License Commissioner for the West Riding of the County of Peterborough is just now the cause of a good deal of excitement in the village. There has lately been a considerable effort made by interested parties to cloud or obscure the plain facts of the case, and now seems a favorable time to have these laid bare. The nomination was held on December 26th, 1881, and Mr. Hull was on that day a License Commissioner, being by law ineligible for the office of Councillor, he was not legally a candidate at all at the recent election. There being only four other candidates,—the requisite number,—there was no legal or just poll or election, save the election by acclamation on the nomination day of these four candidates. Mr. Hull says that in other contests, and this is the third, he being License Commissioner, all the while he resigned before the day of the nomination, and that after the recent nomination he resigned as soon as he had made up his mind to run. But this statement, though publicly made, does not change the fact that he knew that it was necessary that he should have resigned his position before the nomination day or why did he do so before? There can be no doubt that Mr. Hull knew at the time of the election, as well as he does now, that he was not legally a candidate, but he allowed the farce of an illegal election being held at the cost of the village, and securing a sufficient number of votes he took the seat and now claims sympathy because he can no longer hold that which by the law of the land belongs to another.

Well, Mr. Hull occupied a seat at the Council Board of Lakefield on January 16th and 31st. At the close of the first meeting he stated publicly that he would hold the seat until he was put out by the judge, and at the close of the second meeting he also publicly disclaimed the seat, yes disclaimed a seat that legally and honestly belonged to another, as shown by his own disclaimer.

Many lovers of fair play were sadly pained and disgusted by the knowledge of the fact that Mr. Hull went to the Council meeting on Tuesday evening last, January 31st, and acted as a Councillor, taking a prominent part in the discussions, moving motions, etc., during a long sitting, which the minutes of the meeting show, and all the time having his disclaimer in his pocket, and dated January 31st. On Tuesday, before this display at the Council Board, a proposition was made to Mr. Nelson, on Mr. Hull's behalf, and of course by his authority for it was by his solicitor, asking him (Mr. Nelson,) to allow the seat to be voided, and yet, in the face of his proposition, and his own disclaimer, he (Mr. Hull) tells the people of Lakefield that Mr. Nelson is using him meanly, etc. No wonder the people are amazed.

THE NEW BRIDGE.

Traffic over the old bridge was stopped yesterday, the 2nd instant, and the ferry by the scow is in full blast. Good progress has been made on the work during the past week.

WEATHER.

The recently very fine weather has left us in this part of the country with but very indifferent sleighing. The want of good sleighing is beginning to be very seriously felt by the business community, and unless there is a change very soon, fire wood will be scarce another season.

NEW ASSESSOR.

The Village Council made a wise selection on Tuesday evening last in appointing Mr. Jonathan Griffin as assessor for the Village of Lakefield. Mr. Griffin is the best qualified for the position of assessor of any one living in the village. Mr. Griffin is fearless and of independent as well as sound judgment. Let equal handed justice prevail.

CLERK AND TREASURER.

Mr. J. C. Sherin's letter in the Review of last week, under the above heading, seems to require from your correspondent a short reply in self-defence. Mr. Sherin says: "What I stated was that I approved of the editorial referred to above, and that frauds have been discovered in Brockville and elsewhere since." Almost immediately after I had denied the correctness of Mr. Sherin's assertion about the Review, whether the alleged frauds at Brockville and Oshawa were discovered before or after the article referred to appeared. Mr. Sherin's answer was to the effect that he did not know. I think Mr. Sherin's charge of misrepresentation is by the above properly answered. Let him refer to the Reeve of Lakefield.

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

OUR INNER LIFE.

BY F. W. FORBES.

Each has a secret self, an inner life
Of hopes and fears,
High aspirations, doubtings, calm and strife,
And joy and tears.
No eye but God's within the veil can look;
Unto the World
The human heart is an unopened book—
A banner furl'd;
A mighty ocean to whose lowest deeps
We cannot see—
A secret treasury, of which Heaven keeps
The master-key.
An unsolved, awful, mystery sublime
Ne'er understood—
A battlefield, where virtue strives with crime,
Evil with good.
The angels of our kind and adverse fate
Are marshalled there:
Light grappling with grim darkness, love with hate,
Hope with despair.
None e'er can pass the secret inner door
That guards the heart:
It is a crypt oneself cannot explore
In every part.
We are not as we seem—for oft the eye
Belies the breast:
The lips cry "peace" when haggard care is nigh
And wild unrest.
Measure the sunbeams—compass sea and land—
Creation's plan
Find out!—'Twere easier than to understand
The heart of man.

A FRUITFUL LAW SUIT.

A Law Suit of Special Moment to Fruit Dealers.

A case of considerable interest to dealers in fruit was tried at the last sitting of the Fourth Division Court of Oxford County, Ontario, at Norwich. The facts are these: Mr. William Gillesby, a prominent grain merchant of Hamilton, had been accustomed to buy a few barrels of apples for Mr. Wattie, of Valleyfield, and his friends in and about that village. Usually he made his purchases about Hamilton, but being unable to do so last fall he telegraphed to Mr. J. W. Davis, who was buying grain for him at Norwich, to purchase for him 40 barrels of choice hand picked winter apples. Davis showed this telegram to one W. D. McKee, a local dealer, who agreed to fill the order at $2.40 per barrel f. o. c. McKee, as he says, then went to one Braid, of Otterville, a few miles from Norwich, and purchased from him the 40 barrels, at the same time telling Braid that Davis wanted first class apples, and would take no other. McKee says Braid agreed to furnish such apples as were called for by the contract, and that he personally examined 18 barrels of a lot Braid had in store, and found them all right. Braid shipped the apples per G.T.R. to Mr. Gillesby, who received them and at once shipped them to Valleyfield, per steamer Princess. This was done without having time to examine them, as the steamer was on the point of sailing, and it was her last trip. When the apples reached Valleyfield it was found on opening the barrels that the contents consisted of a couple layers of good fruit at either end of each barrel, the portion between those layers being filled with a trashy lot of culls, windfalls and otherwise inferior of lot of fruit, which only brought $1.25 to $1.50 per barrel in Valleyfield. A sample of the apples was produced in court, and so bad were they that both McKee and Braid repudiated them as being in no way a fulfilment of the contract. The judge found for the plaintiff with costs.—Journal of Commerce.

MICHIGAN BUSH FIRES.

A Special Session of the Legislature to Grant Relief—Loss Over $2,250,000.

DETROIT, Feb. 1.—A meeting of the State Fire Relief Commissioners was held here yesterday, at which Governor Jerome and a number of gentlemen from different parts of the burnt district were present. The Governor stated he had received many communications asking that a special session of the Legislature might be convened for the purpose of granting aid to the fire sufferers. After a long discussion as to the wants of the people a memorial, extensively signed, was adopted urging the Governor to call a special meeting of the Legislature as requested. The Governor subsequently urged on the members the necessity of preparing full, comprehensive, and correct reports of the necessities of their respective districts for submission to the Legislature, so that that body, if called together, can act intelligently and without delay. The meeting then adjourned. From reports submitted by the agents of the Commission, the assistant secretary compiled the following statement of the loss incurred by the fire:—Number of houses burned, 1,464; number of barns burned, 1,516; number of persons, 13,995. Total loss, $2,251,564; average loss per family, $732.

HASTINGS.

CARNIVAL.—The Star says that the first masquerade carnival at the Victoria Rink on last Friday evening, was, in number of masquers, and financially, a success. The weather was everything that could be desired, the ice was never in better condition, the get-up of the costumes was very creditable indeed, and the characters assumed, well represented. The band added to the evening's enjoyment by the performance of a number of choice selections. The proceeds, we are informed, amount to $25. The second masquerade carnival will be held in the Victoria Skating Rink, Hastings, on Friday, 24th February.

ON DIT.—That a grand concert under the auspices of the Hastings Cricket Club is now being arranged. Posters and programme will be out in a few days.

A Proposed New County.

TORONTO, Feb. 1.—A deputation waited upon Mr. Mowat yesterday afternoon with reference to the establishment of a new county, to be called the County of Lorne, with Orillia as its county town. The deputation consisted of Mr. James Quinn, Warden of Simcoe county; Mr. McCosh, Mayor of Orillia; Mr. Burgess, Reeve of Wood and Medora; Messrs. S. S. Robinson and J. B. Thompson, Councillors of Orillia and others. Mr. Cook, M. P. P., introduced the deputation. Mr. McCosh explained their proposition. He stated that in their present condition, a portion of the population was compelled to go over one hundred miles in order to reach the county town. This entailed great inconvenience, and in case of a partition, they hoped that Orillia would be made the new county town, and in the event of no partition, they urged that at all events it would be appointed a place for registration purposes. The new county, if formed as proposed, would contain a population of 25,000, and would consist of the following townships:—Rama and Mara, and part of Thorah in Ontario County; Wood and Wilson in Muskoka, and South and North Orillia, Matchedash, Tiny, and Oro in Simcoe. It was promised that the matter of expense would be generously considered with regard to the outlying townships, and a plan of the proposed county was shown the Attorney-General.

Mr. BURGESS, Reeve of Wood township, stated that in case of a division they would rather go with Orillia than be incorporated in a county extending farther north.

Mr. MOWAT replied that if any change was determined upon, he would see that the statements which were laid before him were taken fully into consideration.—Mail.

TIMELY WARNING.—Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping coughs, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

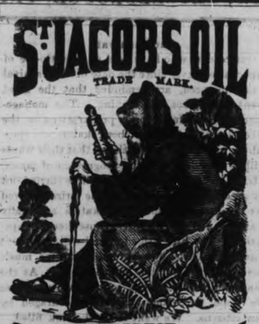
SHORTLY before Oscar Wilde left England, he made a stinging retort to a pompous "society lady" he met at a reception. "And you are Oscar Wilde?" she exclaimed, on being introduced to him, "but where's your lily?" "At home, madam," said Oscar, "with your manners."

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

NEURALGIA.—This scourge, being a purely nervous affection, can only be alleviated through a thorough purification of the blood and secretions. It and all kindred ailments are completely overpowered by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, which never fail to afford relief.

A BICKERING pair of Quakers were heard in controversy, the husband claiming:—"I am determined to have one quiet week with thee!" "But how will thou be able to get it?" said the taunting spouse, in that sort of a reiteration which married ladies so provokingly indulge in. "I will keep thee a week after thou art dead," was the Quaker's rejoinder.

LAME BACK.—Lumbago, Kidney complaint, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all pain and inflammation are speedily cured with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Croup, sore throat, colds, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, chilblains and all wounds of the flesh are quickly healed by Yellow Oil.



A CLUB of "Unfortunate Lovers" has been formed in Herne, England, and already fourteen members have been enrolled. The chairman is a bachelor whose rebuffs have been so frequent that he dare not visit any family in the town lest he may be obliged to pass the evening face to face with the maker of one of his many mittens. The meetings are social, no allusions are ever made to the rascally little dart flinger and small coil of woes.

LATE estimates of the cost of the new London Law Courts place it at $4,500,000, but this does not include the special fittings. Englishmen are congratulating themselves that this cost, enormous as it is, falls considerably below the cost of the corresponding building recently erected in Brussels, which involved an expenditure of more than $8,330,000. Judges are said not to be especially delighted with the courts. They complain of their small dimensions as compared with the size of the rooms.

TRUE TO HER TRUST.—Too much cannot be said for the ever-faithful wife and mother, constantly watching and caring for her dear ones, never neglecting a single duty in their behalf. When they are assailed by disease, and the system should have a thorough cleansing, the blood and bowels regulated, blood purified, malarial poison exterminated, she must know that Electric Bitters are the only sure remedy. FRANCIS WISE, of Cork, is dead, and there is much speculation concerning the extent of fortune, known by everyone in Cork to have been a large one. It is estimated by a local paper that he was one of the richest men, if not the very richest man, in Ireland, and that few men beyond the Channel far surpassed him in wealth. He made much of his possessions in an enterprise the products of which found a ready market at home. He was a distiller of whiskey. One estimate of his wealth places it at $15,000,000.

—ONE of the most fashionable tonsorial establishments in Philadelphia, Pa., is that of Mr. Chas. Binder, at the N. E. corner of Seventh and Chestnut streets, under Guy's hotel. Mr. Binder was a soldier in the late war, and for some years past he has had constant reminders of his exposure in the field in the way of rheumatic pains in different portions of his body, and has always found it very difficult to obtain relief. Latterly the disease mentioned attacked his knee joints, and Mr. Binder suffered night and day. He had both read and heard about the remarkable properties of St. Jacobs Oil, and resolved to give it a trial. Mr. Binder says he is very glad he did so, for he found that rheumatism and St. Jacobs Oil could not hold possession of his knee-joints at the same time, and whenever the Oil made a movement in that direction the rheumatism would beat a hasty retreat. The disease made several attempts to regain its old position, but was each time routed by the Great German Remedy and has broken camp and departed entirely. Mr. Binder now has an exalted opinion of St. Jacobs Oil and, whenever he hears one of his customers complain of rheumatism he exclaims: "Try St. Jacobs Oil.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Too Big for His Swallow.

At dinner time to-day a man hailing from Cobourg or vicinity, while eating his dinner at Mr. John Sullivan's hotel on Hunter Street, had a narrow escape from being choked to death. He was devouring the edibles at an astonishing rate when those near him noticed that he was in difficulty, and was rapidly growing black in the face. The old remedy of patting on the back was resorted to without effect, and the choking man was carried out into the hall and medical aid summoned. Dr. R. W. Bell, who happened to be pasing, was called in and found the individual about breathing his last. With considerable difficulty he extracted from his throat a piece of beef about four inches in length, and weighing fully a quarter of a pound. After the obstruction was removed the man recovered consciousness and soon was in his normal condition. The doctor thinks that the man could not have lived but a few minutes longer. We are not prepared to state whether the man belonged to the "seldom fed brigade" or not, but certainly any man who tried to swallow a quarter of a pound of beef should be classed among the gluttons. If we were a hotel proprietor and that man ever called on us for a meal, we should certainly feed him on hash or a similar mixture, and moreover, we should keep beefsteak off his plate for all time to come.

At Lakefield.

The first masquerade carnival of the season took place at the Lakefield skating rink on Thursday night. Quite a large number were present from Peterborough including the Fire Brigade Band, which added greatly to the pleasure of the occasion. About thirty persons were in costnme and some of these displayed great tase. Mr. E. J. Hartley was present and went through some very difficult evolutions, for which he was loudly applauded. Lakefield possesses a very convenient and commodious skating and curling rink, about the same size as that destroyed by fire here a few years ago. We are glad to learn that the villagers turn out in good force. The carnival was in every sense a success and is we believe to be followed by several more during the winter.

Get Your Cards Ready.

At previous carnivals, those representing characters have been very lax in handing in cards giving the name and the character assumed, for the benefit of the press, and in consequence a complete list has never yet been published. The pressmen have had great difficulty in procuring information, and have had to run here and there very often without anything resulting from it. On this occasion, we would request all who enter the rink in costume to hand cards to a person who will be at the door, and if such is not done, as far as we are concerned, we are not going to run after any person, so that those who desire to see their names in print had better get their cards ready.

The Weather.

The weather continues fine and cold. Snow fell last night, but just in sufficient quantity to save the reputation of young probabilities The weather probabilities for this district, for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at ten o'clock a.m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes and St. Lawrence—Fine cold weather to-day, southerly to easterly winds and rising temperature to-night, probably light but tolerably general fall of snow to-morrow.

Carworks.

In accordance with the resolution of the Town Council, passed at the last meeting, notices have been issued to the members of the Town Council and many of the prominent citizens, requesting them to attend a meeting to be held at the Council Chamber this evening at 7.30 o'clock, to consider the question of the Town taking stock in the proposed carworks manufactory. As the subject is of great importance to the Town, we hope to see a large attendance. The public are invited.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

COBOURG CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

Annual Meeting—The President's Address—Election of Officers—Other Business.

The annual meeting of the General Committee for the Central Exhibition for this district, took place at Millbrook on Wednesday last, there being present:—John Connolly, Esq., President, in the chair, and Messrs. Deacon, (Secretary), Lindsay; Joseph Walton and John Carnegie, Peterborough; Mr. Porter, West Durham; Major Howden and Johnston Beatty, East Durham; W. J. Westington, W. Beatty, George Cockburn, P. Hinman, Geo. Carruthers, John Pratt, Jas. Barnum, A. A. Burnham, R. Scarf, S. Isaac, and J. M. Carruthers.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

GENTLEMEN,—We have met here to-day to render an account of the trust reposed in us a year ago, and in doing so I beg to refer to the manner in which the Seventh Central Exhibition of the Fifth Agricultural District has been conducted.

Seven years ago the system of Central Exhibitions was inaugurated in the County of Peterborough, and from that time, at Port Hope, Lindsay, and Cobourg, these exhibitions have met with public approval and a fair measure of success, and have, in my opinion, been of great advantage to the agriculturists of the district.

The original system of transferring the surplus funds not having been satisfactory, the present, or "guarantee fund," was instituted, and has on the whole given a greater amount of satisfaction, although at times it may press with severity on the Riding in which the Exhibition is held.

The Exhibition of 1881, held at Lindsay in October last, may as a purely agricultural exhibition be characterised as a marked success. The exhibits of horses, cattle, sheep and swine, together with grain, was equal to our expectations, and in some classes superior to any yet exhibited at our Centrals.

The extraordinary drought of the season almost precluded the possibility of a satisfactory exhibit of roots and dairy produce.

While the purely agricultural exhibits were of a very creditable nature, I regret to say that there was a marked falling off in other attractions in the body of the hall, such as floral, fancy, and domestic work, exhibits with mercantile show cases usually filling the halls on prior occasions.

The fine arts and certain classes of fancy work, although not large, were excellent.

The redeeming feature for which I am very grateful, was the tasteful exhibit made by the Beekeepers' Association, and in preparing the prize list for this year I venture to recommend that this new industry may be fully and fairly taken into consideration.

I am happy to say that the financial deficiency does not press with severity on any of the contributing societies.

While it is much to be desired that these exhibitions should be self-supporting, yet we should not measure their usefulness by a dollar and cent standard.

Their usefulness, in my opinion, consists in the promotion of a laudable competition among the agricultural community—the promotion of a healthy rivalry among the friends and nefghbors who follow the noble calling. The introduction to the more recently settled portions of our district of a superior breed of horses, cattle, sheep, and swine, the promotion of an interchange of ideas on agricultural matters generally, and last, though not least, to bring people together at these gatherings, who under other circumstances would perhaps seldom or never meet.

I beg to express my satisfaction at the representation from the district here to-day, and to wish our friends in Northumberland a most successful gathering next October.

I am, gentlemen, your ob't servant,
JOHN CONNOLLY.

Millbrook, 1st February, 1882.

On motion a vote of thanks was passed to the President for his address, and he was requested to allow it to be published.

TO STRIKE COMMITTEES.

Mr. BURNHAM moved, seconded by Mr. PRATT,—That Messrs. J. Beatty, Porter, Carruthers, Willan, Deacon, Barnum, Cockburn, Burnham, and Pratt be a committee to strike the standing committees for the year.—Carried.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Committee met and reported, recommending the following appointments:—

PRESIDENT—W. J. Westington.
VICE DO—Maj. Howden.
SECRETARY—J. Cullis.
TREASURER—W. Riddle.
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—Maj. Deacon, T. M. Willan, M. Porter, M. Beatty, G. Cockburn, G. Carruthers, J. Pratt, J. Barnum, A. A. Burnham, S. Isaac, P. Hinman, R. Scarf and Johnston Beatty.
AUDITORS—J. H. Knight, E. Macnachtan.

AGRICULTURAL AND ARTS ASSOCIATON.

A cordial vote of thanks having been passed to the Secretary and Treasurer for 1881. Mr. JOHN CARNEGIE made certain explanations with regard to the Agricultural and Arts Association, and the amendments which the council were asking for, whereupon it was Moved by Maj. HOWDEN, (Millbrook), seconded by W. BEATTY, (Baltimore), and unanimously resolved, that having heard the explanations of our representative on the Council of the Agricultural and Arts Association beg to place on record an expression of our approval of the course which he has pursued in said Council, and to urge on the Legislative Assembly of the Province now in Parliament assembled, that in the opinion of this meeting the withdrawal of the annual grant to said Association would be seriously detrimental to the interest of agriculture in this Province generally, and that the Secretary forward a copy of this resolution to the Hon. S. C. Wood, Commissioner of Agriculture.

The meeting then adjourned.

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station:—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

ARRIVE at 8.35 and 11.50 a.m., and 6.15 and 9.55 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

ARRIVE at 11 a.m. and 6.10 p.m.

Another Cold Snap.

Another cold shap set in last night and has continued ever since. The weather this morning was extremely cold, but during the day, the strong sun had the effect of moderating it somewhat, but nevertheless people kept moving and the street corners were not at all blocked.

Our Carnival.

Our readers who have been on the tip-toe of expectation, ever since the date of the carnival was announced, are reminded that the great event takes place this evening. The management have made elaborate preparations for the reception and comfort of both skaters and spectators, and all can rest satisfied that their wants will be attended to. A fine programme of games, etc. have been arranged and will be carried out by an efficient committee. The prizes offered for the best costumes and skaters are really valuable and will doubtless cause keen competition. The Fire Brigade Band will be present during the entire evening and play some music never before heard in Peterborough. As the management have been put to great expense we hope that they will be encouraged by our citizens. We want to see the rink filled.

Railway Notes.

The Ontario and Quebec Railway engineers are at work in the neighborhood of the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

The "missing link" survey has been finished and the contract will probably be awarded to Mr. Beemer of Montreal.

Mr. Fowlds of Hastings is purchasing the right of way from Peterborough to Omemee.

Several more of the Midland Railway officials have arrived here and others are to follow shortly. The line must be worked from the "hub."

It is rumoured that the Midland Company have ordered twelve new locomotives, six of which are to be coal burners, to be used for drawing passenger trains exclusively. Onward, is the motto of our road.

The Bear's Shadow.

According to the old saying Bruin comes out on the 2nd of February, Candlemas Day, and if he sees his shadow he again retires to his den to remain there for a further period of six weeks, or until the cold weather is over. If he came out on Thursday and we have no doubt that he did, he undoubtedly saw his shadow and again sought his winter quarters, so that we can rest assured that the cold weather is not over yet. It is said that this sign was never known to fail.

The Bowling Club.

The regular weekly match at the bowling club, on account of the carnival, took place on Thursday evening. As will be seen by the score, the President, Mr. H. LeBrun, who started the season with the lead, is bound to keep up his reputation. The following are the principal scores:—

H. LeBrun	217
W. Rudkins	173
J. Lynch	160

Skating.

The Little Lake and Bay are now covered with a magnificent sheet of glare ice, and every day and night large crowds are tobe seen skating. Those who have not season tickets for the rink, patronize the free rink freely.

A GOOD PREVENTATIVE for Fevers, Ague and Bilious Disorders is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters a strictly vegetable preparation. They Tone the system, purify the Blood and increase the appetite, and render those taking them almost proof against disease, Should be used in every case instead of pills. J. D. Tully, agent for, Peterborough.

A GENERAL STAMPEDE.—Never was there such a rush made for Drug Stores as is now at Taylor & Macdonald's for a trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons afflicted with Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs, can get a trial bottle of this great remedy free, by calling at the above drug store.—4

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

DYSPEPSIA AND DEBILITY, A SEVERE CASE.—From Wm. Bentley, 24 Rodman Street, Fall River, Mass.—"I was severly afflicted with general debility caused by over-exertion in working when I was not strong enough to do so. I became so nervous and debilitated that I was finally obliged to give up work and devote myself entirely to rest. This, however, did not benefit me, as I had nothing to occupy my mind and I could not be idle. I concluded that my trouble was heart disease, and consulted a physican, who pronounced it an aggravated from of dyspepsia, and was treated accordingly. Nothing that I tried gave me any relief until Peruvian Syrup was recommended. I used three bottles of this, and could see a great improvement, as I was able to resume work. Three bottles more completely restored my health." Sold by all druggists.

THE FIRST GUN!

No Season before this compares in Sales with the present one in any of our Departments.

This fact is noticeably so in our Ordered Clothing. More busy hours throughout this Department than ever before, Light; Order, Good Stock, Prompt Service, and Comfort to Customers does it.

We purpose to make the Spring Business in Ordered Clothing one that will sweep the board. We have selected a range of SCOTCH TWEEDS, in particular, that will captivate all, and if the boys don't look nobby, it will not be our fault.

To use an old expression, "You can't throw a stone into our Tweed Show Room without hitting a bargain."

We don't ask you to throw stones at us, but visit our establishment, and you will find that this illustration is no figure of speech, but a sober, serious fact.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

MILLBROOK.

THE WEATHER.—The Messenger says that after 30 and 40 below zero, on Monday and Tuesday, of last week, ere we went to press on Wednesday evening, the weather moderated, and by Thursday it was so mild that what snow we had, became slush. Shortly after noon rain set in; as evening approached, a hurricane arose, accompanied with heavy rains, and from then till early morning, the great wind that prevailed was a puzzler to the oldest inhabitant. Friday morn settled, with frost. Saturday, noon (the time of writing thus far,) the weather is delightfully fine, with a cool bracing air, no snow but excellent wheeling. Possibly, ere we go to press, we may have to record another blizzard.

A FLOOD SCARE.—Owing to the sudden rise in Mr. Needler's pond, from the reception of the waters from the neighboring hills, caused by the sudden thaw, as Thursday night passed away, the dam overflowed, and, for a short time the old story was likely to be told over again. The creek, below the bridge, was unable to carry off the water, and the flat became submerged. The alarm was given about four o'clock in the morning, when every exertion was made to avert the impending crisis, and in a few hours the danger was over.

A petition from Isaac Robinson and others, asking to have the roadway across part of the 12th concession opened up, was received, and the Reeve requested to find out the parties occupying said roadway and have them notified to remove their fences. The Reeve read a communication from Mr. A. H. Dymond, Principal of the Ontario Institution, for the blind, Brantford, drawing the attention of the council to the condition of George Doig, who is at present attending that institution, and asking assistance to purchase necessary clothing for him. On motion of Mr. Brealy, seconded by Mr. Brownscombe,—$20 was granted which the clerk was instructed to forward to Mr. Dymond. On motion of Mr. Brownscombe, seconded by Mr. Brealy,—Councillors Forster and Dobbin were appointed to inquire into the case of an old man Timlin, and if found an object of charity, to give him the required relief. By-law 296, appointing township officers received its second and third readings, was passed, signed and sealed, and by-law 297, to appoint pound keepers, fence viewers and overseers of highways was read a first time. It was decided to make no further attempts to reach the bottom of the mine until all the foul air below went out. It is feared that any effort to restore ventilation would only create a disasterous conflagration from the Bailer fires at night. The pit boss reported yesterday morning that the pit was free of gas, but during the night a tumble of slate knocked down a portion of the brattice and the wooden partition for conveying air to the face coal This caused the accumalation of a small quantity of gas which was removed and the brattice restored. The mine superintendent thinks that while the men were at dinner there may have been another fall of slate on the brattices, thus stopping the ventilation. There is no doubt that they went back to work and may have lit up the mine.

MR. HARDY'S "ELISIONS."

THERE is a fierce controversy going on in the press, as there was recently in the Legislative Assembly, as to Mr. Hardy's peculiar method of dealing with official documents. His critics talk of him as if he had committed such a forgery as would entitled him to lodgings in the penitentiary, while his supporters praise him as if he had performed a very clever and laudable act.

Now, we believe, in giving even "the devil his due," and we cannot quite agree with either side. We do not think that Mr. Hardy is as bad as a man who has passed a forged cheque, neither do we think his action is to be defended, much less set up as a good example.

We pointed out at the time of the commission of the offence last year, the nature and the extent of it. Mr. Hardy found in the report of one of his officials several paragraphs as to the prosperity of the country. They were not, as he has stated in his own defence political utterances, for there was no political allusion in them—no reference to the N.P. as the cause of the prosperity, but a simple statement of undeniable facts, which would have a tendency to promote emigration, and were therefore not out of place in the report of an emigration agent. Neither was Mr. Smith, the official in question, a Tory advocating party interests, as stated by some miscrupulous journals, for he was and is a good Reformer, and received his appointment from a Reform administration.

Now it is only reasonable that the head of a department should have the power of omitting from the reports of his subordinates any portion that may seem to him unfit for publication, and therefore Mr. Hardy, if he acted conscienciously to the best of his judgment, is within his rights, and should not be abused as if no better than a pickpocket.

But where Mr. Hardy is open to criticism is that finding in an official document the statement of certain facts, and even Mr. Hardy does not venture to deny them to be facts, the publication of which, while it would be advantageous to this Province might also be used as an argument in favour of the policy of his opponents in the Dominion Government, he cut them out. In short he was so blinded by partisanship that he preferred to sacrifice the interests of the Province rather than run the risk of benefitting it, along with the rest of the Dominion, so long as his opponents are in power. In fact he acted upon what seems to be the motto of the greater portion of the Reform party, "Do any possible injury to our country, so long as it refuses to admit our party to power." Fortunately, however, there is a large section of the Reformers, like Mr. Neelon and many others, who are more patriotic, and who rejoice in the prosperity of the country even though they have to attribute it to the trade policy of an administration with which on other subjects they are not in accord. They put the interests of their country above those of their party.

The C. P. R.

Gen. T. L. Rosser, Chief Engineer of the Canada Pacific Railway, informed a St. Paul reporter, the other day, that he would start out on a reconnoissance about Feb. 1, and would proceed westerly from Winnipeg to Fort Walsh and the Saskatchewan country, and in anticipation of this expedition a pony train had left Winnipeg. When approaching the Saskatchewan the dog trains will be utilized in examination of the latter routes, as engineering difficulties will be more numerous there than at other points on the line. After resorting to the dog trains for transportation, the party will be able to explore the country for a distance of forty-five miles per day—the reconnoissance extending westward 600 miles and necessitating a journey of 1,200 with ponies and dog trains. A satisfactory crossing of the Saskatchewan is pronounced the key of next season's work on the Canada Pacific, and if found, as General Rosser expects, the company will grade and iron five hundred miles of additional road next summer, and grade fully six hundred miles. The expected completion of the Canadian Pacific to the Saskatchewan next summer will take the road to the Rocky Mountains, facilitating the prosecution of heavy work therein during the winter of 1882-3. Work on the Pacific division of the road is in active progress from Port Moody to Kamloops, at the confluence of the north and south branches of the Thompson river. From Kamloops east the "syndicate" will put the road under contract this winter—and this portion of the line will be known as the Rocky Mountain division of the Canadian Pacific. At the present rate of progress the road will be fully completed from Winnipeg to Kamloops in 1887, making a total of 1,300 miles from Winnipeg to Port Moody. With a probability that the Canadian Government will complete its portion of the line, it is expected that trains will be running through to the Pacific coast in five years from this date.

PROPOSED CAR WORKS.

A MEETING OF THE TOWN COUNCIL AND CITIZENS SUPPORTS THE PROJECT.

A Resolution Passed in Favour of the Town Taking $20,000 Stock—Personal Aid Offered by Some of our Most Influential Residents—A Unanimous Approval of the Scheme With its Attendand Advantages.

In accordance with the resolution passed at the last meeting of the Council, a joint meeting of members of the Council and citizens was held in the Council Chamber on Friday night last for the purpose of considering what assistance, if any, should be rendered to the car works project.

MAYOR SMITH occupied the chair, and there were present the members of the Council and among others Messrs. Richard Hall, D. G. Hatton, Jas. Stratton, Dr. O'Sullivan, G. M. Roger, C. W. Sawers, and W. McGill.

MAYOR SMITH having explained how the meeting came to be called, asked Mr. Cahill, as mover of the resolution calling it, to explain his object in doing so.

Mr. CAHILL said the matter of establishing car works in Peterborough having been suggested previously in the local press, he had, at a meeting which was held at the close of the municipal election, suggested that the town should aid such a project by taking stock in a company formed for that purpose. That suggestion was not only favourably received on that occasion, but many large tax payers and influential citizens had since expressed themselves favourably with regard to such a course, and urged him to try and have it carried into action. He had therefore moved the resolution which he did, thinking that a meeting of this kind would be the best way of ventilating the subject. There was no doubt but that the establishment of car works would be of very great advantage to the town. The Cobourg car works paid out from eight to ten and he was told sometimes as high as fifteen thousand dollars a month for wages. His own impression was that it would be a good thing for us to take $20,000 stock in the proposed company. He preferred taking stock to giving a bonus, as then the town would get a share of the direct as well as the indirect profits.

Mr. LAW was then called upon, and explained that while the first object of those proposing to establish car works was the manufacture of cars, yet they desired to keep in view the extension of the works from time to time, so as to ultimately include the manufacture of their own axles, wheels, etc. In looking about him he had come to the conclusion that this was the best point between Montreal and Toronto for such works, as it would be, with its present and prospective railway facilities, a good point for obtaining the requisite supplies. They proposed to organize the company with $200,000 stock, $75,000 of which would require to be paid up to commence operations. They had now between forty or fifty thousand subscribed, besides several promises from others to take stock of uncertain amounts. Messrs. McDougall & Co., Montreal, had also promised to take some stock. In from four to six months from the time they commenced operations they could be turning out cars completed. With regard to the demand for cars of various kinds, he looked upon the demand as almost unlimited. A single road in the United States this year had run 3,100 cars out of service. The life of a car used to be about twelve years, but now, owing to heavier loading, it was only from four to five years. From the best information he could gather, about 200 cars per week now went out of service in Canada, besides those that would be required for the roads now building, and for their replacement. The machinery and buildings for works of the size proposed in the first instance, would cost between forty and forty five thousand dollars, at least that was the cost of a similar establishment which he had fitted up in the States. It would employ from 175 to 200 men, among them being less than 12 boys. The hands employed largely represented families. The quantity of ground required should not be less than ten acres in a block, adjoining the railway track, so that it might be convenient for receiving supplies and shipping cars. So far as he was concerned he would prefer the town should take stock to giving a bonus. The town would then receive its share of the profits, and could use them, or its stock to aid other undertakings of a similar character.

Mr. HATTON could understand why stock would be preferred by the company and he thought it would be better for the town, and he believed the town would be perfectly safe in taking stock in view of the faith shown in the undertaking by those who were putting their money into it. There was no doubt there would be an ample market for the cars when built. Shippers all over the country had suffered and were suffering for want of cars, and if that is the case now what will it be when the other roads that are now under construction are completed. He expressed his strong conviction that within eighteen months we would have the Ontario and Quebec road running through Peterborough and he hoped that nothing would be left undone by the Council to secure these works. When Mr. Cox comes down and offers to take one tenth of the stock, he thought the town should be ready to do its share and help the scheme along.

Mr. RICHARD HALL would like to encourage these works, and although he had not already done so, he was now prepared to take stock in the undertaking. He would prefer the town should do the same, but if there were legal difficulties in the way he was prepared to go for a bonus. He was most anxious to see the scheme carried out, as he thought it was of great importance to the town.

Dr. O'SULLIVAN expressed himself strongly in favor of the project, and said although he had not been asked to do so, he was prepared to aid it not only as a ratepayer, but as an individual by taking stock.

Mr. DUMBLE did not know how we could look for any great increase in our town unless in some such way as this. He found other places, which had not the same natural advantages as Peterborough, going ahead of it by the enterprise and push of their citizens, and he believed if we only put our shoulders to the wheel we could double the population in a very short time. The benefit of starting one thing was that it led to another. By establishing car works we would bring a population to the town which would make it a good place to obtain boys and girls for other manufactures. There were extensive markets opening up to us in the North-West, and we should lay hold of them and make them buy their goods, and do their manufacturing for them in Ontario. He thought the town should give the company a bonus of $20,000 on condition that it kept 100 men at work for five years, and exemption from taxation. It should be remembered that those who were taking stock would also have to pay their share of the bonus.

Mr. JAS. STRATTON favoured the project and would be disposed to lease the company a site at a nominal rent, and give them cash, as there was do doubt it would benefit the town by increasing its population. Some years ago there were many empty houses; now there were none, and that certainly was a great benefit to property owners.

Mr. DUMBLE said no company would put up expensive building and machinery on land which they were not to own.

Councillor MENZIES said he did not believe in giving all our money to one undertaking, although he was favourable to the works. Other projects would be coming along which they would like to aid. He moved, seconded by Councillor Kelly, to the effect that the town aid the Company by furnishing them with the ground required for their works at a nominal rent for 21 years free of taxation.

Mr. HATTON said he had prepared a resolution which he thought would be more in line with the feeling of the meeting than Mr. Menzies', but before moving it he thought it would be better that their decision should be unanimous. He then read the motion.

Mr. CARNEGIE said he could not agree with either Mr. Menzies or Mr. Dumble. The first wanted to do too little, if he really desired the works, while the other wanted too much. His own feeling was in favour of taking $20,000 in stock if it could be done, but if not, and they were forced to give a bonus, then he thought $10,000 would be enough.

Councillor POUSSETTE said they all seemed to be unanimous in desiring to aid the works, and also that it should be done by way of stock, and then suggested how he thought this might be accomplished without delaying the works, even though they had to wait a year for the necessary legislation.

Mr. G. M. ROGER was afraid the company might refuse to go on if the town only took stock, and suggested that the amount might be made half stock and half bonus.

After some further consideration, Mr. HATTON moved, seconded by Mr. CARNEGIE,—That this meeting is desirous that the Council should submit a by-law to a vote of the ratepayers at as early a date as possible, to enable the corporation to assist in the establishment of car works here by taking stock to the extent of $20,000 if the statute permit; and if not that a bonus of $26,000 be granted to the company on the company giving the town security that as soon as legislation can be obtained the town have the right to take the said amount in paid up stock of the company, said stock to be of the same grade as the stock now subscribed, will be when paid up, and that the Council endeavour to obtain at the present session of Parliament such amendment to the Municipal Law as will enable the town to take stock in the company, and if the company prefer, when such legislation is obtained, and within three years to repay the bonus in cash without interest instead of giving such paid up stock, the company shall have the right to do so; and also that the works of the company be exempted from taxation for twenty-one years.

Councillor KELLY withdrew his name as seconder of Mr. Menzies' motion, and no one else seconding it, it fell to the ground.

Mr. Hatton's motion was passed, Mr. Menzies alone dissenting.

The meeting then adjourned.

CAMPBELLFORD.

FLOUR SHIPMENT.—The Herald says that Mr. Charles Smith is doing a steady trade in the shipment of flour. He has sent off within a few weeks, many hundreds of barrels. This together with the grain lying at the storehouses of Messrs. R. Cockburn, Dinwoodie Bros., and Rathbun and Son, would swell the list of grain shipments we gave in our last issue, up to about 125,000 bushels.

ANOTHER WORD OF PRAISE.—Judge Dumble and two or three other gentlemen of Cobourg, were surprised at the beauty of the new woollen mills, here, during a visit, recently. They said they did not expect to find anything like them, and were free to admit that they were not surpassed in the Province. Every visitor has given the buildings a name foremost among any of those now standing.

SCARCITY OF HOUSES.—Every 7 by 9 structure in the village that will in any way serve the purposes of a dwelling is fully occupied. There was no period in the history of Campbellford when its dwellings were so taxed as they are at the present day. Forty or fifty small, inexpensive, yet comfortable tenement houses built in the spring will supply a waiting demand, and bring a respectable return in rental for the outlay.

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

A VIGOROUS AND AGGRESSIVE POLICY.

The country has heard a good deal of late of the beauty of a vigorous, aggressive American policy. It was thought at one time that Secretary Blaine and Minister Hurlburt were going to give us precisely this sort of policy, but late revelations have shown us that Mr. Blaine's vigorous policy in Peru was—like his vigorous policy when Speaker of the House—not wholly unconnected with the interests of speculators and stock companies; and that Minister Hurlburt's idea of a vigorous policy included the acquisition of a valuable railroad for himself. In fact the vigorous and aggressive American policy of Mr. Blaine has been a grievous disappointment, and in the circumstances we cannot be to thankful to Representative Robinson for the prompt way in which he came to the relief of ardent patriots with a policy that is vigorous and aggressive to a really startling extent.

There are now in prison in Ireland, for riotous or treasonable conduct, certain Irishmen who claim to be American citizens. A Mr. Robinson believes that it is our duty as a nation to instantly secure the release of the prisoners. Holding that a certificate of American citizenship is a license to commit all varieties of crime on British soil, Mr. Robinson demands that we should sustain the alleged Irish-American prisoners, in practical accordance with their licenses. As it is apparent that Mr. Gladstone does not take the Robinson view of the meaning of certificates of American citizenship, and as he will certainly decline to release the Irish prisoners, Mr. Robinson has devised a plan for releasing them by force, and at the same time punishing England as severely as she deserves. This plan he set forth in the House on Thursday last. He proposes that an American army should be sent to Ireland to take the prisoners out of jail, and to march thence to London and to lay that infamous city in ashes. This, he says, is precisely the course which England pursued when the King of Abyssinia thrust certain Englishmen into prison, and the precedent thus established ought, in Mr Robinson's opinion, to to be followed by the United States without any further delay. A bolder and more truly aggressive policy has never been suggested by any American statesman, and we imagine the terror with which Queen Victoria, seated in her gorgeous agartments in the Tower of London, read Mr. Robinson's speech yesterday morning.

In formulating a vigorous and aggressive American policy, it is sometimes inconvenient to descend to details, but in the present instance Mr. Robinson's policy is as feasible in all its parts as it is glorious and heroic as a whole. It is conceded that England has not more than 200,000 trained troops, including volunteers and militia, in the British Islands, with which to repel invasions. As English soldiers are notoriously cowards, who always run away from the battle-field, and it is equally notorious—among statesmen of the Robinson variety—that one American can 'lick' at least three Englishmen, we need not send more than 50,000 men to release the Irish prisoners and convert London into a heap of ruins. These will be amply sufficient to defeat all the men that England can put in the field, to secure the independence of Ireland, and to release the Enlish people from the tyranny of a bloated and brutal aristocracy.

To convey 50,000 American soldiers across the ocean we shall need only fifty steamers of the largest kind. Of course it will be objected that we do not happen to have but four large sea going steamers exclusive of those in the Pacific trade, and these would not carry more than 4,000 men. It will, however, be perfectly easy for us to send over to England and charter forty-six large steamships as transports, and though it would be rather humiliating to hire ships from an enemy, we could re-establish our self-respect by confiscating the steamers as soon as they should be all under our control. The fifty steamers could not only carry the troops, but they could tow our navy across the Atlantic, and if the expedition were to start in July it is probable that fully half the men-of-war would live to reach the Irish coast and protect the landing of the troops. It would probably be necessary to fight a naval battle in order to drive off the British fleet, but, in spite of the heavy ironclads and big guns of the British navy, who can doubt that any vessel with the American flag at her peak can whip any British vessel, no matter how thick her armor may be or how long the calibre of her guns.

The army thus successfully landed, say at Queenstown, would march triumphantly through Ireland and England and would proceed to lay London in ashes. Mr. Robinson specified that this impressive feat is to be performed "by our artillery," and, though it would be simpler to burn the city by upsetting a few kerosene lamps, it would probably be best to execute faithfully Mr. Robinson's plan. It might be well to hang the Archbishop of Canterbury, Mr. Gladstone and all the members of the House of Lords, and to bring the Queen a prisoner to America, but Mr. Robinson has not as yet recommended this course, and he may have his reasons for preferring gentler measures. He is not a vindictive man, and he probably thinks that after liberating the Irish prisoners, securing for Ireland her independence, and punishing Brittish arrogance by the destruction of London, the American army could afford to be magnanimous and to return home to engage in the work of drawing pensions.

If Guiteau reads Mr. Robinson's speech he must bitterly regret that he did not have the forethought to make precisely such a speech at the opening of his trial. Had he done so there is every reason to believe that the jury would have pronounced him a raving maniac without leaving their seats.—N. Y. Times.

Plant Hickory Trees.

Many people would like to have a hickory grove, but have a vague idea that it is a terribly hard thing to get. But it is not so much of a task. Plough your ways four feet apart, follow the marker with a roller that will not efface the mark. Do this the first week in October, or maybe earlier. Have a sack of nuts, with the hulls on, sent you as soon as they get ripe enough to grow. Take a hoe, and at each crossing of your check-rows plant a nut about an inch and a half deep, stepping hard upon it. Next spring run a harrow over the ground quite early, say as soon as the frost is well out. When your trees come up cultivate them the same as corn, being careful not to bruise in any way. After they get too high for the cultivator, attend to them with the hoe. Mulch in the fall sufficiently to keep the weeds out the next spring. If any should come, keep them pulled. In ten years you will have all the hickory nuts and timber you want, if you have an acre in your grove. A moist location is the best—just as wet as will do to plough—if you have it.—Lincoln (Neb.) Journal.

FROM ALL OVER.

THE ne plus ultra of unfilial conduct has been reached by two young men of Kingston, who have sold the body of their mother to some medical students for four dollars.

THE jury on the Amaranth murder case returned into court at half-past three o'clock yesterday morning with a verdict of "wilful murder" against the prisoner John Smith, nephew of the murdered man.

I STRONGLY recommend the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites to all who suffer in any way from disease or weakness of the Lungs, Bronchial Tubes, or general debility. J. H. W. SCOTT, M. D., Gagetown, N. B.

SUBSCRIPTIONS to the Carlyle memorial fund have reached about $6,500, and it is hoped that this sum will yet be increased $6,500, in order that the committee may carry out its design of placing on the Chelsea embankment a bronze statue of the Chelsea sage by Mr. Boehm.

TIMELY WARNING.—Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping coughs, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

THE number of failures in England for the first week of the present year shows a marked decline. For the year 1880 it was 270; for 1881, 216, and for this year 180, the greater number of the latter being in the grocery and provision trades, next to them coming the building trades.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

Mr. N. Tavereau, of Montreal, was attacked by three men while driving in his waggon, garroted and robbed of $1,200. Two men named Smith and Charest have been arrested and identified.

NEURALGIA.—This scourge, being a purely nervous affection, can only be alleviated through a thorough purification of the blood and secretions. It and all kindred ailments are completely overpowered by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, which never fail to afford relief.

AN old woman named McCaffray was found by the police sitting at a table quite dead, in her own house at Montreal on Tuesday. Cause unknown, as the Coroner did not deem it necessary to hold an inquest.

LAME BACK.—Lumbago, Kidney complaint, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all pain and inflammation are speedily cured with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Croup, sore throat, colds, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, chilblains and all wounds of the flesh are quickly healed by Yellow Oil.

IT appears from a despatch that there were three members of the Investigation Committee on the Harvey Institute scandal who supported an amendment to recommend the resignation of the matron. The local papers ridicule the report.

THE Montreal Customs receipts for January, 1882, were $702,924, against $537,503 for corresponding week of 1881—an increase of $163,421 in favour of the present month. Inland Revenue receipts were $94,036.11, against $89,420.60 in January 1881—an increase of $4,615.51.

IN the New York fire the other day, outside the lamentable loss of life, there was no greater loss than that experienced by the Scientific American and through it by the indnstrial life of both the United States and Canada. The accumulations of years in the shape of models, plans, etc., of machinery of all descriptions have been swept away beyond possibility of replacement.

MR. S. J. LAMBART, proprietor of the Abbott House, Parsons, Ask., says that St. Jacobs Oil is the boss rheumatic specific. "It has cured myself and wife," said Mr. Lambert, "of rheumatism. We both had rheumatism—inflamatory rheumatism, too,—and had it bad. I believed in the remedy which every one was praising and used it. I have ever since been glad that I did so, for both my wife and myself realized speedy relief and cure. The St. Jacobs Oil is a splendid curative power; in short, it is just the best of liniments."

BONTEAUX, President, and Feder, manager, of the Union Generale, were arrested on Thursday evening at a meeting of directors. It is stated that legal proceedings will be commenced against several directors. Bonteaux and Feder are charged with swindling, which brings them before the correction police. Thus they will not obtain a trial by jury.

TRUE TO HER TRUST.—Too much cannot be said for the ever-faithful wife and mother, constantly watching and caring for her dear ones, never neglecting a single duty in their behalf. When they are assailed by disease, and the system should have a thorough cleansing, the stomach and bowels regulated, blood purified, malarial poison exterminated, she must know that Electric Bitters are the only sure remedy. They are the best and purest medicine in the world, and only cost 50 cents. Sold by Taylor & Macdonald.—4

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

At the recent session of the Victoria County Council Col. Deacon introduced the subjoined memorial to the Dominion Government regarding the Trent Valley Canal, which was adopted:—

1. That owing to the present and prospective growth of the great North-west, it is necessary to open up as many cheap and expeditious routes as possible to convey the products of that immense tract of fertile country to seaboard.

2. That the interior of this province bordering on the River Trent and waters tributary thereto is becoming rapidly developed and requires other and cheaper means of transporting its products to market.

3 That the means of transporting the products of the mines and forests of the northern parts of this and adjoining counties are of a tedious and costly nature.

4. That the construction of the Trent Valley Canal would prove a national and local benefit, shortening the distance from the great West to the seaboard nearly four hundred miles.

5. That the sum required for the construction of the said Canal would only be a small matter as compared to the benefits that would accrue to the people of this Dominion.

6. That the feasibility of constructing and working the said Canal have been fully and practically demonstrated.

7. That the construction of locks at the village of Fenelon Falls and the construction of that portion of the said Canal from Chemong or Mud Lake to the town of Peterborough would open up a continuous line of navigation from the village of Coboconk on Balsam lake to Rice Lake, a distance of about one hundred miles.

8. That your Government have expressed your intention of proceeding with the construction of the Trent Valley Canal as soon as the finances of the country would permit, thereby acknowledging the necessity and usefulness thereof.

9. That your Government have and will continue to accumulate a large surplus over and above the necessary yearly expenses of the country.

Therefore your memorialists humbly pray,—That your Government will cause a sufficient amount to be placed in the estimates of the present year to construct locks at Fenelon Falls, and to construct that portion of the canal between Chemong or Mud Lake and the town of Peterborough, and your memorialists further pray that the said work be proceeded with at as early date this present year as possible.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Wilson's Combination Car.

A Detroit despatch of Wednesday states that Mr. Thomas L. Wilson, master car-builder, of Port Pope, Ont., is in the city, en route to Chicago, to introduce his new combination car, upon which he has recently secured letters patent in Canada and the United States. The car is chartered by the Credit Valley railway and goes through via Credit Valley railroad, Canada Southern, and Michigan Central, freighted for Chicago, with a double cargo. Its freight will net nearly $2,000. The severe test to which the car is subjected has thus far proved satisfactory. Mr. Wilson has letters of introduction to leading railway officials in Detroit and Chicago, and it is understood that Mr. Tillinghast will give the merits of the car special attention, as Mr. Vanderbilt sent an expert to Port Hope to examine the car in the course of its construction. The patentee is sanguine of its ultimate adoption on account of the great advantages secured by its convertibility from a grain to a lumber car and other freights. He considers the features of the iron car recently constructed for the Pittsburg, Bradford, and Buffalo company quite applicable to his car, whenever it is demonstrated that all iron cars can be advantageously used in preference to wood, but that time he thinks has not come yet.

Ontario Cricket Association.

The last committee meeting for the season of 1881 was held in the Rossin house, Toronto, on Wednesday evening, the vice-president, Judge Dartnell, being in the chair. From correspondence with the Cricketers' Association of the United States, the hon. secretary was able to state that such an arrangement was proposed by them that in the future the Ontario Cricket Association would be able to contribute a liberal percentage of all expenses incurred by the players representing Canada in the States. The proposition of the American Association was agreed to, and hereafter the Ontario Cricket Association will be placed on a firmer basis than ever. Other business of less importance was also transacted before the meeting adjourned.

A Literary Treat.

Of the dramatic recitals and character impersonations of Esther Owen-Flint, who is to give a performance in Bradburn's Hall on Tuesday, Feb. 7th, with the assistance of the best local musical amateurs, and of the orchestra of the Fire Brigade Band, the Orillia Packet says:—

"There was an exquisite delicacy of self-restraint, a repression of the usual tendency to exaggerate, that made her acting a pleasing and natural expression of her impersonations, showing she had given them most careful study. Mrs. Flint is a finished artiste, and captivates her audience, not only by her graceful motions, inimitable facial expressions, but by her soft, refined voice, which is probably unsurpassed for versatility and clearness."

Ontario Legislature.

Among the bills introduced into the Ontario Legislature on Thursday, were the following:—

To establish the northern boundary of the township of Harvey.— Mr. Kincaid.

Respecting the Midland Railway of Canada.—Mr. Ferris.

Respecting the Toronto and Nipissing Railway Company.—Mr. Ferris.

To consolidate the Toronto and Nipissing Whitby and Port Perry, Victoria, Toronto and Ottawa, Grand Junction and Midland Railway companies.—Mr. Ferris.

Boston Opera Company.

We are glad to be able to announce that some musical gentlemen of this Town have secured the presence early in March of the Boston Opera Company. They will give selections (in character) from the favourite operas and operettas, and the artists composing the company bear the highest repute, so that an opportunity will be afforded of hearing the best operatic music worthily rendered.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

The Carnival.

The carnival last night was a grand success in every respect. Owing to the fact that we have not yet obtained a full list of those in costume, our report is held over until Monday.

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station:—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

ARRIVE at 8.35 and 11.50 a.m., and 6.15 and 9.55 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

ARRIVE at 11 a.m. and 6.10 p.m.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district, for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at ten o'clock a.m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes and upper Lawrence—Easterly to southerly winds, fair to cloudy weather with areas of light snow to to-day, westerly to north-westerly winds, fair weather to-morrow, not much change in temperature.

A Successful Editor.

We have before us a number of the American Tailor, a periodical in the interests of that trade, published by Root & Tinker, New York. As editor appears the name of Mr. J. O. Madison, formerly of the Peterborough firm of Madison & Green. Mr. Madison appears to be a successful editor, and the illustrations display his well known skill as a draughtsman. We are glad to chronicle Mr. Madison's success.

Ho, for Winnipeg.

A gentleman who intends leaving Peterborough for Winnipeg about the 25th inst. desires to make up a party of not less than 25 in order to secure special and favourable arrangements for the trip. Those desiring to join it will please leave their names and addresses at the REVIEW office, Peterborough.

LINDSAY.

A NEW INDUSTRY.—The Warder says that a hastily called meeting of the Council and Manufacturers' Committee was held on Tuesday evening to consider a proposition from Robert Sylvester to establish an agricultural implement manufactory in Lindsay. Beyond receiving Mr. Sylvester's proposition nothing of importance was done, but the meeting adjourned until half-past ten o'clock Wednesday evening, to consider the matter more fully. At the meeting on Wednesday there were about 30 ratepayers present, including members of the Town Council and Manufacturers' Committee. Mr. Sylvester made two proposals, namely, that a he would erect buildings and machinery, worth $8,000 and employ 35 men if the town gave him a cash bonus of $5,000. In lieu of a cash bonus he would accept a free site and exemption from taxes for 21 years, if they left it to his discretion how many hands he should employ. He would also agree not to establish or have a branch of his business elsewhere. The site selected was the piece of ground in rear of the drill shed. A resolution in accordance with Mr. Sylvester's request was passed, to which he attached his signature and the meeting adjourned.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.—Mrs. Robert Touchburn, wife of Mr. Robt. Touchburn, Manvers, and mother of Mr. Richard Touchburn, of this town, died last week at an advanced age after a very brief illness. The deceased had been a resident of Manvers for many years, and was highly respected by all.

LYNX OR WILD CAT.—Our Chief Constable, Mr. Smart, purchased a wild cat or lynx on Tuesday last, which he intends to have stuffed. It was killed by Sidney Culvert and Samuel Rogers in a swamp near Port Hoover. It was a very old one, and was the terror of the neighborhood for years. From head to tail it measured about three feet, and stood two and a half feet high.

PRESENTATION.—Last evening the employees of the firm of Alfred Wright & Co. called at the residence of Mr. Alfred Wright, and presented him with a sold gold headed ebony cane, on the occasion of his retiring from business. The cane is from the well-known jewellers, Robinsen Bros., Sheffield House, Toronto, and bears a suitable inscription.

THE CONVENT.—The Post says that a report of the expenditure made by the building committee in connection with the completion of the Loretto convent was read to the congregation of St. Mary's Church on Sunday last, from which it appeared that after the contractors and their sureties had abandoned the work they had brought a suit in the Court of Chancery against the Episcopal corporation, which resulted in a decree being made under which the building was to be completed by the Building Committee at the expense of the contractors and sureties. The amount required to do this work was about $17,000, which, with the money previously paid by the committee, made their total expenditure foot up to about $9,000 more than the contract price. This amount the sureties could be called on to pay under the decree of the court. However, the building committee believed that the sureties had already suffered considerable loss on the work, have forborne making any effort to collect this sum or any part of it, and the parish will bear the burden rather than inflict a further loss on the sureties.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—Mr. Harvie, of Toronto, secretary of the woman's foreign missionary society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, formed a branch society in St. Andrew's Church here on the 18th of last month. A goodly number of ladies were enrolled and others will be received next meeting. The meetings will be held in St. Andrew's Hall, Kent street, the second Wednesday of each month at 3.30 p.m.

A FAVORED ONE.—Mr. John Sanpillar is the latest man who has had money thrust upon him without his leave. By the death of one of his relatives some hundreds of dollars are left to him which may come to hand any day. The lucky man has been working at Mr. Matthews' packinghouse, but will probably look no more on the rendering pot when it boileth bright nor take a hand at the crank filling up sausages. It is better to be born lucky than rich.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

COBOURG.

ACCIDENTS.—The Sentinel-Star says that Mr. John Russel, a teamster employed at the Car Works, met with an accident on Friday last. He was removing some heavy oaken timbers from a pair of trucks, one of which slipped, and striking his right foot injured it very seriously.—Miss Kate Connolly, of this town, who had been attending the bazaar at Grafton on Saturday, was getting into a carriage when the horses started as she had her foot on the wheel, throwing her violently to the ground and breaking her right thigh.—Gardiner Hornback, an employee at the Car Works recently had one of his feet badly jammed by a car wheel falling on it.

AN EARLY BATH.—A resident of the west end had a very unpleasant bath at an early hour on Friday morning. He had occasion to go down cellar before breakfast, and not being aware that his cellar had become full from the effect of the heavy rain, had proceeded as far as the stairway, which gave away, plunging him into the water out of which he was rescued by members of the family. He did not relish such a bath, especially before breakfast.

A FRESHET.—The heavy rain on Thursday last caused quite a freshet in the vicinity of the factory pond. The pond rose so high that it overflowed the dam, flooding several cellars. There was also a quantity of ice cut, ready for drawing, which was carried away and distributed along the shores of the creek.

FIRE.—On Thursday night last the dwelling and granary of Mr. Christopher Graham, formerly of this town, but now residing near Harwood, was destroyed by fire. There was an insurance of $800, which partially covers the loss.

TWO MORE.—The World says that on Saturbay afternoon as Mr. Harry Payne was engaged in casting, in Crossen's Car Works, he tripped and fell, when the molten metal which he was carrying ran over his foot, scalding him in a terrible manner. He was at once removed to his home and cared for, but his injuries will necessarily lay him up for some time.—On Tuesday last, as little Lockie Burwash, second son of Rev Dr. Burwash, was skating, he fell upon the ice, striking upon his shoulder. The result was a dislocation of the shoulder and a fracture of the collar bone. The little fellow was soon "strapped up," and is doing as well as possible.

A GENERAL STAMPEDE.—Never was there such a rush made for Drug Stores as is now at Taylor & Macdonald's for a trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons afflicted with Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs, can get a trial bottle of this great remedy free, by calling at the above drug store.—4

DYSPEPSIA ANE DEBILITY, A SEVERE CASE.—From Wm. Bentley, 24 Rodman Street, Fall River, Mass.—"I was severly afflicted with general debility caused by over-exertion in working when I was not strong enough to do so. I became so nervous and debilitated that I was finally obliged to give up work and devote myself entirely to rest. This, however, did not benefit me, as I had nothing to occupy my mind and I could not be idle. I concluded that my trouble was heart disease, and consulted a physican, who pronounced it an aggravated from of dyspepsia, and was treated accordingly. Nothing that I tried gave me any relief until Peruvian Syrup was recommended. I used three bottles of this, and could see a great improvement, as I was able to resume work. Three bottles more completely restored my health." Sold by all druggists.

THE FIRST GUN!

No Season before this compares in Sales with the present one in any of our Departments.

This fact is noticeably so in our Ordered Clothing. More busy hours throughout this Department than ever before, Light; Order, Good Stock, Prompt Service, and Comfort to Customers does it.

We purpose to make the Spring Business in Ordered Clothing one that will sweep the board. We have selected a range of SCOTCH TWEEDS, in particular, that will captivate all, and if the boys don't look nobby, it will not be our fault.

To use an old expression, "You can't throw a stone into our Tweed Show Room without hitting a bargain."

We don't ask you to throw stones at us, but visit our establishment, and you will find that this illustration is no figure of speech; but a sober, serious fact.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation when the cough is more observable, but rather dry: then becomes a coal fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are also drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

TORONTO.

Special to the Review, Feb. 6.

THE GREAT NORTH-WESTERN TELEGRAPH COMPANY, appreciating the great importance of prompt and reliable communication with Winnipeg, Manitoba, have in conjunction with the Western Union Telegraph Company, recently greatly improved the service in that direction. Arrangements are being made which still further improve and perfect telegraph communication with the capital of the Prairie Province. The Toronto office last night worked direct with Winnipeg, and a considerable amount of business was exchanged both ways on the direct circuit.

How Indian Fishermen Keep Warm.

Over in the big Meadows, any day, a fine illustration of chilly comfort may be seen in the plan adopted by the Indians to catch fish and keep warm at the same time. Follow the river, and occasionally you come across a noble red man, muffled up in all the old coats and blankets he possesses, sitting in his canoe, which is loaded with fire-wood. Three or four feet of the centre of the canoe is covered with sand to the depth of two or three inches, and on this he keeps a bright fire blazing, and, with his back to the flame, pursues his business of taking in the speckled beauties. The smoke might prove troublesome to a white man, but the Digger is in no danger of having his complexion injured, and, as he paddles along from one good riffle to another, he looks as independant as a lord, and throws a glance of pity at the white man who takes his chances from the snowy bank, and has to knock under in the fishing race at the rate of about five to one.

Diphtheria.

The latest and most successful treatment of this dreaded disease has lately come to our knowledge, and having interviewed the man who says his life was saved by the new treatment we feel confident that it is our duty to give the facts to our readers, that they may investigate for themselves. The circumstances are as follows: Amede Chartier, of West Farnham, P.Q., recently had diphtheria; he became so bad off after a relapse that all hopes of his recovery was abandoned by his physicians and friends, and as a last resort a brother of the patient said that he had a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and wished to try it. He applied it to the neck and then reduced a little, and the patient after some difficulty succeeded in gargling in it the throat. He soon noticed some improvement, and by continuing its use a complete cure was effected, and now he says he knows it saved his life. The above remarkable experience led us to investigate farther, and we found that Kendall's Spavin Cure has the most remarkable effect on human flesh of any remedy of which we have ever heard, and we have become soundly converted to the opinion that no remedy has ever been discovered which possesses such remarkable qualities for the diseases of man as well as beast. Every one should cut this out and paste into a scrap-book.—Times.

The Journal de St. Petersbourg, commenting on the proceedings of the Mansion House meeting, says:—"Englishmen would consider it strange if similarly sweeping language was indulged in in discussing English legislation for Ireland." The Journal understands that the end in view is to revive the Russophobia which the Gladstone Government has mitigated.

Planting Forests.

A correspondent of the timber trades journal says:—

"In our day we have seen the desirable policy of planting forest trees largely pursued. In the hands of those interested in this national work the old stock of native trees has not been neglected, overlooked, or despised, but along with them have been planted great numbers of soft wooded trees, which were previously strangers to the land, viz., the Scotch fir, the Norway spruce, and the European larch. As these trees are ready for the market, we have for the first time in English history a native-grown soft wood, which can be used for the thousand and one purposes to which the soft imported woods of the Baltic provinces are applied."

THE DIOCESE OF ALGOMA.

Our readers will remember the letter on the above subject which appeared in our columns a few weeks ago, and which was subsequently published in the Toronto papers. We are glad to notice the project there advocated of forming a new Diocese, with Peterborough as the Episcopal seat, commends itself to others, and meets with very general approval. The following letter has since appeared, endorsing the scheme, and we have pleasure in giving it a place among our columns, hoping to have additional correspondence on the subject:—

To the Editor of the Mail.

SIR,—In a late issue of your paper a letter appeared on this question, with a proposition to solve the problem which has recently agitated the Diocese of Toronto and the Provincial Church of Canada. From the tenor of that letter it is proposed to erect, or rather substitute, the Diocese of Otonabee. We would like to ask if the question of support has been duly considered, as well as the territory, population and influence of the proposed See. Has the writer "counted the cost"? A few words on this portion of the subject will throw light on the proposition.

The parishes in the proposed diocese as a rule have always met their obligations to the various diocesan funds when assessments have been made, the exceptions being the missionary stations and a few weaker congregations. The Episcopal Fund, raised fifteen years ago, met with the most decided success, and but few arrears remain from this section. The contributions to the Mission Fund have always ranged higher than any other part of the diocese, as the records will show, and when the Hon. S. H. Blake generously proposed to give $1,000 providing the whole diocese, then including Niagara was to raise $9,000, to permanently endow the Widows' and Orphans' Fund, Cobourg, Peterborough, and Lindsay almost stood alone in meeting the quota as assessed by the rural deans.

Reasoning therefore from the past little or no difficulty would be experienced in raising for a bishop's salary $2,000 to $2,500 a year, with or without a residence, for such a man as the letter of "Otonabee" contemplates. With regard to the mission field the Diocese of Toronto, as proposed, was to only have charge of the work in Simcoe county, Manitoulin, and the north shore. When the committee on dividing the diocese of Toronto last took action, it was objected that Niagara, as then proposed, would be "a parlour diocese," with no missionary work attached comparatively, while Toronto would have the whole burden. To obviate this the Muskoka and Parry Sound districts were added to the inconsistency of swearing upon a book which says "Swear not at all," it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that this use of God's name and of the Bible is either on the one hand a profamation of things that ought to be held too sacred for such common uses, or a relic of superstition that ought to be abolished.

Yours, etc.,
W. O. EASTWOOD, M.D.

Whitby, Jan. 27.

HALIBURTON.

THE COUNTY V. PECK.—The Bobcaygeon Independent has the following in the conclusion of it report of the County Council proceedings:

"The Clerk read a letter from Mr. F. D. Moore, as solicitor for several ratepayers, stating that proceedings would be taken to recover the award and costs in the case of the County v. Peck, and illegally remitted by the Council.

Moved by Mr. Gainer, seconded by Mr. Scott,—That the resolution at last session, staying proceedings against S. S. Peck, be rescinded, and the solicitor be instructed to obtain a rehearing of said case, as it is the opinion now, that the Council had no legal right to pass said resolution.

Mr. Scott said he noticed that a judgment had been recently given against the County for costs, if asked.

The Clerk said that all he knew about the matter was what had appeared in the papers. He had followed the instructions of the Council at last session.

Mr. Peck said he was unaware of the matter until it was in the papers. He handed in a written statement relinquishing any claim against the County for his costs.

Mr. Scott briefly supported the motion.

Mr. Delamere deemed the resolution of December to be in the best interests of the county, and should be sustained.

Mr. Sidney still supported the action of the old council.

Mr. Delamere moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Kellett,—That the matter of Haliburton v. Peck be laid over till next session, legal advice to be obtained in the meantime.

The Clerk whished it to be understood that the action of the Council in December did give relief from payment. There were two courses open to any ratepayer, they were by action against the Council to quash the resolution, or personally against the reeves who voted in favour of the resolution.

The amendment was carried.

Yeas—Messrs. Delamere, Kellett, Ogilvey, Sidley and Peck.

Nays—Messrs. Gainer, Ferrier, Ritchie and Scott.

The Council then adjourned.

On January 10th, the Tralee police seized, at the railway station, a cask containing 20 rifles and sword bayonets and eleven hundred rounds of ball cartridge.

IRISH LAND DIFFICULTY.

Extraordinary Scenes Among the Peasantry of King's County.

An extraordinary state of things exists at present at Edenberry, in King's Country. An urgent telegram was received lately in Dublin for troops to proceed to the aid of the authorities there, and accordingly a detachment of the Rifle Brigade, accompanied by sappers and miners, was despatched the next day. It appears that Mr. Goddard, of the Property Defence Associntion, purchased a quantity of farm stock, chiefly grain crops, at a Sheriff's sale for rent near Edenberry last week, but when he sought to carry it off the farm, escorted by hussars and constabulary, it was found that all the roads had been rendered impassable The moment the cavalcade started the neighbourhing chapel bells were rung, and the peasantry began to gather on every side, threatening the troops on every flank, and before the property had been conveyed a quarter of a mile it was discovered that large trees blocked the road at intervals. The progress was consequently slow, and at last the parish priest appeared on horseback and warned the soldiers not to proceed further, as the bridges in front had been removed or destroyed. This was found to be true, as a bridge which was encountered soon afterwards was found to have been completely destroyed, thus effectually stopping the expedition. The troops wheeled about and made for another bridge, which had also been blown up, and it was then decided to telegraph for assistance. In the meantime the party took refuge at the residence of Mr. Tyrrel, J. P., who is a member of the Property Defence Association. There they awaited the arrival of reinforcements, and the sappers and miners are now engaged in clearing the roads and rebuilding the bridges. The number of soldiers sent down renders any attempt at rescuing the property futile, and the only difficulty now is to clear away any obstructions. The same night fifty men of the Rifles arrived, and the following morning there was a further reinforcement in the form of a contingent of sappers and miners despatched from Dublin. The troops were billeted on the people.

O'ROURKE, THE MURDERER.

His Wife has been in Constant Fear of Him—He Prepares Her Grave.

BURLINGTON, Feb. 3.—The following letter was sent from Bath, Ont., to Messrs. Henry Foster and James Allen, Justice of the Peace, Burlington:—

I am requested to ask you to send a description of the murderer, Micheal Rourke, now in your custody for the killing of Edward Maher and his daughter. There is living in this division a Mrs. Rourke, wife of one Micheal Rourke, whose whereabouts she is not in possession of. She came from the township of Kingston to this section to avoid, "as she asserts," being murdered by her husband, who often, while living together, threatened to destroy her, and at the time of her escape he went so far as to prepare her grave at the rear of their domicile. She admits to being confined with her husband at one time in Kingston penitentiary for petty larceny, but declares that she was not guilty, but acted in collusion with him through fear. She is living in constant dread of his re-appearance, as she most emphatically declares were he to find her he would destroy her. A full and complete description of your prisoner, place of birth, late residence, etc., etc., would be appreciated by this poor frightened creature, who is at present afraid of her shadow.

O'ROURKE OWNS UP.

HAMILTON, Feb. 3.—Yesterday a letter was received in this city from a legal firm in Kingston, asking regarding the prisoner O'Rourke, the Cumminsville murderer. Chief Stewart, of this city, yesterday forwarded the letter to the Governor of the gaol in Milton, enclosing a photograph of Mrs. O'Rourke, of Kingston, and an answer was received this evening. O'Rourke upon seeing the photograph recognized it as that of his wife.

A TALK WITH A TIMBERMAN.

When an Advance reporter dropped into the office of Messrs. Burton & Bros., yesterday, he found Mr. James Burton, the senior partner in the firm, scanning a map of the Muskoka and and Parry Sound Districts. "No, we don't own the whole district, my gentle gazelle," he said with a laugh at the reporter's little familiarity. "But we have a stake in the country. You see these colored sections. Well, they represent $750,000 of timber limits. A nice little figure, and don't you wish you had it to your credit in the bank?" The newspaper man disclaimed any such sordid ambition. It was glory he was after,—and local items. "Our limits," continued the timberman, "are in these townships. They embrace about seventy square miles. In this one, Armour, we have now at work over 100 men and teams." "How do you get out the timber, and where do you ship it, Mr. Burton?" queried the scribe. "The Maganettawan runs right through our limits. We take our stuff down that river to Byng Inlet; there our boats take it on down to Kingston where it is rafted and sent down the St. Lawrence to Quebec." "You are not in the lumber business now, I believe." "No. Last year we sold our lumber interests in Michigan for $50,000. But we have land there—15,000 acres of good land, and the Marquette railway runs right through it." "Business good?" "Splendid!" "Paying?" "At present prices I should think it was. Nobody needs to lose money in the timber business in this country now. The demand is constantly increasing while the supply is rapidly decreasing." "You are one of those alarmists who believe that our forests are disappearing and that before many years there will be a wood famine?" "That's a fact; unless some means are taken to repair the waste going on we must exhaust our timber resources. What with bush fires and wasteful cutting, timber is becoming more and more scarce and dear. Take a look around you in this very county. Twenty years ago Cook Bros. bought 1,800 of bush land in Tiny township for 10 cents an acre. To-day they refuse $90,000 for it. This may be hard to believe, but it's truth. Oh, yes! There is money in timber just now." The lumberman turned to his map and the reporter turned to his heel.—Barrie Advance.

THE greatest proof of the genuine merit of an article can be found in the amount of patronage it receives, and the thousands of testimonials respecting the Great German Remedy prove most conclusively that it is all that it is represented to be. Mr. T. J. Murphy, who resides at No. 61, Dabavoice street, Brooklyn, N. Y., is one of the fortunate ones. I rubbed St. Jacobs Oil all over my left leg for several days, and it cured as pretty a case of rheumatism as ever was fastened on to a man. I never had the disease before this winter. But as almost everybody else was suffering with it, I guess I had to be in the fashion. So one day I felt a nasty sort of pain creeping down my left limb, but didn't think much of it until night, when it began to make me groan. I had seen the advertisements of St. Jacob's Oil, and had heard something of it from friends. I therefore got a bottle of it and went for my left leg. I did not stint myself in the use of the Oil, but rubbed half a bottle on the first time. The first application gave me great relief, and I let up on it till the next day, when I used the remainder in the bottle. That settled it. I have not felt any rheumatic pain since. So much for that trial.

TEA.

Hard water makes the most delicious tea, as it dissolves less of the tannin and gives the cup a more delicate flavor.

There is not one city teakettle out of a hundred that in its present condition is fit to boil water for a cup of tea. Let our reader go home to-night and inspect his own outfit, and be will verify our statement. He will find the interior of his kettle encrusted with the mineral deposits extracted from the water, boiled in it from morning until night of each succeeding day. As the water is "clean," the cook but empties and fills the kettle, never thinking of the growing crust that must now be scraped off, if the kettle is to be cleaned.

Water that has stood after boiling will not make a good cup of tea, and yet how often the tired laborer, mechanic, merchant, doctor or lawyer has tried to solace himself with a beverage made from water containing the debris of that which has stood all day on the range, being only filled as often as any addition was needed. Take a clean kettle, never used for anything else, fill it with fresh water, the harder the better, boil quickly over a very hot fire, and pour as soon as it boils upon the tea leaves fresh from the canister. Let it stand four or five minutes, and then drink.

If the first experiment does not make an infusion strong enough, or if the pot is partly empty and more is needed, do not put any fresh tea into the teapot, for it will surely be wasted. Tea water will not dissolve the theine from the dry leaves of fresh tea; only pure, fresh water will do that. The addition of tea to the nearly empty teapot will increase the color, but it will not make the tea perceptibly stronger in its exhilerating quality.

Anyone may try the experiment. Put a tablespoonful of tea into a quart of water and let it stand five minutes or boil it if desired. Then add two more spoonfuls of tea leaves to the same decoction. The color will be increased, but the tea will be little stronger in the active principle so much desired. When more liquid or a stronger infusion is desired put the additional tea in a cup and pour fresh water on it; after it has stood a few minutes it may then be put in the pot to good advantage.

Many persons use alcoholic beverages who would be far healthier if they would exchange them for tea. Only let the tea be made by some one who has learned the art. The mistress would not entrust her favorite cook with a choice fancy dessert, but the most stupid daughter of the Green Isle may, in her own phrase, "wet the tea," since that requires no art!

There is no greater mistake in the whole range of housekeeping. To make a good cup of tea is a higher accomplishment than to play a difficult waltz, and requires as much genius and judgment. It is a more useful art and has an intimate bearing on the good health and long life of the household, We commend the study to our far countrywomen, and assure them they need fear at theoutset no very active competition; not one in a hundred of even the expertest housekeepers, give them their own choice of materials, can make a perfect cup of tea.—New York Journal of Commerce.

A Man Elopes with Another Man's Wife.

NORWICH, Feb. 3.—Last evening between 7 and 8 o'clock, a man by the name of M. A. Crossett, accompanied by a woman, put up at the Brady House, registering as man and wife from Aylmer. They partook of supper and retired early. All went well till about 10 o'clock, when two men came rushing into the hotel, and inquired for a man and woman, giving a description of the same. The porter judging from the description given that the two upstairs were the parties wanted, and as one of the men produced a search warrant and claimed to be a constable, took them to the bedroom, which they found locked, but it was soon forced open. The man Crosset made good his escape. The man accompanying the constable then recognized his wife, whom he placed in charge of the constable. The woman is the mother of seven children, five of whom are living. Her name is Mrs. Brecker, and she hails from Eden, Ont. The man Crosset is also married. His wife and two children are said to be living in Aylmer, Ont. Brecker, his wife, and the constable left this morning for Tilsonburg.

CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

PERSEVERANCE.

BY CHARLES READE.

Author of "Foul Play," "Griffith Gaunt," "Hard Cash," Etc.

On a certain day in the year 1819, Mr. Chitty, attorney in Shaftesbury, was leaving his office for the day, when he was met at the door by a respectable woman and a chubby-faced boy with a bright eye. He knew the woman slightly—a woman that kept a small stationer's shop in the town. She opened her business at once. "Oh, Mr. Chitty, I have brought you my Robert; he gives me no peace, his heart is so set on being in a lawyer's office. But there! I have not got the money to apprentice him. Only we thought perhaps you could find some place or other for him, even if it was ever so small." Then she broke off and looked appealingly, and the boy's cheeks and eyes were fired with expectation.

Most country towns at that time possessed two solicitors that mgiht be called tipes: the old established man, whose firm for generations had done the pacific and lucrative business—wills, settlements, partnerships, mortgages, etc.—and the sharp practitioner, who was the abler of the two at litigation, and had to shake the plum-tree instead of sitting under it and opening his mouth for windfalls. Mr. Chitty was No. 2.

But these sharp practitioners are very apt to be good-natured, and so, looking at the pleading widow and the beaming boy, he felt disposed to oblige them, and rather sorry he could not. He said his was a small office, and he had no clerks' place vacant; and indeed if I had, he is too young—why, he is a mere child."

"I am twelve next so and so," said the boy, giving the month and the day.

"You don't look it then," said Mr. Chitty, incredulously.

"Indeed but he is, sir," said the widow; "he never looked his age, and writes a beautiful hand."

"But I tell you I have no vacancy," said Mr. Chitty, turning dogged.

"Well, thank you, sir, all the same," said the widow with the patience of her sex. "Come Robert we mustn't detain the gentleman."

So they turned away; with disappointment marked on their faces, the boy's especially.

Then Mr. Chitty said, in a hesitating way, "To be sure there is a vacancy, but it is not the sort of thing for you."

"What is it, sir?" asked the widow.

"Well, we want an affice-boy."

"An office-boy! What do you say, Robert? I suppose it is a beginning, sir. What will he have to do?"

"Why, sweep the office, run errands, carry papers; and that is not what he is after. Look at him—he has got that eye of his fixed on a councillor's wig, you may depend; and sweeping a country attorney's office is not the stepping stone to that." He added wearily, "At least there is no precedent reported."

"La, no, sir," said the widow; "he only wants to turn an honest penny, and be among law papers."

"Ay, ay; to write 'em and sell 'em, but not to dust 'em."

"For that matter, sir, I believed he'd rather be the Dust itself in your office than bide at home with me."

Here she turned angry with her offspring for half a moment.

"And so I would," said young master, stoutly, indorsing his mother's hyperbole very boldly though his own mind was not of that kind which originates metaphors, similes, and engines of inaccuracy in general.

"Then I say no more," observed Mr. Chitty; "only mind, it is half a crown a week—that is all."

The terms were accepted, and Master Robert entered on his humble duties. He was steady persevering and pushing. In less than two years he got promoted to be a copying clerk. From this in due course he became a superior clerk. He studied, pushed, and persevered, till at last he became a fair practical lawyer, and Mr. Chitty's head clerk. And so much for Perseverance.

He remained some years in this position, trusted by his employers, and respected to; for besides his special gifts as a law clerk, he was strict in morals, and religious without parade.

In those days country attorneys could not fly to the metropolis and back to dinner. They relied much on London attorneys, their agents. Lawyer Chitty's agent was Mr. Bishop, a judge clerk; but in those days a judge's clerk had an insufficient stipend, and was allowed to eke it out by private practice. Mr. Bishop was agent to several country attorneys.

Well, Chitty had a heavy case coming on at the assizes, and asked Bishop to come down, for once in a way, and help him in person. Bishop did so, and in working the case, was delighted with Chitty's managing clerk. Before leaving, he told Mr. Chitty he sadly wanted a managing clerk he could rely on. Would he oblige him, and part with this young man? Chitty made rather a wry face, and said that young man was a pearl. "I don't know what I should do without him; why, he is my alter ego." However, he ended by saying generously that he would not stand in the young man's way.

Then they had the clerk in, and put the question to him.

"Sir," said he, "it is the ambition of my heart to go to London."

Twenty-four hours after that our humble hero was installed in Mr. Bishop's office, directing a large business in town and country. He filled that situation for many years, and got to be well known in the legal profession. A brother of mine, who for years was one of a firm of solicitors in Lincoln's Inn Fields, remembers him well at this period, by meeting him sometimes in his own chambers, and sometimes in judges' chambers. My brother says he could not help noticing him, for he bristled with intelligence, and knew a deal of law, though he looked only a boy.

The best of the joke is that this clerk afterward turned out to be four years older than that solicitor who took him for a boy.

He was now amongst books as well as lawyers, and studied closely the principles of law whilst the practice was sharpening him. He was much in the courts, and every case there cited in argument or judgment he hunted out in the books, and digested it, together with its application in practice by the living judge, who had quoted, received or evaded it.

He was a Baptist, and lodged with a Baptist minister and his two daughters. He fell in love with one of them, proposed to her, and was accepted. The couple were married without pomp and after the ceremony the good minister took them aside and said: "I have only two hundred pounds in the world. I have saved it, a little at a time, for my two daughters. Here is your share, my children." Then he gave his daughter one hundred pounds, and she handed it to the bridegroom on the spot. The good minister smiled approval, and they sat down to what fine folks call breakfast, but they called it dinner; and it was.

After dinner and the usual ceremonies the bridegroom arose, and surprised them a little. He said:—"I am sorry to leave you, but I have a particular business to attend to. It will take me just one hour."

Of course there was a look or two interchanged, especially by every female there present; but the confidence in him was too great to be disturbed, and this was his first eccentricity.

He left them, went to Gray's Inn, put down his name as a student for the bar, paid away his wife's dowry in fees, and returned within the hour.

Next day the married clerk was at the office as usual, and entered on a twofold life. He worked as a clerk till five; dined in the hall of Gray's Inn as a sucking barrister, and studied hard at night. This was followed by a still stronger example of duplicate existence, and one without a parallel in my reading and experience; he became a writer, and produced a masterpiece, which as regarded the practice of our courts, became at once the manual of attorneys, counsel, and judges. The author, though his book was entitled "practice," showed some qualities as a jurist, and corrected soberly but firmly unscientific legislature and judicial blunders.

So here was a student of Gray's Inn, supposed to be picking up in that Inn a small smattering of law, yet, to diversify his crude studies, instructing mature counsel, and correcting the judges themselves, at whose chambers he attended daily, cap in hand, as an attorney's clerk. There's an intellectual hotch-potch for you. All this did not in his Inn qualify him to be a barrister; but years and dinners did. After some weary years he took the oaths at Westminter, and vacated by that act his place in Bishop's office, salary included, and was a pauper—for an afternoon. But work that has been long and tediously prepared can be executed quickly, and adverse circumstances, when Perseverance conquers them, turn round and become allies.

The ex-clerk and young barrister had ploughed and sowed with such pain and labor that he reaped with comparative ease. Half the managing clerks in London knew him and believed in him. They had the ear of their employers, and brought him pleadings to draw and motions to make. His book, too, brought him clients; and he was soon in full career as a junior counsel and special pleader. Senior ccunsel soon found that they could rely upon his zeal, accuracy and learning. They began to request that he might be retained with them in difficult cases, and he became first junior counsel at the bar; and so much for Perseverance.

Time rolled its ceaseless course, and a silk gown was at his disposal. Now a popular junior cannot always afford to take silk, as they call it. Indeed, if he is learned but not eloquent he may ruin himself by the change. But the remarkable man whose career we are epitomizing did not hesitate; he still pushed onward. And so one morning the Lord Chancellor sat for an hour in the Queen's Bench, and Mr. Robert Lush was appointed one of her Majesty's Counsel, learned in the law, and then and there, by the Chancellor's invitation, stepped out from among the juniors, and took his seat within the bar. So much for Perseverance.

From this point the outline of his career is known to everybody. He was appointed in 1865 one of the judges of the Queen's Bench, and after sitting in that court some years, was promoted to be a Lord Justice of Appeal. A few days ago he died, lamented and revered by the legal profession which is very critical, and does not bestow its respect lightly.

I knew him only as Queen's Counsel. I had him against me once, but oftener for me, because my brother thought him, even then the best lawyer and the most zealous at the bar, and always retained him if he could. During the period I knew him personally Mr. Lush had still a plump unwrinkled cheek and a singularly bright eye. His voice was full, mellow and penetrating; it filled the court without apparent effort, and accorded well with his style of eloquence, which was what Cicero calls the temperatum genus loquendi.

Reasoning carried to perfection is one of the fine arts. An argument by Lush enchained the ear and charmed the understanding. He began at the beginning, and each succeeding topic was articulated and disposed of, and succeed by its right successor, in language so fit and order so lucid that he rooted and grew conviction in the mind—tantum series nexuraque pollent.

I never heard him at Nisi Prius, but should think he could do nothing ill, yet would be greater at convincing judges than at persuading juries right or wrong; for at this pastime he would have had to escape from the force of his own understanding, whereas I have known counsel, blatant and admired, whom native and flippant fluency had secured against that difficulty.

He was affable to clients, and I had more than one conversation with him, very interesting to me; but to intrude these would be egotistical, and disturb the just proportions of this short notice. I hope some lawyer who knew him well as counsel and judge will give us his distinctive features, if it is only to correct those vague and colorless notices of him that have appeared.

This is due to the legal profession. But after all, his early career interests a much wider circle. We can not at all be judges, put we can all do great things by the perseverance which from an office-boy made this man a clerk, a counsel, and a judge. Do but measure the difficulties he overcame in his business with the difficulty of rising in any art, profession, or honorable walk, and down with despondency's whine and the groans of self-deceiving laziness! You who have youth and health, never you quail at "those twin jailers of the daring heart, low birth and iron fortune."

See what becomes of those two bugbears when the stout champion SINGLE-HEART and the giant PERSEVERANCE take them by the throat.

Why, the very year those chilling lines were first given to the public by Bulwer and Macready, Robert Lush paid his wife's dowry away to Gray's Inn fees, and never whined, nor doubted, looked right nor left, but went straight on—and prevailed.

Genius and talent may have their bounds, but to the power of the single-hearted Perseverance there is no known limits.

Non omis mortuus est—the departed judge still teaches from his tomb; his dicta will outlive him in our English courts; his gesta are for mankind. Such an instance of single-heartedness, perseverance, and proportionate success in spite of odds is not for one narrow island, but the globe. An old man sends it to the young in both hemispheres with this comment: If difficulties lie in the way, never shirk them, but think of Robert Lush and trample on them. If impossibilities encounter you, up hearts and at 'em.

One thing more to those who would copy Robert Lush in all essentials. Though impregnated from infancy with an honorable ambition, he remembered his Creator in the days of his youth; nor did he forget Him when the world poured its honors on him, and those insidious temptations of Prosperity which have hurt the soul far oftener than "low birth and iron fortune." He flourished in a skeptical age, yet he lived and died fearing God.—Harper's Weekly.

TWO ORGANS.—Regulate first the stomach, second the liver; especially the first, so as to perform their functions perfectly and you will remove at least nineteen-twentieths of all the ills that mankind is heir to, in this or any other climate. CONSUMPTION in its early stages is readily cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," though, if the lungs are wasted on medicine will effect a cure. No known remedy possesses such soothing and healing influence over all scorfulous, tuberculous, and pulmonary affections as the "Discovery." John Willis, of Elyria, Ohio, writes: "The 'Golden Medical Discovery' does positively cure consumption, as, after trying every other medicine in vain, this succeeded." Mr. Z. T. Phelps, of Cuthbert, Ga., writes: "The Golden Medical Discovery' has cured my wife of bronchitis and incipient consumption." Sold by druggists.

FROM L. J. Racine, Esq., of La Minerve, Montreal. "Having experienced the most gratifying results from the use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, I am induced to express the great confidence which I have in its efficacy. For nine months I was most cruelly afflicted with a severe and obstinate cough, accompanied with acute pain in the side, which did not leave me, Summer or Winter. The symptoms increased alarmingly, and so reduced was I that I could walk but a few steps without resting to recover from the pain and fatigue which so slight an exertion occasioned. At this juncture I commenced takihg the Balsam, from which I found immediate relief; and after having used four bottles I was completely restored to health. I have also used the Balsam in my family, and administered it to my children, with the happiest results. I am sure that such Canadians as use the Balsam can speak in its favour. It is a preparation which has only to be tried to be acknowledged as the remedy par excellence."

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Municipal Election Cases.

On Thursday last Mr. H. H. Smith, upon behalf of Edward Costello, obtained from His Honor Judge Dennistoun a Writ of Summons, at the suit of Edward Costelo, in the nature of a quo warranto, calling upon Jeremiah McCarthy to show by what authority he holds the office of Councillor for the Township of Ennismore, and asking that his election should be set aside on the ground that he does not possess the qualifications required by law. On Saturday Mr. McCarthy, by his solicitor, Mr. Dennistoun, filed a notice disclaiming the office and all defence to the Writ. The result of this is that the candidate receiving the next highest number of votes takes the seat. We believe the lucky man is Mr. Robert Calvert. The only question now remaining to be disposed of is that as to costs. The case of Nelson v. Hull stands in the same shape, the argument as to cost takes place to-day. We will announce the result in our next issue.

Testimony of Esteem.

The Montreal Minere of a recent date says that the employees of the firm of Hodgson, Summer & Co., assembled on Saturday afternoon and presented to Mr. J. C. Brault, a handsome present on the occasion of his leaving the establishment. Though he did not expect a demonstration of this kind, Mr. Brault made a fitting response to this proof of the good will of his confreres. Mr. J. C. Brault will henceforth represent the firm of Messrs. Levian, Hamburger & Co., of Toronto, dealers in fancy goods, and will visit as agent the eastern townships, the city of Quebec, and the Maritime Provinces. It is to his zeal, his good manners and his integrity that Mr. Brault owes the position which he now occupies, a position which necessarily requires a man of acknowledged honesty.

Esther Owen-Flint.

Our readers should not forget the entertainment, to be given on Tuesday, February 7th, in Bradburn's Hall, under the auspices of the Peterborough Lodge of Oddfellows, by the popular Canadian elcutionist, Esther Owen-Flint' assisted by the best local musical talent. The St. Mary's Joarnal says:—

"The readings of Mrs. Owen-Flint were especially fine, and she was loudly applauded after each selection. The freshness and earnestness with which she rendered "The Last Hymn" was very effecting, and the vividness with which she pictured the wreck of the ill-fated vessel made every one in the audience shudder as though in the presence of an awful scene. "How Ruby Played" convulsed the audience with laughter, and at the same time gave to every one an idea of what might have been expected from the great Rubenstein."

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station:—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

ARRIVE at 8.35 and 11.50 a.m., and 6.15 and 9.55 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

ARRIVE at 11 a.m. and 6.10 p.m.

How to Tell.

Weather prophet De Voe kindly furnishes the public with two short rules for ascertaining when it is going to rain or snow. First, when the wind shifts from west to north and from north to east, it will rain in less than forty-eight hours, no matter how cold it may be. Second, when the wind shifts from west to south and from south to east, there will be a snow storm, and although it may be warm, the temperature will suddenly fall.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district, for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at ten o'clock a.m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Winds shifting to the south ward. Fair to cloudy weather to-day, followed by a fall of snow to-morrow and winds. Fair weather,

AT THE SKATING RINK.

THE FIRST CARNIVAL OF THE SEASON A GRAND SUCCESS.

Those who Dressed—An Animated Scene—How they Looked and what they Did—List of Prize-winners in the Contests.

As we anticipated, the carnival at the skating rink on Friday night was a grand success in every respect. The attendance of skaters in costume was good, although we should have been pleased to see more. Spectators crowded the building in every part, and commodious as the rink is, many of those present had to content themselves with a cursory glance at the moving figures.

We are sorry to say that the preparations for the comfort of the visitors were not as perfect as they might have been, inasmuch as many of those present complained of the intense cold, and they had good reason to do so.

The attendance was very large, the largest in fact we have seen on any similar occasion.

The Fire Brigade Band were present in full force and added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening by discoursing some excellent music.

ON THE ICE.

As viewed from the gallery the galaxy of gaily dressed masquers presented a fine view. They looked like a great moving kaleidoscope, the picture being composed of many colors, harmoniously mixed.

The characters represented were all fairly dressed and bore out their parts well.

The Indian Chief was closely followed by an officer of the 57th Battallion, who was evidently afraid that the savage was about to abduct the handsome young lady that accompanied him. Night sailed around the rink not all abashed by the artificial moonlight that illuminated the spacious building. Jack Tar, probably on shore for a short time only, made friends with Buffalo Bill and a cricketer, and doubtless spun them many a yarn. A French Courtier appeared to be paying far more attention to his lady than he did to the financial troubles "on change." The Daughter of the Regiment, for the time forgetting her military proclivities, gracefully swept around the rink in company with civilians and later with a Canadian blonde. The Turk and Zulu who probably met for the first time, soon became fast friends, even if they were in a strange land. The old woman that lived in a shoe made her way among the merry makers and was not the least abashed, when remarks about the size of her feet, etc., were passed. John Chinaman, for the nonce, sailed around among the "Melican" men and did not appear to be the least disturbed when his pigtail was pulled. Nondescripts darted here, there and everywhere, always getting in the road of some person, and although several attempts were made to drive them off the ice, they always turned up again. The representatives of the P.B.C. for some time stuck together closely, but there being "a woman in the case" they separated, and each had to paddle his own canoe. A young man who was always around, when least expected, carried a placard announcing that Rogers' flour might be ordered by telephone at half a dozen shops in town. The Zulu Chief in full war paint, when skating with a sheperdess had great difficulty in keeping his ponderous club away from the skulls of the Britishers that skated near him, but probably having some regard for the peaceable employment of his partner he restrained his ardour. The Corsican Bandit, an exellent and well dressed character by the way, had a partner in a Canadian Blonde, an able bo died one with a wealth of tow hair. For a long time the "Blonde" passed as a female, and we must say that she performed her part to perfection, and was introduced by the "Bandit" to many in the rink, but even when his sex was discovered the ladies seemed to still keep their eyes on him, and between himself and the bandit they had a monopoly, to use a Globe word. The Spanish Noble and the Gypsy Queen, looked haughty as become those of high birth. Both displayed great taste in their dresses and were elegantly attired. After a time the Daughter of the Regiment becoming tired of her unwarlike companion sought that of a Knight. A school girl, the yes of a watchful teacher not being on her, was escorted by at least half a dozen gallants. A Highland Lassie had to seek the companionship of a member of the P.B.C., no Highlander being present. The old saying says that "birds of a feather flock together," and bound to follow up the rule apparently, two brigands, from different countries careered around arm in arm. An old man, probably "the only one that's left of all the family," appeared to enjoy himself, although alone.

THE CONTESTS.

About 8.30 o'clock Messrs. F. J. Lewis, Dr. Boucher, C. A. Weller, and Captain Edwards, took their positions on the platform prepared for them, and the games were commenced. The following were the prize-winners in each event:—

THE FIRST GUN!

No Season before this compares in Sales with the present one in any of our Departments.

This fact is noticeably so in our Ordered Clothing. More busy hours throughout this Department than ever before, Light; Order, Good Stock, Prompt Service, and Comfort to Customers does it.

We purpose to make the Spring Business in Ordered Clothing one that will sweep the board. We have selected a range of SCOTCH TWEEDS, in particular, that will captivate all, and if the boys don't look nobby, it will not be our fault.

To use an old expression, "You can't throw a stone into our Tweed Show Room without hitting a bargain."

We don't ask you to throw stones at us, but visit our establishment, and you will find that this illustration is no figure of speech, but a sober, serious fact.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.
